

Dr. A. Mahalingam M.A., M.Phil., Ph.D.,
Assistant Professor and Head
Department of Medieval History
School of Historical Studies
Office: 0452 – 2458471 – 357 Etn
Mobile: 9486958146
E-Mail: drmahalingam2009@gmail.com

Temple art and culture is the area of specialization which can collaborate with the Department of Archaeology, Tourism, Temples, Cultural and Heritage institutions. I can do teach, research and other knowledge sharing activities in the field of traditional architecture, sculpture paintings, cultural formation and cultural migration, inscriptions, artefacts and coins in India with special reference to Tamil Nadu.

Medieval History is the main concerned field and one of the significant periods in the history of India which contains multitude of cultural elements came in to practice. Religious ideas, practices, sectarian rivalries, new social groups, cultural and territorial expansion etc., are important components during the medieval period. Research and consultancy can be focused in the area.

Good number of books in the school library, smart class rooms, seminar hall with LCD projector, computers, printers, xerox machines and Internet facility are available in the School of Historical Studies.

