TAMIL NADU STATE COUNCIL FOR HIGHER EDUCATION (TANSCH)

PREFACE

This textbook on Professional English envisioned under the leadership of the Honorable Chief Minister of Tamilnadu, Thiru. Edappadi K.Palaniswami by the Honorable Minister for Higher Education Thiru. K.P. Anbalagan, and Principal Secretary to Government, Department of Higher Education, Selvi. Apoorva, I.A.S., is a pioneering venture and strategic intervention in higher education in Tamil Nadu. It has been prepared with the unstinted support of Thiru. K.Vivekanandan, I.A.S. Member Secretary, TANSCH (Tamil Nadu State Council for Higher Education)

Tamil Nadu has the distinction of having the highest GER (Gross Enrolment Ratio) of 49%, in higher education in the country: this figure attests to the efforts of the government to empower the youth of the state by enhancing access to higher education.

After duly examining the challenges faced by students in learning their subjects and with a vision to equip them to compete in a global scenario, four textbooks, English for Physical Science, English for Life Sciences, English for Arts and Social Sciences and English for Commerce and Management have been prepared.

As language is an essential tool with regard to the learning process, a textbook which uses subject/discipline based content to leverage language learning is an ideal approach and fulfills the dual objective language proficiency and professional competence.

This book is bound to fulfill its destiny as teachers and students work in tandem: teachers as facilitators and learners as highly motivated stakeholders.

PROFESSIONAL ENGLISH FOR COMMERCE AND MANAGEMENT

UNIT I - COMMUNICATION

LISTENING

Listening: Listening is the process of receiving and responding to spoken messages. Listening is not just hearing what the other party has conveyed but actually refers to understanding what is being said.

Essential Elements of listening

1. Receiving - Hearing what is said
2. Understanding - Comprehend what was heard
3. Responding - Acknowledge the speaker by nodding
4. Remembering - Reproduce the crux of what was heard

PRE TASK: Match the words in Column A with their meanings in Column B

A	B
a. founder	sudden large increase
b. pandemic	someone who starts a business
c. spike	something that make people believe
d. credibility	feeling of great fear
e. panic	disease that spreads over the whole world

An APP for Learning - Business Interview

Listen to the passage and do the tasks that follow:

Interviewer: Welcome to today's show. We're very happy to have Mrs.Madhu who is the creator and founder of ACE App as our guest today. This app is useful in conducting competitive exams like NEET, JEE, NET, etc., online at home. Thank you for coming Madhu.

Madhu: Thanks for having me.

Interviewer: So tell us about your App. How does it work?

Madhu: Well, at this time of pandemic everything is uncertain. We do not know when we will resume our normal life. We cannot forgo an academic year because of Covid-19 situation. Online classes are in full swing for schools and colleges. What about the competitive exams like NEET, JEE,NET etc., ? These exams get postponed because of the spike of the virus. Students who aspire IIT or medical college are at the verge of frustration. This ACE comes to the rescue of such students.

Interviewer: Well, Madhu what motivated you to create this app?

Madhu: On seeing the frustration and panic of the students when their competitive exams getting postponed, I was inspired to create this. Certainly this will be useful at all times for exam conducting bodies like NTA (National Testing Agency) to conduct exam without much infrastructure and manpower.

Interviewer: What are the features of this app?

Madhu: Student's register number, mobile number, digital signature and photo are inter-linked. Even one of the above doesn't match the student will not be permitted to write the exam. It is digitally secured.

Interviewer: Madhu, what do say about its credibility?

Madhu: This app will not permit electronic goods like mobile, calculator etc. around 8 meter distance and so help from the internet is restricted. More over when the app is activated, camera in your mobile will be on till the end of the exam and this prevents human help. This also ensures its credibility.

Interviewer: This sounds really good. Madhu, how did you come up with the idea?

Madhu: Well, I have my personal experience. My son's NEET exam is getting postponed month after month because of pandemic. My son feels it would have been better if he had to take up the exam at home on time. As a mother I also felt it would be better to write the exam without being exposed to the virus. This gives me the determination to come out with the app.

Interviewer: What is your future plan?

Madhu: We have just secured some funding and hope to expand the services to conduct home based online semester examination for Arts and Science colleges.

Interviewer: We wish you the best of luck. Thanks again for coming in. Madhu's app ACE is available for both Apple and Android devices. Next week we will meet for another business interview. Have a great week.

In the field of business, speaking is a key skill that helps one to express oneself clearly, to be successful. Moreover to buy and sell goods, to ask for good quality and be assertive, one should be able to articulate boldly and confidently.

Source Passage1:‘Bee’ing Courageous

Pre-Task: Learning New words and Concepts.

hive: a container for housing honeybees	immune: having a high degree of resistance to a disease
irk: something that is a source of irritation	foresee: to see (something, such as a development) beforehand
cower : to draw back or crouch down in fearful submission	passion : intense, driving, or overmastering feeling or conviction dynamic : marked by usually continuous and productive activity or change	commitment : an agreement or pledge to do something in the future apiary : a collection of hives or colonies of bees kept for their honey	visualise : to see or form a mental image of imbibe : to receive into the mind and retain

Many of us stay away when we spot a giant hive on a tree.

The very thought of being there irks us out. But while all of us cower in fright and run, Josephine Selvaraj chose to adopt these bees and share her life with them. “Like others, I was also quite frightened by their sight. But when I started to move around with them, they became my lovable pets. I fondly call them as ‘Angels’ and not honeybees anymore.”

She started her farm in Kondayambatti near Alanganallur with 3 boxes each constituting of 10,000 bees. She is successfully stepping into her seventh year with three thousand boxes — which is roughly three crores of buzzing honeybees. “My interest in this business took a dynamic turn when I started to realize the actual purpose of the honeybees. It is definitely more than just the money. Most of us are really not aware of the multiple advantages of honey. I take an effort to emphasize on the honeybees which give us the magical solution— The Honey” says the enthusiastic apiarist.

Josephine specializes in producing more than 25 varieties of honey. “We choose the trees which starts to bloom in their respective seasons and keep the honeybee box on the tree. My angels collect honey from the fresh seasonal flowers and gather honey for us. We do this process on Neem , berries and other trees that have medicinal properties.” says Josephine proudly.

Apart from maintaining her buzzing friends, she provides free training to interested youngsters who are willing to start a farm of their own. She also provides them with some of her angels for them to start over. So far, she has trained 300 people and continues to do them every month. “I feel the use of honey is not correctly imbibed in the minds of a common man. Honey is the only substance that combines with the blood as soon as it reaches our taste buds. As they are very effective in upholding our immune system, there are chances that the average life time of the people can be increased these days”, shares Josephine who foresees honey as a repairing solution.

Passion and commitment are the most important factors for attaining excellence and being apiarist is not an exception. Resting in her cupboards are laurels and awards that have recognized her effort. She signs off saying, “My angels conquer my dreams. I am literally addicted to them in some way. I often visualize that someday in the near future, all the trees in Madurai have honeybee hives”.

A. Answer the following questions in one or two sentences:

1. What is different about the business idea that Josephine undertook?
2. How does Josephine call her ‘Bees’?

3. Apart from growing honey, what does Josephine emphasise in her talks?
4. A business needs to do much more than generating profits. Look at her example and elaborate the statement.
5. What does she visualize? What does this vision embody?

B. Checking Facts and Opinions:

While reading the passage, you might have noticed that some of the statements are facts (which are accurate and proven), whereas some statements are opinions (which show the speaker's views or attitudes). Opinions may differ from person to person. It is very important to recognize facts and opinions in academic reading and listening for better understanding of a topic.

Read the following statements and say whether they are facts or opinions. Write F against facts and O against opinions.

- a) Most people are frightened by bees and fear them.
- b) Apiary can be a profitable business if done with passion
- c) It is important to pass on the knowledge one has learnt to others
- d) Honey has multiple uses
- e) There are different varieties of honey depending on the flower from which the bees extract them believe.....

- It seems to me
that.....
- In my opinion.....
...
- I am convinced
that.....
- I feel absolutely certain that.....

D. Brainstorm vocabulary related to Covid-19 situation, and elicit responses from the students, on the economic repercussions of lockdowns while balancing the health fallout of the pandemic.

Role play: Group the students in pairs and enact a conversation against the above discussed scenario. Remember the conversations have to look at both aspects – health issues and economic impact. students can take roles as follows:

- A street vendor and interviewer
- A representative from the traders' association and a representative from the health sector.
- Small entrepreneur and a government representative
- A mask/hand sanitizer manufacturer and a common man

IMPORTANCE OF BRANDING IN AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY

Pre task: Learning New words and Concepts

authenticity – quality of being genuine or true Branding – the activity of giving a particular name and image to goods and so that people will be attracted to them coincide – to take place at the same time concur –to agree conformity- behavior or actions that follow the accepted rules of the society consistency- the quality of always having the same standards	credibility – the quality that somebody has that makes people believe or trust them hesitant–unwilling, embarrassed Logo – a printed design or symbol that a company or an organization uses as its sign strive – try hard to achieve something sustainable – to make something continue for some time without being less

Read the given passage and attempt the tasks.

A promise, a belief system, a truth, and a soul. All of these terms have been used to define a brand. I will describe it as a representation of a company's values and goals demonstrated through its mission statement, interaction with consumers, and overall position in the market. Branding is extremely important in the auto industry. Some consumers in this industry are completely brand loyal to one company. Others will explore a new brand if it has a more competitive product or if it is recommended to them by someone they trust.

WHY IS BRANDING IMPORTANT?

Customers are told what to expect from your company through its brand. Your brand is your company's connection to its consumers and other businesses. That is why what a company claims their brand message is must match how the company actually operates every day. Positive thoughts or experiences with a brand often lead to brand loyalty which frequently results in an increase in sales. In this increasingly competitive auto market, the fight for customers' attention and business is getting more and more competitive. You can stand apart from other companies by maintaining a stellar brand image. Customer service, blogging, a solid mission statement, and consistent messages on social media can all be beneficial for your brand. You should continuously strive to improve your brand's image.

HOW CAN YOU IMPROVE YOUR BRAND?

Consistency

Consistency is achieved when your company's daily actions concur with your brand's image. For automobile franchises, the biggest aspect of consistency involves communicating with their customers at the dealership. When a customer anticipates service similar to what your mission statement and advertisements claim, and they don't receive that level of service, their expectations are not met. Because of this, customer satisfaction goes down, and word of mouth marketing may not work in your favour. That's why consistency among all workers is important. While a logo, colour scheme, and website layout are not the most vital parts of a brand's image, they must be consistent with your company's message in order for it to be effective. Every time something like an interaction, an ad, or a website layout doesn't coincide with a company's brand, that brand's power and credibility are weakened.

Authenticity

Studies show that being honest about products and services available is even more important than product utility and social significance. People care about how their products are made and whether companies are willing to be transparent about their business practices. It is very difficult to gain customer loyalty and trust without credibility. People are hesitant to trust any company or any person without knowing their story. Authenticity is about knowing your audience and delivering straightforward messages to them. Building credibility is one of the most beneficial things a company can do for its brand in today's market.

Company

Consistency does not mean conformity. Conformity is not needed for a company's brand to be powerful; in fact, today's culture thrives on individuality. Consistency, however, is needed. Every part of the company should be aware of the brand and how their job fits into it. Each employee impacts the brand in a different way. The key is making sure that, even more than knowing the company's mission statement, workers realize that their actions impact the company's brand and how it is perceived by the public. Every part of the company from finance to management needs to participate in actively representing the brand.

Pull Marketing

Most industries rely on push marketing to sell products. This can be effective with some products, but it's hard to do with vehicles. Pushing someone to buy a car is likely not going to be very effective. I know what you're thinking, then how are we supposed to get new customers? The answer seems simple: build up your brand. Well, I guess it's not that simple. To do that requires time, focus, effort, and therefore, money. The point of pull marketing is to make consumers come to you. For this to happen, you have to focus on building credibility of the company, expertise in the field, and value for the customer. Focusing on strengthening the reputation of your brand should not be seen as insignificant. It may not lead to new clients right away, but pull marketing is more sustainable and less time consuming than push marketing.

WHAT IS THE NEXT STEP?

The auto industry is individualizing vehicles more and more, but you must ensure that your brand and its message remain intact. Customization is important because it lets consumers choose exactly what they want. You should strive to make the overall experience that people get from any interaction with your company align with your brand and its reputation. Consistency and authenticity throughout your entire company are needed in order for you to pull consumers to your brand.

READING

Pre task

Try to answer the following questions.

1. Have you ever thought about starting a business of your own?
2. Do you worry about the capital to start your business?
3. Have you thought about the space you need to start a business?

An attractive business idea, capital, and other resources are essential to start a business; if you have the will power, anything and everything is possible. Here is an interesting episode from Daniel Carnegie's How to stop Worrying and Start Living.

How to Lessen your Financial Worries

Mrs. Ora Snyder lives in a town of thirty thousand-Maywood, Illinois. Yet she started in business with the kitchen stove and ten cents' worth of ingredients. Her husband fell ill. She had to earn money. But how? No experience. No skill. No capital. Just a housewife. She took the white of an egg and sugar and made some candy on the back of the kitchen stove; then she took her pan of candy and stood near the school and sold it to the children for a penny a piece as they went home. "Bring more pennies tomorrow," she said. "I'll be here every day with my home-made candy." During the first week, she not only made a profit, but had also put a new zest into living. She was making both herself and the children happy. No time now for worry. This quiet little housewife from Maywood, Illinois, was so ambitious that she decided to branch out-to have an agent sell her kitchen-made candy in roaring, thundering Chicago. She timidly approached an Italian selling peanuts on the street. He shrugged his shoulders. His customers wanted peanuts, not candy. She gave him a sample. He liked it, began selling her candy, and made a good profit for Mrs. Snyder on the first day. Four years later, she opened her first store in Chicago. It was only eight feet wide. She made her candy at night and sold it in the daytime. This erstwhile timid housewife, who started her candy factory on her kitchen stove, now has seventeen stores-fifteen of them in the busy Loop district of Chicago. Mrs. Ora Snyder, in May-wood, Illinois, instead of worrying about finances, did something positive. She started in an extremely small way to make money off the kitchen stove-no overhead, no rent, no advertising, no salaries. Where there is a will, there is a way.

A. Find out the opt words from the passage for the given meanings.

1. enjoyment and enthusiasm
2. The money one makes in business
3. Determined to be successful, rich and powerful
4. Person who acts for or managing the affairs of other peoplw in business
5. Shy and nervous
6. Former
7. Raise your shoulders and then dropping them to show that you don't care
8. Making a continuous loud deep noise

B. Say whether the following are true or false.

1. Ora Snyder had to earn money since her husband fell ill.
2. Ora Snyder sold candy near the College.
4. Ora approached Indian selling peanuts on the street.
5. Instead of worrying about finances Ora Snyder did something positive.

C. Answer the following questions.

1. What are the ingredients of Ora Snyder's business?
2. How did Ora make candy?
3. How much a piece of candy cost?
4. Why did Ora need an agent?
5. How many stores did Ora own in Chicago?

D. Think-Pair-Share - Do you have a business idea? Think about one. Find a partner and share your idea. Listen to their idea and give your opinion.

Graphs

In the world of business and commerce, numbers play a big role. Whether it is profits or losses, the numbers are best understood when it is represented through visuals. Graphs represent data pictorially, which has two dimensional relationships. Thus, a graph has at least two axes, X and Y. X axis represents horizontal while Y axis represents vertical.

TYPES OF GRAPHS

LINE GRAPHS	BAR GRAPHS

Line graphs clearly indicate the changes in the data of one or more variable over a specific period of time. It is imperative that one of the axes represents the timeline and the other axis displays the value of the variable. The trend in sales, profit, expenses are plotted in the line graph and analyzed in business. The scatter plot is also a type of line chart where the points are expressed as dots instead of lines.

Bar graphs compare the numeric values of various units of variable through a bar. It may be a horizontal or vertical bar. One axis indicates the categories of the variables and the other axis shows the value of each category. The height or length of each bar is directly related to its value. Bar graphs are widely used by marketing companies to display the ratings and survey responses. Histogram is also a type of bar graphs. (156,157)

Enquiry letters are the business letters written by the prospective buyers to the prospective sellers. When a buyer wants to know about certain details regarding the product he writes the enquiry letter to the seller.

Drafting Tips:

- The enquiry letter should be very clear, complete, correct and specific about your purpose.
- You should ensure that the letter is well organized and has direct approach
- You should give the details about you to the seller.
- You should state how you got the details about the seller and the products he is offering for sales.
- The tone of the letter should not be arrogant and at the same time no need to be too belittling. Do not say the words like “I beg you to send the details...”, etc..
- Further the tone of the letter should be positive and express confidence.
- Avoid lengthy and unnecessary details and statements
- In your enquiry letter you should be very clear about your intention and quantity of purchase. This will help the seller to offer you the best price.
- If you are asking for special offer and concession, you should give supporting reasons for the same.
- Avoid repetition of the information and details in the enquiry letter

Business letter:

Task: 1

Read the following letter seeking assistance from a colleague for an upcoming product presentation. Identify the idioms, and guess their meaning from the context.

Dear Sara,

The product presentation to our overseas client is scheduled on next Monday. Although I anticipate signing the contract by the end of the month, there are still too many things up in the air that requires to be dealt with. I need your expert opinion to help me through the red tapism and to think outside the box in gaining an edge over the rivals.

It took me a while to learn the ropes in my new capacity; I would appreciate if you could lend me a hand in the preparation of the slides. Moreover, I feel the need to re-strategize our sales presentation amid this global economic crisis and go back to the drawing board at the earliest. The bottom line is unless we deal with it more effectively the future of the company in this pandemic looks bleak. Nonetheless, hope to put on a brave front in delivering the product presentation.

If you could join me for a preview meet tomorrow we can get down to business, without further delay. In a nut shell, as an expert on sales figures, I would be grateful if you could express your views in this matter.

Task: 2

What problems can you have when you buy something online or by mail order? Add to the list.

- missing parts
- wrong quantity

E-MAIL WRITING

When did you last write an email? Was it for...

- asking information?
- giving information?
- saying sorry?
- saying thanks?

Essentials of e-mail etiquette

Greetings and Sign-offs

- The following are examples of greetings and sign off:
- Dear Professor S.... (Formal), Hello Ms. M.... (semi-formal), Hi Mani ( informal). To whom it may concern (formal). Dear members of the selection committee (semi formal), Hello everyone (informal)
- For your closing, something brief but friendly, or perhaps just your name, will do for most correspondence:
- Thank you, Best wishes, See you tomorrow, Regards.
- For a very formal message, such as a job application, use the kind of closing that you might see in a business letter:
- Sincerely, Respectfully yours.
- Cc: and Bcc: ('carbon copy' and 'blind carbon copy')
- Cc: Both the original recipient and all the recipients of the carbon copies can see all the e-mail addresses in the To: and Cc: fields.
- Each person who receives the message will be able to see the addresses of everyone else who received it.
- Blind copying e-mails to a group of people can be useful when you don't want everyone on the list to have each other's e-mail addresses.

Sample Email writing:

A sample e-mail for composing is given for reference:

Task: 3

Discuss the differences between a business letter and an email. Discuss how business email can also include helpful hyperlinks. The documents that would be enclosed in a business letter can also be sent as attachments through an email. Also discuss how e-mails about a certain subject are usually sent in the same chain and as such, references to previous communication can be made easily by naming the date at which a particular mail was sent.

Sample Complaint Letter

You bought a TV a week ago but when you got home you discovered it did not work properly. You called customer service to report the problem but you have not yet received any help. Write a letter of complaint to the manager to take action immediately.

Hints for drafting a Complaint letter:

- Make a clear statement of the mistake in a calm, courteous and matter-of-fact style.
- The claim should be specific. Clearly identify whether the fault lay with the good supplied or service rendered.
- A reference to the order or quotation or date and time of arrival of goods, etc. is also necessary.
- Explain the nature and extent of inconvenience or damage caused in terms of money, sales, service or goodwill
- State the steps necessary to rectify the situation
- Make a courteous but firm request that the matter should be attended to promptly.

Purchase of Hi-Tech Television- Purchase order no. 254689
Date: --/--/----
Dear Sir/ Madam, I am writing to express my dissatisfaction with the faulty TV that I purchased from your store last Tuesday. I am a regular customer at your store, buying your products for more than a decade. Last week, I purchased a Hi-tech Television set from your retail store near Paris. After I brought it home, I discovered that not only the remote controls did not work but also the picture quality was not as good as the one in the display. In dismay, I called the customer service, but I was answered by a rude salesperson who responded that the firm is not responsible for any problems that may arise after taking the product delivery.

My intention in writing this letter is to request you to replace the television set with a new one as I have a three-year warranty on this product. Moreover, I expect in future your salespersons would behave in a more responsible manner.

In anticipation for a swift replacement of the defective product.

Regards,

Meghna

Task 4: You have bought a new camera but when you got it home you found it had some problems. You returned the camera and spoke to the company representative a week ago but the camera has still not been repaired. Write a letter of complaint.

UNIT 2

LISTENING

Human Resource Process

Listen to the passage and draw a flow chart.

Human Resource (HR) Processes are vital to materialize the objectives of the organization. To derive the best benefits from the employees HR follows several steps in equipping the human resource pool.

HR has to advertise the vacancy in print/electronic medium after analyzing job description of the position required. After careful scrutiny of the applications, appropriate candidates are asked to undergo selection processes. Then selected candidates are inducted into the organization. At the time of induction process organization's goal and the expected performance from the persons are explained. Training is given to them and its outcome is evaluated. The performance of the employees is monitored and confirmed whether the necessary skill is acquired. Finally, the appraisal of the performance is followed by suitable reward strategies and remuneration.

Hint: Here is a model flowchart. Customize it according to your requirements.

SPEAKING

Pre-task

Fill in the blanks with the appropriate words. (handsome, pleasant, decided, unaffected, good-looking)

“Mr. Bingley was _____ and gentlemanlike; he had a _____ countenance, and easy, _____ manners. His sisters were fine women, with an air of _____ fashion. His brother-in-law, Mr. Hurst, merely looked the gentleman; but his friend Mr. Darcy soon drew the attention of the room by his fine, tall person, _____ features, noble mien, and the report which was in general circulation within five minutes after his entrance, of his having ten thousand a year. The gentlemen pronounced him to be a fine figure of a man, the ladies declared he was much handsomer than Mr. Bingley...”

The above passage has described the features of Mr. Bingley. As a student of Business, you will have to describe products that you either design, manufacture, buy or sell.

Product description: In order to describe a product in a manner that it will sell you need to:

- Address your target audience directly and personally
- Highlight the benefits of each feature
- Provide detailed, specific and technical descriptions (do not use general words such as “This is an excellent product”)
- If your product is really the best you have to establish why by providing more facts
- Appeal the imagination of the target audience by explaining how they will feel when using the product
- Include stories when selling your product so that the target audience will not know that they are being sold something
- Use sensory words that appeal to the sense of sight, hearing, smell, taste and touch
- Product reviews should be included to convince the target audience

READING

There are three different styles of reading academic texts:

Skimming – A quick reading of the text to get a general impression of the author's main argument, themes or ideas.

Scanning –Reading to get specific information from the text.

In-depth Reading – Reading to gain deeper meaning and comprehension of a text.

Warm up Activity:

Discuss the following questions:

What does a cashless transaction mean?

How are online transactions carried out?

What is your opinion on digital transactions?

Can India reduce its dependence on cash?

Skimming: Skimming and scanning are reading techniques that browse through the key words to comprehend the meaning of the content. Skimming refers to quick reading to get the general idea or summary of a text. Skimming focuses in grabbing the main idea of a given text. Non-fluent readers will not be able to determine essential versus nonessential information effectively as they cannot read fast and comprehend. Skimming is a technique which helps one to decide if the text is interesting and should one go in depth for gaining required information. Skimming focuses in getting the gist of the content.

A. Skimming: Digital Transaction

The following are the topic areas of each paragraph. Read the passage and identify the topic of each paragraph and write the number next to it. An example is given for (1)

1. Digital Transaction Defined
2. Benefits of digital transaction
3. Digital India programme
4. Future scope of Digital transactions
5. Digital Payment Method
6. Barriers in Digital transactions

(_____1_____)Digital transactions can be broadly termed as online or automated transactions that take place between people and organizations—without the use of paper. Our nation is making ardent efforts to move towards a cashless transaction economy by minimizing the use of physical cash.

(_____)Digital Wallets are supporting the drive to cashless society in enabling the user to store his card information in the mobile wallets or digital payment apps to make cashless payment in an encoded format to allow secure payments. One can also add money to a mobile wallet and use the same to make payments and purchase goods and services. This eliminates the need to use credit/debit cards or remember the CVV or 4-digit pin.

(_____)The main intent to build a cashless society is that it improves the ease of conducting digital transactions for an individual and reduces the risks and costs of handling cash at the individual level. Moreover, digital payment means through internet banking, a most widely used payment method increases accountability and transaction eliminating several risks in business.

(_____)There are still many roadblocks for a smooth switch over to cashless economy in India. Firstly, many people cannot access the rural bank because of the distance. Besides, low literacy rate hinders the accessibility of banking services. Another major problem is non-availability of required technology. A large section of people dread cashless transactions because there is no law against the theft of data security.

(_____)However, in order to bridge the gap, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) for Payment and Settlement Systems in India released a vision document to provide safe, secure, accessible and affordable e-payment systems. To achieve these, it will focus on four strategic initiatives such as responsive regulation, robust infrastructure, effective supervision and customer-centricity.

(_____)With the phenomenal rise in easy-to-use payment methods like UPI and Aadhaar-linked payments, India has begun its journey towards cashless economy. With the help of infrastructure development in rural India, the possibility of switching over to digital transaction is not a distant dream.

Scanning : Scanning a text means looking through it quickly to find specific information. Scanning is commonly used in everyday life, for example when looking for a definition of a particular scientific term. It requires that readers be able to comprehend words quickly, they are looking for important information and not aiming at understanding the nitty-gritty of the idea. Scanning requires you to look for a particular word or phrase. When scanning, the person is looking for a specific piece of information, be it key terms, dates, or times—for example, when you are looking for a travel or a trip you will focus on availability of the trains as per your requirement.

B. Pair Work: The Story of Infosys: The following sentences are in jumbled order. Arrange the sentences in the right order and make a brief presentation to your partner.

N.R. Narayana Murthy

1. Narayana Murthy was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth; in fact, he had to work extremely hard to reach the top.
2. The house that Murthy and Sudha bought with a loan became the first Infosys office.
3. He strongly felt that he was meant for it and that this was the right time too, he was very passionate about creating good quality software, but the problem was that he didn't have the money.
4. Having that sorted, on a morning of January 1981, Murthy and his six colleagues started Infosys in 1981
5. An excerpt from Sudha Murthy's reminiscences, the wife of Infosys founder N R Narayana Murthy.
6. So Sudha gave without his knowledge. Murthy had a dream, and no money. Murthy and his six colleagues started Infosys in 1981.
7. Now around the early 70's, he went on to start his first entrepreneurial venture – Softronic, a software consulting firm.
8. NR Narayan Murthy is one of India's pioneers when it comes to tech, business, and entrepreneurship.
9. Those days, Murthy wanted to do something with his life, but he had no money.
10. After about a year and a half the Softronic sadly tanked and they were forced to shut it down.

Read the text carefully and answer the questions given below.

Over the years, advertising has evolved into a major industry that goes beyond informing to persuading and influencing the consumers. They are psychological tool which influences people to buy a product. Undoubtedly, advertisements and consumer culture have become a part of our lives today causing a significant and measurable effect on consumer cognitions, emotions, and behaviors. Needless to say, advertising has given rise to negative attributes like creating class consciousness, materialism, and other value factors that are not market de facto. We have become trapped in the web of advertising where products like brands of beer and cigarette take over our minds, doing away with our core family values. Unethical advertising can occur in subtle ways that are difficult to establish as complete deception. Advertisement for building an effective defense against misleading advertisements not only strict supervisions on media are required, but also necessary education should be provided to develop more critical judgment among media consumers.

In general, an advertisement that uses deceiving information in the form of false claims, inaccurate affiliations or company influence to make their consumers to buy their product is called misleading advertisement. These misleading ads can lead to customer disappointment, change of purchase trends of the consumer and also creating a false hype, which could lead to trust issues on the product. ### Vocabulary Enrichment:

Now you have learnt the traits you need to become a successful business man. Let us work towards enhancing your vocabulary by working on Definitions and Extended Definitions.

DEFINITIONS

The word ‘definition’ originates from ‘define’, which is ‘stating exactly what a thing is’. A definition has two distinct elements. First, the term should be identified as an item of a large group or category. Then its distinguishing characteristics are to be specified in such a way that no other object, device, or process should fit into the definition.

Steps to write Definitions:

1. Use of articles: A definition usually begins with an article ‘a’ or ‘an’ or ‘the’.
2. State what it is – whether it is a tool or a device or a machine or a component or an instrument or a concept or an idea or a study.
3. Describe the primary use of the thing.
4. State the condition of the thing, description of the thing. etc.

Example:

1. Dividend – A part of a company’s profits that is paid to the people who own shares in it.
2. Dead Line – A date on which something must be completed

3. Memorandum – A record of legal agreement which has not yet been formally prepared and signed
4. Trade – An act of buying and selling of goods and services
5. Strategy – A plan that is intended to achieve a particular purpose

EXERCISE: Write the definitions for the following words

1. Invoice -
2. Mortgage -
3. Negotiate
4. Annuity -
5. Trade Mark -

Extended Definitions

Defining a word can be with a synonym, a brief phrase, or a formal sentence that explains the term in its most basic form.

Terms are words, compound words, or multi-word expressions that are given specific meanings in specific contexts —these may deviate from the meanings the same words have in other contexts, and in everyday language.

Steps to write Extended Definitions

- Explain the word and its term.
  - Describe its Classification, principle, and its operation.
  - Discuss its Cause and Effect attributes, and its component parts.
  - Compare and contrast, if needed.

Example:

Collateral Security – This refers to an asset that a lender accepts as security for a loan, the collateral acts as a form of protection for the lender. That is, if the borrower defaults on his loan payment, the lender can seize the collateral and sell it to adjust his loan.

Exercise : Write extended definitions for the following

1. Liabilities-

- 2. Revenue -
- 3. Cash flow -
- 4. Inventory
- 5. Supply chain

Now that you are acquainted with Definitions and Extended Definitions, you can read up on definitions that you are looking for and get authentic information at websites like www.britannica.com. Though Wikipedia has a great deal of information, it cannot be considered a reliable source because it can be edited by anyone at anytime

WRITING

Source passage: Creating a Marketing Copy

In marketing a sale, the consumer has to be convinced in purchasing a product. This demands the need in developing a marketing copy. Therefore, writing a marketing copy is an important strategy because it elaborates the quality of a product through the product description which determines to promote or demote a sale. It should provide the required information that contributes to the making of purchase decision. It has to provoke the customer to fantasize owning the product. Obviously, it signifies their interest in the purchase of the product. Therefore, exposing the learners to the essential elements of copy writing would give a lead to develop their writing skill. First and foremost, use precise sentences, easy to read (i.e.) brevity which helps in focusing the benefits of the product. Tone of the marketing copy should be unique, based on the medium of communication, such as, social networking sites, other virtual sites and print media. So, the six Wh's approach would help to promote the sale in marketing. For example, what are the advantages of using the product? Who can use it? How to use it? When to use it? Why is it necessary to use? Where can it be used? It is also important to feature the unique characteristics of this product in comparison to other competitors.

A paragraph with few not so lengthy sentences about the product ought to be written to attract the customer. It must persuade the customer and make them feel the void without the product, thereby, compelling them to purchase. The features of the product can be illustrated in bulleted list with visual story telling. Yet, it has to be constricted by not giving a plethora of details or too much information about the product.

For business enterprises to be profitable they need to churn out products and services that their customers will like. Getting concrete insights into the minds of customers is extremely difficult. But it is possible by leveraging the right processes and focusing on the key data points such as the customer profile. (p.100) This is done by engaging in a small research maintaining a demographic profile to know the target audience and to create an awareness of the product. It provides a better reach to promote the marketing sale. While writing, it has to be remembered that to stay connected with the consumers, second person pronouns such as "you, your and yours" has to be used. This will urge the customers to feel the proximity and personalize the copy which is a promotional strategy. Some other ways of promoting sale include: special offers and graphics or images based on the product. Thus, the product description process gives a lead to promote the product when such factors are incorporated in the marketing copy. A copywriting that covers these essentials tends to become persuasive and saleable.

Glossary:

Digitalization 'A Tool for Development' : Interview

Shradha Sharma is a journalist and the founder of YourStory, the biggest media technology platform for start-ups in India. Listen to the Interview of Shradha Sharma with Friederike Bauer and do the tasks.

Are you a digital native?

Shradha: Yes, I am. When I started my platform nine years ago I had no clue, but now I am the biggest champion of the digital world. Why? Because it's a tool for normal people who don't have a lot of money. It doesn't matter what their legacy is or what background they come from. Anyone can go out and create an equitable world with an equal voice. I am the best example of this.

You created the platform YourStory – but what is your personal story?

Shradha: I used to work as a journalist for media organisations, for the CNBC news channel and the Times of India. After a while I realised that the media are very obsessed with success. When you've achieved something, you make it into the news, you make headlines. That started to bother me because it's easy to write about successful people. What about the less celebrated people who have dreams and a sense of purpose, but are only just beginning to fulfil that? I asked myself how I could contribute and help give shape to their ideas.

"Let's celebrate your story"

That's when you started your platform?

Shradha: Exactly, that was in 2008. I called it YourStory because I wanted to tell people: Hey, you have a great purpose, you are doing great things. Let's celebrate your story at the very start. And let's share it with others.

And with it, you wrote your own success story?

Shradha: I had nobody backing me and no background whatsoever in this area, but I did have an idea and a vision. I worked very hard, day and night. Today the company has 90 staff. We've published 72,000 stories of young, small businesses. We reach 15 million people and we're about to expand into other countries, including Germany. We are the voice of start-up entrepreneurs in India. My goal is to make YourStory the biggest platform of its kind in the world.

Marketing for big corporations

Interviewer: That means you make money with it?

Shradha: We've been profitable from the beginning, with a combination of different income sources, one being start-up summits, another doing the marketing for big corporations who want to get in touch with smaller firms.

Interviewer: How do you find the people and their stories?

Shradha: In the beginning we looked for them ourselves, just like any good journalist would. We were searching for the unique angle. Now, we get 400 to 500 mails per day from people who want to get heard. We select the stories and then write them up.

Interviewer: Do you see more chances or more dangers coming from digitalization?

Shradha: A lot more chances. Of course, there's fake news on the internet, and there are issues to resolve, like cyber security and so on. On the other hand, things will evolve; we have to – and we will – find appropriate safeguards. I am very optimistic about that. These are the early symptoms of a profound transformation that has just started.

Interviewer: Would you say the digital world is particularly promising for women and poor people?

Shradha: It will do more good to women and poor people, definitely. In India, of our 1.3 billion people, 800 million have smart phones. They can express themselves, they can reach out, they can create business opportunities even in remote villages. That is unprecedented. The hurdles to participation are much lower than before – and that's beneficial for vulnerable people.

Interviewer: Some people feel digitalization is widening the gap between countries, others say it will close it. What do you think?

Shradha: I think it will help close it. For instance, with the help of digitalization India has taken huge steps, also economically, so I consider it a tool for development. In the next five years we'll see a much more connected and equitable world.

5. The digital world will do more _____ to women and poor people.

SPEAKING

Pre-Task:

Work in pairs and put down your ideas on the importance of negotiation skills. Use the starburst pattern to compile your own.

Warm up: We all go through some sort of negotiation each day. Good negotiators build strong long-term relationships. Have you ever felt anxious in entering a negotiation? Under what situations have you negotiated? Whom do you negotiate with? Talk about your experience of using negotiation skills either at home or in campus.

Negotiation

Read the passage on Negotiation and complete the following activity.

Negotiation is a fundamental element in the social life of organizations. Whether you are aware of it or not, you negotiate for resources and attention. In a business to consumer (B2C), negotiation is very different from marketing and selling. The primary difference is that Marketing is about making people aware of the product, services, or business, whereas Selling is to convince the other person to buy your product or service. Negotiation normally succeeds selling, because once a customer has agreed to buy the product or service, then issues about price, payment terms, delivery, quantity, and others will surface, which are negotiable.

For example, when you see an advertisement in a newspaper for a new television (TV) and go to the store and ask for that particular TV, which is marketing. But when the sales-man explains to you the features and attributes of the TV and how it will be useful to you, that is selling. The moment you show your consent to buy the TV, you start haggling over the price. You may also demand that the payment mode be made in five monthly installments and then you would ask them to deliver the TV within a day or two and discuss the freebies that are available in the store.

Thus, in simple terms, negotiation normally succeeds selling and selling succeeds marketing. It is not possible to jump straight to closure from selling without the negotiation process. There is no way to eliminate the negotiation process. Negotiation is a source of creating more value for the particular transaction and probably creating a bond for a longer term that can help to reach your goals.

Mind Mapping

INEFFECTIVE NEGOTIATIONS

In an overwhelming era, it's easy to forsake preparatory time and hope to wing it in the discussions. Moreover, if not vigilant, a deal could be thwarted by pride and self-importance. Negotiation isn't always easy, it isn't a game to be won or lost. Especially when one finds fear of failure and fear of the unknown assert itself in bargain. Negotiations will also fail if one is too rigid about the deal and unbending on time. Besides, one can't allow emotions to get out of control in bargaining, losing your temper. Remember, deceitful tactics will come back to haunt you, unless one is concerned about upholding integrity.

- B. Complete the mind map on subjective factors that affect negotiations using the information provided. Choose four major aspects that must be addressed in order to carry out a successful negotiation. Make sure there is no overlap between these four subtopics and provide at least two important characteristics, details or examples of each subtopic. Also discuss with your neighbor the reasons for your answer.

D. Pierre is going to address the shareholders of his company in a board meeting. They have incurred a loss. Now he has to request their assist in prototyping an online venture. How will he convince the shareholders in the board meeting? Write a brief speech where Pierre will try to negotiate this deal with the shareholders. Attempt using the key negotiating terms presented above.

Small Group Discussions

In order to arrive at a decision in a given situation and to find a solution to a problem, one of the most effective methods is conducting a discussion in a group. In addition, group discussions are increasingly being used in the job market during interviews and selection procedures. There are different sub skills that students need to develop in order to be effective participants in a group discussion. Communication skills, leadership qualities, analytical skills, subject knowledge, attitude are some of the areas that would be tested during a group discussion.

General tips on group discussion

1. Maintain eye contact while speaking: Do not look at the evaluators only. Keep eye contact with every group member while speaking.
2. Initiate the discussion: Initiating the discussion is a big advantage. But do it only when you understand the topic clearly and have some topic knowledge.
3. Allow others to speak: Do not interrupt anyone in between while speaking..
4. Speak clearly: Speak politely and clearly. Use simple and understandable words while speaking. Do not be too aggressive if you are disagreeing with someone. Express your views calmly and politely.
5. Make sure to bring the discussion on track. Stick to the topic.
6. Positive Attitude: Do not try to dominate anyone. Keep positive body language and show interest in the discussion.
7. Speak sensibly: Your thoughts should be sensible and relevant.
8. Be a good listener: Speak less and listen more. Pay attention while others are speaking. This will lead to coherence in the discussion.

E. Look at the info graphic explaining why we should appropriate body language in negotiations. Discuss in groups about the essential non-verbal communication for the negotiator.

F.

Read the following article about the art of negotiation. Form groups of eight and have a group discussion on the importance of conducting smart negotiations in business. Choose one person from the group to act as the moderator of the group discussion.

Good negotiation means leaving each party satisfied and willing to do business with each other in future. In today's competitive market, good negotiation is highly valued. The ability to persuade people is a useful skill both in personal and professional life. When we think of negotiations, we tend to focus on the hard negotiating skills connected with bargaining. In fact, many professional negotiators will confirm that the most important skill is effective relationship building. If there is trust and understanding between the two parties, the negotiation will be much more successful, as will the long-term business relationship between them.

A win-win negotiation is a careful exploration of both your own position, and that of your opponent, in order to find a mutually acceptable outcome that gives you both as much of what you want as possible. If you both walk away happy with what you've gained from the deal, then that's a win-win!

In an ideal win-win situation, you will find that the other person wants what you are prepared to trade, and that you are prepared to give what he or she wants. If this is not the case, and one of you must give way, then it is fair to negotiate some form of compensation for doing so. But both sides should still feel comfortable with the outcome. Ideally a successful negotiation is where you can make concessions that mean little to you, while giving something to the other party that means a lot to them.

Task: 7

Below is a list of topics that will help you practice and prepare for group discussions. Think about how you would prepare for each topic and exchange ideas with your partner.

1. The relevance of cooperatives in today's global environment
2. Privatisation of public sector
3. Skilled manpower shortage in India

4. Technology creates income disparities
5. Implications of FDI for business
6. Role of MNC's in India

READING

In the field of commerce and management, communication plays an inevitable role. There is a demand to use English language persuasively. Though a major emphasis has been given to speaking and writing in English reading continues to gain power over other communicative skills such as listening, speaking and writing. Despite the fact that they are integrated, reading has to be accentuated because it develops fluency. Eventually, it enhances one's proficiency beginning with the development of vocabulary followed by expressions.

Several centuries have passed, yet the popular English playwright, William Shakespeare remains unsurpassed. Even an illiterate emerging Portia and Shylock leave an indelible mark on the minds of the readers, among the unfading characters of Shakespeare.

The Merchant of Venice

Look at the picture given below, it represents the famous characters- Portia and Shylock from Shakespeare's play The Merchant of Venice.

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Portia\_and\_Shylock\_\(Sully,\_1835\).jpg.jpg)

In fact, it is a remarkable scene where Portia negotiates with Shylock on behalf of the Venetian merchant, Antonio. Shylock, the Jewish money-lender is known for his shrewdness. He makes use of the opportunity to gratify his grudge against the merchant- Antonio, who is hated by Shylock for belittling his business of lending money with interest. Therefore, he lends money to Bassanio on condition that, if the latter fails to return the money within three months, he will take a pound of flesh from the Venetian merchant. Antonio, being a loyal friend of Bassanio, agrees to be the guarantor of the money lent from Shylock at the cost of his life. As he was sure that his ships would return in a month making it easy to return the money before the bond expires.

Unfortunately, Antonio's presumption went wrong, thus leading the friends to trial. Bassanio had to borrow the money from Shylock to woo his Lady, Portia of Belmont. Therefore, Portia feels obliged and comes to their rescue. She is an epitome of intelligence and eloquence which is evident in her assertive speech at the courtroom.

PORTIA

And you must cut this flesh off from his breast:

The law allows it, and the court awards it.

...there is something else.

This bond doth give thee here no jot of blood;

The words expressly are 'a pound of flesh:'

Take then thy bond, take thou thy pound of flesh;

But, in the cutting it, if thou dost shed

One drop of Christian blood, thy lands and goods

Are, by the laws of Venice, confiscate

Unto the state of Venice. (The Merchant of Venice, Act IV Scene i)

(Source <http://shakespeare.mit.edu/merchant/merchant.4.1.html>)

Finally, Portia's sharp-witted negotiation restores the situation in favor of Antonio and saves his life.

A. Answer the following questions briefly.

1. Point out four words used in the passage that best describe the ability of Portia.
2. What is the technique adopted by Portia in this scene?
3. How did Portia win the case by quoting the bond?
4. Describe the meaning of the word "negotiation" in your own words.
5. Can you elicit the name of any one English literary piece of work on trade/business which you have come across while reading?

Negotiation Strategies:

<https://www.needpix.com/photo/download/390169/personal-group-shaking-hands-silhouettes-man-woman-teamwork-team-finance>

According to the Oxford Business English Dictionary, negotiation refers to the “formal discussions between people who are trying to reach an agreement”. In business communication, it is a process which establishes the relationship between an employer and the employee, also those associated with each other in trade or business. This process requires a plan to achieve its purpose. There are some strategies for negotiation, it involves:

- i. Problem solving: intend to carefully scrutinize the agreement if it happens to be a long-term deal.
- ii. Persuading: to convince the negotiating partner and to arrive at a consensus, being aware that the deal is going to be most beneficiary to oneself when compared to the other partner.
- iii. Conceding: to admit the deal knowing that it would be an advantage for the opposite party to bargain.
- iv. Compromising: to arrive at a mutual understanding with both parties experiencing outcomes up to their satisfaction.
- v. Avoiding: to delay the process by seeking time to think over the deal in order to get more information or to use a better strategy.

Of course, the negotiation strategy depends on the relationship between both the parties, their interests, attitudes and behaviour. In the process, the negotiator ought to be assertive, proactive and with a win-win attitude. While negotiating, the individuals involved should not confront each other nor argue.

De-risking Strategy

Pre-task:

Try to answer the following questions:

1. What is risk management?
2. Do you know the steps of risk management process?
3. Suggest four ways to manage risk.

Read the following passage and do the tasks that follow.

Narayana Murthy at New York University (Stern School of Business)

Dean Cooley, faculty, staff, distinguished guests, and, most importantly, the graduating class of 2007, it is a great privilege to speak at your commencement ceremonies. I would like to share with you the crucibles that tempered my character and reshaped my future.

On a hot summer morning in 1995, a Fortune-10 corporation had sequestered all their Indian software vendors, including Infosys, in different rooms at Taj Residency hotel in Bangalore so that the vendors could not communicate with one another. This customer's propensity for tough negotiations was well-known. Our team was very nervous.

First of all, with revenues of only around $5 million, we were minnows compared to the customer.

Second, this customer contributed fully 25% of our revenues. The loss of this business would potentially devastate our recently-listed company.

Third, the customer's negotiation style was very aggressive. The customer team would go from room to room, get the best terms out of each vendor and then pit one vendor against the other. This went on for several rounds. Our various arguments why a fair price -- one that allowed us to invest in good people, R&D, infrastructure, technology and training -- was actually in their interest failed to cut any ice with the customer. By 5 p.m. on the last day, we had to make a decision right on the spot whether to accept the customer's terms or to walk out.

All eyes were on me as I mulled over the decision. I closed my eyes, and reflected upon our journey until then. Through many a tough call, we had always thought about the long-term interests of Infosys. I communicated clearly to the customer team that we could not accept their terms, since it could well lead us to letting them down later. But I promised a smooth, professional transition to a vendor of customer's choice. This was a turning point for Infosys.

Subsequently, we created a Risk Mitigation Council which ensured that we would never again depend too much on any one client, technology, country, application area or key employee. The crisis was a blessing in disguise. Today, Infosys has a sound de-risking strategy that has stabilized its revenues and profits.

WRITING

Pre-Task:

Give an account of your 19 Lockdown.

life during Covid

Significance of Written Communication in Business

Good written communication will have well defined goals; it would have specified the problems and solutions which are very important for business. Written communication helps to build good relationship when it is done very effectively. It should have clarity for the recipient to understand, to understand the point of view of the writer quickly. The tone of writing should be positive. It is essential that writing should be free from spelling and grammar error. Pre-writing, writing, revising and editing are the important stages in business writing.

You, the digital children would like to answer a question in a word or two. You may find essay writing uninteresting, boring, and time consuming. But essay writing provides you an opportunity to think, gather ideas and logically present your views on a particular topic in an innovative way. It exhibits your logical thinking, critical analysis and immense vocabulary. Essay may be of a simple narrative or description of a process. Some time it may be a compare and contrast or an argument. Essay deals with a single idea with many supporting evidences to drive home the point. Essay can be classified as Narrative, Descriptive, Expository, Argumentative and compare and contrast.

Narrative Essay: It is a simple narration of facts or one's experiences. Writer should be creative.
Ex: Your First Day in the College

Descriptive Essay: It is based on the detailed description and analysis of an object or events. Adjectives and adverbs, metaphors and similes can be used to visualize things. Ex: Your favorite Sportsman

Expository Essay: This includes the process of interpreting some process, personal response to the particular experience or situation or critical analysis of some topics. Ex: Public Transport

Argumentative Essay: Writer has to state the thesis statement and then put forth his arguments in such a way to persuade the reader. Ex: Television - boon or bane

Compare and Contrast Essay: Writer has to present the similarities and differences between selected subjects. Ex: As a student you compare your school life with college life.

Structure of the essay:

Essay should have Introduction, body and conclusion.

Introduction: To capture the attention of the reader you can begin the essay with a famous quotation. A good opening would say why your essay is a 'must read'. The main idea should be stated in a single sentence and you should provide background information about the topic. Like a preview you have to give a snapshot of what your essay is going to be about. Simply it should arouse the interest of the reader.

Body of the essay: This means the supporting paragraphs. Each supporting ideas will have a separate paragraph. With facts and examples these ideas can be developed into paragraphs. Transition words or connectives are used to connect these sentences and give a cohesion to the paragraph. Transition words are listed below with their use.

- To list different points transitions like first, second, third etc., are used.
- To add ideas besides, in addition to, furthermore, also etc., used.
- To contrast however, even though, on the other hand, nevertheless etc., are used.
- To show cause and effect therefore, thus, as a result of, consequently etc., are used.

Conclusion: This summarizes the essay and also stresses the important ideas. Here you can give your personal opinion and also suggest future course of action.

Points to ponder:

- Plan for the essay- Decide on the points you would like to discuss and also the paragraph divisions.
- Think about your chosen topic. You have to jot down the several ideas occur in your mind in a piece of paper. Search for illustrations and quotations to support your views.
- Arrange your ideas in a logical order and put them in their respective paragraphs. Ideas should be well organized.
- Always begin your essay with a quotation or an anecdote in order to attract the attention of the readers. Introduction is a kind of preface or preview for the essay.
- Each paragraph should contain a topical sentence and supporting ideas. Examples can be given to stress the points.
- Transitions or connectives could be used to connect the sentences.
- Unity, cohesion and coherence are important ingredients of an essay.
- Simple, direct and clear style is preferred.
- Avoid slang and colloquial expressions.
- Revise your essay after writing, make necessary changes before submission.

SAMPLE I: DIGITAL CLASS ROOM

“Education should be for life, not for livelihood” stresses the significance of life lessons for students that are possible only with traditional classroom. Of course, Digital class room or virtual class room comes to the rescue of students as well as teachers during covid19 lockdown.

Character building, enhancing life skills and tuning them to face challenges in life is done only in traditional class room. Apart from delivery of course material and testing the students, preparing them for life is important. Teacher's vital role in the class cannot be replaced by technology. Technology aids quick learning, provides a support system for students learning methods and makes learning interesting. With ICT tools and internet class room can be an interesting place for the students to equip themselves with subjects, skills and ethics.

In the class room, students get an opportunity to learn courteous behavior, decency, polite manners along with subjects. They can get their doubts clarified from their teacher immediately. They learn inter-personal skills, leadership quality and team spirit in the class room. They learn to adjust with the fellow students, share and care them. It is the teacher who chiseled the students and character building takes place gradually at class room.

Internet, World Wide Web and ICT tools have made learning easy as well as interesting. Attending Google Meet and submitting the assignment in the Google classroom is easy. One-to-one meeting with teachers and students will teach them life skills. To learn life lessons, it is advisable to have a blended class room. Mechanical delivery of the material on digital screen will not have an impact on the character of students. Students need teacher's care, emotions, knowledge and direction to grow up. The real class room blended with digital aids will revolutionize the classroom.

The aim of education is to bring a change in the behavior of the students. So real class room experience is essential for students. At the same time ICT and digital tools make the class interesting and keep the students attentive in the class. So blended learning is the need of the hour.

SAMPLE II : E COMMERCE

Electronic Commerce known as E commerce has brought a revolution in business. E commerce means buying and selling of goods and services over electronic system. E business can be carried out with the help of Computer, smart phones and internet. E commerce is a strong catalyst for the promotion of business. The ICT in business has brought significant changes in the attitude of the customer as well as in the business strategy.

Modern E commerce uses World Wide Web which has given an option of various technologies like email, smart phone, internet etc., In this busy world, it is easy for man to order A to Z by sitting in front of his computer or mobile phone. This saves his time and energy. The use of ICT has increased production which in turn increases customer's participation in business. With ICT in business silent revolution has happened.

The variety of goods shown on the screen compels him to buy more than what he needs. Certainly there is a psychological change in the consumer behavior. Naturally consumer buys more than what he actually needs since he couldn't overcome his temptation. In the E commerce his choice is plenty and that gives him satisfaction. It is quite easy for the consumer to buy through electronic transfer of money that is credit or debit card.

Consumer finds E commerce comfortable since he can do business at his own convenience by sitting in his comfort zone. No doubt the use of ICT in business has brought a tremendous change in the business strategy as well as consumer attitude. In the information age, even the villages are not free from the embrace of E commerce.

Decision Making and Management

Listen to the following Lecture on Decision Making and do the tasks.

Attribution https://www.slideteam.net/media/catalog/product/cache/260x195/d/e/decision\_making\_process\_in\_managerial\_economics\_complete\_powerpoint\_deck\_with\_slides\_Slide01.jpg

Decision making is an action consciously chosen from available alternatives with a purpose of achieving desired objectives. It is a set of activities that structure the process and facilitates the choice. Decisions are focused on a particular problem or a challenge. Decision making doesn't mean problem analysis. It is a mean to solve problems and is an integral part of the management system of the organization. The following is the sequence of decision-making process.

- Sense decision requirement
- Gather information and analyse the cause
- Identify the alternatives
- Compare and evaluate
- Make a choice
- Implement your choice
- Review and feedback

All organizations strive hard to achieve their goals and objectives. Taking a proper decision at a proper time will help the organization to achieve its objectives. Analyzing the situation and taking an appropriate decision is important. Right decision will help to manage the business affairs of the enterprise. On the other hand, wrong decision will affect the overall functions of the organization and make it difficult to achieve its goals. Hence decision making is a continuous and dynamic activity in every business. Business requires decisions in various course of actions like production, marketing, sales and various expansion programmes. Efficient decision making in the maximum utilization of resources like men, money, material, methods and information would certainly help the growth of the business. Organization's capability to survive in the competitive market depends upon its decision making. Proper decision making facilitates innovation. Innovation brings new ideas and new products. This eventually will lead to the achievement of business goals and help in business growth.

Pre- Task:

- ❖ Students may be encouraged to perform this task spontaneously. The teacher should give a topic from the list provided. The learners may be given not more than 5-7 mins for strategizing their ideas. Followed by which, learners who volunteer to perform may be prioritized. If most of the learners are facing inhibitions, a mock task can be performed in the classroom for the peers to gain familiarity and confidence.

❖ Topics:

- Team work
- Win-win strategy
- Customer service
- Time Management
- Future of e-commerce
- Work from home is bliss
- Outcomes of Demonetization

Presentation signifies the act of informing or persuading a group of audience. It is transmitting knowledge to a set of knowledgeable people in a formal gathering. It can be in a classroom, where a learner presents in front of their peer groups and teachers. It can also be presenting thoughts as an interviewer and sharing information as an interviewee. Later, in a workspace it could be as an employer presenting the ideas amidst one's colleagues and the employer presenting his demands to the recruits. These are the commonly found ways of presentation. Especially, in business communication presentation skill is an essential trait as it is the thread that connects, does the networking and promotes business. Whatever the context of your presentation might be, the 3P's strategy aids in improving your presentation skill. The 3 P's refer to "Preparation, Practise and Performance".

Benjamin Franklin's aphorism, "By failing to prepare, you are preparing to fail" reinforces the need to prepare oneself before making a presentation. Even a knowledgeable person might lack confidence to exhibit their presentation skills in a formal gathering. To overcome this difficulty, a good preparation is essential. Hence, based on the 3Ps strategy here are the points to remember before making a presentation. They are as follows:

P- PREPARE

- ✓ Make sure to know the target audience for whom the presentation is intended.
- ✓ Be clear with the objectives of the presentation.
- ✓ Prepare the framework accordingly, whether it is meant to inform, instruct, promote or persuade.
- ✓ Get the specific details such as purpose, expected outcome, duration and limit, venue, density of the target audience.
- ✓ If necessary, background of a majority of the target group might help to manage unforeseen situations such as the cultural barriers with ease.
- ✓ Thereby, taking these into account you may anticipate the questions which would be a perfect finish to the process of preparation.
- ✓ Last but not the least, plan your wardrobe.

P- PRACTISE

- ✓ Begin the practise with an optimistic mind.

- ✓ Stand in front of the mirror and check your non-verbal cues such as, facial expressions, standing posture, gestures such as moving hands.
- ✓ You may either record your voice or just observe the tone and modulation of your voice while practising.

P-PERFORM

- ✓ Be animated as your passion for the subject is the driving force.
- ✓ When you enjoy your presentation, it is reflected on your audience too.
- ✓ Stand in a relaxed manner and stay cool by ignoring anxiety.
- ✓ To grab the attention of your audience, you may use inspirational stories, anecdotes, famous maxims or an interesting case-study.
- ✓ Eye contact is another significant factor to persuade the audience.
- ✓ It is necessary to present the ideas step by step.
- ✓ Remember, the duration of average listening is 20 minutes. A presentation which exceeds more than 30 minutes makes the audience restless.
- ✓ Therefore, plan to express the most important ideas within the first twenty minutes of the schedule which is soon after the initial ice-breaking/ warm-up session.
- ✓ Modulate your voice with rising, falling, rise-fall and fall-rise tone based on the context. This would help gaining control and the attention of the target group. Finally, an innovative way to allow participants' interaction is the straw poll or straw vote using the poll tools such as www.polleverywhere.com, www.socrative.com. It is an unofficial online voting poll which is meant to get the opinion of the audience on a topic or views stated in the presentation. There are some interactive applications which have fun activities, games or quizzes with learning outcome. For instance, www.kahoot.com and www.get.plickers.com.

Pre Task: 1

Complete the following cloze exercise. You may refer to the words below.

[duty, death, fallen, linked, power, steady, growing, assurances, cost, cause, ride out, prove, rescue, at any rate, exercised, aiding, searching, adopted, assured, arrangements, will, confidence]

Many are the tales that are told. We are _____ that novel methods will be _____, and when we see the originality of malice, the ingenuity of aggression, which our enemy displays, we may certainly prepare ourselves for every kind of novel stratagem and every kind of brutal and treacherous manoeuvre. I think that no idea is so outlandish that it should not be considered and viewed with a _____, but at the same time, I hope, with a _____ eye. We must never forget the solid _____ of sea power and those which belong to air power if it can be locally _____.

I have, myself, full _____ that if all do their _____, if nothing is neglected, and if the best _____ are made, as they are being made, we shall _____ ourselves once again able to defend our Island home, to _____ the storm of war, and to outlive the menace of tyranny, if necessary for years, if necessary alone. _____, that is what we are going to try to do. That is the resolve of His Majesty's Government-every man of them. That is the _____ of Parliament and the nation. The British Empire and the French Republic, _____ together in their _____ and in their need, will defend to the _____ their native soil, _____ each other like good comrades to the utmost of their strength. Even though large tracts of Europe and many old and famous States have _____ or may fall into the grip of the Gestapo and all the odious apparatus of Nazi rule, we shall not flag or fail. We shall go on to the end, we shall fight in France, we shall fight on the seas and oceans, we shall fight with _____ confidence and growing strength in the air, we shall defend our Island, whatever the _____ may be, we shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills; we shall never surrender, and even if, which I do not for a moment believe, this Island or a large part of it were subjugated and starving, then our Empire beyond the seas, armed and guarded by the British Fleet, would carry on the struggle, until, in God's good time, the New World, with all its _____ and might, steps forth to the _____ and the liberation of the old.

NEVER GIVE UP YOUR DREAMS

III. Elon Musk

1. Take Risks

“When something is important enough, you do it even when the odds are not in your favor.”

If you have a vision or a dream and there is no well-trodden path to it, take the risk and follow your heart even when you have to go all alone.

2. Always Value Criticism

“A well thought out critique of whatever you’re doing is as valuable as gold.”

You have to take your product and put it in front of knowledgeable people, and even your friends, to provide you with valuable feedback.

3. Never Give Up

This short excerpt of Elon Musk’s conversation with a CBS journalist shows that no matter what happens, he never gives up on his dreams.

Interviewer: When you had that 3rd failure in a row, did you think I need to pack this in?

Elon: Never.

Interviewer: Why not?

Elon: I don’t ever give up. I mean, I’d have to be dead or completely incapacitated.

Musk failed three times in his attempt to launch successful into space. He spent all of his money into SpaceX, the millions of dollars he had earned from selling PayPal and all his wealth because he trusted his intuition and his vision.

4. Have Burning Passion For Your Work

“If you like what you’re doing, you think about it even when you’re not working. It’s something that your mind is drawn to, and if you don’t like it, you just can’t make it work.”

If you don’t like what you do the work will become a form of abuse that you inflict on yourself and you won’t be able to push harder in tough times.

5. Work Like Hell

“If other people are putting in 40-hour workweeks and you’re putting in 100-hour work weeks, then even if you're doing the same thing, you know that you will achieve in four months what it takes them a year to achieve."

You really need to outwork your competition in order to come out at the top.

6. Live An Adventure, Don't Just Solve Problems

"I think it [colonizing Mars] would be the most inspiring thing that I can possibly imagine. Life needs to be more than just solving problems every day. You need to wake up and be excited about the future."

You don't have to punish yourself by doing things you hate. Choose to live an adventurous life which makes you wake up feeling excited for what's to come.

7. Signal Over Noise

"A lot of companies get confused. They spend money on things that don't make the product better."

Many people aren't focused. They spend time doing things that don't lead to progress. At Tesla, they never spent any money on advertising and focused all their energy on improving the

Modal

Modal verbs are auxiliary verbs (also called helping verbs).

Modal verbs add meaning to the main verb in a sentence by expressing possibility, ability, permission, or obligation.

Etc.

Modal

auxiliaries: can, could, shall,
should, would,
may, might, must,
need to, used to,

A. Fill in the spaces with appropriate modal verbs:

1. Drafting an outline of the presentation _____ help in organizing major points you intend to cover. You _____ make a plan of each slide that shows the layout in the order you'd like to present them.
2. You _____ choose the wording for the title slides carefully so there will be little room for misinterpretation.
3. Visuals /graphs _____ made use of for better understanding.
4. If huge graphics is necessary you _____ use one slide for the graphics and another for the accompanying text.
5. You _____ make certain that all information presented on the slides are clearly visible and easy to read without any errors in punctuation, grammar or spelling.
6. Practice _____ ease your nerves, and helps you with an effective presentation.

SOURCE PASSAGE 2 : TIME MANAGEMENT

Pre Task

Get the students to discuss the following questions in the class.

1. What comes to your mind when you hear the word “time”?
2. Have you ever felt that you have enough time to complete all your tasks?
3. Can you think about an instance when you were in stress because you had a lot of work to do?

Read the following passage on time management and attempt the following tasks.

Time is defined as an ongoing sequence of events. It is indefinite and continues. Likewise, the nature of time is such that it is available in abundance and can never really run out. However, such a statement leads to a genuine question: how many of us have been smart enough to make the most of it? Well, not many. So, what is the major difference between the people who had managed to be at peace with time and those who are constantly at war with it? Time management.

Time management is not a novel concept. We hear about it all the time, don't we? We hear about it when we are unable to complete our homework/task on time; or when we end up submitting our incomplete answer sheets during the examination, despite knowing the answers; or when we are late for our work or appointments; or when we fail to strike a balance between private life and professional life. And we all remember the regrets well, don't we? The regrets caused by the lack of proper time management.

We should listen to the stories of some of the most successful personalities to realise that time is not partial on anyone. Everyone has got the same 24 hours a day. What matters is how one manages to utilize time efficiently and productively. Good time management involves a process, such as, understanding the nature of your task, prioritizing your needs, planning your schedule, and channelling time properly. Time management has always been in trend, however, the importance of it in the present age cannot be overstated. The modern age has given way to a lot of employment opportunities (some of which are highly groundbreaking), but it has also produced plenty of obstacles. Both the opportunities and hurdles are intricately tied to two of the greatest and indispensable advancement in technology of the day: internet and smartphone. Since there are a lot of ways to spend your time these days, you should consider taking a break and ask yourself some questions. Are you spending your time wisely? Are you gaining something from the way you spend your time? If your answer is yes, are they productive? Is your life progressing? Are you able to switch between your leisure and work easily? Are you able to give your best to the work that you have committed to? How much time do you spend with your family? What have you achieved in your life? Would you call yourself successful? Answering these questions will help you understand your time management skills and will give you an insight into the course of your life.

One can manage time efficiently by adopting certain steps. First and foremost is to identify your goals. Setting goals are very crucial because it acts as a foundation for the task at hand. Start by listing out the works that have to be completed with the given deadlines (if any). This should soon be followed by prioritizing the needs and tasks. Always start with the most important task with the closest deadline and push back the least important one to the end of the list. Also, remember to discard the trivial and unnecessary works. This will avoid clutter in your brain and will let you complete your work in peace. The third step is to give a feasible timelimit for the tasks by analysing and measuring the tasks. Prepare a schedule and stick to it. Finally, remember to take a breather so as not to feel exhausted.

Life will become more productive when you become smarter and efficient, and time management is one of the best ways to make the best out of life. With good time management, you will be able to enjoy an organized, thriving, and stress-free lifestyle. Those who can time-manage well will also find themselves spending their extra time pursuing their interests. Moreover, they are also adept at striking a balance between professional and private lives.

WRITING

Are you familiar with the word 'recommendation'?

Probably yes. You would have heard people say "he got his admission through recommendation", or "it is recommended that you carry an extra pen to your exam hall". What does recommendation mean?

It means endorsement or suggestion, a concept which is a milder form of instruction. However, in a more formal setting, you are likely to come across something known as recommendation writing. In such occasions, you will be asked to briefly sketch a set of guidelines or suggestions on a given context. These guidelines are more suggestive than authoritative. They are basically instructions taking a suggestive tone.

Instructions are mandatory and they are more like giving an order or command. On the other hand, recommendations are more of advice or guidance.

The differences between recommendations and instructions are as follows:

Recommendations

Usually written in passive voice

- Begins with the object in focus
- Does not address the reader directly
- Sentence Patterns are as follows:
Object + should be + verb (participle)

Object + must be + verb (participle)

Object + can be + verb (participle)

Object + need to be + verb (participle)

Object + ought to be + verb (participle)

Instructions

- Written in active voice
- Begins with an action verb
- Addresses the reader directly
- Sentence patterns are as follows:
Action verb + object

Take a look at the following samples on recommendation writing

I. Recommendations to be followed before using e-wallets/UPI.

- A reputed and trusted application should be selected.
- A special attention can be given on the kind of customer service provided by the application while choosing one, keeping in mind whether it would be possible to get in touch with an executive through a chat or call if a need arises.

- Terms and policies should be read carefully before feeding any sensitive data.
- Unsecure connections such as public Wi-Fi and unsecure sites can be avoided as your device and account could be hacked.
- Mobile notifications and alerts should be opted for as you will be quickly notified of any suspicious transactions.
- Your phone should be periodically checked and cleaned with an anti-virus software.
- The payee's details such as name, phone number, or id, should be double checked before proceeding with the payment.
- Passwords must be protected and confidentiality has to be maintained.

II. Recommendations to be followed by students while making an effective presentation.

- In order to hold the attention of the audience the presentation should be short and relevant.
- It is advisable to prepare and maintain hints while making a presentation.
- In order to boost your confidence while presenting, prepare well and rehearse before a mirror.
- It is advisable not to use the technology that you are unfamiliar with.
- Maintaining eye contact is a must while making presentations.
- A smile can make you appear confident while presenting.
- Focus on your tone while presenting. A rushed and monotonous presentation is some of the barriers in an effective presentation.
- Humorous and relevant anecdotes can be used to turn the presentation interesting.

A. Read the following recommendations and the corresponding charts and answer the questions that follow.

Recommendations to be followed by business persons while collecting customer feedback

- It is recommended that a proper and feasible medium is selected to collect the customer feedback.
- A customer-friendly medium must be chosen to collect the feedback.
- It is advisable not to spend too much money or time in getting the feedback as short and fast surveys lend better response rates.
- It is advisable that the feedback is approached with a positive mind.
- It is recommended that a record is maintained to track the feedback received over time to identify and analyze trends in customer satisfaction.

- Negative comments should be valued and the inputs should be used to improve the product.
- It is advisable that feedback is collected on the improved product.
- It should be remembered that feedback collection is a never ending process.

Go through the flowchart on customer feedback and answer the questions.

Preparatory work

- ✓ Discuss basic terms used in stocks and shares
- ✓ Ask whether they know people who buy/sell shares
- ✓ Ask preliminary questions to draw the attention of the students to the idea of investment.

E.g.: Do you read news about how a company's shares go up/go down in the stock market?

Source Passage: How Does the Stock Market Work?

Transcript:

In the 1600s the Dutch East India Company employed hundreds of ships to trade gold, porcelain, spices, and silks around the globe. But running this massive operation wasn't cheap. In order to fund their expensive voyages, the company turned to private citizens— individuals who could invest money to support the trip in exchange for a share of the ship's profits. This practice allowed the company to afford even grander voyages, increasing profits for both themselves and their savvy investors.

00:39

Selling these shares in coffee houses and shipping ports across the continent, the Dutch East India Company unknowingly invented the world's first stock market. Since then, companies have been collecting funds from willing investors to support all kinds of businesses. And today, the stock market has schools, careers, and even whole television channels dedicated to understanding it. But the modern stock market is significantly more complicated than its original incarnation. So how do companies and investors use the market today?

Let's imagine a new coffee company that decides to launch on the market. First, the company will advertise itself to big investors. If they think the company is a good idea, they get the first crack at investing, and then sponsor the company's initial public offering, or IPO. This launches the company onto the official public market, where any company or individual who believes the business could be profitable might buy a stock. Buying stocks makes those investors partial owners in the business.

01:44

Their investment helps the company to grow, and as it becomes more successful, more buyers may see potential and start buying stocks. As demand for those stocks increases, so does their price, increasing the cost for prospective buyers, and raising the value of the company's stocks people already own. For the company, this increased interest helps fund new initiatives, and also boosts its overall market value by showing how many people are willing to invest in their idea.

02:13

However, if for some reason a company starts to seem less profitable the reverse can also happen. If investors think their stock value is going to decline, they'll sell their stocks with the hopes of making a profit before the company loses more value. As stocks are sold and demand for the stock goes down, the stock price falls, and with it, the company's market value. This can leave investors with big losses— unless the company starts to look profitable again.

02:40

This see-saw of supply and demand is influenced by many factors. Companies are under the unavoidable influence of market forces— such as the fluctuating price of materials, changes in production technology, and the shifting costs of labor. Investors may be worried about changes in leadership, bad publicity, or larger factors like new laws and trade policies. And of course, plenty of investors are simply ready to sell valuable stocks and pursue personal interests. All these variables cause day-to-day noise in the market, which can make companies appear more or less successful. And in the stock market, appearing to lose value often leads to losing investors, and in turn, losing actual value.

Human confidence in the market has the power to trigger everything from economic booms to financial crises. And this difficult-to-track variable is why most professionals promote reliable long term investing over trying to make quick cash. However, experts are constantly building tools in efforts to increase their chances of success in this highly unpredictable system.

03:45

But the stock market is not just for the rich and powerful. With the dawn of the Internet, everyday investors can buy stocks in many of the exact same ways a large investor would. And as more people educate themselves about this complex system they too can trade stocks, support the businesses they believe in, and pursue their financial goals. The first step is getting invested. ]

SPEAKING

Making effective PowerPoint presentation

Power point presentations are the most common form of presentations today. It is operated through slides which have to be created very carefully. Here is how you start . . .

Step 1

Select the design

Create a presentation

From Start menu Choose Microsoft power point

From 'design menu' choose the slide that you like. You may customise it by changing the background colours and styles.

Step 2

Add Slides

From 'Home menu' select 'New slides'

Step 4

Choose the layout

Choose the appropriate layout needed from the 'home menu'

Step 3

Step 5

To insert . . .

- Click to add text

To insert a table /chart/video/picture, click on the icon that you find in the middle of the slide

Step 6

To animate – the slides

Select a transition from 'Animation menu'

Step7

To animate the content

Step 8

Save the Presentation

Presentation may be saved in the computer by clicking on the 'office button' and selecting 'save as'

Source Passage : Steve Job's Marketing strategy

Read the following excerpts taken from Steve Job's launch of ipod.

The field that we decided to do it in the choice we made was music. Now, Why music? Well, we love music and it's always good to do something you love. More importantly, music is a part of everyone's life. Music has been around forever and it will always be around. This is not a speculative market and because it's a very large target market all around the world it knows no boundaries. But interestingly enough, in this world in this whole new digital music revolution there is no market leader. There are small companies like creative and sonic blue and then there are some large companies like Sony that haven't had a hit yet, they haven't found the recipe. No one has really found the recipes yet for digital music and we think not only can we find a recipe but we think the Apple brand is going to be fantastic because people trust the Apple brand to get their great digital electronics from.

So let's look at portable music, let's look at the landscape. The first thing if you want to listen to music portably, you go out buy CD, CD player right? That's one way to go about 10- 15 songs or you can buy a flash player going by one of those you can buy a mp3 CD player or you can buy a hard disc juke box player. These are the four choices for portable music right now. So, let's take a look at each one of those, a CD player cost about $75 Gold's 10 to 15 songs on a CD that's about $5 a song. You go buy a flash player pay about double that $150 holds the same 10 to 15 songs or about $10 a song. You can go buy an mp3 CD player and an mp3 CD which you can burn on your computer cost about $150 but holds 150 songs. You get down to $1.00 a song or if you can go buy a hard drive jukebox player for about 300 dollars it holds about a thousand songs and cost about 30 cents a song. So, we looked at this and studied all these and that's where we want to be that is where we want to be and we are introducing a product today that takes us exactly there and that product is called iPod, iMac, iBook. What is ipod? iPod is an mp3 music player. Has CD quality music and it plays all of the popular open formats of digital music. mp3 variable bitrate WAV and AIFF. But the biggest thing about ipod is it holds a thousand songs. Now, this is a quantum leap because it's your for most people it's their entire music library. This is huge, how many times have you gone on the road with a CD player and said oh God!, I didn't bring a CD I want to listen to. You have your whole in music library with you at all times is a quantum leap in listening to music. The coolest thing about iPod is that hold your entire music library fits in your pocket. Okay, you can take the whole music library with you right in your pocket, never before possible so that's iPod.

READING NOTE MAKING

Have you ever wondered how to clarify notes from class, connect ideas together, and revise for exam in an easy way? Then try this important study skill – NOTE TAKING AND NOTE MAKING. Do ‘Note Taking’ and ‘Note Making’ mean the same? Or, Is there any difference between them?

Note-taking is a process that involves writing or recording what you hear or read in a descriptive way. This is often the first stage of the process of producing effective notes. Note-making is an advanced process that involves reviewing, synthesizing, connecting ideas from the lecture or reading and presenting the information in a readable, creative way that will stick in your mind.

You listen to lecture or read a book and take notes. Taking notes can be bit elaborate. Making notes is different as they are the resources you create yourself. They tend to be more concise.

Why Note Taking / Note Making is important?

The importance lies in the fact that it -

- Promotes active listening / reading
- Provides a framework for revision
- Improves understanding

Note-taking and making are skills and, like all skills, can be mastered through practice. How you take and make notes will depend on the subject, context and the way you work best. You will need to reflect on your skills as you progress.

What format of Note Taking / Note Making suits you best?

The 5 R's of Note Taking / Note Making

Record: During the lecture, write all meaningful information legibly.

Reduce: After the lecture, write a summary of the ideas and facts using key words as cue words.

Recite: Recite all the information in your own words without looking at our notes or the text.

Reflect: Think about your own opinions and ideas. Raise questions and record original ideas

Review: Before reading new material, take 10 minutes to review your older notes. Skim over the main ideas and details.

Pauk, W. (1989). How to Study in College (4th Ed.), Boston, MA: Houghton Mifflin.

This may depend on your learning preference. Are you best visually? Auditorily? Kinaesthetically? A mixture of more than one? Have a think about the easiest way for you to produce and review your notes. The structure of the lecture should help you to organise the content, so it is important to work on that as well.

Whatever format you decide on (and it might be different for different lectures) the general principles are the same:

- Use your own words.
- Be concise.
- Use abbreviations, phrases and key words, not sentences.
- Date and reference notes clearly.
- Number pages and points.
- Use headings and subheadings.
- List details.
- Use boxes, underlining, colour coding, CAPITALS and highlighting.
- Use arrows to show links between sections.
- Use diagrams and drawings.
- Leave a margin and plenty of space between sections.
- Use a well-spaced layout.

Source Passage 1 : Note Making

Read the passage carefully and make notes from it, keeping in mind the Main ideas and the subordinate points. The first one is worked out for you.

An accountant is a crucial component of any business or organization making financial transactions. Many individuals also employ accountants to oversee their personal finances. Academic preparation for accounting involves training in auditing, financial accounting and taxation. Accountants are responsible for the preparation and maintenance of financial records. They also ensure clients meet government regulatory standards for taxes, reporting, and other legislative compliance. Performing these tasks well allows businesses to operate in a cost-efficient manner that meets governmental tax and compliance rules.

Busy companies manage multiple revenue streams and conduct hundreds of thousands of transactions as part of the normal course of business. Accountants create financial statements, handle tax obligations, audit books and systems for legal compliance and cost efficiency, and organize reporting systems. All of these tasks must be communicated to management, and accountants are expected to provide cost-saving solutions for the business at hand.

A. Make a note of the following passages.

(i) When we are dealing with today’s workforce, we should understand that we are dealing with a generation that is in a hurry. Recently, at a conference in Mumbai, a millennial who took the stage, and addressed an imaginary group of Gen-Xers, said, “You are forty; your time is up! It is our time!” Though uttered tongue-in-cheek, this was highly revealing about the mindset of a generation. Even as they are starting out in their career, this workforce wants to do a great many things from the word ‘go’, and this usually includes giving back to society, through environment and social impact. They think they already have something to give back to society and the planet. Not only youngsters working in companies that are mandated to have CSR activities, but also those in really small start-ups are drawn to causes, and manage to find time for them despite their long working schedules. Such youngsters, which are in the majority, will clearly want a prospective employer to tick social and environment initiative boxes. If they are in a company that doesn't, they will look for one that does, sooner than later," says Rinku Mecheri, founder of Chennai Volunteers.

(ii) Despite the bad rap the financial industry has received in recent years, planning for a career in finance still remains a smart proposition. In fact, issues plaguing the industry today only emphasize the current need for highly educated financial professionals to keep things on track. As a result, choosing to earn a degree in finance could lead to a rather lucrative career upon graduation.

Like marketing, finance is typically considered to be a specialized area of business administration. It is also a field that can be specialized in or studied independently via online finance courses. An academic career in finance will provide you with skills and knowledge to effectively manage money.

Finance specialists are tasked with understanding and forecasting the value of money at a given moment in time. We use this skill in our daily lives when we budget our spending or, say, fund a retirement plan. The profession is also key for businesses and corporations that have far more complex financial needs than the average individual or family.

Regulated economies work towards the interest of all stakeholders. It levels the playing field so that different kinds of economies thrive. With massive liberalization, privatization and globalization there is a need to review ethics pertaining to small scale industries and budding entrepreneurs. Measures to prevent unhealthy competition and the concentration of power in the hands of a few are an outcome of ethical practices.

According to Wheeler, ethics is the art and science of maintaining harmonious relationship with the society and recognising the moral responsibility for business conduct. Ethics revealed itself in the form of social responsibility programmes such as donations and funding community projects. This countered unethical business practices. Later, the philosophy of ethics laid a solid foundation for a deeper understanding of ethics and elevated accountability and social responsibility.

Ethics should be inculcated not as a separate entity but as a part of human behaviour such that business people are not blind towards the suffering of humanity. When that is not possible the only factor that motivates ethical behaviour is when any unethical behaviour would lead to a huge loss in business. Thus competition compels businesses to conduct their affairs ethically. Any unethical practice will be a boon in the eyes of the competitors and a bane for a company. In this day and age of social media any faulty product can be blown up thereby incurring a loss for the company. For example Ford motor company headed towards a loss of because the safety features were not a part of the cost. One accident that took the lives of all the travellers in such a car without safety features led to a loss of $250 million.

Business' obligation to the society is mandated from the very fact that businesses' thrive on a society. The challenge in following business ethics lies in the conflict between maximizing profit and maximizing productivity. Another ethical dilemma is in contexts where there is technological intervention. Environmental impact on major developmental projects, loss of livelihood, and erosion of cultural values are all an aftermath of unethical business practices.

When it comes to implementing ethics the first action plan is to develop a set of ethics and to make it clearly available in the institutional website. It should be translated to employees at all levels. Secondly a committee that will monitor and address ethical practices should be present. And finally a definite channel of communication of those ethical practices and behaviour that will connect all the members and create self-awareness of their relationship to ethical principles should be developed.

Quality of ethical behaviour cannot be taught. It has to be ingrained at the level of the personality. Conscience, having a selfless attitude, devotion and truthfulness in service, mental peace, politeness, tolerance, transparency, decorum, universal values, commitment, rationality, effective communication, standing with the good, cooperation, satisfaction and following due process are pointers towards ethical behaviour which must be ingrained in the institutional code.

Business is a tricky space and it involves high risk. Resilience- which is an important life skill- will go a long way in ensuring perseverant approach towards challenges. Thus professional ethics is followed by life skills that will enable ethical principles to reach its fulfilment. Without life skills it is a challenge to face competition and drive towards success. Effective communication, confidence, curiosity, critical thinking, innovation, time management and lifelong learning are some added key ingredients to become a successful entrepreneur.

Another important life skill is to be agile. This is to be able to react quickly, make the right decision and to keep adapting to the changing environment. According to Dr Simon Hayward, CEO of leadership development consultancy Cirrus, “Continuous improvement and assimilating new ways of thinking, being and performing, are at the heart of the agile leader’s mindset.” Without reinventing and realigning goals in the midst of changes an institution will not thrive and therefore would collapse.

Negotiation, problem solving and relationship building goes hand-in- hand in a business environment. These important life skills enable a strong networking with individuals with high potential and ensure that the best is extracted from each other.

Finally, a business person needs to be mindful. The state of being mindful is a state of being completely aware of the surroundings and the individual in the midst of the surrounding. There are various techniques to practice mindfulness. It requires the person to sit or stand in a straight posture and then practice slow controlled breathing. This will be followed by becoming aware of every sensory perception, thoughts, emotions, bodily reactions and will then lead to a state of mindfulness. Being mindful boosts performance by relieving stress, relaxing and by sparking innovation and creativity.

When ethics are in place and life skills practised, the icing on the cake is professional competence. Professional competency enables a business person to address professional issues in a professional manner without layering those issues with personal vendetta and agenda. A professional leader not only involves supervising the managers but offering training to the next generation learner. He/she would also recognize conflicts even before it begins and will try to resolve the as conflict rather than to attack the persons involved. To achieve this end a professional has to develop emotional intelligence.

Delegating responsibilities is professionalism at its peak. Instead of randomly allotting work, professional competence demands that the work be allotted to the person who is skilled in it. Here the business person has to act like a HR in streaming the right talent for the right job. Becoming a change agent in any context is required of every professional. Change agents are those who take the organization forward without letting it to slip into complacency.

Motivating those working with you is a creative endeavour. Genuine motivation from a professional will ensure that no matter what the situation is they will be the first to get the job done. When the right motivation is given, with the right amount of information then there is nothing that can stop people from performing.

COVID-19 has taught us that there are more things that matter in this world than money, success and power. The preciousness of life and thankfulness of every day should remind us of the importance of the present. It is easy to get carried away by plans for the future or project proposals. What is important in a professional context is the good will and trust of those who we work with. If ethics, life skills and professional competence become a part of our personality and is reflected in our thoughts, words and deeds there is nothing that cannot be achieved as a team. In life we may not have answers for all the questions but as the saying goes “A bird does not want to sing because it knows the answers. It sings because it knows a song”. Our seeking should inspire those without a song.

A. Classify the following traits into Professional skills, Life skills and Ethics.

Concern	Honesty	Fairness	Loyalty	Delegating responsibilities
Trust	Communication	Critical thinking	Confidence	Time management
Conflict resolution	Motivation	Curiosity	Talent management	Innovation
Creativity	Leadership	Integrity

Ethics	Life skills	Professional Skills

B. Read the following case related to the Global brand Starbucks. If you were the CEO of Starbucks what would you do in this situation?

One year after becoming CEO of Starbucks, Kevin Johnson faced a leadership test when two black men were arrested in a Philadelphia Starbucks. The men were waiting to meet a business associate, but they didn't purchase anything while they were waiting. The store manager asked them to leave, and they refused, explaining that they were there to meet someone. The manager called the police because the men refused to leave, and the police arrested them.

Another patron at Starbucks recorded the arrest on her cell phone, and it quickly went viral. In an interview after the arrest, the woman who took the video mentions that she had been sitting there for a while, and she wasn't asked to leave even though she didn't order anything. Additionally, the video shows the business associate of the black men show up during the arrest, and he asks the manager and the police what the men had done wrong. The general public and those who witnessed the arrest labeled it as discriminatory and racist.

A. Match the following organizations with the problem solved. Refer to the passage above.

A	B
1. Water For People	a. natural skin care
2. Warby Parker	b. nutrition
3. ONE-	c. grassroots women leaders
4. Catchafire-	d. water and sanitation programs
5. World Pulse-	e. 21st century movements and venture
6. Tiossan	f. soccer
7. HopeLab	g. prescription eye wear
8. Uncharted Play	h. skills-based volunteer marketplace
9. Global Health Corps	i. extreme poverty and preventable disease
10. 10. Purpose-	j. human health and well-being

Problem solving Scenario

Pre task:

Steps of problem solving

1. What is the problem?
2. What are the options/possible solutions?
3. What are the consequences of each?
4. Brainstorm for the solutions.

5. Analyze and review on the appropriate solution.

Do you consider yourself a critical thinker? Try solving these problems. The ability to think clearly and rationally involves pondering on the following questions:

- What is it about?
- Do we know....?
- How do we know?
- Is it possible that....?
- Any other ideas?
- Any hypotheses?
- Why do you think that?
- Why do you say that?

There are six eggs in the basket. Six people each take one egg, how can it be that one egg is left in the basket?

Critical thinkers look at things differently:

Test your understanding with practice problems and step-by-step solutions. Go through each of these given situations and arrive at an appropriate solution. Choose the correct answer based on the given context.

1. A factory was trying out a new process for producing one of its products, with the goal of reducing production costs. A trial production run using the new process showed a fifteen percent reduction in costs compared with past performance using the standard process. The production managers therefore concluded that the new process did produce a cost savings.

Question: Which of the following, if true, casts most doubt on the production managers' conclusion?

a. In the cost reduction project that eventually led to the trial of the new process, production managers had initially been seeking cost reductions of fifty percent.

b. Analysis of the trial of the new process showed that the cost reduction during the trial was entirely attributable to a reduction in the number of finished products rejected by quality control.

2. Property taxes are typically set at a flat rate per Rs. 10,000 of officially assessed value. Reassessments should be frequent in order to remove distortions that arise when property values change at differential rates. In practice, however, reassessments typically occur when they benefit the government—that is, when their effect is to increase total tax revenue.

Question: If the statements above are true, which of the following describes a situation in which a reassessment should occur but is unlikely to do so?

- a) Property values have risen sharply and uniformly.
- b) Property values have all risen—some very sharply, some less so.
- c) Property values have for the most part risen sharply; yet some have dropped slightly.
- d) Property values have for the most part dropped significantly; yet some have risen slightly.
- e) Property values have dropped significantly and uniformly.

Task VII- Misleading advertisements should be banned. Look at the essay discussing some of the eminent problems associated with it and the possible solutions to overcome the issue.

3. To persuade consumers to buy its personal computers for home use, SuperComp has enlisted computer dealers in shopping centers to carry its product and launched a major advertising campaign that has already increased public awareness of the SuperComp brand. Despite the fact that these dealers achieved dramatically increased sales of computers last month, however, analysts doubt that SuperComp's products accounted for much of that increase.

Question: Which of the following, if true, best supports the claim that the analysts' doubt is well founded?

- a. In market surveys, few respondents who had been exposed to SuperComp's advertising campaign said they thought there was no point in owning a home computer.
- b. People who own a home computer often buy a second such computer, but only rarely do people buy a third computer.
- c. SuperComp's dealers also sell other brands of computers that are very similar to SuperComp's but less expensive and that afford the dealers a significantly higher markup.
- d. The dealers who were chosen to sell SuperComp's computers were selected in part because their stores are located in shopping centers that attract relatively wealthy shoppers.
- e. Computer-industry analysts believed before the SuperComp campaign began that most consumers who

Creative problem solving involves the following steps:

Step 1: Clarify and identify the problem: Start by asking the question why? For each answer keep asking the why question. After obtaining sufficient answers ask what else or "What do I really wish to accomplish?", "What is preventing me from solving this problem/achieving the goal?", "How do I envision myself in six months/one year/five years [choose most relevant time span] as a result of solving this problem?" and "Are my friends dealing with similar problems? If so, how are they coping?"

Step 2: Research the problem: Search engines, libraries, books, journals, online discussion forums, research articles, information opinions, friends, colleagues and family are sources to obtain more information about the problem.

Step 3: Formulate creative challenges: Turn the issues into creative challenges. Creative challenges should not include evaluation criteria. For example: "How might I find a more challenging job that is better paying and situated close to my home?" If you put criteria in the challenge, you will limit your creative thinking. So simply ask: "How might I find a more challenging job?" and after generating ideas, you can use the criteria to identify the ideas with the greatest potential.

Step 4: Generate ideas: Take one creative challenge and generate at least 50 ideas that may or may not solve the challenge if you are working alone. If you are working as a team limit the brainstorming from 15-20 minutes. Ensure that no one criticizes anyone else's ideas in any way. This is called squelching, because even the tiniest amount of criticism can discourage everyone in the group for sharing their more creative ideas. If you run out of ideas sleepover the problem and the next day you will be able to generate fresh ideas.

Step 5: Combine and evaluate the ideas: Evaluate each idea on a scale of 1 to 5. The ideas with the highest evaluation score are your best bet. A SWOT (strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats) analysis on complex ideas will be more effective. If the idea is business related, you may need to do a business case, market research, build a prototype or a combination of all of these. You do not need to limit yourself to one winning idea. Often you can implement several ideas in order to solve your challenge.

Step 6: Draw up an action plan: Draw up an action plan with the simple steps you need to take in order to implement your ideas. Ideas that involve a lot work to implement can be particularly intimidating. Breaking their implementation down into a series of readily accomplished tasks makes these ideas easier to cope with and implement.

Step 7: Do it! (implement the ideas): Take your action plan and implement your idea. And if the situation veers away from your action plan steps, rewrite your action plan!

Misleading advertisements

Misleading advertisements should be banned. Look at the essay discussing some of the eminent problems associated with it and the possible solutions to overcome the issue.

Any advertisement or promotion through television, radio, or any other electronic media, wall-writing etc. to misrepresent the nature, characteristics, services or commercial activities so as to mislead the consumer could be broadly defined as a misleading advertisement. In fact, the false and misleading advertisements violate the right choice, the right to be informed and protected against unsafe goods and services as well unfair trade practices.

The main problems caused by misleading advertising include misrepresenting sales price, false claim about the features of a product, hidden information, use of cinematic tricks, misleading images etc. Among the prevalent forms of misleading advertisements, is the case of advertisements on milk and the impact on children. Several advertisements on milk products claim that their products enhance performance during sports. Similarly, the advertisements on fairness creams, bodybuilding by popping pills or the claims by unscrupulous financial institutions regarding giving unrealistic higher returns on investments can lead to customer disappointment, change of purchase trends of the consumer and also creating a false hype, which could lead to trust issues on the product. Misleading ads have always been a major issue to the society and its people.

Even though some advertisements are compliant to the standard, people are misled by them due to the usage of medical terms such as “clinically proven”. As it tends common people to think they are scientifically tested products whereas it merely means it responds physically.

There are several measures taken by the Department of Consumer Affairs to tackle the menace of misleading advertisements under the Consumer Protection Act 2007. The department is also keen on developing a web portal which would enable consumers to lodge complaints against misleading advertisements. In my opinion, the best solution to these problems is to introduce strong laws against the companies that play with the quality and effects of the product in promotion time.

To conclude, there are a number of legislations that have provisions to deal with misleading claims and advertisements nonetheless they are punished with an imposition of fine. There must be an effective action against those advertisers in order to stop promoting false advertisement. Harsh punishments for misleading advisement that makes the marketing campiness to think before getting such advertisements to the people forum.

A. Attempt the following essays using your critical thinking to find out the solution for the problems.

1. Pandemic has changed the face of Indian labourers. Identify one or two serious ones and suggest ways that governments and individuals can tackle these problems.
2. Nowadays many people have access to online stores on a wide basis and a vast majority of people make use of them. What are the negative impacts on the small businesses and what can be done to minimize the impact on the retailers?
3. Across the world, we have witnessed market meltdown triggered by Covid-19. What problems will this cause for individuals and society? Suggest some measures that could be taken to reduce the impact of global recession.
4. With the development of social media the nature of corporate disclosure has changed, vital information on stock predictions are being exchanged in the social media platforms causing a positive or negative rippling effect. What solutions can you suggest to deal with this problem?
5. Social distancing, self-isolation and travel restrictions have lead to a reduced workforce resulting in an increased delay in the production sectors. What solutions can you offer to resolve this issue?

Deliver	Improve	purchase	target

The list below has some useful adjectives. Note that many of these can also be commonly used as adverbs or turned into adverbs (*).

affordable*	efficient*	offshore	regional* annual*	financial*	operating	regulatory commercial*	Fiscal	primary*	retail competitive*	Fixed	productive*	secondary
Core	holistic*	profitable*	solvent depreciable*	international*	prosperous*	strategic* domestic*	logistical*	publicly*	underperforming
economic*	Niche	quarterly*	volatile

Word families

Using different word forms of a particular 'root' word can also give your expression more variety:

Noun	Verb	Adjective	Adverb
product, production	Produce	productive	productively
competitor, Competition	compete (+ preposition)	competitive	competitively
Profit	profit (+ preposition)	profitable	profitably

If you are not sure of the spelling for a particular word form, consult a dictionary like Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary which details various derivatives of a word under the 'Browse List' heading.

Collocations

Developing a good vocabulary is not just about learning words in isolation. Rather, think about groups of words that often go together in print and/or speech. These combinations, known as collocations, are well known and often used by native speakers. In contrast, other combinations may sound unnatural. Some examples below illustrate this:

Natural expression	Unnatural expression
human resources	people resources
customer or client service	buyer service
sales team	sales squad

Nouns

brand/make	cost/expense	overhead/operating cost
cash/currency	customer/client	revenue/return
competitor/rival	employees/workforce	seller/vendor
	Verbs
allocate/assign	forecast/predict	promote/encourage
calculate/determine	observe/detect	replicate/reproduce
employ/appoint	produce/manufacture	suggest/nominate
	Adjectives
comprehensive/wide-Ranging	dominant/prevailing	profitable/lucrative
conditional/qualified	financial/monetary	thriving/successful
distinctive/characteristic	fixed/set	unified/integrated

Note too that some words may sound similar or indeed have similar meanings however, it is important you choose exactly the right word for your purpose. That is, ask yourself are you talking about a 'recession' or a 'depression', the 'internet' or 'intranet' or a 'monopoly', or 'duopoly'? If in any doubt, consult a dictionary!

Antonyms

When you are dealing with terms that have a specific opposite (antonym) be careful because if you choose the wrong option the logic (coherence) of your work will suffer. In fact, often the opposite looks and/or sounds somewhat similar to the original word so be careful with proofreading! Some common opposites for business contexts include:

Nouns
buyer/seller	inflation/deflation	outlay/income
employer/employees	lender/borrower	supply/demand
goods/services	mentor/mentee	wholesaler/retailer

Verbs

Verbs
buy/sell		diversify/narrow		own/rent
display/hide		lend/borrow		rise/fall
		Adjectives
fixed/variable		nominal/actual		retrospective/prospective
gross/net		probable/unlikely		standard/custom made
intangible/tangible		public/private		wholesale/retail

Think and reflect:

1. What is banking?
2. How do banks help ordinary people?
3. What are the changes that have recently taken place in the banking sector?

I. Primary Text -1

Read the following comprehension passage!

Banking and banks are very important for the functioning of the modern world. Without banks the way we use money would not work. Banks enable people to save money, borrow money and to pay for things with ease and security.

Each country in the world has its own well known banks that have branches in nearly every city so that they are convenient for people to use. People often have to visit the local branch of the bank when they want certain services. There are also some very big multinational banks that have branches in most countries in the world.

As well as the local branches that are in most cities, each bank will also have a head office. This is where all central tasks are performed that let the local branches function. The people that work in the branches will be the bank manager, the person in charge, and various tellers who work behind the bank counter and help the customers. There will also likely be security guards to protect the money, workers and customers.

Most customers will just need to see the tellers when they go to the bank if they are paying money into their account as either cash or a check. However, they might need to see the bank manager if they want to open an account or if they have become overdraw, when they have spent more money than there was in the account. Also, if they want to borrow money and get a loan the person will need to see the bank manager who will have to approve it.

As well as being able to use cash or checks to pay for things, banks also offer their customers the more convenient methods of using either a debit card or credit card. These methods are very convenient as you just need to carry a small plastic card to be able to pay for anything. When paying with plastic you will need to either sign a receipt or enter a PIN number to conform the purchase and that you are authorized to use the card.

3. Reading

I. Read the following Comprehension Passage:

The United States and all other modern industrial economies experience significant swings in economic activity. In some years, most industries are booming and unemployment is low; in other years, most industries are operating well below capacity and unemployment is high. Periods of economic prosperity are typically called expansions or booms; periods of economic decline are called recessions or depressions. The combination of expansions and recessions, the ebb and flow of economic activity, is called the business cycle. Business cycles as we know them today were codified and analyzed by Arthur Burns and Wesley Mitchell in their 1946 book Measuring Business Cycles. One of the key insights of Burns and Mitchell's was that many economic indicators move together.

During an expansion, not only does output rise, but also employment rises and unemployment falls. New construction also typically increases, and inflation may rise if the expansion is particularly brisk. Conversely, during a recession, the output of goods and services declines, employment falls, and unemployment rises; new construction also declines. In the era before World War II, prices also typically fell during a recession (i.e., inflation was negative); since the 1950s prices have continued to rise during downturns, though more slowly than during expansions (i.e., the rate of inflation falls). Burns and Mitchell defined a recession as a period when a broad range of economic indicators falls for a sustained period, roughly for an year. Just as there is no regularity in the timing of business cycles, there is no reason why cycles have to occur at all.

The prevailing view among economists is that there is a level of economic activity, often referred to as full employment, at which the economy could stay forever. Full employment refers to a level of production in which all the inputs to the production process are being used, but not so intensively that they wear out, break down, or insist on higher wages and more vacations. When the economy is at full employment, inflation tends to remain constant; only if output moves above or below normal does the rate of inflation systematically tend to rise or fall. If nothing disturbs the economy, the full-employment level of output, which naturally tends to grow as the population increases and new technologies are discovered, can be maintained forever. There is no reason why a time of full employment has to give way to either an inflationary boom or a recession.

Business cycles do occur, however, because disturbances to the economy of one sort or another push the economy above or below full employment. Inflationary booms can be generated by surges in private or public spending. For example, if the government spends a lot to fight a war but does not raise taxes, the increased demand will cause not only an increase in the output of war materiel, but also an increase in the take-home pay of defense workers. The output of all the goods and services that these workers want to buy with their wages will also increase, and total production may surge above its normal, comfortable level. Similarly, a wave of optimism that causes consumers to spend more than usual and firms to build new factories may cause the economy to expand more rapidly than normal. Recessions or depressions can be caused by these same forces working in reverse. A substantial cut in government spending or a wave of pessimism among consumers and firms may cause the output of all types of goods to fall.

Another possible cause of recessions and booms is monetary policy. The Federal Reserve System strongly influences the size and growth rate of the money stock, and thus the level of interest rates in the economy. Interest rates, in turn, are a crucial determinant of how much firms and consumers want to spend. A firm faced with high interest rates may decide to postpone building a new factory because the cost of borrowing is so high. Conversely, a consumer may be lured into buying a new home if interest rates are low and mortgage payments are therefore more affordable. Thus, by raising or lowering interest rates, the Federal Reserve is able to generate recessions or booms. This description of what causes business cycles reflects the Keynesian or new Keynesian view that cycles are the result of nominal rigidities. Only when prices and inflationary expectations are not fully flexible can fluctuations in overall demand cause large swings in real output. An alternative view, referred to as the new classical framework, holds that modern industrial economies are quite flexible. As a result, a change in spending does not necessarily affect real output and employment. For example, in the new classical view a change in the stock of money will change only prices; it will have no effect on real interest rates and thus on people's willingness to invest. In this alternative framework, business cycles are largely the result of disturbances in productivity and tastes, not of changes in aggregate demand.

The empirical evidence is strongly on the side of the view that deviations from full employment are often the result of spending shocks. Monetary policy, in particular, appears to have played a crucial role in causing business cycles in the United States since World War II. For example, the severe recessions of both the early 1970s and the early 1980s were directly attributable to decisions by the Federal Reserve to raise interest rates. On the expansionary side, the inflationary booms of the mid-1960s and the late 1970s were both at least partly due to monetary ease and low interest rates. The role of money in causing business cycles is even stronger if one considers the era before World War II. Many of the worst prewar depressions, including the recessions of 1908, 1921, and the Great Depression of the 1930s, were to a large extent the result of monetary contraction and high real interest rates. In this earlier era, however, most monetary swings were engendered not by deliberate monetary policy but by financial panics, policy mistakes, and international monetary developments.

III. Refer the following Glossary /words/phrases!

- Full employment- is an economic situation in which all available not only, but also the land, capital and organization resources are being used in the most efficient way possible. Full employment embodies the highest amount of skilled and unskilled labour that can be employed within an economy at any given time.
  - Business cycle – Business cycles are identified as having four distinct phases: expansion, peak, contraction, and trough. Business cycles are identified as having four distinct phases: expansion, peak, contraction, and trough.
- Contraction -A period of economic decline or negative growth.

Peak - The highest value reached by some quantity in a time period.

Trough - The lowest turning point of a business cycle.

Expansion - The act or process of expanding.

- Monetary policy – The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) uses the monetary policy to manage liquidity or money supply in a manner that balances inflation and at the same time aids growth. It affects the money supply in the economy by changing the interest rates in turn affecting the demand of products which is responsible for inflation/deflation.

Primary Text – 2

Federal efforts to aid minority businesses began in the 1960's when the Small Business Administration (SBA) began making federally guaranteed loans and government-sponsored management and technical assistance available to minority business enterprises. While this program enabled many minority entrepreneurs to form new businesses, the results were disappointing, since managerial inexperience, unfavorable locations, and capital shortages led to high failure rates. Even 15 years after the program was implemented, minority business receipts were not quite two percent of the national economy's total receipts. Recently federal policymakers have adopted an approach intended to accelerate development of the minority business sector by moving away from directly aiding small minority enterprises and toward supporting larger, growth-oriented minority firms through intermediary companies. In this approach, large corporations participate in the development of successful and stable minority businesses by making use of government-sponsored venture capital. The capital is used by a participating company to establish a Minority Enterprise Small Business Investment Company or MESBIC. The MESBIC then provides capital and guidance to minority businesses that have potential to become future suppliers or customers of the sponsoring company.

MESBIC's are the result of the belief that providing established firms with easier access to relevant management techniques and more job-specific experience, as well as substantial amounts of capital, gives those firms a greater opportunity to develop sound business foundations than does simply making general management experience and small amounts of capital available. Further, since potential markets for the minority businesses already exist through the sponsoring companies, the minority businesses face considerably less risk in terms of location and market fluctuation. Following early financial and operating problems, sponsoring corporations began to capitalize MESBIC's far above the legal minimum of $500,000 in order to generate sufficient income and to sustain the quality of management needed. MESBIC's are now emerging as increasingly important financing sources for minority enterprises.

Ironically, MESBIC staff, which usually consist of Hispanic and Black professionals, tend to approach investments in minority firms more pragmatically than do many MESBIC directors, who are usually senior managers from sponsoring corporations. The latter often still think mainly in terms of the "social responsibility approach" and thus seem to prefer deals that are riskier and less attractive than normal investment criteria would warrant. Such differences in viewpoint have produced uneasiness among many minority staff members, who feel that minority entrepreneurs and businesses should be judged by established business considerations. These staff members believe their point of view is closer to the original philosophy of MESBIC's and they are concerned that, unless a more prudent course is followed, MESBIC directors may revert to policies likely to re-create the disappointing results of the original SBA approach.

I. Based on the Passage, answer the following questions:

1. Which of the following best states the central idea of the passage?

- (A) The use of MESBIC's for aiding minority entrepreneurs seems to have greater potential for success than does the original SBA approach.
- (B) There is a crucial difference in point of view between the staff and directors of some MESBIC's.
- (C) After initial problems with management and marketing, minority businesses have begun to expand at a steady rate.
- (D) Minority entrepreneurs wishing to form new businesses now have several equally successful federal programs on which to rely.
- (E) For the first time since 1960, large corporations are making significant contributions to the development of minority businesses

2. According to the passage, the MESBIC approach differs from the SBA approach in that MESBIC's

- (A) Seek federal contracts to provide markets for minority businesses
- (B) Encourage minority businesses to provide markets for other minority businesses
- (C) Attempt to maintain a specified rate of growth in the minority business sector
- (D) Rely on the participation of large corporations to finance minority businesses
- (E) Select minority businesses on the basis of their location

3. Which of the following does the author cite to support the conclusion that the results of the SBA program were disappointing?

- (A) The small number of new minority enterprises formed as a result of the program
- (B) The small number of minority enterprises that took advantage of the management and technical assistance offered under the program
- (C) The small percentage of the nation's business receipts earned by minority enterprises following the programs, implementation.
- (D) The small percentage of recipient minority enterprises that were able to repay federally guaranteed loans made under the program
- (E) The small number of minority enterprises that chose to participate in the program

4. Which of the following statements about the SBA program can be inferred from the passage?

- (A) The maximum term for loans made to recipient businesses was 15 years.
- (B) Business loans were considered to be more useful to recipient businesses than was management and technical assistance.
- (C) The anticipated failure rate for recipient businesses was significantly lower than the rate that actually resulted.
- (D) Recipient businesses were encouraged to relocate to areas more favorable for business development.
- (E) The capitalization needs of recipient businesses were assessed and then provided for adequately

5. The author's primary objective in the passage is to

- (A) Disprove the view that federal efforts to aid minority businesses have been ineffective
- (B) Explain how federal efforts to aid minority businesses have changed since the 1960's
- (C) Establish a direct link between the federal efforts to aid minority businesses made before the 1960's and those made in the 1980's
- (D) Analyze the basis for the belief that job-specific experience is more useful to minority businesses than is general management experience
- (E) Argue that the "social responsibility approach" to aiding minority businesses is superior to any other approach

II. Elaborate the Acronym given below!

- 1. SBA -
- 2. ROI -
- 3. GDP -

- 4. AGM -
- 5. MESBIC -
- 6. P/E -
- 7. P&L -
- 8. KPIs -

I. Read the following article carefully!

Professionalism is defined by a person's work ethics rather than the pay check, role and title!

A few years ago, a person was termed to be professional based on his pay check and financial independence including the qualifications he has, but now even during this pandemic majority of the companies seek employees with strong moral values, resourceful attitude, being transformative, having positive relationship with their team and not taking credit of their work. Building principled work ethics at the office will help people perceive us in a positive light and propel us ahead in our career. So here comes the major role of "WORK ETHICS" – which is the root where people assess our values, behaviour and our strength.

What does the term Work Ethic mean? It is the ability to maintain proper moral values, standards of behaviour within the professional environment. The final output of this process will be the attitude that shapes a person to perform his individual duties with motivation and loyalty standards.

From the olden days any workplace has people from diverse cultures, backgrounds, belief and value systems. In order to stabilize this, the guidelines provided by the company or the institution will be a support system to maintain the decorum and achieve the objective of the company. "To make it to the TOP you have to outwork everyone else". Talent, Network, Qualifications, certifications can help a person to achieve his dreams, no but these alone won't do it. One needs to believe and abide standards to mould his attitude and character.

**For instance, Amazon CEO Jeff Bezos always had a relentless work ethic. One of his previous classmates told Wired that once Bezos made it clear that he intended to be high school valedictorian, "everyone else understood they were working for second place." The early days at Amazon were characterized by working 12-hour days, seven days a week, and being up until 3 a.m. to get books shipped. Now that Amazon's a giant, Bezos personally emails teams about customer service issues and has them present directly to him about how they're going to solve them, according to an excerpt from Brad Stone's book, The Everything Store.**

In any top-rated businesses, Ethics plays a major role more than monetary benefit. We create examples to the next generation leaders on how to do business (Kick start business) in return how to build the network with uniform code of conduct and make profit. Still thinking, is it necessary to focus on Ethical part of the profession? Here are the points on why Work Ethics is important for an organization to go up the ladder or to maintain the standard.

- Having a Code of Ethics provides a Moral compass during the hard times

This Pandemic has taught a lesson on many things including the professional part of our life. During the initial stages of the lockdown, having an SOP for every operation would have been a great tool for many organizations to make quick decisions on planning the work and other mandatory actions.

- Ethics in Workplace support employee Growth and provide meaning to the activity they carry
By maintaining a set of standard frameworks, employees will have the accountability in all the activities they do. This will be a journal to track their performance and take the next step for their betterment.
- Clear business Ethics promote a Strong public Image and Goodwill
This is so true that many would have heard from our friends or gone through articles which says that this is an Employee friendly organization.

According to the press release by The Economic times about The Best companies to work in India for the year 2020, companies like DHL, HP, Croma, Indian Oil, Tech Mahindra, ACT, Blue Dart and so on; have been awarded as the companies which have a Great place to work. This achievement is possible because they have followed a specific code of Conduct across their branches.

SOP'S and firm's performance are very much related to each other. There could be numerous reasons for a person to be unethical. Besides a person being unethical it could also affect the organizations and individual growth for various reasons.

- Lack of work ethics can lead to lack of trust among the workers and also between various levels of the organization
- Secondly, lack of work ethics affects the credibility among stakeholders
- Third, being one of the important factors for a great place to work is the Environment both within and outside the organization.
- Furthermore, unethical firms invite the Government's attention which would lead to impose penalties, fines, cancellations of licences and so on.

Hence, these individual differences can be maintained through a strong principle followed by the organization. Ethics determines the firm's longevity and its relationship with workers, business partners, stakeholders and the Society. Regardless in what country a firm is or its culture, there are always vital values such as respect, honesty, integrity, tolerance and trust that should prevail for the well-being of everyone involved with the firm.

I. Read the following passage carefully!

A product profile is a general description of a product. Based on the style of presentation, the amount of detail it contains can vary. The product profile details what the product is and how it will appeal to the consumer. The objective is to determine what makes the product attractive to the consumer. This is an important analysis that will help in the marketing of the product.

Mass marketing is a technical term that refers to the selling of a product on a large scale. It involves products that are produced in large quantities. There may be minor differences in localized markets. The mass marketing strategy ignores these. Mass marketing appeals to the whole market with a single offer or strategy. This is done by broadcasting a message that will reach the largest number of consumers possible.

Mass marketing uses the mass media to get their message across. Radio, television and newspapers are the usual vehicles employed. With the advent of social media, strategies are now also devised to take advantage of this new avenue. Exposure to a product is maximized by reaching the largest audience possible. This often directly correlates to a larger number of sales.

Mass marketing focuses on high sales and low prices. This is just the opposite of Niche marketing. Niche marketing targets a very specific segment of the market. It involves specialized services or goods with few or no competitors.

Mass marketing came into existence in the 1920s when mass radio came into use. The mass radio, broadcasting to huge audiences nationwide gave corporations an opportunity to appeal to a wide variety of potential customers. Before this, the strategy of marketing was what may be called variety marketing. In this strategy, different methods were used to appeal to different sections of society most often according to geographical location. In order to appeal to and persuade a wide audience, this had to change. Over the years, mass marketing has developed into a world-wide multi-billion dollar industry.

Things which are perceived as necessary or essential are subjected to mass marketing. To further increase profits, these products are often touted as durable goods when oftentimes they are made of substandard materials. This affects the longevity of the product. This practice of planned obsolescence ensures future sales opportunities by preventing the market from becoming saturated with high-quality, long-lasting goods.

One of the biggest benefits of mass marketing is that the target audience is broad. This translates to a higher number of successful sales. Drop in sales in some areas may be offset by sales in other areas. This helps overcome potential losses. Another positive factor is that production costs are lowered by mass production. Marketing research and advertising costs too are lowered. Mass marketing campaigns also benefit due to the magnitude of appeal to larger audiences.

Mass marketing also has its disadvantages. It attempts to appeal to the entire consumer population instead of focusing on a particular niche of consumers. The strength of the product and business can affect performance. The strength of the competition too has a bearing on the performance. Another factor is that overexposure can make consumers grow tired of seeing a business's name and products everywhere.

One factor that is inevitable in mass marketing is heavy advertising costs. It is expensive to establish brands and keep them in the public eye. Often, competition is stiff. Besides, to stay ahead of the competition, high innovation and market research costs have to be incurred.

Persuasion is an everyday activity. It is inevitably present in all domains. It is a requirement not just in professional space but also in personal zones. There is a distinction in the act of persuading a customer to buy a product and in setting forth a business proposal to one's colleague. Apparently, it could be classified as formal persuasion and informal persuasion. When representing an idea relevant to formal presentations, yielding to the demands of the clients/ an authority, or team meetings can be characterized as formal persuasion. Whereas, the casual interactions with professionals, discussions, sharing of ideas in e- mail, informal team meetings etc. could be identified as informal persuasion. Though there are several instances the primary factor is the way in which it can be made effective for a desired outcome in the field of advertising, business and management. It is as follows:

- i. to be attentive to the needs of the customer/ recipient
- ii. to understand their position

- iii. finally, yielding to act upon

However, to avoid rebuff it is essential to be aware of the benefits which in a client relationship or a customer service, is evident through accountability and credibility.

A word in earnest is as good as a speech

Transcript of Steve Jobs' Speech on the Product Launch of iPhone

On January 9, 2007, Apple's CEO Steve Jobs introduced the iPhone for the first time, thereby, bringing in a remarkable change in the world of mobile devices.

"This is the day I've been looking forward to, for two and a half years". Once in a while, a revolutionary product comes along to change everything and Apple has been one of its kind. It has been very fortunate to work on these revolutionary products and introduce it to the world. When Macintosh was introduced in 1984 it didn't just change Apple but the entire computer industry. Similarly, the first iPod which was set in motion in 2001 revolutionized the music industry.

Well, today we are launching three revolutionary products of this class. The first one is a widescreen iPod with touch controls. The second is a revolutionary mobile phone and the third is a breakthrough Internet communications device. These are not three different devices. All of these are in one device, and we call it iPhone.

Today, Apple is going to reinvent phone. This was possible because of heeding the fact that smartphones are definitely a bit smarter, but they are actually harder to use. They are really complicated. Just for the basic operation people have a hard time figuring out how to use it. Therefore, we wanted to make a leapfrog product that is way smarter than any mobile device has ever been and super-easy to use. Now, we begin with the revolutionary user interface. It is the result of years of research and development. Of course, it's an interplay of hardware and software. We are lucky enough to initiate one more revolutionary user interface as done in the past, such as the mouse and the click wheel. Now, we are introducing multi-touch to the market. So, a revolutionary user interface. We are going to build on top of it with software. Almost 30 years ago, Alan said, "People who are really serious about software should make their own hardware." This is how we feel about it.

Task 2:

Attempt a vocabulary enrichment task by providing 3 synonyms for each of the following words whose meaning has been given in the glossary. Examples have been given, a word each:

	Source Words	Synonyms
1.	break through	advance,
2.	remarkable	phenomenal
3.	figure out	solve
4.	fortunate	lucky
5.	heed	notice
6.	initiate	commence
7.	set in motion	launch
8.	revolutionary	progressive

Glossary:

breakthrough- an important discovery or development.

figuring out- to calculate the cost of something; to solve; to plan or think of something.

fortunate- favoured by luck.

heed- pay attention to initiate- to begin

interplay- the way in which one has an effect on the other;

leapfrog product- an innovation of the company leading to get to a higher position or rank.

revolutionary product- product that brings in a great change affecting large numbers of people.

set in motion- to start an enterprise; to introduce a new product user interface- refers to the means by which the user and computer system interacts

Post- Task:

Divide the class into small groups and each group should assign a role to the other.

Step 1: Ask one of the group members to play the role of a CEO. The name of this role has to be suggested by the assigning team.

Step 2: The team member assigned to role-play has to introduce a new product in the market. It can be their own imaginary product.

2. Speaking

The spoken discourse or speaking skill is given due prominence in business communication. It is the key to open the doors of international avenues in the world of commerce and management studies. In order to access this key and materialize the vision of becoming a successful entrepreneur/ business executive/ team leader/ manager, one's persuasive skills have to be honed. It is not a skill to be developed over night nor an easy job to face an unfamiliar group without prior exposure. It demands confidence and an ability to overcome fear to speak boldly and think rationally.

*"What use is a sword to a coward
Or learning to the tongue-tied?"*
-Tiruvalluvar (Kural 726)

The pre-requisites of persuasion are:

- i. maintaining a balanced emotional quotient, that is, emotional intelligence.
- ii. listening to the speaker is paramount.
- iii. ability to reason out logically
- iv. resulting in a good rapport established between the clients, customers for a better work environment.

Pre- Task:

I. Read the following instance and offer your suggestions:

In order to promote your large scale retailing you have to grab the loyal clients of niche products, sold online. Remember that the firm has carved a niche market for itself in retaining its customers.

1. What are the techniques you would adopt to succeed in this appeal to loyal customers?
2. How will you convince your new clients to action?

Glossary:

niche market                      -a market in which there is little or no competition for a particular type of product or service for which there is limited demand.

emotional intelligence - the ability of a person to understand, control and use their feelings and to understand the feelings of others.

factsheet                         - a paper or a small book giving information about a product or service.

paramount                      - chief in importance.

proliferate                       - increase or expand.

rapport                          - to understand each other and communicate well.

retailing                         - the business of selling goods to the public especially through shops/stores.

JAM – Just a Minute

This could also be called impromptu speech or an extempore. According to Oxford English Dictionary, impromptu means “without preparation or rehearsal”. In other words, it refers to speech that evolves spontaneously. It is adopted as a filtering process in interviews for jobs and for professional courses in higher education. This task aims at developing the speaking skills of the learners by providing an opportunity to prepare themselves to unfamiliar situations such as job interviews and to gain familiarity with this challenging phase. Here are few tips to equip oneself before attempting impromptu speech which has to be in just a minute.

- Use simple and precise sentences. Let a sentence be, not more than 8-10 words.
- The speech should have an opening, middle and a conclusion.
- Overall, the impromptu should be between 100-150 words and not exceeding this limit.

- Do not glide over words due to time constraints.

<https://www.needpix.com/photo/91784/interviewer-chat-show-host-characters-cute-job-interview-man-microphone-people>

- Try to articulate words clearly and be audible.
- Avoid using fillers while speaking
- Be spontaneous and fluent without any pause.

Certainly, your impromptu speech becomes a success when taking the above factors into consideration.

A sample draft of an impromptu has been given below, for your reference.

E- commerce:

E- commerce implies Electronic commerce. It refers to the business of buying and selling things or products online. In other words, it indicates the act of doing business online. There are four types of E- commerce business models. They are,

1. Business to Consumer- B2C
2. Business to Business- B2B
3. Consumer to Business- C2B
4. Consumer to Consumer- C2C

The most common approaches in these types of e-commerce are: direct customer service, wholesaling and drop shipping.

So, the advantages of electronic commerce could be stated as follows:

- It is collaborative, therefore, the pace in delivering products seem to be fast.

<https://pixabay.com/vectors/store-online-ecommerce-shopping-4156934/>

- It has brought the producers and consumers under one roof. Thereby, the customer services are done at ease.
- It does not have limitations in accessibility as it is user- friendly.
- The purchase could be confirmed through text messages and
- The delivery status can be easily tracked.
- Significantly, payment could be made from one's own space.

Thus, the proliferating online users have contributed towards its massive growth making it the standard way of life.

Task 1:

Perform a mock interview JAM session by choosing one of the topics listed below:

1. Win- win strategy
2. Persuasive Techniques in Marketing
3. Role of drop shipping
4. Online retailing
5. Stay Hungry. Stay Foolish- a life changing quote
6. Intricacies of a company- client relationship
7. If I were to be an Economist!
8. Role of social networking sites in product branding
9. Advocating a factsheet
10. Purpose of Emotional Intelligence

Note: It is a peer pairtask, therefore the fellow member is expected to share one's observation on their impromptu speech soon after the performance.

The outcome of this task would be:

- gaining confidence to speak in front of an audience group/public
- overcoming fear
- developing enthusiasm to perform more
- enhancing non-verbal cues
- motivating to perform well in presentations and in any form of oral testing.

Debate:

It can be defined as a structured argument. Debate is one of the types of conversation. While JAM is one- way communication, Debate involves communication between two individuals or two groups.

Task 2:

State True/ False for the following statements which differentiate a Debate from an impromptu speech (JAM):

	DEBATE	T/F	JAM	T/F
1.	It is a prepared speech		It is spontaneous
2.	It is persuasive		It is argumentative
3.	It is commonly used by recruiters in interviews.		It demands attention to non-verbal cues while speaking.
4.	It has scope for critical thinking.		It promotes logical thinking.
5.	It has time constraints.		It does not have time constraints.

Post- Task:

Elicit your response if you were placed in this situation. You are assured of a job if you succeed in persuading your fellow interviewee to join the recruiting company for a nominal salary fixed by the concern which is not satisfactory.

Note: This task has been provided to give you a taste of reality. Similar innovative tasks have been employed by recruiters in today's job market.

3. Reading

Make it simple. Make it memorable.
Make it inviting to look at. Make it
fun to read.

- Leo Burnett

One of the important modes of communication in marketing is Advertising. Its primary aim is to persuade customers. An advertisement tends to be considered persuasive when it leads to a desired action (i.e.) by arousing the interest of the customers and inducing them to purchase the product. There are informative ads as well as persuasive ads (advertisements).

The success of an advertisement is determined by several factors.

- It has to be simple and precise as it hones memorability
- It has to grab the reader's attention
- It can be the tone, imagery, colours or symbols used in the ad
- It can be the language style and background.
- It can be the innovative way of presenting it and making it unique.

In advertising campaigns, the ubiquitous influence of a persuasive message is quite significant.

<https://www.skyramtechnologies.com/blog/facebook-plans-to-launch-ads-with-whatsapp-through-targeted-advertising/>

Pre-Task:

Step 1: Retrospect to recall the advertisement that has been a favourite and memorable one. It can be either a television ad or an advertisement in print.

Step 2: If it is a print ad, sketch it and share it with your group members.

If it were to be a television ad, summarize the details to your group members.

Step 3: The listeners are expected to raise questions enquiring the reasons for liking

the ad.

For example: Identify the key elements which provoked you to like the advertisement.

There are three techniques which aid in analysing the effect of an advertisement. They are advertising, rhetorical and literary techniques. Initially, it is essential to know the demographics of the target audience, and its purpose in order to promote the product. The persuasive tools are incorporated in such techniques based on the demographics of the target audience and the product. The choice of colours, imagery, background music appeals explicitly, while the emotional appeal arouses the feelings of the target group.

- Reiterating the messages through repetitive sequence.
- Use of literary devices such as end rhymes, alliteration which refers to the repetition of sounds, appeases the audience.
- A good piece of humour, shocking facts, suspense moments provokes curiosity
- Story telling or narration makes it gripping
- Further, connotation and denotation attribute meaning to the object or symbol and indicate as it is, in the ad.

For instance, when a tree is used as a symbol in the advertisement, it denotes a wood with branches and leaves and the object- tree connotes 'a united family'.

Passage

The story of an iconic old man from the largest conglomerates

This old man is an epitome encompassing a reason to smile and a season to spread happiness. This jolly man with a red suit and a white beard has had many transitions in his appearance. From a tall figure to a not-so pleasant elf form the early Santa Claus has worn Bishop's robe and even animal's skin. The cartoonist Thomas Nast drew Santa for almost 30 years, it was Nast who changed the colour of Santa's suit from tan to red. In Harper's Weekly which appeared in 1862, Santa had seemed to be a small elf like figure.

It was in The Saturday Evening Post that shopping- related ads were promulgated by The Coca-Cola Company initiating its Christmas advertising in the 1920s. Santa of the yester years had been sketched as stern in looks by Thomas Nast himself. Later in 1930, an ad featured the world's largest soda fountain in which a department-store Santa was distinctively attributed with a bottle of coke amongst a crowd. It was painted by an artist Fred Mizen which happened to be found in print ads during the season of Christmas in December 1930.

In 1931 the Coke Company entrusted the duty of depicting a realistic and a fond version of the Santa on its advertising account executive Archie Lee. Thereafter, artist Haddon Sundblom was instructed to illustrate its "Thirst knows no season" advertising campaign. Eventually, Sundblom had to rely on Clement Clark Moore's poem "A Visit from St. Nicholas" (commonly called "'Twas the Night Before Christmas") published in 1822. It was Moore's poetic description that influenced Sundblom to portray a warm, cheerful and a friendly Santa Claus.

Subsequently, the Santa image promoted from 1931 to 1964 in Coca-Cola advertisements exhibited Santa offering toys to children, playing with them, pausing to read a letter and enjoying a Coke. The original oil paintings which were created by Sundblom turned out to be suitable adaptations for Coca-Cola advertisements in magazines and on store displays, billboards, posters and calendars. It was in 1964 that the final version of Santa Claus was created by Sundblom for several decades to follow. Most of Sundblom's original paintings continue to be prized possessions of the company's archives department.

<https://www.coca-colacompany.com/company/history/five-things-you-never-knew-about-santa-claus-and-coca-cola>

Task 1:

1. Who do you think played the influential role of promoting Santa as an icon?
2. Who is the chief exponent of Santa's paintings?
3. What does the phrase "Thirst knows no season" imply?
4. Is there a symbolic connection between the company's product and the red suit of Santa Claus?
5. If you are commissioned to feature a famous character for your enterprise, whom would you prefer and why?

Task 2:

Choose any one of the ads given below:

1. Examine the product featured in this ad.
2. Analyse the choice of colours.
3. Identify the symbols used in the ad.
4. Review the choice of words.
5. What does the ad infer?
6. What according to you is the USP of this ad?

Post-Task:

- I. Identify the name of the product which the caption represents.
- II. Rephrase the following captions with words that propagate it to be catchy:
  1. Go Green
Go Ford - _____
  2. Believe in the Best - _____
  3. Connecting People - _____
  4. Have a break, have a...- _____
  5. Think Different - _____
  6. Grace, space, pace - _____
  7. A Better Life, A Better World- _____

4. Writing

Writing serves to be an easy mode of persuasion. It has scope to entice the masses. The famous Greek philosopher Aristotle posits three ways to make a persuasive appeal. It is, Ethos, pathos and logos which implies personal credibility, empathy and logical argument. These are inter-related and correspond to the other in a sequential order. In gaining credibility the persuader ought to establish a sense of understanding others' point of view. In doing so, the one being persuaded yields to accepting the opinions or ideas of the persuader.

Finally, the pivotal role of persuasion unfolds through the logical arguments put forth by the persuader, in order to explicit the views which the recipient has to understand. This leads to reliability on being credible (i.e.) ethos, ability to understand others' point of view (i.e.) empathy, thereby, succumbing to observe the value (i.e.) logos. It is from the Greek words "dia" and "logos" meaning "through words".

<https://davidwangel.com/the-opportune-conflict/2016/12/28/the-four-types-of-conversations-debate-dialogue-discourse-and-diatribes>

Dialogue Writing:

Dialogue Writing implies two-way conversation. It is to express or convey information or exchange ideas which in fact develops relationships. Dialogue Writing exhibits the qualities, inner motives of the character and also the place of action. Dialogues when explicated in writing, could serve dual purpose. It can be filler dialogues, dialogues with a logical effect or without a logical impact.

Dialogues evoke a feel of reality when it gains proximity to the characters and adheres to the main theme. It can be persuasive when it has an element of surprise, an emotional appeal or an awaited moment.

Passage

Bend to Mend

I have to accentuate the fact that I had finally attained my dream job. I have been hired as a budget analyst at my favourite magazine. The nature of my job demands working for the business manager. Also, to be a liaison between the finance and marketing departments, to develop sales and the workplace environment. At present, as I stand in this bakery which indeed is memorable. It was in this place I had celebrated my new job with my senior editors, both finance and marketing team three months ago. Unfortunately, it was a shocking moment as our publication manager explained the status of our publishing house which had to be shut down as it was in dearth of business.

As we were trying to pack our things at the office, I could notice people walking around desperately and in a frenzy way. There were 17 other employees like me, with the same plight. Subsequently, I had to leave my apartment and move into the suburbs which was quite economic. It took almost 6 months to seize my new dream. It was from these times of adversity that I gained the ability to embrace my situation and learnt the importance of adaptability. If there prevails a similar storm in future, I know how to bend, to mend and to fend myself.

Task 2:

1. Identify the persuasive words in this passage.
2. State the overall tone of the passage.
3. What are the qualities that contributed towards the restoring process?
4. What will be your approach if you were to be in the narrator's position?

Post- Task:

Draft an argumentative essay on any one of the topics:

1. A proactive leader can never be a procrastinator.
2. Digital India- a sign of progress.
3. Persuasion is a tactic or a tool to appeal.
4. Advertisements determine the success of a product.
5. HRs are the central collaborators within a work place.

Note: The following list of argumentative words may be employed in the essay.

compare, commence, contrast, decide, infer,
in my opinion, agree/ disagree, assume,
factual, oppose, approve, authenticate,
disprove, deny, refuse, withdraw, insist,
expect, disappoint, strategic, rapport,

Session 2:

CREATING A VLOG: Vlogging or Video Blogging is a means of using video streaming channels such as YouTube in order to share information. Vlogging can be used to talk about your product or your company.

Pre-Task:

Watch the following vlog: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O0-Ofd\_9egE. This video is a good example of a professional vlogger (C4ETech), who reviews technical gadgets. Based on the video, work in groups and discuss the various aspects of creating a vlog and what (according to you) makes a successful vlog.

Activity:

In the same groups, work together to create a vlog.

Steps involved in creating a Vlog:

- Pick your content- what is your start-up about? What are the various aspects of your company that you can talk about? Write down a list. You need a core idea that runs throughout your Vlog. Do you want to write about clothes, technology, industries, industrial processes, marketing processes? The field is vast. So be sure to choose wisely.
- Do some research- who are the others who are talking about similar products/companies online? Watch some successful vloggers.

Try not to imitate them completely. Also browse YouTube for what works, and what doesn't.

- Equipment- make sure that the camera, lighting and audio suit the needs of your vlog. You can either film your vlog from a desk, or while travelling, for which purpose a simple camera is enough. Make sure your background stands out and attracts the audience. Focus the light on you- you are the star of your vlog. Reduce external sounds, and ensure that the mic is placed close to you.
- Create an official channel on YouTube-
  - Sign in to YouTube with an official Google account.
  - Click on the Profile icon.
  - Select "Create a Channel".
  - Fill out the details to name your new channel and verify your account.
  - Click Done.
- Build your brand- Upload a professional photo (make sure it relates to your company/product). Confidently talk to the camera. If you are talking about a specific place or event, show images to support your content. Explore editing software to help you with your vlog.
- Keep your videos short.

You can take ideas from the following list:

- ✓ Any technical gadget
- ✓ Clothes/ make-up/ accessories
- ✓ Your own start-up idea
- ✓ Tips on using home appliances
- ✓ A cooking video
- ✓ A review of a company or entrepreneur

who inspires you

- ✓ Some of your creative work- art/music

9. “Mine of information”	ix. One’s ability to find and use information using various digital platforms (technical skills)
10. savvy	x. Have become very successful/popular

Activity:

Read the article on “Digital Competence for Academic and Professional Excellence” given below and answer the questions that follow:

Digital Competence for Academic and Professional Excellence

It is an inescapable fact that in this globalized world, the internet, wireless networks, cell phones, laptops, tabs, and social networking has come to stay. In such an increasingly digital era, knowledge and competence of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) is extremely important. Digital competence, therefore, involves the knowledge and skills required to use ICT with ease and comfort. This implies that individuals do not only require technical skills, but also social and emotional skills to handle digital platforms. For instance, it is no longer enough to know how to use WhatsApp, but also to understand the spread of fake news, or the nuances of User Rights when it comes to communicating via the platform. Another example is regarding the content a user uploads on their social media platforms—often, without realizing the implication, users upload personal content which is could be viewed by their professional circles.

Simultaneously, we should be aware that, as the India CSR Network notes, of the 4.5 billion people across the globe who are still not connected to the internet, more than 4 billion belong to developing nations. In countries such as India, there is a huge digital divide, despite which individuals are expected to gain digital competence for academic and professional success. According to an article published in The Hindu, only 20% of Indians above the age of 5 years have basic digital literacy.

On one hand, this yawning digital divide creates a huge challenge for those who do not have access to digital technologies. On the other, businesses have an increased demand for individuals who are digitally competent. According to www.digitalskillsglobal.com, some of the digital skills that businesses seek in their employees include: programming, web and app development; digital business analysis; digital design; digital project and product management; digital marketing; effective social media use; and data science and analytics. In order to reach such a level, individuals should also have an advanced competency and maturity in using basic devices or programmes such as the mobile phone, emails, social media platforms etc. For instance, an interesting brand called Casper Sleep Channel, uses the various platforms of Facebook, Instagram, Twitter as well as YouTube, Spotify and IGTV to promote their channel, managing to create unique ways to stand out amongst its competition.

Some of the basic digital tools that beginners need to know about include:

1. Mobile phones: Nowadays companies use WhatsApp for business communication, and knowledge of the App is necessary. Simultaneously, users should understand business etiquette when it comes to mobile phone interactions. For instance, calls can only be made during working hours. Similarly, abbreviations should not be used in official messages. With the increasing number of Smart Phones, users should also be capable of using multiple Apps in their device with fluency and speed.
2. Computers: Computers require a slightly different skill set. Users ought to know the importance of MS Word, PowerPoint, Excel etc. The use of e-mails in a professional capacity is also significant.
3. Social Media: Social media platforms play a very important role in business strategies and these platforms need to be used innovatively in order to boost sales and promotion. Many artists have made it big in the field just through their YouTube channels or Instagram pages.

4. The Internet: This vast mine of information and data has to be used wisely in order to support businesses.

In the field of academia, too, such digital knowledge will only aid students in learning more in lesser time. The internet, is a source of great information—but the trick is to know where to search, and how to verify your content.

While these digital tools are important, the landscape of both technology as well as business needs to be kept in mind. Technology can be a boon for many enterprises, but the increased cost of certain technological gadgets, or the amount of time and money spent on tech-based marketing can be a drain, especially on small-scale businesses. Since consumers are often swamped with data via online platforms, it becomes difficult for small-scale enterprises to reach the level of digital advancement maintained by larger, multinational organisations. www.smallbusiness.chron.com notes some of the major obstacles faced by small businesses in this vast field. It is because of the competitive nature of the digital space that being digitally savvy will work towards the advantage of both students as well as employees.

14.	RSS Feed (Really Simple Syndication)	n. Icon that appears next to your domain name in the browser address bar

Activity: Read the "Overview" of the Kerala State Poverty Eradication Mission, "Kudumbashree" and answer the questions that follow:

<https://kudumbashree.org/pages/7>

Kudumbashree, the Kerala State Poverty Eradication Mission was launched on 17th May 1998 inaugurated by the Prime Minister, Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee. The Mission aims to eradicate absolute poverty within a definite time frame of 10 years under the leadership of Local Self Governments formed and empowered by the 73rd and 74th Amendments of the Constitution of India. The Mission launched by the State Government with the active support of Government of India and NABARD has adopted a different methodology in addressing poverty by organizing the poor in to community-based organizations. The Mission follows a process approach rather than a project approach.

Kudumbashree, a community organization of Neighborhood Groups (NHGs) of women in Kerala, has been recognized as an effective strategy for the empowerment of women in rural as well as urban areas: bringing women together from all spheres of life to fight for their rights or for empowerment.

The overall empowerment of women is closely linked to economic empowerment. Women through these NHGs work on a range of issues such as health, nutrition, agriculture, etc. besides income generation activities and seeking micro credit.

Kudumbashree differs from conventional programmes in that it perceives poverty not just as the deprivation of money, but also as the deprivation of basic rights. The poor need to find a collective voice to help claim these rights.

Kudumbashree was conceived as a joint programme of the Government of Kerala and Nabard implemented through Community Development Societies (CDSs) of Poor Women, serving as the community wing of Local Governments. Kudumbashree is formally registered as the "State Poverty Eradication Mission" (SPEM), a society registered under the Travancore Kochi Literary, Scientific and Charitable Societies Act 1955. It has a governing body chaired by the State Minister of LSG. There is a state mission with a field officer in each district. This official structure supports and facilitates the activities of the community network across the state. Kudumbashree differs from conventional programmes in that it perceives poverty not just as the deprivation of money, but also as the deprivation of basic rights. The poor need to find a collective voice to help claim these rights.

The grassroots of Kudumbashree are Neighbourhood Groups (NHG in short) that send representatives to the ward level Area Development Societies (ADS). The ADS sends its representatives to the Community Development Society (CDS), which completes the unique three-tier structure of Kudumbashree. Today, there are 2.77 lakhs NHGs, over 19,854 ADSs and 1073 CDSs in Kudumbashree.

It is this network that brings women to the Grama Sabhas and helps them bring the needs of the poor to the attention of the local governments. The Community Development Societies are also very active in Government programmes and play significant roles in development activities ranging from socio-economic surveys and enterprise development to community management and social audit.

Though its efforts to engage women in civil society in development issues and opportunities, Kudumbashree in association with the local self government of Kerala is charting out new meaning and possibilities for local economic development and citizen centric governance.

MISSION

There are two distinguishing characteristics to Kudumbashree which set it apart from the usual SHG model of empowerment. These are,

1.The universality of reach – from its very inception Kudumbashree has attempted to bring every poor woman in the state within its fold, as a consequence of which today Kudumbashree is present in every village panchayat and municipality, and in nearly every ward, colony and hamlet. The sheer spread is mind boggling, and it is only because the local community of women drive the system that it has managed to persevere.

2.The scope of community interface in local governance – the functioning of Kudumbashree is tied up to the development initiatives of the local government be it for social infrastructure, welfare or right based interventions or for employment generation. From food security to health insurance, from housing to enterprise development, from the national wage employment programme to the jagratha samiti, every development experience depends on Kudumbashree to provide the community interface.

It is using these opportunities that Kudumbashree strives to convert a microfinance led financial security model into a more comprehensive model of local economic development.

THE MISSION STATEMENT

To eradicate absolute poverty in ten years through concerted community action under the leadership of local governments, by facilitating organization of the poor for combining self-help with demand-led convergence of available services and resources to tackle the multiple dimensions and manifestations of poverty, holistically.

VISION

Kudumbashree strives to develop the model of a micro finance led financial security process into a more comprehensive model of local economic development under the aegis of local governments. This would hopefully sustain the transformation of the local governance agenda from welfare to entitlement. Such a transformation does not come about easily and requires rewriting established administrative and development practices

It requires the community acquiring voice and being heard. It requires institutionalizing processes that allow for participation and meaningful contribution. And when we speak of community we speak of the people for whom government is a palpable entity influencing the quality of their lives, as well as of the people on the periphery, both social and physical, for whom manifold deprivations have snuffed out hope of change.

We speak of the women who are finding, through collective endeavours, the stepping stones leading from participation to citizenship in its truest sense. It is through the realization of citizenship that Kudumbashree would be able to significantly address issues of equity and justice.

Answer the following:

1. When was the Kerala State Poverty Eradication Mission established?
2. Whose help did the Kerala State Government seek to launch Kudumbashree?
3. What is the "different methodology" used by the Kerala State Government in addressing poverty?
4. What do the following abbreviations stand for? -
ADS
5. What are the various issues that women work on?
6. According to the website, how many NHGs, CDSs and ADSs are now a part of Kudumbashree?
7. What is the significance of the three-tier approach of Kudumbashree?
8. What are the two distinguishing characteristics of Kudumbashree's mission?

9. How is the spread of Kudumbashree's branches unique?
10. How does the programme attempt to alter the microfinance led financial security model?
11. What is Kudumbashree's Mission Statement?

WRITING

Session 1:

CREATING A WEBSITE: A website helps you to promote your company. It is important to tell viewers a little bit about the company, the team, who began the company (the founder or CEO), the vision and mission of the company, as well as some of the company's achievements. This helps gain the trust of viewers.

Pre-Task:

Create a mind-map of everything that you think is necessary to include in your webpage. A mind-map is a visual organisation of your thoughts. It looks somewhat like this:

This is not exhaustive, and you can add to this mind-map, or create your own.

Activity:

Using the mind-map you have drawn, create the content for a webpage for either a company or product that you would like to promote.

How to Create a Webpage

- Content: Make sure you know what your website is about.
- Choose a website builder: Some options can be viewed at <https://www.websitetooltester.com/en/blog/best-free-website-builders/>
- Write an “About Us” page: Describe the Vision and Mission of your company.
- Write about your team: the founder and other members

PROFESSIONAL ENGLISH FOR COMMERCE & MANAGEMENT - II

Unit – 4

Creativity and Imagination

Creativity

Creativity is the process of translating thoughts into truth, fresh and creative. The capacity to look the universe in various directions, locate secret trends, connect otherwise unrelated phenomena and develop ideas. Creativity requires two processes i.e., perception, and development.

Imagination

Imagination is the capacity to develop and construct in the mind, without any instant senses, new topics, sensations, and concepts. It is also defined as the development of experiences in one's mind that can re-create past experiences such as vibrant memories with likely modifications, or can be invented entirely and potentially spectacular scenes. Imagination helps render knowledge suitable to solve challenges and is important to incorporate learning experiences

Enhancing Creativity

The testing and manipulation of innovative domain specific interventions that helps people to develop their imaginative thought and explore the effects of innovation in order to accomplish their objectives and well-being.(i.e., cognitive abilities, divergent thinking skills, investigating the efficacy of motivational strategies, among other tools).

Creative Thinking in Communication

Any worker in the world is well informed that innovative thought is integrated into conversation. Adequate innovation, such as creativity in decision-making, creativity in proposals, creativity in presenting ideas before others and much more resolve much of their targets. Creative thinking in communication to the logical growth of an individual and to the advantage of creative thinking in the workplace involves a variety of practice.

Problem solving Methods for Creative thinking in Communication

Creative thinking embodies behavioural subsets including interest, cognizance and responsive means to cultivate fresh concepts and problem solving approaches. The role of creative thinking required at different levels of workplace that places on the basis of communication. The segment usually studies the importance of creative thinking in making judgment, solving challenges, creating creativity, overcoming disputes and in improving leadership skills at workplaces.

Creative Thinking in Decision Making

The following suggestions can help in your Creativity thinking in decision-making process:

Recognize decisions. Decisions are more than wishes or desires. There's a world of difference between "I wish I could be a better student" and "I will take more powerful notes, read with greater retention, and review my class notes daily." Deciding to eat fruit for dessert instead of ice cream rules out the next trip to the ice cream store.

Establish priorities. Some decisions are trivial. No matter what the outcome, your life is not affected much. Other decisions can shape your circumstances for years. Devote more time and energy to the decisions with big outcomes.

Base decisions on a life plan. The benefit of having long-term goals for our lives is that they provide a basis for many of our daily decisions. Being certain about what we want to accomplish this year and this month makes today's choices more clear.

Balance learning styles in decision making. To make decisions more effectively, use all four modes of learning explained in a previous lesson. The key is to balance reflection with action, and thinking with experience. First, take the time to think creatively, and generate many options. Then think critically about the possible consequences of each option before choosing one. Remember, however, that thinking is no substitute for experience. Act on your chosen option, and notice what happens. If you're not getting the results you want, then quickly return to

Why it's so,

Critical thinking and problem solving skills are imperative for making smarter, profitable and winning decisions or recommendations. This needs

- examining and improving your thought processes
- ask yourself some factual questions
- list out the available challenge assumptions
- consider varying view points

Stage One: Identifying the Problem

Before being able to confront a problem its existence needs to be identified. This might seem an obvious statement but, quite often, problems will have an impact for some time before they are recognized or brought to the attention of someone who can do anything about them.

In many organizations it is possible to set up formal systems of communication so that problems are reported early on, but inevitably these systems do not always work. Once a problem has been identified, its exact nature needs to be determined: what are the goal and barrier components of the problem? Some of the main elements of the problem can be outlined, and a first attempt at defining the problem should be made. This definition should be clear enough for you to be able to easily explain the nature of the problem to others.

GOAL (I want to...)	BARRIER (but...)
Tell a friend that we find something they do irritating.	I don't want to hurt their feelings.
Buy a new computer.	I'm not sure which model to get or how much money is reasonable to spend.
Set up a new business.	I don't know where to start.

Looking at the problem in terms of goals and barriers can offer an effective way of defining many problems and splitting bigger problems into more manageable sub-problems.

Sometimes it will become apparent that what seems to be a single problem, is more accurately a series of problems.

example,
problem:
"I have offered a want, but I

Problem	Working Definition
"I want to take a job, but I don't have the transport to get there and I don't have enough money to buy a car."	"I want to take this job."

sub-
For
in the

been job that I don't have the transport to get there and I don't have enough money to buy a car."

- "I want to take a job" (main problem)
- "But I don't have transport to get there" (sub-problem 1)
- "And I don't have enough money to buy a car" (sub-problem 2)

During this first stage of problem solving, it is important to get an initial working definition of the problem. Although it may need to be adapted at a later stage, a good working definition makes it possible to describe the problem to others who may become involved in the problem solving process. For example:

---

Stage Two: Structuring the Problem

The second stage of the problem solving process involves gaining a deeper understanding of the problem. Firstly, facts need to be checked.

Problem	Checking Facts
"I want to take a job, but I don't have the transport to get there and I don't have enough money to buy a car."	"Do I really want a job?" "Do I really have no access to transport?" "Can I really not afford to buy a car?"

The questions have to be asked, is the stated goal the real goal? Are the barriers actual barriers and what other barriers are there? In this example, the problem at first seems to be:

Goal	Barrier 1	Barrier 2
Take the job	No transport	No money

This is also a good opportunity to look at the relationships between the key elements of the problem. For example, in the 'Job-Transport-Money' problem, there are strong connections between all the elements.

By looking at all the relationships between the key elements, it appears that the problem is more about how to achieve any one of three things, i.e. job, transport or money, because solving one of these sub-problems will, in turn, solve the others.

Creative Thinking in Solving Problems

(Example: Solving Complex Business Problems)

From planning last-minute meetings, to addressing unexpected customer queries, there is no end to the problem solving you do day in, day out. And you want to be confident in the decisions you make. To help you get started, why not take our interactive quiz and find out how good your problem-solving skills are. Then dive into the different approaches to problem solving; which ones do you use already, and which ones could be helpful in the future?

Finally, we can help you identify the causes of problems, and use problem-solving techniques to improve business processes.)

Read the passage carefully and make notes from it, keeping in mind the Main ideas and the subordinate points. Creativity on Co-workers in Business Communication on Management. The first one is discuss out for you side.

When it comes to communicating information to employees, video is a great tool. Something we're in the habit of at Screen Cloud is ensuring that if we can make a video or screen-recording to share an idea, rather than a long document or process, then we will. Analyze your audience before you make a presentation or conduct a meeting. Anticipate possible causes of confusion and prepare clarifying statements. As you prepare, try to see the situation from your audience's perspective. Give all the background necessary for people who receive your email, presentation or lecture to take action, such as make a decision based on the information you provide. If your topic requires a comprehensive understanding of complex underlying concepts, state so early in your discussion. Set clear expectations about what you hope your business communication can achieve. Choose the right communication format for each situation. For example, avoid using email to communicate emotional issues, such as bad news. Use written communication to convey lists of information, such as policies and procedures. Use diagrams and charts to summarize complicated financial data. Proofread your written communication, such as email, reports or other documents. Check for spelling and grammar mistakes so that you fix them before distributing your information. For email messages, include an effective subject line, discuss only one topic and specify the type of response you want. Pay attention to body language when communicating in person. A person who does not look at you or appears distracted in other ways may not be able grasp your message. Use physical cues to tailor your message or know when it might be appropriate to discuss the subject at another time. Defer judgment until the conversation concludes. Avoid interrupting the speaker with counter arguments. It limits your understanding of the situation. Recognize cultural differences in communication styles. Before you work with people from another country, take the time to investigate business practices in that area of the world.

Techniques for an Effective oral Presentation

While speaking to those we know about every day is a simple feat, it certainly requires adequate preparation and research to give a successful expression. The four Es required for an effective speech have therefore been clarified for you below:

1. Energy: The introduction should be presented in an absolutely enthusiastic way that represents the strength. It helps to win over the audience and to make sure that you truly have everything to sell.
2. Eye Contact: Eye interaction with the listener is quite necessary. In case of broad assembly of audience start scanning from front to back as well as side to side. Any listener should get the feeling that you are engaging with them.
3. Enthusiasm: Your expression should represent your excitement and excitement for the topic you would be addressing. You should expect the same from the audience unless you are zealous about the subject.

4. Examples: Using illustrations always to demonstrate what you want to highlight. The listener often visualises what you are talking about because they don't look at words as text. Examples are the perfect way to help you create pictures of your post.

Video Marketing

It is no secret that video marketing is the future. Many companies, including Reebok and Always, have taken to video marketing to showcase their products and convey important messages. In fact, having a presence either on YouTube or video through Facebook is almost a necessity for most modern brands.

There are lots of things to remember when recording video for the first time. You'll need to consider:

- Having the right equipment (e.g. A tripod or camera)
- Having an appropriate filming location
- Using professional editing software
- Sourcing music

(Reference 1: Watch "A Moving Story about Gratitude" <https://youtu.be/tznztJVsW9E>)

(Reference 2: <https://www.slideshare.net/NicoleFerdinand/making-short-films>)

Basic script writing for the short film

Unique form

- Special order structure, emphasis, shape
- Fewer character emphasis and more systemic focus
- Too firm type - Punch line Joke movies?
- Non-verbal and surreal.
- Episodes

No Dialogue

- Action driven
- Little character development
- Potent set-up
- Gag & punch line

How to craft a great short film

- Conceive a brilliant, unusual, simple but intense idea
- Quickly establish your situation & characters
- Always start the story as late as possible & end it as soon as possible – it must be intense
- Always move the story forward
- Add a sense of urgency
- End with a bang Know your ending at the beginning
- Use dialogue sparingly
- Be brave in your choices
- Set it in your head, discuss it with your colleagues, redraft it, rewrite it, talk more about it, then storyboard it then make it

Don't try and cram too much in

Tell your own story or vision but be aware of other films in the same vein - allow yours to talk with them (GENRE)

- Three-act Structure - What this means? Give your story a beginning, middle, and end.

Don't write based on what you know. Use fantasy, your imagination & research

- You don't have to tell a story. You can focus on a theme, a state of mind, Experiment with an existing film or idea.
- If you make a genre film, fulfill the rules & then exceed them

Elements of Story

- The reason for telling the story
- Describing a need or a desire that must be addressed by the central character
- The reason for telling the story now for this audience
- Specific story/concept ANGLE

- Details through character & given circumstances
- Premise - insights - defining the goal of the story - the desired audience effect
(Example) King Lear - blind trust leads to destruction

Webisodes

- Web Series and Online Series
- WebTV - TV over IP - that is the real revolution to the temporary stop-gap of Cable. By being on-line and on-demand, TV over IP has no schedule restrictions
- 'WebTV' does not need the biggest audience; it just needs the Right audience, a dynamic and motivated and engaged audience.

Creating Web Page

A single disc, called the "html file" holds a web page. In virtually any software you would use to modify text files, html files can be generated. Also you can build html files in certain programmes. The value of these systems is that they are mostly user-friendly. The limitation is that the right html files are not always created. You will use the standard text editor, such as VI, PICO, Windows 95 Notepad etc to build web-pages. An html file includes control codes, which specify how a web viewer appears on the website. These codes are referred to as "html tags"

Password Protected Pages

There are many ways to build password-protected sites, but notice that using a CGI script is a typical vulnerability since the password is saved in a web server log file. Instead it is better to navigate, which is defined on a different tab.

Creating a Web Page

This is not meant as a full training course on designing web sites, it is intended to offer a deeper perspective into the fundamentals of making a web page. The easiest way to practice html coding is to open a certain html code on a website with a feature to meet your specifications and then change it.

Creating Blogs

A blog is a newspaper Web page that exists in reverse temporal sequences of the current entries first at the left, with the most previous. This is a forum for a writer or a community of authors to express their thoughts on a topic. More than 570 million blogs are now accessible on the internet. Bloggers are expected to cross 31.7 million by 2020 in the United States alone.

Purpose of a Blogs

Sample of Flyers

Business Management Flyers

(Source: <https://venngage.com/blog/flyer-examples/#1>)

Creation of Flyer

A flyer is a form of paper advertisement deliberate for wide supply and normally posted or distributed in a public place, handed out to individuals or sent through the mail. In the 2010s, flyers range from inexpensively photocopied leaflets to expensive, glossy, full-color circulars.

The various tips to be considered while creating the flyers;

1. Keep your content brief.
2. Divide your copy into digestible sections.
3. Use bullet points and infographics.
4. Create a catchy headline.
5. Add a call-to-action.
6. Don't forget to add directions.
7. Include your contact information
8. Always proofread your content
9. Communicate using your target market's language.
10. Use compelling testimonials.
11. Use colors that support your message.
12. Limit your font choices to two or three.
13. Choose the right paper stock
14. Apply paper coatings.
15. Use high-resolution photos

16. Incorporate your logo with the design
17. Account for bleed and trim
18. Distribute in high traffic areas

(Source: <https://www.nextdayflyers.com/blog/effective-business-flyers/>)

Uses of Flyers

- ✓ Advertise an event such as a music concert, nightclub appearance, festival, or political rally.
- ✓ Promote a goods-selling businesses such as a used car lot discount store or a service business such as a restaurant or massage parlor.
- ✓ Persuade people about a social, religious, or political message, as in evangelism or political campaign activities on behalf of a political party or candidate during an election. Flyers have been used in armed conflict: for example, airborne leaflet propaganda has been a tactic of psychological warfare.
- ✓ Recruit members for organizations or companies.

Like postcards, pamphlets and small posters, flyers are a low-cost form of mass marketing or communication.

Formats of flyer

- A4 (roughly letterhead size)
- A5 (roughly half letterhead size)
- DL (compliments slip size)
- A6 (postcard size)

Strategy and concept for the flyer

1. Find other flyers you like as inspiration

Look at other flyers outside to get an understanding of what is likely.

2. Use your design concept as a brief for a freelancer or design contest

You can either design your own flyer for you with your favorite freelancer or launch a flyer design competition and collect multiple flyer design suggestions from the world's designers.

3. Evaluate the design proposals against your criteria

Sort the prototypes without getting swept away by an innovative development that does not in reality accomplish what you need to do.

4. Choose your final design

Pick the template that better matches your needs and fits with your audience.

5. Proofread

Check and check again that no typos remain, until you have the completed design.

6. Make sure you get the files you need

If you have images as part of the template, the resolution must be high.

Brochure

A single or multi-page folded document used to advertise goods or services of a business is a brochure. This paper may be folded to make different pages or pages are piled together many times. In reference to a brochure, the word "booklet" is also used. Although it may appear identical to a brochure, brochures are most commonly used for ads of several goods or services for a business. It is important to remember. Usually brochures have more pictures than sentences. Such typical applications for brochures involve the launch or detailing of recent customer support contributions.

Creating Brochures

Brand your brochure with visuals: You can add all your custom material, many photos, maps, icons and charts to your booklet of visual images. Incorporate the brand on a customised brochure or post photos of your own.

Add text: Submit text by inserting or substituting text in your brochure. The fonts, colours and sizes you may alter are easy

Add images: You will incorporate photos by adding symbols, portraits and stock images in our gallery, hundreds of thousands of images inserted into your brochure.

Publish and share: Make sure that you preview it when your brochure is final, you may also customize your printing brochure. You will share your creation with peers, acquaintances or relatives until you have your final draught.

Poster Making

A poster is a document depicting societal challenges and environmental issues. It could even be connected to certain commercials. It is essentially a work of art and because of its messages, draws maximum attention from the audience.

Importance of poster making

Poster presentations are a valid form of transferring academic knowledge. However, greater flexibility in their design and dissemination is required. 'MediaPoster' provides an opportunity to deliver a genuine depth of information, which is amendable to suit a wide variety of academic, professional and commercial disciplines. It accounts for a full range of learning styles by use of interactive delivery, and so promotes a genuine forum of active learning.

- Poster speaks for itself; the presence of its author is not necessary. It is therefore possible to reach a broader audience when compared to a presentation limited in time.
- It is also possible to present several posters in the same room and at the same time; visitors can have a look at those posters they are interested in.
- Sometimes as the author you have the possibility to present a poster while giving a short introduction. An interactive situation evolves while having a close contact to the audience, closer than when delivering a speech.
- Posters can be used several times and presented at different events.
- A poster is suited for people suffering from stage fright at least, for those who have difficulties when speaking in front of large groups. Standing next to their poster for some time in order to answer just a few questions is less stressful than talking on a lectern.

Format of Poster Writing

The students who are about to appear for the CBSE Board English examination must be aware of the format of poster making.

Format of poster writing

- Issuing Authority: Here you have to write the name of the organising body of the particular event.

- Title: This is the point where you can make the deal. Make a catchy title which is basically the gist of your announcement or issue.
- A sketch: After the title, you have to draw a picture depicting your issue. For instance; 4 ways to save water.
- Date, Time and Venue: Here you have to mention the date and time of the event which has to take place. Do not forget to mention the venue of the event.
- Contact Information: This is an important part of your poster. Remember to add the details of the concerned authorities as the people reading the poster must have contact numbers of the event co-ordinator in case any query arises on the day of the event.

Doing things for Poster Writing

- Your poster must not exceed the word limit of 50 words.
- The poster should be in a box.
- Make the content inside the poster to the point and crisp.
- Make sure your answer to a poster must fit in one page only. It should not be continued to the next page.
- Also, bold or underline the important information inside the poster.

Avoid things for Poster Writing

- Keep the word limit within the prescribed word limit only.
- Do not use complex language.
- Do not use the short form of the words.
- Make sure your poster is in the proper structure / format.

WORKPLACE COMMUNICATION – AN OVERVIEW

Clear and effective communication is essential in a workplace. Although there are various channels of communication such as E-mail, circulars, WhatsApp etc. a lack of effective communication will end in misunderstanding with the boss, co- workers, or colleagues. This will bring down productivity as it may result in a breakdown of communication and therefore relationships. Effective communication is the art of saying the right words in the right way at the right time. This will lead to improving confidence and a positivity ultimately leading to career growth.

Leaders need to recognise the importance of having strong internal communications in their organizations. Leaders also need to recognize the importance of formal communication channels within the organization. This will keep the organization glued together and move towards one unified goal and purpose. This communication between leaders and their teams, or between team members, keeps employees informed of important changes in the organization. It also provides them an outlet to share their own thoughts.

SPEAKING SKILLS

Academic Power Point Presentation

---

Pre-text task – Vocabulary

brainstem	potential explanation
data collection	clip arts
parameters	video clips
quantitative analysis

Power Point Presentations have come into vogue more than a decade ago. Not only in educational institutions, but in business scenario also it has established its importance. Yet, for the students who do the presentation for the first time, there occurs a fear in them to speak before a large gathering. This article guides the students to overcome their fear and to take up the task actively and enthusiastically.

Before preparing the presentation, it is important to decide what the main message is going to be. This central idea is the core around which all other ideas revolve. For instance, in academic presentations the central idea will be the thesis statement, in business presentation it will be the product or services offered. In any case the content must be prepared before the power point presentation.

Plan the structure of your Power Point Presentation

Now that you know what information must be included, begin to plan the structure of your presentation. You will want to plan as much of your speech and slides on paper as possible. Outline not only your speech but your slides as well.

- The structure of an academic presentation should follow roughly the same structure as an academic paper, first introducing your main point, supporting it with evidence, and then a short conclusion.
- For business presentations, Guy Kawasaki (a notable business adviser and marketing guru) suggests this standard presentation structure:
  - The Problem
  - Your solution
  - Business model
  - Underlying magic/technology
  - Marketing and sales
  - Competition
  - Team
  - Projections and milestones
  - Status and timeline
  - Summary and call to action

- Future

Making PPT effective:

1. Write out your speech before you start making the PowerPoint:

It's hard to make a presentation if you don't know what you plan to say. Brainstorm what you plan to say and break it into chunks. Then, make an outline or jot down notes for yourself. You might even create a short script.

2. Use your outline or notes to help you decide what needs to be included in your slides.

The following points may be considered for academic presentation:

- Introduction or Overview
- Theoretical Framework or Research Question
- Background or Literature Review
- Background or Literature Review
- Methodology or Case Selection
- Discussion of Data or Results
- Analysis
- Conclusion

The outline structure of a presentation resembles the structure of a research work. Academic presentation always aims or focuses on some finding or innovation. Make your presentation also creative and informative.

3. Be informative and innovative

In the presentation, refer to the existing literature and give background information on a particular case with which the audience may be familiar. Your background information should only include what is expected or needed by the audience. In your 15-minute presentation, after formal introduction and literature, you need to be discussing your data or case study. At conferences, people are there to learn about your unique contribution and not about another person's work. In some places you can narrate your experiences in collecting data. Add humor, wherever necessary, to avoid sounding monotonous.

4. Rehearse:

Take rehearsal as you need before you deliver your presentation. Practicing makes it flow better. You can't practice too many times. Prepare your material according to the time allotted for you. No more. Even if you only have a few minutes left, you need to finish within the allotted time.

5. Use Photos, Pictures and graphs:

You can use pie charts, graphs or bar charts when discussing any quantitative analysis. Also, use photos, pictures, videos, music, and clip arts wherever necessary. Sometime pictorial explanation reaches the audience with ease. Relevant video clips can also be used to make the session lively.

At the end, give a recap of all the points that you had explained in your presentation.

6. Challenges:

Be assertive in your tone while delivering the material. Never get distracted from your focus on speaking out the content. While rehearsing, think of the possible questions that may be thrown to you regarding the subject and you should be prepared to answer everything.

Points to be avoided in a Power Point Presentation

1. Don't overload materials:

Avoid presenting all the information in one slide. Overloading a slide with too much information will tend to give a cumbersome appearance. Limit content to bullet points.

2. Limit the number of slides:

Keep minimum number of slides to make your presentation effective. Too many slides would make the audience weary of it and they may tend to get distracted

3. Do not read the slides:

Always keep eye contact with the audience. While doing the presentation, don't read from the slides, instead, you can keep flash cards, or a printout of your presentation.

4. Use professional format:

Make your slides captivating and innovative. Don't use visuals that distract the attention of the audience from the topic. Don't use multiple fonts. Stick to a particular readable font throughout the presentation.

Consider the following sample presentation. Observe its structure and outline your own presentation. Explain the outline to the class.

READING AND WRITING SKILLS

1. Product Profile

PRE-TEXT TASK – VOCABULARY
reputation	trustworthiness
marketing	credentials
indispensable	surveillance
robust	sustainable

A company profile is a short piece of writing which introduces the company to someone who might be unfamiliar with it. The purpose of a product profile is to furnish basic information about the company, its products, product description, performance, reputation, etc. When a product is aimed at selling, online or offline, one of the key factors is the product description. In business, a product sale depends on advertising and marketing department's way in promoting the sale.

Product Description:

While describing a product, the following points are to be noted:

1. Target audience

- The target audience to whom the product is to be sold and their buying capacity, location, and literacy level.
- If the company has an online access, a team can be appointed to monitor and gather the information of the people who visit the company's website. An online enquiry form may be provided to identify their demographic using Google Analytics.
- When a new brand of a product is to be introduced in the market, try to connect your item to the target customer's lifestyle and utility.

2. Features of the product

- Design a list of the benefits of the products and link these to the customers' needs.
- Explain the exceptional features of the product

3. Appeal to the senses

- Specifics are important in selling a product. So, creating an imaginary sensory experience of using the product is important.

READING and WRITING

2. Writing a Circular

PRE-TEXT TASK	VOCABULARY
luncheons	implement
intimating	informative
adhere	geared
queries	stake

Circulars or fliers are an effective way to communicate in an organization. In general, companies, organizations or even educational institutions use circulars to implement policies or invite employees to meetings or sometimes to luncheons. Circulars can also be used to promote new products. Circulars are written to inform the stake holders the matters of general interest. Circulars serve a lot of benefits to both the sender and the receiver. The success of a circular in business communication depends on its distribution.

Advantages of Circulars:

Circular is the fastest way to pass information among the stake holders in an organization or a company, whether it is in printed form or digital form. Circulars enable the efficient transfer of information. For example, a company needs only a few lines of subject to inform employees about a seminar.

Circulars aimed at specific target group are highly effective. For example, a circular inviting the company stake holders or specific department's employees to learn database management is geared toward marketing research managers and computer programmers. If the company or organization publishes its own newsletter, circulars can be made to appear in them, for those who did not receive them on the specific date. Circulars are inexpensive and timely in delivering or conveying the intended messages.

A Circular identifies the right audience as it has a wider dimension and reach. It can be referred to as a legal document with the designation of authority and therefore acts as a permanent record.

Key features to make an effective Circular:

1. A Circular is a small piece of business, professional or organizational communication made with the purpose of intimating important or urgent information to be conveyed to its stakeholders.
2. It is normally sent by the company/ organization managers or head of the office.
3. Circular can be inter-departmental or inter-office depending on the need to be sent and the number of people involved in it.
4. The sender is expected to be very clear with the messages to be conveyed to the target group.
5. A circular should contain all the information about the subject to be conveyed.
6. When a circular is meant to promote a product, the company can use catchy captions to attract the readers.
7. A circular is sent to a wider audience and is a formal circulation. Therefore, care should be taken to avoid any ambiguously.

Here is a sample circular of a company to inform the revised working days:

ABC Company

Circular no. 15

Date:19.8.2020

Revised working days

Dear employees of ABC company,

This is to inform you all that there will be a change in the working days of our company. So far, we have been working from Monday to Friday (only 5 working days in a week) with the working hours of 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. It is felt necessary to revise or increase the working days by adding Saturday as a working day, without altering the existing working hours. The need had occurred due to the loss of working days we met due to the pandemic situation. Hope everyone understands the need of the hour and will extend your cooperation without compromising on the quality of work. The revised working days will be as follows:

- Working days: Monday to Saturday (except holidays)
- Working time: 9.00 a.m. to 5.00p.m.

All employees are requested to take a note of this change which will come into effect from this Saturday i.e., 22.08.2020. You are requested to strictly adhere to the revised working days and defaulters will be subjected to action. Kindly contact the HR department to address your queries.

Thanks!

CEO

ABC Company.

READING and WRITING

3. Writing minutes of a meeting

---

PRE-TEXT TASK - VOCABULARY

disputes	dissenting
reliable	enumerated
unbiased	freebies
unambiguous	agenda
prudent	abstention

Minutes of a meeting are record of documented proceedings of discussed issues in a meeting. It includes the decisions taken and the action plan which needs to be recorded soon after the meeting. While writing the minutes one must be careful in documenting what transpired during the meeting, since they become authentic evidence. In some legal disputes, minutes can serve as a reliable document. The person deputed to draft the minutes should take down hints or notes during the meeting so as not to overlook even small issues discussed in the meeting. The minutes serve as a useful reference for anyone who was unable to attend the meeting. So, the minutes of a meeting also serve as a reference material for the future.

The following are some points to be noted to make the minutes of a meeting reliable and trustworthy:

- The minutes should be written objectively and in an unbiased manner using clear language to avoid ambiguity
- It is prudent avoid using abbreviations and excessive technical terms to enable the readers to understand the concepts easily
- It is desirable to not mention the name of a particular member while writing about the discussion on a particular subject (unless it is necessary for future reference). It is enough to record only the happenings and resolutions made at the meeting and avoid mentioning who caused that action.
- The minutes should be written immediately after the meeting to avoid omission of any relevant points.
- All the events or happenings should be recorded in the order they occurred.
- If any member needs any correction to be made in the minutes of a previous meeting, with the consent from all members, it can be carried out in the minutes of the current meeting with necessary adjustments to the minutes of the previous meeting under consideration.

The structure of the minutes:

The minutes of a meeting typically comprises of the following components:

- Date, time, and place of the meeting
- Names of those present
- Names of those unable to attend
- Topics discussed
- Members opinions or suggestions
- Any dissenting
- Decisions arrived
- Action plan
- Tentative date of next meeting
- Distribution of the minutes to those present and getting it signed

(Image source: WikiHow: How to Take Minutes)

The minutes, thus, become a recorded document of the important decisions taken, and methods and motions adopted in a company or organization.

Writing Corporate minutes

Corporate minutes of shareholders meeting or directors' meetings are mandated by law. These minutes may be referred to when there are lawsuits and key information is required. Therefore, detailed notes must be taken in corporate minutes. Also, it is required to complete the minutes immediately and obtain approval from the board.

Tips to write corporate minutes effectively:

1. Note details about the meeting. Before the meeting starts note down the following details:

- ☐ full name of your company
- ☐ date and time of the meeting
- ☐ location of the meeting

2. Write down who attends. Make a list of those members attending and those not attending the meeting. Include any guests or consultants who have been invited.

- ☐ Note any late arrivals or the time when someone leaves the meeting early.
- ☐ Also write down who is conducting the meeting and whether a quorum was present.

3. Record the meeting's purpose:

A meeting's purpose may be varied. They are as follows:

- ☐ annual meeting for directors and shareholders
- ☐ meeting to determine employee hiring
- ☐ meeting to discuss compensation
- ☐ announcement of new officers
- ☐ issue stock
- ☐ discussion of financial activity, such as a new bank or line of credit

4. Note whether prior minutes were accepted. The minutes of the previous meeting should have been distributed to the members in advance. The first motion will be to confirm the business arising from the previous meeting. Write down the vote.

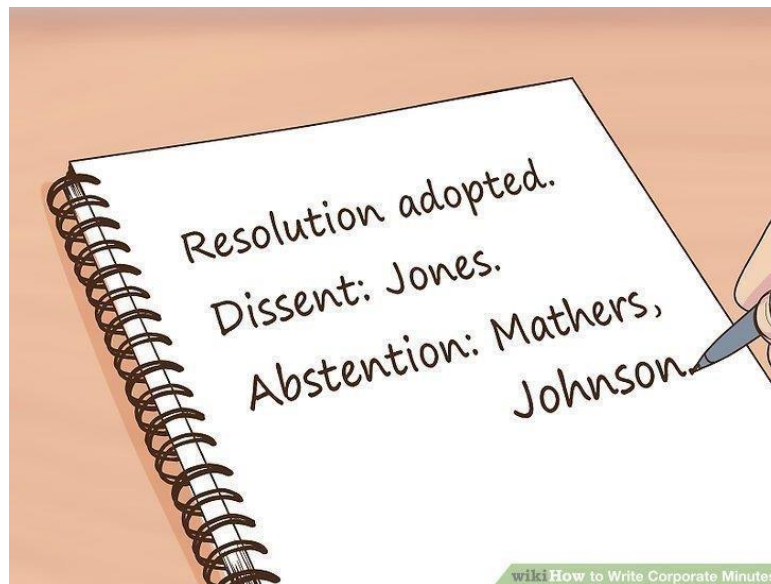

- ☐ If someone objects to the minutes, discussion may ensue. Make a note of the discussion and the changes to be made.

5. Take notes of discussion on agenda items. Detailed notes on the discussions should be taken down. Words should be accurately recorded. Active listening is very important.

- ☐ Avoid trying to take down a word-for-word transcription. If for instance a person opposes a point and explains why for a long time, it is sufficient to note that the point was opposed and to state the reason.

- ☐ Note what documents the attendees are looking at. All documents that are circulated among the attendees should be noted and a copy of the same should be attached with the minutes.

6. Record the vote on items. If voting is included as a part of the agenda, it must be recorded in the minutes along with the details of those who are absent and who decline to vote.

- ☐ Generally, most resolutions will be adopted unanimously. However, the names of dissenters should be recorded. This is very important.
- ☐ For example, you can write: "Resolution adopted. Dissent: Raja. Abstention: Amuldas, Vakrie."

7. Record the adjournment. The time the meeting is adjourned should also be recorded. If the schedule for the next meeting is decided that also should be noted.

- ☐ For example, you can write, “The next meeting was scheduled for July 1, 2016, time and place to be determined. The meeting adjourned at 6:16pm.”

8. Type the minutes as soon as possible: You might have taken handwritten notes while sitting in the meeting. As soon as the meeting is over type out the minutes so that you will remember the essence of the proceedings.

9. Circulate your draft minutes. Your draft needs to be reviewed. Follow your corporation’s policy. You might need to produce your draft to the higher authorities in the management who would take a call regarding the minutes. The minutes may be modified as per the recommendations from the head of the management such as the CEO, the CFO etc.

- ☐ You may then need to distribute the draft to a broader group of management, which may also have comments.
- ☐ Finally, you will distribute the minutes to the full board since they will be voting on the minutes for the next meeting.

10. Store your approved minutes: You don’t have to file your corporate minutes with your state. Minutes should be documented carefully and stored for future references at least for a span of seven years or according to the company policies. It should be retrievable any time it is required. Therefore, organizing minutes of meetings in well-designed filing system is essential.

- ☐ If your minutes incorporated a document by reference, attach the document.
- ☐ You should also discard any drafts of your minutes including the electronic versions after the final version has been adopted.

WRITING SKILLS

1. Writing an Introduction for an academic essay

Pre-text task-	Vocabulary
trivial	foresee
humorous	appraise
philosophically	consistency
jargons	over-burdened
cliché	reiterate

Essays can be written on any topic, serious or trivial, concrete, or abstract. The tone and style also may be humorous, ironic, or factual. While writing an essay, it is essential to understand the meaning and scope of the topic. Begin the essay with an appropriate introductory paragraph, introduce the main theme of the essay and indicate its scope. It is always good to begin any piece of writing with a definition or an interesting and relevant anecdote. One should avoid introductions that plunge into the discussion right in the beginning itself. The writer should be scrupulous to avoid long, irrelevant, flashy, or abstruse introduction. Therefore, while writing the introductory part of the essay, certain points may be adopted to make it comprehensible and lucid.

Tips for writing effective introduction

1. Keep your introduction brief and effective.
2. Avoid starting abruptly or too philosophically.
3. Define or explain the title in a precise, specific way.
4. Use quotations, dictionary meanings, statements, or sayings to introduce the reader to the main idea.
5. Don't take sides on an issue or sound prejudiced in your approach.
6. Avoid jargons, clichés, and bombastic beginnings.
7. Don't present enigmatic ideas in the beginning itself.
8. Use simple language with concrete thoughts.

A good introduction

- ☐ Catches the reader's attention and gets the reader interested in what is going to follow.
- ☐ Makes the reader know what the general topic of the writing is
- ☐ Tells the reader specifically what the main idea of the writing is.

Writing an introduction for an academic essay:

- An introductory paragraph of an essay of your subject can be especially problematic for those students who rely on theoretical knowledge instead of putting their practical thinking to test. For example, the study of management needs practical skill, and so, an introduction for management essay cannot be based on pure theory. Even when the problem is quickly introduced, one needs to highlight the practical meaning of the questions in discussion. Creative thinking skills are essential to start the essay.
- After you've managed to hook the reader with the practical relevance of your subject, you can continue to a summary of the problem you plan to discuss followed by a full overview of the aspects you are going to analyze.
- Finally, you are to proceed to a thesis statement, which is — basically — the main argument of your entire paper. You are going to discuss it in greater detail in the main body of your management essay.

When writing an introduction, you should typically use a 'general to specific' structure. That is, introduce the problem or topic the essay will address in a general sense to provide context, before narrowing down to your position and line of argument.

Structure of an essay

(Image Source: Writing Essay.jpg-wikimedia commons)

The introduction of an essay must be substantial. It should stimulate an interest in the reader to anticipate the content of the rest of the paper such as the paragraphs that follow and the conclusion.

This will be possible only when the introduction presented is clear in the theme and concept and prepare the reader for the facts which will follow.

To give a good introduction you must revise your writing many times. First drafts that can't be improved in some way by editing and reviewing are rare to nonexistent. The first draft should be followed by reviewing and revising. This will entail checking grammar, spelling, and punctuation. You should ensure that the writing style is simple, precise, and concise. Remove irrelevant information or sentences. Check if ideas are repeated. If any part of the sentence is ambiguous rewrite it. The first part of an essay is very important as it not only sets the tone for the essay, but it also will aim at sustaining the reader's interest. Much work must be done in this part.

2. Paraphrasing an academic essay

Just like the introduction of an essay, the summarizing or paraphrasing of an essay is also vital. Sometime, improper paraphrasing may mar the entire essay. While a summary will give a general idea of the essay a paraphrase will add more details. Though paraphrasing occurs at the end of an essay, it should be constructive and impressive

Tips for developing a good paraphrasing:

- ☐ While paraphrasing, you are supposed to reinforce the ideas already established in the main body of your essay. So, inclusion of any new idea or thought should be avoided.
- ☐ Concluding points or ideas should be forceful and dynamic.
- ☐ Don't elaborate on a single point of an essay alone; rather cover up all the ideas illustrated in the entire paragraphs.
- ☐ The paraphrase should comply with the discussion found in the body of the essay.
- ☐ Concluding sentences should be optimistic and agile.
- ☐ Paraphrasing paragraph should be crisp, short, and provoke inquisitiveness in reader to probe deep into the subject.
- ☐ It is always good if you give your own ideas at the end instead of citing quotations from other sources.
- ☐ Conclude the essay with proper convincing statements and don't leave abrupt statements.

Develop an understanding of the original text. Read the paragraphs that you need to summarize several times. Get a complete understanding of the ideas in it. Identify words that are difficult and find out the meaning. Thus, you will be able to use the most accurate words when you summarize.

Change the original word choice. One rule of paraphrasing is to write in your own words. Here is where you need to explore your unique style in writing.

There are several ways to paraphrase. Since each writer has her/his own unique style therefore there is no one right way to paraphrase.

The introductory paragraph and the paraphrased paragraph too should reiterate the main points. The force with which you express the concluding ideas are especially important, because the merit and credit of your complete essay solely depends on the way it is paraphrased. For a good essay, the concluding part should include suggestion or call for action, prediction (positive or negative outcome) and a question. Try to provide innovative statements in the concluding paragraph, so that the readers may be inspired to take up further studies in that specific area. By all these methods, you can make your essay more comprehensible, focused, and forceful.

POTENTIAL APPRAISAL

Business organizations always aim at placing right people in the right place at the right time. This can be achieved by potential appraisal or evaluation. Through a potential appraisal, unutilized ability may be identified. It is the latent capacity and qualities that is found in a person when a person is at work.

The objectives of potential evaluation are to promote an employee to higher levels of jobs involving higher order or responsibilities. The employee can effectively discharge these tasks without being over-burdened and stretched. It also assists the organization to allocate jobs among employees as per their capabilities so that organizational responsibilities are discharged effectively. Through its foresight into the future, it can enable the individual and the organization to grow. Potential appraisal and performance appraisal must go hand in hand. It is also an important tool for Human Resource Management.

Potential appraisal is used in several human resource management functions such as human resource planning, career planning, succession planning, promotion/ termination, decisions and employee training and development.

In this context, potential means a prospective employee who is capable to undertake different challenging assignments. Potential of employees need to be discovered for organizational effectiveness. Organizations must aim to utilize the full potential of the workforce, institute an environment to unleash the latent creativity, create conditions promoting innovation and team working, and so forth. This also helps in identifying potential leaders in an organization.

A potential employee is characterized by the following attributes:

1. Ability to foresee future opportunities.
2. Consistency in approach and performance.
3. Responsive to conditions whatever come in the way.
4. Person with high level of integrity.
5. Broader vision and micro perception.

Once the potential evaluation is made it is easy to place the employees in any of the following classes:

1. Low Potential – Low Performance. These employees are low on both dimensions. They should be nurtured to improve their levels.
2. High Potential – Low Performance. They are given new opportunities in new department or in a new location. Failure to perform will incur reclassification and planned separation.
3. Low Potential – High Performance. They called solid citizens. They are encouraged to do well in the current positions.
4. High Potential – High Performance. They are the stars of the team. They are given more opportunities related to development.

However, it is the prime duty of Human Resource Manager to appraise the hidden talents and potentials of every employee and identify the potential class that each employee fits in.

In this manner the right talent will be utilized for the right purpose.

Post –reading task 1

Say whether the following statements are true or false:

1. Any writing will be good if it begins with a definition or an anecdote.
2. An introduction of an essay should belong.
3. An introduction should not reveal the main ideas of the upcoming passages.
4. For management students, pure theoretical knowledge is not enough to deal with their problem of study.
5. To give a good introduction, revising the written item is essential.
6. Paraphrasing means conveying different messages.
7. You should not include any new ideas in paraphrase.
8. You need not understand the original text to paraphrase.
9. The merit and credit of the entire essay depends on the way it is paraphrased.
10. The paraphrase should be brief and forceful.

Task 2

“The spread of e-commerce during this pandemic period is faster than the spread of the virus”- Write an essay providing a proper introduction and a paraphrase in about 200 words.

Punctuation and Capitalization

<https://www.teachstarter.com/au/blog/26-punctuation-resources-activities/>

Punctuation

The system of signs or symbols, such as full stop, comma, and exclamatory mark, used in written language is called Punctuation. Punctuation marks show a reader how a sentence is constructed and how it should be read. Every sentence should include a capital letter at the start, and a punctuation mark at the end.

Why Punctuation matters?

Life would be confusing without proper punctuation.

Look at these sentences

1. some people find inspiration in cooking their families and dogs

Vs.

Some people find inspiration in cooking, their families and dogs.

2. lets eat grandpa

Vs

"Let's eat, Grandpa!"

The sentences convey totally different things as per the proper usage of punctuations.

For the sake of family members and Grandpa's life, use proper punctuation. Punctuation saves lives and keeps people alive!

3. Now, this is a big one. Consider the following sentences. Note how the meaning changes drastically when the position of the comma changes.

a woman without her man is nothing

"A woman, without her man, is nothing." (A woman's success is because of a man)

Now, let's change up where we're placing the punctuation:

"A woman: without her, man is nothing." (A man's success is because of a woman)

Here is an infographic on various punctuations used in English

PUNCTUATION MARK

Full Stop

Used at the end of a sentence

Question Mark

Used at the end of an interrogative sentence to form a question.

Comma

Used to denote a pause in a sentence

Exclamation Mark

Used to denote shock, surprise, anger or a raised voice.

Quotation Mark

Used to show that someone else has said it

Colon

Used to indicate what is to follow next.

Semi Colon

Used to link two independent clauses.

Apostrophe

Used to show possession or for contraction of word.

Hyphen

Used to glue words together.

Slash

Used to separate letters, numbers or words.

Ellipsis Mark

Used to separate items in a series.

Round Brackets

Used to add extra information in a sentence.

www.eslgrammar.org

CAPITALIZATION

Capitalization is one of the most basic and important elements of writing. Capitalization draws the reader's attention to names, titles, and more. Capitalization also marks the start of new sentences and new paragraphs, provides signals to the reader, and helps to create a structure and a hierarchy in written language.

Basic Capitalization Rules

1. Capitalize proper nouns.

- To indicate the names of people, such as Vijay, David, or Anwar.
- To denote the names of months and days, such as January, August, Sunday, Thursday
- To denote days of national/international importance, such as Independence Day, Women's Day

- Finally, proper nouns also include the names of buildings, landmarks, and companies, such as the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the Statue of Liberty, or Verizon
2. Use capitalization with proper adjectives.
    - Indian, American, Italian, German
  3. Capitalize titles of works.
    - A Tale of Two Cities, Titanic, Ode To A Nightingale, Beats
  4. Use a capital at the beginning of a sentence. The first word of every sentence should be capitalized, regardless of what kind of word.
  5. Capitalize the first word of a full sentence in a quotation. Sentences appearing within quotes also should have a capital letter in the beginning.
She said to me "Do you feel alright?"
  6. Use capitalization when referring to a period or an event.
    - The Chola Period.
  7. Capitalization with the pronoun "I." One of the most notable words to make sure to capitalize is the pronoun "I." I refer to oneself. This is a unique and specific usage.
  8. Capitalize family relationships.
    - Aunt Preethi" or "Cousin Ajith."
  9. Capitalize people's titles.
    - Mr. Ms. Miss, and Dr.

Remember these punctuation rules while writing:

PUNCTUATION RULES

ENGLISH
PUNCTUATION

RULE 1

Every sentence must end with a full stop.

Proper nouns (names of people, places, brands, etc, i.e. unique instances of a class) must always be capitalised.

RULE 2

RULE 3

When you use opening quotation marks, do not forget to use closing quotation marks at the end of the quoted word or phrase.

Quotation marks are when quoting or sometimes to convey irony, not for emphasis; emphasis is conveyed by boldening or italicisation, followed by an exclamation mark.

RULE 4

RULE 5

Do not use an apostrophe when you are pluralising a word. The plural of toy is toys, not toy's. Apostrophes are used to form contractions (it is = it's) and indicate possession.

The ellipsis, used to indicate variously the intentional omission of a section of text, an unfinished thought, and a trailing off into silence, consists of only 3 dots. It is pointless to add more dots to an ellipsis

RULE 7

As per the rules of British English, any punctuation mark that is not part of a quoted section of text must be placed outside the quotation marks.

Do not link independent clauses with commas. Independent clauses are groupings of words that can stand alone as sentences.

RULE 9

Use a comma after the introductory element of a sentence. The introductory element is a word or a phrase that begins a sentence by providing background, or simply modifies it.

Activity 1

Analyse the Story given below and list down the various punctuations mentioned in the story and write their definition.

E.g.

1. Comma – Used for pausing; took its place between words; without the break commas provide,

words run amok, becoming jumbled, unwieldy, and confusing; a well-placed comma can change the meaning of a sentence.

The Day Punctuation Came to Town

Written by Kimberlee Gard / Illustrated by Sandie Sonke

The Punctuations had just moved to Alphabet City and the kids—Exclamation Point, Question Mark, Period, and Comma—were excited about their first day of school. Exclamation Point was in a rush to get there. “We are going to have so much fun!” he said. He “was always excited about something.” Question Mark was a little more subdued. She wondered if the other kids would be nice and even pondered whether they were walking in the right direction. “Comma kept pausing,” and Period said she would let her siblings know when to stop.

When they got to school and introduced themselves, the student letters were confused. They'd never seen anyone like the Punctuations before. As the letters practiced forming words, Exclamation Point joined W, O, and W; Question Mark helped out W, H, and O; and "Period brought each sentence to a tidy end." For Comma, though, it wasn't so easy. As he tried to squeeze in between letters, he began to feel as if he was just a bother. Undetected, he tiptoed away.

Meanwhile, in the classroom, Exclamation Point had all the letters scrambling to make more and more exciting words. There was a lot of cheering and booming, ducking, and running. Question Mark asked if maybe they shouldn't all quiet down a bit, but no one was listening. Even Period couldn't get them to stop. Pretty soon, there was a huge word pileup. In the next moment it came crashing down and all the letters "tumbled through the door, spilling into the hall." There, they found Comma, who just stared in disbelief. His siblings wondered why he was in the hall instead of in the classroom. Comma told them how he felt. But, "Comma, without you, things become a disaster!" Exclamation Point said. Period and Question Mark agreed.

Then his siblings gently reminded little Comma about how each member of their family has a certain purpose. They told him, "we all work together to help letters and the words they make." Once everyone had gone back into the classroom, the letters continued making words. But now Comma took his place between them. When the letters looked confused, he explained that it was his job to keep order and that words and punctuation needed each other to make good and clear sentences.

For children just learning about sentence structure and how punctuation and words fit together to create meaning, Kimberlee Gard's lively story helps them visualize and understand the different roles of each punctuation mark. Coming at the end of a sentence and accompanied by vocal clues, exclamation points, question marks, and periods are more familiar to kids. But what about that comma, which seems to float around here and there? Gard demonstrates that without the break commas provide, words run amok, becoming jumbled, unwieldy, and confusing. Readers will respond to the classroom setting, where the letters work and play together during lessons, and they will be eager to make friends with the Punctuation family themselves.

If any readers think learning about punctuation is dry and dull, Sandie Sonke's vibrant colors and cartoon characters will change their minds. The Punctuations (and their butterfly friend Apostrophe) is sweet and earnest, wanting to fit into the class and make a difference. As the letters form words, the purple Punctuations are easy for kids to pick out, allowing for discussion of their distinct roles. The tangled piles of letters invite kids to make words from the muddle. After Comma realizes his importance and the letters embrace him, the story ends with a familiar and funny example of just how a well-placed comma can change the meaning of a sentence.

Using different word forms of a particular 'root' word can also give your expression more variety:

Noun	Verb	Adjective	Adverb
product, production	Produce	productive	productively
competitor, Competition	compete (+ preposition)	competitive	competitively
Profit	profit (+ preposition)	profitable	profitably

If you are not sure of the spelling for a particular word form, consult a dictionary like Cambridge Advanced Learner's Dictionary which details various derivatives of a word under the 'Browse List' heading.

Collocations

Developing a good vocabulary is not just about learning words in isolation. Rather, think about groups of words that often go together in print and/or speech. These combinations, known as collocations, are well known and often used by native speakers. In contrast, other combinations may sound unnatural. Some examples below illustrate this:

Natural expression	Unnatural expression
human resources	people resources
customer or client service	buyer service
sales team	sales squad

Nouns

brand/make	cost/expense	overhead/operating cost
cash/currency	customer/client	revenue/return
competitor/rival	employees/workforce	seller/vendor
	Verbs
allocate/assign	forecast/predict	promote/encourage
calculate/determine	observe/detect	replicate/reproduce
employ/appoint	produce/manufacture	suggest/nominate
	Adjectives
comprehensive/wide-Ranging	dominant/prevailing	profitable/lucrative
conditional/qualified	financial/monetary	thriving/successful
distinctive/characteristic	fixed/set	unified/integrated

Note too that some words may sound similar or indeed have similar meanings however, it is important you choose exactly the right word for your purpose. That is, ask yourself are you talking about a 'recession' or a 'depression', the 'internet' or 'intranet' or a 'monopoly', or 'duopoly'? If in any doubt, consult a dictionary!

Antonyms

When you are dealing with terms that have a specific opposite (antonym) be careful because if you choose the wrong option the logic (coherence) of your work will suffer. In fact, often the opposite looks and/or sounds somewhat similar to the original word so be careful with proofreading! Some common opposites for business contexts include:

Nouns
buyer/seller	inflation/deflation	outlay/income
employer/employees	lender/borrower	supply/demand
goods/services	mentor/mentee	wholesaler/retailer

Verbs

Verbs
buy/sell		diversify/narrow		own/rent
display/hide		lend/borrow		rise/fall
		Adjectives
fixed/variable		nominal/actual		retrospective/prospective
gross/net		probable/unlikely		standard/custom made
intangible/tangible		public/private		wholesale/retail
		Positive/Negative
Nouns	asset/liability		boom/bust	profit/loss
Adjectives	affordable/ Prohibitive		In vogue/obsolete	viable/impossible

2. How do banks help ordinary people?
3. What are the changes that have recently taken place in the banking sector?

I. Primary Text -1

Read the following comprehension passage!

Banking and banks are very important for the functioning of the modern world. Without banks the way we use money would not work. Banks enable people to save money, borrow money and to pay for things with ease and security.

Each country in the world has its own well known banks that have branches in nearly every city so that they are convenient for people to use. People often have to visit the local branch of the bank when they want certain services. There are also some very big multinational banks that have branches in most countries in the world.

As well as the local branches that are in most cities, each bank will also have a head office. This is where all central tasks are performed that let the local branches function. The people that work in the branches will be the bank manager, the person in charge, and various tellers who work behind the bank counter and help the customers. There will also likely be security guards to protect the money, workers and customers.

Most customers will just need to see the tellers when they go to the bank if they are paying money into their account as either cash or a check. However, they might need to see the bank manager if they want to open an account or if they have become overdraw, when they have spent more money than there was in the account. Also, if they want to borrow money and get a loan the person will need to see the bank manager who will have to approve it.

As well as being able to use cash or checks to pay for things, banks also offer their customers the more convenient methods of using either a debit card or credit card. These methods are very convenient as you just need to carry a small plastic card to be able to pay for anything. When paying with plastic you will need to either sign a receipt or enter a PIN number to conform the purchase and that you are authorized to use the card.

3. Reading

I. Read the following Comprehension Passage:

The United States and all other modern industrial economies experience significant swings in economic activity. In some years, most industries are booming and unemployment is low; in other years, most industries are operating well below capacity and unemployment is high. Periods of economic prosperity are typically called expansions or booms; periods of economic decline are called recessions or depressions. The combination of expansions and recessions, the ebb and flow of economic activity, is called the business cycle. Business cycles as we know them today were codified and analyzed by Arthur Burns and Wesley Mitchell in their 1946 book Measuring Business Cycles. One of the key insights of Burns and Mitchell's was that many economic indicators move together.

During an expansion, not only does output rise, but also employment rises and unemployment falls. New construction also typically increases, and inflation may rise if the expansion is particularly brisk. Conversely, during a recession, the output of goods and services declines, employment falls, and unemployment rises; new construction also declines. In the era before World War II, prices also typically fell during a recession (i.e., inflation was negative); since the 1950s prices have continued to rise during downturns, though more slowly than during expansions (i.e., the rate of inflation falls). Burns and Mitchell defined a recession as a period when a broad range of economic indicators falls for a sustained period, roughly for an year. Just as there is no regularity in the timing of business cycles, there is no reason why cycles have to occur at all.

The prevailing view among economists is that there is a level of economic activity, often referred to as full employment, at which the economy could stay forever. Full employment refers to a level of production in which all the inputs to the production process are being used, but not so intensively that they wear out, break down, or insist on higher wages and more vacations. When the economy is at full employment, inflation tends to remain constant; only if output moves above or below normal does the rate of inflation systematically tend to rise or fall. If nothing disturbs the economy, the full-employment level of output, which naturally tends to grow as the population increases and new technologies are discovered, can be maintained forever. There is no reason why a time of full employment has to give way to either an inflationary boom or a recession.

Business cycles do occur, however, because disturbances to the economy of one sort or another push the economy above or below full employment. Inflationary booms can be generated by surges in private or public spending. For example, if the government spends a lot to fight a war but does not raise taxes, the increased demand will cause not only an increase in the output of war materiel, but also an increase in the take-home pay of defense workers. The output of all the goods and services that these workers want to buy with their wages will also increase, and total production may surge above its normal, comfortable level. Similarly, a wave of optimism that causes consumers to spend more than usual and firms to build new factories may cause the economy to expand more rapidly than normal. Recessions or depressions can be caused by these same forces working in reverse. A substantial cut in government spending or a wave of pessimism among consumers and firms may cause the output of all types of goods to fall.

Another possible cause of recessions and booms is monetary policy. The Federal Reserve System strongly influences the size and growth rate of the money stock, and thus the level of interest rates in the economy. Interest rates, in turn, are a crucial determinant of how much firms and consumers want to spend. A firm faced with high interest rates may decide to postpone building a new factory because the cost of borrowing is so high. Conversely, a consumer may be lured into buying a new home if interest rates are low and mortgage payments are therefore more affordable. Thus, by raising or lowering interest rates, the Federal Reserve is able to generate recessions or booms. This description of what causes business cycles reflects the Keynesian or new Keynesian view that cycles are the result of nominal rigidities. Only when prices and inflationary expectations are not fully flexible can fluctuations in overall demand cause large swings in real output. An alternative view, referred to as the new classical framework, holds that modern industrial economies are quite flexible. As a result, a change in spending does not necessarily affect real output and employment. For example, in the new classical view a change in the stock of money will change only prices; it will have no effect on real interest rates and thus on people's willingness to invest. In this alternative framework, business cycles are largely the result of disturbances in productivity and tastes, not of changes in aggregate demand.

The empirical evidence is strongly on the side of the view that deviations from full employment are often the result of spending shocks. Monetary policy, in particular, appears to have played a crucial role in causing business cycles in the United States since World War II. For example, the severe recessions of both the early 1970s and the early 1980s were directly attributable to decisions by the Federal Reserve to raise interest rates. On the expansionary side, the inflationary booms of the mid-1960s and the late 1970s were both at least partly due to monetary ease and low interest rates. The role of money in causing business cycles is even stronger if one considers the era before World War II. Many of the worst prewar depressions, including the recessions of 1908, 1921, and the Great Depression of the 1930s, were to a large extent the result of monetary contraction and high real interest rates. In this earlier era, however, most monetary swings were engendered not by deliberate monetary policy but by financial panics, policy mistakes, and international monetary developments.

 A) When a broad range of economic indicators falls for a short period.
 B) When a broad range of economic indicators falls for a very long period may be 1 year.
 C) When a broad range of economic indicators falls for a unrelenting period of time like 6 months.
 D) All of these.

II. Answer the following questions in connection with the passage!

1. What is business cycle?
2. How do economic indicators play an important role in expansion and recession?
3. How is the Federal Reserve able to generate recessions or booms?
4. What were the effects of Monetary Policy on the United States of America?
5. What are the reasons for pre-war depressions?

III. Refer the following Glossary /words/phrases!

- Full employment- is an economic situation in which all available not only, but also the land, capital and organization resources are being used in the most efficient way possible. Full employment embodies the highest amount of skilled and unskilled labour that can be employed within an economy at any given time.
- Business cycle – Business cycles are identified as having four distinct phases: expansion, peak, contraction, and trough. Business cycles are identified as having four distinct phases: expansion, peak, contraction, and trough.

Contraction -A period of economic decline or negative growth.

Peak - The highest value reached by some quantity in a time period.

Trough - The lowest turning point of a business cycle.

Expansion - The act or process of expanding.

- Monetary policy – The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) uses the monetary policy to manage liquidity or money supply in a manner that balances inflation and at the same time aids growth. It affects the money supply in the economy by changing the interest rates in turn affecting the demand of products which is responsible for inflation/deflation.

Primary Text – 2

Federal efforts to aid minority businesses began in the 1960's when the Small Business Administration (SBA) began making federally guaranteed loans and government-sponsored management and technical assistance available to minority business enterprises. While this program enabled many minority entrepreneurs to form new businesses, the results were disappointing, since managerial inexperience, unfavorable locations, and capital shortages led to high failure rates. Even 15 years after the program was implemented, minority business receipts were not quite two percent of the national economy's total receipts. Recently federal policymakers have adopted an approach intended to accelerate development of the minority business sector by moving away from directly aiding small minority enterprises and toward supporting larger, growth-oriented minority firms through intermediary companies. In this approach, large corporations participate in the development of successful and stable minority businesses by making use of government-sponsored venture capital. The capital is used by a participating company to establish a Minority Enterprise Small Business Investment Company or MESBIC. The MESBIC then provides capital and guidance to minority businesses that have potential to become future suppliers or customers of the sponsoring company.

MESBIC's are the result of the belief that providing established firms with easier access to relevant management techniques and more job-specific experience, as well as substantial amounts of capital, gives those firms a greater opportunity to develop sound business foundations than does simply making general management experience and small amounts of capital available. Further, since potential markets for the minority businesses already exist through the sponsoring companies, the minority businesses face considerably less risk in terms of location and market fluctuation. Following early financial and operating problems, sponsoring corporations began to capitalize MESBIC's far above the legal minimum of $500,000 in order to generate sufficient income and to sustain the quality of management needed. MESBIC's are now emerging as increasingly important financing sources for minority enterprises.

Ironically, MESBIC staff, which usually consist of Hispanic and Black professionals, tend to approach investments in minority firms more pragmatically than do many MESBIC directors, who are usually senior managers from sponsoring corporations. The latter often still think mainly in terms of the "social responsibility approach" and thus seem to prefer deals that are riskier and less attractive than normal investment criteria would warrant. Such differences in viewpoint have produced uneasiness among many minority staff members, who feel that minority entrepreneurs and businesses should be judged by established business considerations. These staff members believe their point of view is closer to the original philosophy of MESBIC's and they are concerned that, unless a more prudent course is followed, MESBIC directors may revert to policies likely to re-create the disappointing results of the original SBA approach.

I. Based on the Passage, answer the following questions:

1. Which of the following best states the central idea of the passage?

- (A) The use of MESBIC's for aiding minority entrepreneurs seems to have greater potential for success than does the original SBA approach.
- (B) There is a crucial difference in point of view between the staff and directors of some MESBIC's.
- (C) After initial problems with management and marketing, minority businesses have begun to expand at a steady rate.
- (D) Minority entrepreneurs wishing to form new businesses now have several equally successful federal programs on which to rely.
- (E) For the first time since 1960, large corporations are making significant contributions to the development of minority businesses

2. According to the passage, the MESBIC approach differs from the SBA approach in that MESBIC's

- (A) Seek federal contracts to provide markets for minority businesses
- (B) Encourage minority businesses to provide markets for other minority businesses
- (C) Attempt to maintain a specified rate of growth in the minority business sector
- (D) Rely on the participation of large corporations to finance minority businesses
- (E) Select minority businesses on the basis of their location

3. Which of the following does the author cite to support the conclusion that the results of the SBA program were disappointing?

- (A) The small number of new minority enterprises formed as a result of the program
- (B) The small number of minority enterprises that took advantage of the management and technical assistance offered under the program
- (C) The small percentage of the nation's business receipts earned by minority enterprises following the programs, implementation.
- (D) The small percentage of recipient minority enterprises that were able to repay federally guaranteed loans made under the program
- (E) The small number of minority enterprises that chose to participate in the program

4. Which of the following statements about the SBA program can be inferred from the passage?

- (A) The maximum term for loans made to recipient businesses was 15 years.
- (B) Business loans were considered to be more useful to recipient businesses than was management and technical assistance.
- (C) The anticipated failure rate for recipient businesses was significantly lower than the rate that actually resulted.
- (D) Recipient businesses were encouraged to relocate to areas more favorable for business development.
- (E) The capitalization needs of recipient businesses were assessed and then provided for adequately

5. The author's primary objective in the passage is to

- (A) Disprove the view that federal efforts to aid minority businesses have been ineffective
- (B) Explain how federal efforts to aid minority businesses have changed since the 1960's
- (C) Establish a direct link between the federal efforts to aid minority businesses made before the 1960's and those made in the 1980's
- (D) Analyze the basis for the belief that job-specific experience is more useful to minority businesses than is general management experience
- (E) Argue that the "social responsibility approach" to aiding minority businesses is superior to any other approach

II. Elaborate the Acronym given below!

- 1. SBA -
- 2. ROI -
- 3. GDP -

- 4. AGM -
- 5. MESBIC -
- 6. P/E -
- 7. P&L -
- 8. KPIs -

I. Read the following article carefully!

Professionalism is defined by a person's work ethics rather than the pay check, role and title!

A few years ago, a person was termed to be professional based on his pay check and financial independence including the qualifications he has, but now even during this pandemic majority of the companies seek employees with strong moral values, resourceful attitude, being transformative, having positive relationship with their team and not taking credit of their work. Building principled work ethics at the office will help people perceive us in a positive light and propel us ahead in our career. So here comes the major role of "WORK ETHICS" – which is the root where people assess our values, behaviour and our strength.

What does the term Work Ethic mean? It is the ability to maintain proper moral values, standards of behaviour within the professional environment. The final output of this process will be the attitude that shapes a person to perform his individual duties with motivation and loyalty standards.

From the olden days any workplace has people from diverse cultures, backgrounds, belief and value systems. In order to stabilize this, the guidelines provided by the company or the institution will be a support system to maintain the decorum and achieve the objective of the company. "To make it to the TOP you have to outwork everyone else". Talent, Network, Qualifications, certifications can help a person to achieve his dreams, no but these alone won't do it. One needs to believe and abide standards to mould his attitude and character.

**For instance, Amazon CEO Jeff Bezos always had a relentless work ethic. One of his previous classmates told Wired that once Bezos made it clear that he intended to be high school valedictorian, "everyone else understood they were working for second place." The early days at Amazon were characterized by working 12-hour days, seven days a week, and being up until 3 a.m. to get books shipped. Now that Amazon's a giant, Bezos personally emails teams about customer service issues and has them present directly to him about how they're going to solve them, according to an excerpt from Brad Stone's book, The Everything Store.**

In any top-rated businesses, Ethics plays a major role more than monetary benefit. We create examples to the next generation leaders on how to do business (Kick start business) in return how to build the network with uniform code of conduct and make profit. Still thinking, is it necessary to focus on Ethical part of the profession? Here are the points on why Work Ethics is important for an organization to go up the ladder or to maintain the standard.

- Having a Code of Ethics provides a Moral compass during the hard times

This Pandemic has taught a lesson on many things including the professional part of our life. During the initial stages of the lockdown, having an SOP for every operation would have been a great tool for many organizations to make quick decisions on planning the work and other mandatory actions.

- Ethics in Workplace support employee Growth and provide meaning to the activity they carry
By maintaining a set of standard frameworks, employees will have the accountability in all the activities they do. This will be a journal to track their performance and take the next step for their betterment.
- Clear business Ethics promote a Strong public Image and Goodwill
This is so true that many would have heard from our friends or gone through articles which says that this is an Employee friendly organization.

According to the press release by The Economic times about The Best companies to work in India for the year 2020, companies like DHL, HP, Croma, Indian Oil, Tech Mahindra, ACT, Blue Dart and so on; have been awarded as the companies which have a Great place to work. This achievement is possible because they have followed a specific code of Conduct across their branches.

SOP'S and firm's performance are very much related to each other. There could be numerous reasons for a person to be unethical. Besides a person being unethical it could also affect the organizations and individual growth for various reasons.

- Lack of work ethics can lead to lack of trust among the workers and also between various levels of the organization
- Secondly, lack of work ethics affects the credibility among stakeholders
- Third, being one of the important factors for a great place to work is the Environment both within and outside the organization.
- Furthermore, unethical firms invite the Government's attention which would lead to impose penalties, fines, cancellations of licences and so on.

Hence, these individual differences can be maintained through a strong principle followed by the organization. Ethics determines the firm's longevity and its relationship with workers, business partners, stakeholders and the Society. Regardless in what country a firm is or its culture, there are always vital values such as respect, honesty, integrity, tolerance and trust that should prevail for the well-being of everyone involved with the firm.

I. Read the following passage carefully!

A product profile is a general description of a product. Based on the style of presentation, the amount of detail it contains can vary. The product profile details what the product is and how it will appeal to the consumer. The objective is to determine what makes the product attractive to the consumer. This is an important analysis that will help in the marketing of the product.

Mass marketing is a technical term that refers to the selling of a product on a large scale. It involves products that are produced in large quantities. There may be minor differences in localized markets. The mass marketing strategy ignores these. Mass marketing appeals to the whole market with a single offer or strategy. This is done by broadcasting a message that will reach the largest number of consumers possible.

Mass marketing uses the mass media to get their message across. Radio, television and newspapers are the usual vehicles employed. With the advent of social media, strategies are now also devised to take advantage of this new avenue. Exposure to a product is maximized by reaching the largest audience possible. This often directly correlates to a larger number of sales.

Mass marketing focuses on high sales and low prices. This is just the opposite of Niche marketing. Niche marketing targets a very specific segment of the market. It involves specialized services or goods with few or no competitors.

Mass marketing came into existence in the 1920s when mass radio came into use. The mass radio, broadcasting to huge audiences nationwide gave corporations an opportunity to appeal to a wide variety of potential customers. Before this, the strategy of marketing was what may be called variety marketing. In this strategy, different methods were used to appeal to different sections of society most often according to geographical location. In order to appeal to and persuade a wide audience, this had to change. Over the years, mass marketing has developed into a world-wide multi-billion dollar industry.

Things which are perceived as necessary or essential are subjected to mass marketing. To further increase profits, these products are often touted as durable goods when oftentimes they are made of substandard materials. This affects the longevity of the product. This practice of planned obsolescence ensures future sales opportunities by preventing the market from becoming saturated with high-quality, long-lasting goods.

One of the biggest benefits of mass marketing is that the target audience is broad. This translates to a higher number of successful sales. Drop in sales in some areas may be offset by sales in other areas. This helps overcome potential losses. Another positive factor is that production costs are lowered by mass production. Marketing research and advertising costs too are lowered. Mass marketing campaigns also benefit due to the magnitude of appeal to larger audiences.

Mass marketing also has its disadvantages. It attempts to appeal to the entire consumer population instead of focusing on a particular niche of consumers. The strength of the product and business can affect performance. The strength of the competition too has a bearing on the performance. Another factor is that overexposure can make consumers grow tired of seeing a business's name and products everywhere.

One factor that is inevitable in mass marketing is heavy advertising costs. It is expensive to establish brands and keep them in the public eye. Often, competition is stiff. Besides, to stay ahead of the competition, high innovation and market research costs have to be incurred.

Persuasion is an everyday activity. It is inevitably present in all domains. It is a requirement not just in professional space but also in personal zones. There is a distinction in the act of persuading a customer to buy a product and in setting forth a business proposal to one's colleague. Apparently, it could be classified as formal persuasion and informal persuasion. When representing an idea relevant to formal presentations, yielding to the demands of the clients/ an authority, or team meetings can be characterized as formal persuasion. Whereas, the casual interactions with professionals, discussions, sharing of ideas in e- mail, informal team meetings etc. could be identified as informal persuasion. Though there are several instances the primary factor is the way in which it can be made effective for a desired outcome in the field of advertising, business and management. It is as follows:

- i. to be attentive to the needs of the customer/ recipient
- ii. to understand their position

- iii. finally, yielding to act upon

However, to avoid rebuff it is essential to be aware of the benefits which in a client relationship or a customer service, is evident through accountability and credibility.

A word in earnest is as good as a speech

Transcript of Steve Jobs' Speech on the Product Launch of iPhone

On January 9, 2007, Apple's CEO Steve Jobs introduced the iPhone for the first time, thereby, bringing in a remarkable change in the world of mobile devices.

"This is the day I've been looking forward to, for two and a half years". Once in a while, a revolutionary product comes along to change everything and Apple has been one of its kind. It has been very fortunate to work on these revolutionary products and introduce it to the world. When Macintosh was introduced in 1984 it didn't just change Apple but the entire computer industry. Similarly, the first iPod which was set in motion in 2001 revolutionized the music industry.

Well, today we are launching three revolutionary products of this class. The first one is a widescreen iPod with touch controls. The second is a revolutionary mobile phone and the third is a breakthrough Internet communications device. These are not three different devices. All of these are in one device, and we call it iPhone.

Today, Apple is going to reinvent phone. This was possible because of heeding the fact that smartphones are definitely a bit smarter, but they are actually harder to use. They are really complicated. Just for the basic operation people have a hard time figuring out how to use it. Therefore, we wanted to make a leapfrog product that is way smarter than any mobile device has ever been and super-easy to use. Now, we begin with the revolutionary user interface. It is the result of years of research and development. Of course, it's an interplay of hardware and software. We are lucky enough to initiate one more revolutionary user interface as done in the past, such as the mouse and the click wheel. Now, we are introducing multi-touch to the market. So, a revolutionary user interface. We are going to build on top of it with software. Almost 30 years ago, Alan said, "People who are really serious about software should make their own hardware." This is how we feel about it.

Task 2:

Attempt a vocabulary enrichment task by providing 3 synonyms for each of the following words whose meaning has been given in the glossary. Examples have been given, a word each:

	Source Words	Synonyms
1.	break through	advance,
2.	remarkable	phenomenal
3.	figure out	solve
4.	fortunate	lucky
5.	heed	notice
6.	initiate	commence
7.	set in motion	launch
8.	revolutionary	progressive

Glossary:

breakthrough- an important discovery or development.

figuring out- to calculate the cost of something; to solve; to plan or think of something.

fortunate- favoured by luck.

heed- pay attention to initiate- to begin

interplay- the way in which one has an effect on the other;

interaction

leapfrog product- an innovation of the company leading to get to a higher position or rank.

revolutionary product- product that brings in a great change affecting large numbers of people.

set in motion- to start an enterprise; to introduce a new product user interface- refers to the means by which the user and computer system interacts

Post- Task:

Divide the class into small groups and each group should assign a role to the other.

Step 1: Ask one of the group members to play the role of a CEO. The name of this role has to be suggested by the assigning team.

Step 2: The team member assigned to role-play has to introduce a new product in the market. It can be their own imaginary product.

2. Speaking

The spoken discourse or speaking skill is given due prominence in business communication. It is the key to open the doors of international avenues in the world of commerce and management studies. In order to access this key and materialize the vision of becoming a successful entrepreneur/ business executive/ team leader/ manager, one's persuasive skills have to be honed. It is not a skill to be developed over night nor an easy job to face an unfamiliar group without prior exposure. It demands confidence and an ability to overcome fear to speak boldly and think rationally.

*"What use is a sword to a coward
Or learning to the tongue-tied?"*
-Tiruvalluvar (Kural 726)

The pre-requisites of persuasion are:

- i. maintaining a balanced emotional quotient, that is, emotional intelligence.
- ii. listening to the speaker is paramount.
- iii. ability to reason out logically
- iv. resulting in a good rapport established between the clients, customers for a better work environment.

Pre- Task:

I. Read the following instance and offer your suggestions:

In order to promote your large scale retailing you have to grab the loyal clients of niche products, sold online. Remember that the firm has carved a niche market for itself in retaining its customers.

1. What are the techniques you would adopt to succeed in this appeal to loyal customers?
2. How will you convince your new clients to action?

Glossary:

niche market                      -a market in which there is little or no competition for a particular type of product or service for which there is limited demand.

emotional intelligence - the ability of a person to understand, control and use their feelings and to understand the feelings of others.

factsheet                         - a paper or a small book giving information about a product or service.

paramount                      - chief in importance.

proliferate                       - increase or expand.

rapport                          - to understand each other and communicate well.

retailing                         - the business of selling goods to the public especially through shops/stores.

JAM – Just a Minute

This could also be called impromptu speech or an extempore. According to Oxford English Dictionary, impromptu means “without preparation or rehearsal”. In other words, it refers to speech that evolves spontaneously. It is adopted as a filtering process in interviews for jobs and for professional courses in higher education. This task aims at developing the speaking skills of the learners by providing an opportunity to prepare themselves to unfamiliar situations such as job interviews and to gain familiarity with this challenging phase. Here are few tips to equip oneself before attempting impromptu speech which has to be in just a minute.

- Use simple and precise sentences. Let a sentence be, not more than 8-10 words.
- The speech should have an opening, middle and a conclusion.
- Overall, the impromptu should be between 100-150 words and not exceeding

this limit.

- Do not glide over words due to time constraints.

<https://www.needpix.com/photo/91784/interviewer-chat-show-host-characters-cute-job-interview-man-microphone-people>

- Try to articulate words clearly and be audible.
- Avoid using fillers while speaking
- Be spontaneous and fluent without any pause.

Certainly, your impromptu speech becomes a success when taking the above factors into consideration.

A sample draft of an impromptu has been given below, for your reference.

E- commerce:

E- commerce implies Electronic commerce. It refers to the business of buying and selling things or products online. In other words, it indicates the act of doing business online. There are four types of E- commerce business models. They are,

1. Business to Consumer- B2C
2. Business to Business- B2B
3. Consumer to Business- C2B
4. Consumer to Consumer- C2C

The most common approaches in these types of e-commerce are: direct customer service, wholesaling and drop shipping.

So, the advantages of electronic commerce could be stated as follows:

- It is collaborative, therefore, the pace in delivering products seem to be fast.

<https://pixabay.com/vectors/store-online-ecommerce-shopping-4156934/>

- It has brought the producers and consumers under one roof. Thereby, the customer services are done at ease.
- It does not have limitations in accessibility as it is user- friendly.
- The purchase could be confirmed through text messages and
- The delivery status can be easily tracked.
- Significantly, payment could be made from one's own space.

Thus, the proliferating online users have contributed towards its massive growth making it the standard way of life.

Task 1:

Perform a mock interview JAM session by choosing one of the topics listed below:

1. Win- win strategy
2. Persuasive Techniques in Marketing
3. Role of drop shipping
4. Online retailing
5. Stay Hungry. Stay Foolish- a life changing quote
6. Intricacies of a company- client relationship
7. If I were to be an Economist!
8. Role of social networking sites in product branding
9. Advocating a factsheet
10. Purpose of Emotional Intelligence

Note: It is a peer pairtask, therefore the fellow member is expected to share one's observation on their impromptu speech soon after the performance.

The outcome of this task would be:

- gaining confidence to speak in front of an audience group/public
- overcoming fear
- developing enthusiasm to perform more
- enhancing non-verbal cues
- motivating to perform well in presentations and in any form of oral testing.

Debate:

It can be defined as a structured argument. Debate is one of the types of conversation. While JAM is one- way communication, Debate involves communication between two individuals or two groups.

Task 2:

State True/ False for the following statements which differentiate a Debate from an impromptu speech (JAM):

	DEBATE	T/F	JAM	T/F
1.	It is a prepared speech		It is spontaneous
2.	It is persuasive		It is argumentative
3.	It is commonly used by recruiters in interviews.		It demands attention to non-verbal cues while speaking.
4.	It has scope for critical thinking.		It promotes logical thinking.
5.	It has time constraints.		It does not have time constraints.

Post- Task:

Elicit your response if you were placed in this situation. You are assured of a job if you succeed in persuading your fellow interviewee to join the recruiting company for a nominal salary fixed by the concern which is not satisfactory.

Note: This task has been provided to give you a taste of reality. Similar innovative tasks have been employed by recruiters in today's job market.

3. Reading

Make it simple. Make it memorable.
Make it inviting to look at. Make it
fun to read.

- Leo Burnett

One of the important modes of communication in marketing is Advertising. Its primary aim is to persuade customers. An advertisement tends to be considered persuasive when it leads to a desired action (i.e.) by arousing the interest of the customers and inducing them to purchase the product. There are informative ads as well as persuasive ads (advertisements).

The success of an advertisement is determined by several factors.

- It has to be simple and precise as it hones memorability
- It has to grab the reader's attention
- It can be the tone, imagery, colours or symbols used in the ad
- It can be the language style and background.
- It can be the innovative way of presenting it and making it unique.

In advertising campaigns, the ubiquitous influence of a persuasive message is quite significant.

Pre-Task:

Step 1: Retrospect to recall the advertisement that has been a favourite and memorable one. It can be either a television ad or an advertisement in print.

Step 2: If it is a print ad, sketch it and share it with your group members.

If it were to be a television ad, summarize the details to your group members.

Step 3: The listeners are expected to raise questions enquiring the

the ad.

For example: Identify the key elements which provoked you to like the advertisement.

There are three techniques which aid in analysing the effect of an advertisement. They are advertising, rhetorical and literary techniques. Initially, it is essential to know the demographics of the target audience, and its purpose in order to promote the product. The persuasive tools are incorporated in such techniques based on the demographics of the target audience and the product. The choice of colours, imagery, background music appeals explicitly, while the emotional appeal arouses the feelings of the target group.

- Reiterating the messages through repetitive sequence.
- Use of literary devices such as end rhymes, alliteration which refers to the repetition of sounds, appeases the audience.
- A good piece of humour, shocking facts, suspense moments provokes curiosity
- Story telling or narration makes it gripping
- Further, connotation and denotation attribute meaning to the object or symbol and indicate as it is, in the ad.

For instance, when a tree is used as a symbol in the advertisement, it denotes a wood with branches and leaves and the object- tree connotes 'a united family'.

Passage

The story of an iconic old man from the largest conglomerates

This old man is an epitome encompassing a reason to smile and a season to spread happiness. This jolly man with a red suit and a white beard has had many transitions in his appearance. From a tall figure to a not-so pleasant elf form the early Santa Claus has worn Bishop's robe and even animal's skin. The cartoonist Thomas Nast drew Santa for almost 30 years, it was Nast who changed the colour of Santa's suit from tan to red. In Harper's Weekly which appeared in 1862, Santa had seemed to be a small elf like figure.

It was in The Saturday Evening Post that shopping- related ads were promulgated by The Coca-Cola Company initiating its Christmas advertising in the 1920s. Santa of the yester years had been sketched as stern in looks by Thomas Nast himself. Later in 1930, an ad featured the world's largest soda fountain in which a department-store Santa was distinctively attributed with a bottle of coke amongst a crowd. It was painted by an artist Fred Mizen which happened to be found in print ads during the season of Christmas in December 1930.

<https://www.britannica.com/topic/Santa-Claus>

In 1931 the Coke Company entrusted the duty of depicting a realistic and a fond version of the Santa on its advertising account executive Archie Lee. Thereafter, artist Haddon Sundblom was instructed to illustrate its "Thirst knows no season" advertising campaign. Eventually, Sundblom had to rely on Clement Clark Moore's poem "A Visit from St. Nicholas" (commonly called "'Twas the Night Before Christmas") published in 1822. It was Moore's poetic description that influenced Sundblom to portray a warm, cheerful and a friendly Santa Claus.

Subsequently, the Santa image promoted from 1931 to 1964 in Coca-Cola advertisements exhibited Santa offering toys to children, playing with them, pausing to read a letter and enjoying a Coke. The original oil paintings which were created by Sundblom turned out to be suitable adaptations for Coca-Cola advertisements in magazines and on store displays, billboards, posters and calendars. It was in 1964 that the final version of Santa Claus was created by Sundblom for several decades to follow. Most of Sundblom's original paintings continue to be prized possessions of the company's archives department.

  4. Have a break, have a...- _____
  5. Think Different - _____
  6. Grace, space, pace - _____
  7. A Better Life, A Better World- _____

4. Writing

Writing serves to be an easy mode of persuasion. It has scope to entice the masses. The famous Greek philosopher Aristotle posits three ways to make a persuasive appeal. It is, Ethos, pathos and logos which implies personal credibility, empathy and logical argument. These are inter-related and correspond to the other in a sequential order. In gaining credibility the persuader ought to establish a sense of understanding others' point of view. In doing so, the one being persuaded yields to accepting the opinions or ideas of the persuader.

Finally, the pivotal role of persuasion unfolds through the logical arguments put forth by the persuader, in order to explicit the views which the recipient has to understand. This leads to reliability on being credible (i.e.) ethos, ability to understand others' point of view (i.e.) empathy, thereby, succumbing to observe the value (i.e.) logos. It is from the Greek words "dia" and "logos" meaning "through words".

<https://davidwangel.com/the-opportune-conflict/2016/12/28/the-four-types-of-conversations-debate-dialogue-discourse-and-diatribes>

Dialogue Writing:

Dialogue Writing implies two-way conversation. It is to express or convey information or exchange ideas which in fact develops relationships. Dialogue Writing exhibits the qualities, inner motives of the character and also the place of action. Dialogues when explicated in writing, could serve dual purpose. It can be filler dialogues, dialogues with a logical effect or without a logical impact.

Dialogues evoke a feel of reality when it gains proximity to the characters and adheres to the main theme. It can be persuasive when it has an element of surprise, an emotional appeal or an awaited moment.

Passage

Bend to Mend

I have to accentuate the fact that I had finally attained my dream job. I have been hired as a budget analyst at my favourite magazine. The nature of my job demands working for the business manager. Also, to be a liaison between the finance and marketing departments, to develop sales and the workplace environment. At present, as I stand in this bakery which indeed is memorable. It was in this place I had celebrated my new job with my senior editors, both finance and marketing team three months ago. Unfortunately, it was a shocking moment as our publication manager explained the status of our publishing house which had to be shut down as it was in dearth of business.

As we were trying to pack our things at the office, I could notice people walking around desperately and in a frenzy way. There were 17 other employees like me, with the same plight. Subsequently, I had to leave my apartment and move into the suburbs which was quite economic. It took almost 6 months to seize my new dream. It was from these times of adversity that I gained the ability to embrace my situation and learnt the importance of adaptability. If there prevails a similar storm in future, I know how to bend, to mend and to fend myself.

Task 2:

1. Identify the persuasive words in this passage.
2. State the overall tone of the passage.
3. What are the qualities that contributed towards the restoring process?
4. What will be your approach if you were to be in the narrator's position?

Post- Task:

Draft an argumentative essay on any one of the topics:

1. A proactive leader can never be a procrastinator.
2. Digital India- a sign of progress.
3. Persuasion is a tactic or a tool to appeal.
4. Advertisements determine the success of a product.
5. HRs are the central collaborators within a work place.

Note: The following list of argumentative words may be employed in the essay.

compare, commence, contrast, decide, infer,
in my opinion, agree/ disagree, assume,
factual, oppose, approve, authenticate,
disprove, deny, refuse, withdraw, insist,
expect, disappoint, strategic, rapport, misunderstand, disproportionate, consistent

Session 2:

CREATING A VLOG: Vlogging or Video Blogging is a means of using video streaming channels such as YouTube in order to share information. Vlogging can be used to talk about your product or your company.

Pre-Task:

Watch the following vlog: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O0-Ofd\_9egE. This video is a good example of a professional vlogger (C4ETech), who reviews technical gadgets. Based on the video, work in groups and discuss the various aspects of creating a vlog and what (according to you) makes a successful vlog.

Activity:

In the same groups, work together to create a vlog.

Steps involved in creating a Vlog:

- Pick your content- what is your start-up about? What are the various aspects of your company that you can talk about? Write down a list. You need a core idea that runs throughout your Vlog. Do you want to write about clothes, technology, industries, industrial processes, marketing processes? The field is vast. So be sure to choose wisely.
- Do some research- who are the others who are talking about similar products/companies online? Watch some successful vloggers.

Try not to imitate them completely. Also browse YouTube for what works, and what doesn't.

- Equipment- make sure that the camera, lighting and audio suit the needs of your vlog. You can either film your vlog from a desk, or while travelling, for which purpose a simple camera is enough. Make sure your background stands out and attracts the audience. Focus the light on you- you are the star of your vlog. Reduce external sounds, and ensure that the mic is placed close to you.
- Create an official channel on YouTube-
  - Sign in to YouTube with an official Google account.
  - Click on the Profile icon.
  - Select "Create a Channel".
  - Fill out the details to name your new channel and verify your account.
  - Click Done.
- Build your brand- Upload a professional photo (make sure it relates to your company/product). Confidently talk to the camera. If you are talking about a specific place or event, show images to support your content. Explore editing software to help you with your vlog.
- Keep your videos short.

You can take ideas from the following list:

- ✓ Any technical gadget
- ✓ Clothes/ make-up/ accessories
- ✓ Your own start-up idea
- ✓ Tips on using home appliances
- ✓ A cooking video
- ✓ A review of a company or entrepreneur

who inspires you

- ✓ Some of your creative work- art/music

9. “Mine of information”	ix. One’s ability to find and use information using various digital platforms (technical skills)
10. savvy	x. Have become very successful/popular

Activity:

Read the article on “Digital Competence for Academic and Professional Excellence” given below and answer the questions that follow:

Digital Competence for Academic and Professional Excellence

It is an inescapable fact that in this globalized world, the internet, wireless networks, cell phones, laptops, tabs, and social networking has come to stay. In such an increasingly digital era, knowledge and competence of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) is extremely important. Digital competence, therefore, involves the knowledge and skills required to use ICT with ease and comfort. This implies that individuals do not only require technical skills, but also social and emotional skills to handle digital platforms. For instance, it is no longer enough to know how to use WhatsApp, but also to understand the spread of fake news, or the nuances of User Rights when it comes to communicating via the platform. Another example is regarding the content a user uploads on their social media platforms—often, without realizing the implication, users upload personal content which is could be viewed by their professional circles.

Simultaneously, we should be aware that, as the India CSR Network notes, of the 4.5 billion people across the globe who are still not connected to the internet, more than 4 billion belong to developing nations. In countries such as India, there is a huge digital divide, despite which individuals are expected to gain digital competence for academic and professional success. According to an article published in The Hindu, only 20% of Indians above the age of 5 years have basic digital literacy.

On one hand, this yawning digital divide creates a huge challenge for those who do not have access to digital technologies. On the other, businesses have an increased demand for individuals who are digitally competent. According to www.digitalskillsglobal.com, some of the digital skills that businesses seek in their employees include: programming, web and app development; digital business analysis; digital design; digital project and product management; digital marketing; effective social media use; and data science and analytics. In order to reach such a level, individuals should also have an advanced competency and maturity in using basic devices or programmes such as the mobile phone, emails, social media platforms etc. For instance, an interesting brand called Casper Sleep Channel, uses the various platforms of Facebook, Instagram, Twitter as well as YouTube, Spotify and IGTV to promote their channel, managing to create unique ways to stand out amongst its competition.

Some of the basic digital tools that beginners need to know about include:

1. Mobile phones: Nowadays companies use WhatsApp for business communication, and knowledge of the App is necessary. Simultaneously, users should understand business etiquette when it comes to mobile phone interactions. For instance, calls can only be made during working hours. Similarly, abbreviations should not be used in official messages. With the increasing number of Smart Phones, users should also be capable of using multiple Apps in their device with fluency and speed.
2. Computers: Computers require a slightly different skill set. Users ought to know the importance of MS Word, PowerPoint, Excel etc. The use of e-mails in a professional capacity is also significant.
3. Social Media: Social media platforms play a very important role in business strategies and these platforms need to be used innovatively in order to boost sales and promotion. Many artists have made it big in the field just through their YouTube channels or Instagram pages.

4. The Internet: This vast mine of information and data has to be used wisely in order to support businesses.

In the field of academia, too, such digital knowledge will only aid students in learning more in lesser time. The internet, is a source of great information—but the trick is to know where to search, and how to verify your content.

While these digital tools are important, the landscape of both technology as well as business needs to be kept in mind. Technology can be a boon for many enterprises, but the increased cost of certain technological gadgets, or the amount of time and money spent on tech-based marketing can be a drain, especially on small-scale businesses. Since consumers are often swamped with data via online platforms, it becomes difficult for small-scale enterprises to reach the level of digital advancement maintained by larger, multinational organisations. www.smallbusiness.chron.com notes some of the major obstacles faced by small businesses in this vast field. It is because of the competitive nature of the digital space that being digitally savvy will work towards the advantage of both students as well as employees.

Activity: Read the "Overview" of the Kerala State Poverty Eradication Mission, "Kudumbashree" and answer the questions that follow:

<https://kudumbashree.org/pages/7>

Kudumbashree, the Kerala State Poverty Eradication Mission was launched on 17th May 1998 inaugurated by the Prime Minister, Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee. The Mission aims to eradicate absolute poverty within a definite time frame of 10 years under the leadership of Local Self Governments formed and empowered by the 73rd and 74th Amendments of the Constitution of India. The Mission launched by the State Government with the active support of Government of India and NABARD has adopted a different methodology in addressing poverty by organizing the poor in to community-based organizations. The Mission follows a process approach rather than a project approach.

Kudumbashree, a community organization of Neighborhood Groups (NHGs) of women in Kerala, has been recognized as an effective strategy for the empowerment of women in rural as well as urban areas: bringing women together from all spheres of life to fight for their rights or for empowerment.

The overall empowerment of women is closely linked to economic empowerment. Women through these NHGs work on a range of issues such as health, nutrition, agriculture, etc. besides income generation activities and seeking micro credit.

Kudumbashree differs from conventional programmes in that it perceives poverty not just as the deprivation of money, but also as the deprivation of basic rights. The poor need to find a collective voice to help claim these rights.

Kudumbashree was conceived as a joint programme of the Government of Kerala and Nabard implemented through Community Development Societies (CDSs) of Poor Women, serving as the community wing of Local Governments. Kudumbashree is formally registered as the "State Poverty Eradication Mission" (SPEM), a society registered under the Travancore Kochi Literary, Scientific and Charitable Societies Act 1955. It has a governing body chaired by the State Minister of LSG. There is a state mission with a field officer in each district. This official structure supports and facilitates the activities of the community network across the state. Kudumbashree differs from conventional programmes in that it perceives poverty not just as the deprivation of money, but also as the deprivation of basic rights. The poor need to find a collective voice to help claim these rights.

The grassroots of Kudumbashree are Neighbourhood Groups (NHG in short) that send representatives to the ward level Area Development Societies (ADS). The ADS sends its representatives to the Community Development Society (CDS), which completes the unique three-tier structure of Kudumbashree. Today, there are 2.77 lakhs NHGs, over 19,854 ADSs and 1073 CDSs in Kudumbashree.

It is this network that brings women to the Grama Sabhas and helps them bring the needs of the poor to the attention of the local governments. The Community Development Societies are also very active in Government programmes and play significant roles in development activities ranging from socio-economic surveys and enterprise development to community management and social audit.

Though its efforts to engage women in civil society in development issues and opportunities, Kudumbashree in association with the local self government of Kerala is charting out new meaning and possibilities for local economic development and citizen centric governance.

MISSION

There are two distinguishing characteristics to Kudumbashree which set it apart from the usual SHG model of empowerment. These are,

1.The universality of reach – from its very inception Kudumbashree has attempted to bring every poor woman in the state within its fold, as a consequence of which today Kudumbashree is present in every village panchayat and municipality, and in nearly every ward, colony and hamlet. The sheer spread is mind boggling, and it is only because the local community of women drive the system that it has managed to persevere.

2.The scope of community interface in local governance – the functioning of Kudumbashree is tied up to the development initiatives of the local government be it for social infrastructure, welfare or right based interventions or for employment generation. From food security to health insurance, from housing to enterprise development, from the national wage employment programme to the jagratha samiti, every development experience depends on Kudumbashree to provide the community interface.

It is using these opportunities that Kudumbashree strives to convert a microfinance led financial security model into a more comprehensive model of local economic development.

THE MISSION STATEMENT

To eradicate absolute poverty in ten years through concerted community action under the leadership of local governments, by facilitating organization of the poor for combining self-help with demand-led convergence of available services and resources to tackle the multiple dimensions and manifestations of poverty, holistically.

VISION

Kudumbashree strives to develop the model of a micro finance led financial security process into a more comprehensive model of local economic development under the aegis of local governments. This would hopefully sustain the transformation of the local governance agenda from welfare to entitlement. Such a transformation does not come about easily and requires rewriting established administrative and development practices

It requires the community acquiring voice and being heard. It requires institutionalizing processes that allow for participation and meaningful contribution. And when we speak of community we speak of the people for whom government is a palpable entity influencing the quality of their lives, as well as of the people on the periphery, both social and physical, for whom manifold deprivations have snuffed out hope of change.

We speak of the women who are finding, through collective endeavours, the stepping stones leading from participation to citizenship in its truest sense. It is through the realization of citizenship that Kudumbashree would be able to significantly address issues of equity and justice.

Answer the following:

1. When was the Kerala State Poverty Eradication Mission established?

ADS
5. What are the various issues that women work on?
6. According to the website, how many NHGs, CDSs and ADSs are now a part of Kudumbashree?
7. What is the significance of the three-tier approach of Kudumbashree?
8. What are the two distinguishing characteristics of Kudumbashree's mission?

9. How is the spread of Kudumbashree's branches unique?
10. How does the programme attempt to alter the microfinance led financial security model?
11. What is Kudumbashree's Mission Statement?

WRITING

Session 1:

CREATING A WEBSITE: A website helps you to promote your company. It is important to tell viewers a little bit about the company, the team, who began the company (the founder or CEO), the vision and mission of the company, as well as some of the company's achievements. This helps gain the trust of viewers.

Pre-Task:

Create a mind-map of everything that you think is necessary to include in your webpage. A mind-map is a visual organisation of your thoughts. It looks somewhat like this:

This is not exhaustive, and you can add to this mind-map, or create your own.

Activity:

Using the mind-map you have drawn, create the content for a webpage for either a company or product that you would like to promote.

How to Create a Webpage

- Content: Make sure you know what your website is about.
- Choose a website builder: Some options can be viewed at <https://www.websitetooltester.com/en/blog/best-free-website-builders/>
- Write an “About Us” page: Describe the Vision and Mission of your company.
- Write about your team: the founder and other members

PROFESSIONAL ENGLISH FOR COMMERCE & MANAGEMENT - II

Unit – 4

Creativity and Imagination

Creativity

Creativity is the process of translating thoughts into truth, fresh and creative. The capacity to look the universe in various directions, locate secret trends, connect otherwise unrelated phenomena and develop ideas. Creativity requires two processes i.e., perception, and development.

Imagination

Imagination is the capacity to develop and construct in the mind, without any instant senses, new topics, sensations, and concepts. It is also defined as the development of experiences in one's mind that can re-create past experiences such as vibrant memories with likely modifications, or can be invented entirely and potentially spectacular scenes. Imagination helps render knowledge suitable to solve challenges and is important to incorporate learning experiences

Enhancing Creativity

The testing and manipulation of innovative domain specific interventions that helps people to develop their imaginative thought and explore the effects of innovation in order to accomplish their objectives and well-being.(i.e., cognitive abilities, divergent thinking skills, investigating the efficacy of motivational strategies, among other tools).

Creative Thinking in Communication

Any worker in the world is well informed that innovative thought is integrated into conversation. Adequate innovation, such as creativity in decision-making, creativity in proposals, creativity in presenting ideas before others and much more resolve much of their targets. Creative thinking in communication to the logical growth of an individual and to the advantage of creative thinking in the workplace involves a variety of practice.

Problem solving Methods for Creative thinking in Communication

Creative thinking embodies behavioural subsets including interest, cognizance and responsive means to cultivate fresh concepts and problem solving approaches. The role of creative thinking required at different levels of workplace that places on the basis of communication. The segment usually studies the importance of creative thinking in making judgment, solving challenges, creating creativity, overcoming disputes and in improving leadership skills at workplaces.

Creative Thinking in Decision Making

The following suggestions can help in your Creativity thinking in decision-making process:

Recognize decisions. Decisions are more than wishes or desires. There's a world of difference between "I wish I could be a better student" and "I will take more powerful notes, read with greater retention, and review my class notes daily." Deciding to eat fruit for dessert instead of ice cream rules out the next trip to the ice cream store.

Establish priorities. Some decisions are trivial. No matter what the outcome, your life is not affected much. Other decisions can shape your circumstances for years. Devote more time and energy to the decisions with big outcomes.

Base decisions on a life plan. The benefit of having long-term goals for our lives is that they provide a basis for many of our daily decisions. Being certain about what we want to accomplish this year and this month makes today's choices more clear.

Balance learning styles in decision making. To make decisions more effectively, use all four modes of learning explained in a previous lesson. The key is to balance reflection with action, and thinking with experience. First, take the time to think creatively, and generate many options. Then think critically about the possible consequences of each option before choosing one. Remember, however, that thinking is no substitute for experience. Act on your chosen option, and notice what happens. If you're not getting the results you want, then quickly return to

Why it's so,

Critical thinking and problem solving skills are imperative for making smarter, profitable and winning decisions or recommendations. This needs

- examining and improving your thought processes
- ask yourself some factual questions
- list out the available challenge assumptions
- consider varying view points

Stage One: Identifying the Problem

Before being able to confront a problem its existence needs to be identified. This might seem an obvious statement but, quite often, problems will have an impact for some time before they are recognized or brought to the attention of someone who can do anything about them.

In many organizations it is possible to set up formal systems of communication so that problems are reported early on, but inevitably these systems do not always work. Once a problem has been identified, its exact nature needs to be determined: what are the goal and barrier components of the problem? Some of the main elements of the problem can be outlined, and a first attempt at defining the problem should be made. This definition should be clear enough for you to be able to easily explain the nature of the problem to others.

GOAL (I want to...)	BARRIER (but...)
Tell a friend that we find something they do irritating.	I don't want to hurt their feelings.
Buy a new computer.	I'm not sure which model to get or how much money is reasonable to spend.
Set up a new business.	I don't know where to start.

Looking at the problem in terms of goals and barriers can offer an effective way of defining many problems and splitting bigger problems into more manageable sub-problems.

Sometimes it will become apparent that what seems to be a single problem, is more accurately a series of problems.

example,
problem:
"I have offered a want, but I

Problem	Working Definition
"I want to take a job, but I don't have the transport to get there and I don't have enough money to buy a car."	"I want to take this job."

sub-
For

been job that I don't have the transport to get there and I don't have enough money to buy a car."

- "I want to take a job" (main problem)
- "But I don't have transport to get there" (sub-problem 1)
- "And I don't have enough money to buy a car" (sub-problem 2)

During this first stage of problem solving, it is important to get an initial working definition of the problem. Although it may need to be adapted at a later stage, a good working definition makes it possible to describe the problem to others who may become involved in the problem solving process. For example:

---

Stage Two: Structuring the Problem

The second stage of the problem solving process involves gaining a deeper understanding of the problem. Firstly, facts need to be checked.

Problem	Checking Facts
"I want to take a job, but I don't have the transport to get there and I don't have enough money to buy a car."	"Do I really want a job?" "Do I really have no access to transport?" "Can I really not afford to buy a car?"

The questions have to be asked, is the stated goal the real goal? Are the barriers actual barriers and what other barriers are there? In this example, the problem at first seems to be:

Goal	Barrier 1	Barrier 2
Take the job	No transport	No money

This is also a good opportunity to look at the relationships between the key elements of the problem. For example, in the 'Job-Transport-Money' problem, there are strong connections between all the elements.

By looking at all the relationships between the key elements, it appears that the problem is more about how to achieve any one of three things, i.e. job, transport or money, because solving one of these sub-problems will, in turn, solve the others.

Creative Thinking in Solving Problems

(Example: Solving Complex Business Problems)

Read the passage carefully and make notes from it, keeping in mind the Main ideas and the subordinate points. Creativity on Co-workers in Business Communication on Management. The first one is discuss out for you side.

When it comes to communicating information to employees, video is a great tool. Something we're in the habit of at Screen Cloud is ensuring that if we can make a video or screen-recording to share an idea, rather than a long document or process, then we will. Analyze your audience before you make a presentation or conduct a meeting. Anticipate possible causes of confusion and prepare clarifying statements. As you prepare, try to see the situation from your audience's perspective. Give all the background necessary for people who receive your email, presentation or lecture to take action, such as make a decision based on the information you provide. If your topic requires a comprehensive understanding of complex underlying concepts, state so early in your discussion. Set clear expectations about what you hope your business communication can achieve. Choose the right communication format for each situation. For example, avoid using email to communicate emotional issues, such as bad news. Use written communication to convey lists of information, such as policies and procedures. Use diagrams and charts to summarize complicated financial data. Proofread your written communication, such as email, reports or other documents. Check for spelling and grammar mistakes so that you fix them before distributing your information. For email messages, include an effective subject line, discuss only one topic and specify the type of response you want. Pay attention to body language when communicating in person. A person who does not look at you or appears distracted in other ways may not be able grasp your message. Use physical cues to tailor your message or know when it might be appropriate to discuss the subject at another time. Defer judgment until the conversation concludes. Avoid interrupting the speaker with counter arguments. It limits your understanding of the situation. Recognize cultural differences in communication styles. Before you work with people from another country, take the time to investigate business practices in that area of the world.

Techniques for an Effective oral Presentation

While speaking to those we know about every day is a simple feat, it certainly requires adequate preparation and research to give a successful expression. The four Es required for an effective speech have therefore been clarified for you below:

1. Energy: The introduction should be presented in an absolutely enthusiastic way that represents the strength. It helps to win over the audience and to make sure that you truly have everything to sell.
2. Eye Contact: Eye interaction with the listener is quite necessary. In case of broad assembly of audience start scanning from front to back as well as side to side. Any listener should get the feeling that you are engaging with them.
3. Enthusiasm: Your expression should represent your excitement and excitement for the topic you would be addressing. You should expect the same from the audience unless you are zealous about the subject.

4. Examples: Using illustrations always to demonstrate what you want to highlight. The listener often visualises what you are talking about because they don't look at words as text. Examples are the perfect way to help you create pictures of your post.

Video Marketing

It is no secret that video marketing is the future. Many companies, including Reebok and Always, have taken to video marketing to showcase their products and convey important messages. In fact, having a presence either on YouTube or video through Facebook is almost a necessity for most modern brands.

There are lots of things to remember when recording video for the first time. You'll need to consider:

- Having the right equipment (e.g. A tripod or camera)
- Having an appropriate filming location
- Using professional editing software
- Sourcing music

(Reference 1: Watch "A Moving Story about Gratitude" <https://youtu.be/tznztJVsW9E>)

(Reference 2: <https://www.slideshare.net/NicoleFerdinand/making-short-films>)

Basic script writing for the short film

Unique form

- Special order structure, emphasis, shape
- Fewer character emphasis and more systemic focus
- Too firm type - Punch line Joke movies?
- Non-verbal and surreal.
- Episodes

No Dialogue

- Action driven
- Little character development
- Potent set-up
- Gag & punch line

How to craft a great short film

- Conceive a brilliant, unusual, simple but intense idea
- Quickly establish your situation & characters
- Always start the story as late as possible & end it as soon as possible – it must be intense
- Always move the story forward
- Add a sense of urgency
- End with a bang Know your ending at the beginning
- Use dialogue sparingly
- Be brave in your choices
- Set it in your head, discuss it with your colleagues, redraft it, rewrite it, talk more about it, then storyboard it then make it

Don't try and cram too much in

Tell your own story or vision but be aware of other films in the same vein - allow yours to talk with them (GENRE)

- Three-act Structure - What this means? Give your story a beginning, middle, and end.

Don't write based on what you know. Use fantasy, your imagination & research

- You don't have to tell a story. You can focus on a theme, a state of mind, Experiment with an existing film or idea.
- If you make a genre film, fulfill the rules & then exceed them

Elements of Story

- The reason for telling the story
- Describing a need or a desire that must be addressed by the central character
- The reason for telling the story now for this audience
- Specific story/concept ANGLE

- Details through character & given circumstances
- Premise - insights - defining the goal of the story - the desired audience effect
(Example) King Lear - blind trust leads to destruction

Webisodes

- Web Series and Online Series
- WebTV - TV over IP - that is the real revolution to the temporary stop-gap of Cable. By being on-line and on-demand, TV over IP has no schedule restrictions
- 'WebTV' does not need the biggest audience; it just needs the Right audience, a dynamic and motivated and engaged audience.

Creating Web Page

A single disc, called the "html file" holds a web page. In virtually any software you would use to modify text files, html files can be generated. Also you can build html files in certain programmes. The value of these systems is that they are mostly user-friendly. The limitation is that the right html files are not always created. You will use the standard text editor, such as VI, PICO, Windows 95 Notepad etc to build web-pages. An html file includes control codes, which specify how a web viewer appears on the website. These codes are referred to as "html tags"

Password Protected Pages

There are many ways to build password-protected sites, but notice that using a CGI script is a typical vulnerability since the password is saved in a web server log file. Instead it is better to navigate, which is defined on a different tab.

Creating a Web Page

This is not meant as a full training course on designing web sites, it is intended to offer a deeper perspective into the fundamentals of making a web page. The easiest way to practice html coding is to open a certain html code on a website with a feature to meet your specifications and then change it.

Creating Blogs

A blog is a newspaper Web page that exists in reverse temporal sequences of the current entries first at the left, with the most previous. This is a forum for a writer or a community of authors to express their thoughts on a topic. More than 570 million blogs are now accessible on the internet. Bloggers are expected to cross 31.7 million by 2020 in the United States alone.

Purpose of a Blogs

Sample of Flyers

Business Management Flyers

(Source: <https://venngage.com/blog/flyer-examples/#1>)

Creation of Flyer

A flyer is a form of paper advertisement deliberate for wide supply and normally posted or distributed in a public place, handed out to individuals or sent through the mail. In the 2010s, flyers range from inexpensively photocopied leaflets to expensive, glossy, full-color circulars.

The various tips to be considered while creating the flyers;

1. Keep your content brief.
2. Divide your copy into digestible sections.
3. Use bullet points and infographics.
4. Create a catchy headline.
5. Add a call-to-action.
6. Don't forget to add directions.
7. Include your contact information
8. Always proofread your content
9. Communicate using your target market's language.
10. Use compelling testimonials.
11. Use colors that support your message.
12. Limit your font choices to two or three.
13. Choose the right paper stock
14. Apply paper coatings.
15. Use high-resolution photos

16. Incorporate your logo with the design
17. Account for bleed and trim
18. Distribute in high traffic areas

(Source: <https://www.nextdayflyers.com/blog/effective-business-flyers/>)

Uses of Flyers

- ✓ Advertise an event such as a music concert, nightclub appearance, festival, or political rally.
- ✓ Promote a goods-selling businesses such as a used car lot discount store or a service business such as a restaurant or massage parlor.
- ✓ Persuade people about a social, religious, or political message, as in evangelism or political campaign activities on behalf of a political party or candidate during an election. Flyers have been used in armed conflict: for example, airborne leaflet propaganda has been a tactic of psychological warfare.
- ✓ Recruit members for organizations or companies.

Like postcards, pamphlets and small posters, flyers are a low-cost form of mass marketing or communication.

Formats of flyer

- A4 (roughly letterhead size)
- A5 (roughly half letterhead size)
- DL (compliments slip size)
- A6 (postcard size)

Strategy and concept for the flyer

1. Find other flyers you like as inspiration

Look at other flyers outside to get an understanding of what is likely.

2. Use your design concept as a brief for a freelancer or design contest

You can either design your own flyer for you with your favorite freelancer or launch a flyer design competition and collect multiple flyer design suggestions from the world's designers.

3. Evaluate the design proposals against your criteria

Sort the prototypes without getting swept away by an innovative development that does not in reality accomplish what you need to do.

4. Choose your final design

Pick the template that better matches your needs and fits with your audience.

5. Proofread

Check and check again that no typos remain, until you have the completed design.

6. Make sure you get the files you need

If you have images as part of the template, the resolution must be high.

Brochure

A single or multi-page folded document used to advertise goods or services of a business is a brochure. This paper may be folded to make different pages or pages are piled together many times. In reference to a brochure, the word "booklet" is also used. Although it may appear identical to a brochure, brochures are most commonly used for ads of several goods or services for a business. It is important to remember. Usually brochures have more pictures than sentences. Such typical applications for brochures involve the launch or detailing of recent customer support contributions.

An overview of brochures

- Advertising products/services
- Sometimes binded
- Multiple pages

Difference between Brochure and Pamphlets

Brochure	Pamphlets

Creating Brochures

Brand your brochure with visuals: You can add all your custom material, many photos, maps, icons and charts to your booklet of visual images. Incorporate the brand on a customised brochure or post photos of your own.

Add text: Submit text by inserting or substituting text in your brochure. The fonts, colours and sizes you may alter are easy

Add images: You will incorporate photos by adding symbols, portraits and stock images in our gallery, hundreds of thousands of images inserted into your brochure.

Publish and share: Make sure that you preview it when your brochure is final, you may also customize your printing brochure. You will share your creation with peers, acquaintances or relatives until you have your final draught.

Poster Making

A poster is a document depicting societal challenges and environmental issues. It could even be connected to certain commercials. It is essentially a work of art and because of its messages, draws maximum attention from the audience.

Importance of poster making

Poster presentations are a valid form of transferring academic knowledge. However, greater flexibility in their design and dissemination is required. 'MediaPoster' provides an opportunity to deliver a genuine depth of information, which is amendable to suit a wide variety of academic, professional and commercial disciplines. It accounts for a full range of learning styles by use of interactive delivery, and so promotes a genuine forum of active learning.

- Poster speaks for itself; the presence of its author is not necessary. It is therefore possible to reach a broader audience when compared to a presentation limited in time.
- It is also possible to present several posters in the same room and at the same time; visitors can have a look at those posters they are interested in.
- Sometimes as the author you have the possibility to present a poster while giving a short introduction. An interactive situation evolves while having a close contact to the audience, closer than when delivering a speech.
- Posters can be used several times and presented at different events.
- A poster is suited for people suffering from stage fright at least, for those who have difficulties when speaking in front of large groups. Standing next to their poster for some time in order to answer just a few questions is less stressful than talking on a lectern.

Format of Poster Writing

The students who are about to appear for the CBSE Board English examination must be aware of the format of poster making.

Format of poster writing

- Issuing Authority: Here you have to write the name of the organising body of the particular event.

- Title: This is the point where you can make the deal. Make a catchy title which is basically the gist of your announcement or issue.
- A sketch: After the title, you have to draw a picture depicting your issue. For instance; 4 ways to save water.
- Date, Time and Venue: Here you have to mention the date and time of the event which has to take place. Do not forget to mention the venue of the event.
- Contact Information: This is an important part of your poster. Remember to add the details of the concerned authorities as the people reading the poster must have contact numbers of the event co-ordinator in case any query arises on the day of the event.

Doing things for Poster Writing

- Your poster must not exceed the word limit of 50 words.
- The poster should be in a box.
- Make the content inside the poster to the point and crisp.
- Make sure your answer to a poster must fit in one page only. It should not be continued to the next page.
- Also, bold or underline the important information inside the poster.

Avoid things for Poster Writing

- Keep the word limit within the prescribed word limit only.
- Do not use complex language.
- Do not use the short form of the words.
- Make sure your poster is in the proper structure / format.

Captions Making

A title, brief summary, or a picture or illustration accompanying with one particular thing may be product or service. A collection of terms on the bottom of the TV or the movie frame of the convey conversation, or adapt international conversation to hearing disabled people. As of a text or document: a name or a portion. Law The heading, court, words and the number of the proceeding, of a pleading or other text. While a thousand words worth an image, it also takes a picture to attract viewers, have a backdrop and illustrate the plot.

Tips for writing effective captions

- A headline, a concise description, or a corresponding image or diagram.
- A list of words at the base of the television or the theatre
- Transmit dialogue or tailor conversation to those with hearing impairments worldwide.
- The heading of the proceedings, session, terms and amount of a pleading or other document.
- Although a picture is worth a thousand words, it often requires a photo to depict audiences, have a history and explain the storyline.

Unit – 5

UNIT - 5

WORKPLACE COMMUNICATION – AN OVERVIEW

Clear and effective communication is essential in a workplace. Although there are various channels of communication such as E-mail, circulars, WhatsApp etc. a lack of effective communication will end in misunderstanding with the boss, co- workers, or colleagues. This will bring down productivity as it may result in a breakdown of communication and therefore relationships. Effective communication is the art of saying the right words in the right way at the right time. This will lead to improving confidence and a positivity ultimately leading to career growth.

Leaders need to recognise the importance of having strong internal communications in their organizations. Leaders also need to recognize the importance of formal communication channels within the organization. This will keep the organization glued together and move towards one unified goal and purpose. This communication between leaders and their teams, or between team members, keeps employees informed of important changes in the organization. It also provides them an outlet to share their own thoughts.

SPEAKING SKILLS

Academic Power Point Presentation

---

Pre-text task – Vocabulary

brainstem	potential explanation
data collection	clip arts
parameters	video clips
quantitative analysis

Power Point Presentations have come into vogue more than a decade ago. Not only in educational institutions, but in business scenario also it has established its importance. Yet, for the students who do the presentation for the first time, there occurs a fear in them to speak before a large gathering. This article guides the students to overcome their fear and to take up the task actively and enthusiastically.

Before preparing the presentation, it is important to decide what the main message is going to be. This central idea is the core around which all other ideas revolve. For instance, in academic presentations the central idea will be the thesis statement, in business presentation it will be the product or services offered. In any case the content must be prepared before the power point presentation.

Plan the structure of your Power Point Presentation

Now that you know what information must be included, begin to plan the structure of your presentation. You will want to plan as much of your speech and slides on paper as possible. Outline not only your speech but your slides as well.

- The structure of an academic presentation should follow roughly the same structure as an academic paper, first introducing your main point, supporting it with evidence, and then a short conclusion.
- For business presentations, Guy Kawasaki (a notable business adviser and marketing guru) suggests this standard presentation structure:
  - The Problem
  - Your solution
  - Business model
  - Underlying magic/technology
  - Marketing and sales
  - Competition
  - Team
  - Projections and milestones
  - Status and timeline
  - Summary and call to action

- Future

Making PPT effective:

1. Write out your speech before you start making the PowerPoint:

It's hard to make a presentation if you don't know what you plan to say. Brainstorm what you plan to say and break it into chunks. Then, make an outline or jot down notes for yourself. You might even create a short script.

2. Use your outline or notes to help you decide what needs to be included in your slides.

The following points may be considered for academic presentation:

- Introduction or Overview
- Theoretical Framework or Research Question
- Background or Literature Review
- Background or Literature Review
- Methodology or Case Selection
- Discussion of Data or Results
- Analysis
- Conclusion

The outline structure of a presentation resembles the structure of a research work. Academic presentation always aims or focuses on some finding or innovation. Make your presentation also creative and informative.

3. Be informative and innovative

In the presentation, refer to the existing literature and give background information on a particular case with which the audience may be familiar. Your background information should only include what is expected or needed by the audience. In your 15-minute presentation, after formal introduction and literature, you need to be discussing your data or case study. At conferences, people are there to learn about your unique contribution and not about another person's work. In some places you can narrate your experiences in collecting data. Add humor, wherever necessary, to avoid sounding monotonous.

4. Rehearse:

Take rehearsal as you need before you deliver your presentation. Practicing makes it flow better. You can't practice too many times. Prepare your material according to the time allotted for you. No more. Even if you only have a few minutes left, you need to finish within the allotted time.

5. Use Photos, Pictures and graphs:

You can use pie charts, graphs or bar charts when discussing any quantitative analysis. Also, use photos, pictures, videos, music, and clip arts wherever necessary. Sometime pictorial explanation reaches the audience with ease. Relevant video clips can also be used to make the session lively.

At the end, give a recap of all the points that you had explained in your presentation.

6. Challenges:

Be assertive in your tone while delivering the material. Never get distracted from your focus on speaking out the content. While rehearsing, think of the possible questions that may be thrown to you regarding the subject and you should be prepared to answer everything.

Points to be avoided in a Power Point Presentation

1. Don't overload materials:

Avoid presenting all the information in one slide. Overloading a slide with too much information will tend to give a cumbersome appearance. Limit content to bullet points.

2. Limit the number of slides:

Keep minimum number of slides to make your presentation effective. Too many slides would make the audience weary of it and they may tend to get distracted

3. Do not read the slides:

Always keep eye contact with the audience. While doing the presentation, don't read from the slides, instead, you can keep flash cards, or a printout of your presentation.

4. Use professional format:

Make your slides captivating and innovative. Don't use visuals that distract the attention of the audience from the topic. Don't use multiple fonts. Stick to a particular readable font throughout the presentation.

Consider the following sample presentation. Observe its structure and outline your own presentation. Explain the outline to the class.

Sample Power Point Presentation No.2

The topic of this presentation is Free Consent in Commercial law. As students of Commerce & Management you may be expected to design your presentation after this model. Read carefully and learn to make your subject presentation at its best!

COMMERCIAL LAW

FREE CONSENT

FREE CONSENT

According to Sec 15 of the Indian Contract Act one of the essentials of a valid contract is "Free Consent"

Sec 13 defines "consent" as "Two or more persons are said to consent when they agree upon the same thing in the same sense".

According to Sec 14, consent is said to be free when it is not caused by:

- 1.Coercion
- 2.Undue influence
- 3.Fraud
- 4.Misrepresentation
- 5.Mistake

COERCION

According to Sec 15 coercion means "Committing or threatening to commit any act forbidden by Indian Penal Code 1860 or unlawful detaining or threatening to detain any other persons property with a view to enter into an agreement. It is immaterial whether the IPC is or is not in force where the coercion is employed"

The threat amounting to coercion need not necessarily be from a party to contract, it may also proceed from a stranger to the contract.

Consent is said to be caused by coercion when obtained by:

- 1.The committing or threatening to commit any act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code
- 2.The unlawful detaining or threatening to detain any property

It is not important whether the IPC is or not in force where the coercion is taking place.

For example, A and B, both Indians are on a voyage trip to America. A was taken into the Atlantic Ocean. B was seen to be pushing A into the water. Although the IPC is not in force on the Atlantic Ocean it is still considered a coercion.

Important cases:

- 1.Chikkin Annamraju vs. Seslaratnam.

In this case a person threatened his wife and son that he would suicide if she doesn't transfer her property in his brother's favour. The wife and son executed the release of the deed under the threat. Held the threat of suicide amounted to coercion within Sec 15 and the release deed was therefore voidable.

This also is a very important case to prove that threat to commit suicide amounts to coercion

2. Ranganayakamma vs. Alwar Setty;

A young widowed girl of 13 years was forced to adopt a boy by her relatives who prevented the removal of his body for cremation until she consented. Held the consent was not free but was induced by coercion. Consequently the adoption was set aside.

- 3.Muthia vs. Muthu Karuppa;

An agent refused to hand over the account books of a business to the new agent unless the principal released him from all liabilities. The principal had to give a release deed. Held the deed was given under coercion and was voidable at the option of the principal.

4. Bansraj vs. Secretary of State;

The government gave a threat of attachment against the property of P for the recovery of the fine due from his son. P paid the fine. Held contract was induced by coercion

UNDUE INFLUENCE

Sometimes a party is compelled to enter into a contract against his will as a result of unfair persuasion by the other party.

Section 16 defines undue influence as follows. A contract is said to be induced by "undue influence" where the relations subsisting between the parties are such that one of the parties is in a position to dominate the will of the other and uses that position to obtain an unfair advantage over the other

Essentials of undue influence

1. There are two persons
2. The relations are satisfying between them
3. One must dominate the other
4. There must be unfair advantage
5. It involves the moral pressure

There is an undue influence between the following persons:

- Principal and agent
- Superior and subordinate
- Doctor and patient
- Father and son
- Teacher and student
- Promoter and company
- Master servant
- Spiritual advisor and devotee

Among the following relations there is no undue influence:

- 1.wife and husband
- 2.landlord and tenant
- 3.debtor and creditor

CASE: Raniammappuram vs. S. Varadachari

A poor Hindu widow was persuaded by a money lender to agree to pay 100% rate of interest on money lent by him. She needed the money to establish her right to maintenance. It was a clear case of undue influence and the court reduced the rate of interest to 24%

FRAUD

According to Sec 17 fraud means and includes any of those acts committed by a party to contract or with his connivance or by his agent with an intent to deceive or induce a person to enter a contract:

1. The suggestion that a fact is true when it is not true and the person making it does not believe in its truth
2. The active concealment of a fact by a person having knowledge or belief of the fact
3. A promise made without any intention of performing it
4. Any other act fitted to deceive
5. Any such act or omission as the law specially declares to be fraudulent

The essentials of fraud are:

1. There must be a representation or assertion and it must be false
2. The representation must relate to a fact
3. The representation must have been made with the intention of inducing the other party to act upon it
4. the representation must have been made with a knowledge of its falsity
5. the other party must have subsequently suffered some loss

MISREPRESENTATION

According to Sec 18 there is misrepresentation:

1. When a person positively asserts a fact is true when his information does not warrant it to be so, though he believes it to be true
2. When there is any Breach of duty by a person which brings an advantage to the person committing it by misleading another to his prejudice
3. When a party comes however innocently the other party to the agreement to make a mistake as to the substance of the thing which is the subject of the agreement

Important case:

Babel vs. R.A.Singh:

M was a marriage broker who gave Y the photograph of a man and told him that the man was young and rich. Y conveyed the same to his daughter who agreed for the proposal. But on the day of marriage it was discovered that the man was the age of 60. There is fraud between M and Y, whereas there is misrepresentation between Y and his daughter.

READING AND WRITING SKILLS

1. Product Profile

PRE-TEXT TASK –	VOCABULARY
reputation	trustworthiness
marketing	credentials
indispensable	surveillance
robust	sustainable

A company profile is a short piece of writing which introduces the company to someone who might be unfamiliar with it. The purpose of a product profile is to furnish basic information about the company, its products, product description, performance, reputation, etc. When a product is aimed at selling, online or offline, one of the key factors is the product description. In business, a product sale depends on advertising and marketing department's way in promoting the sale.

Product Description:

While describing a product, the following points are to be noted:

1. Target audience

- The target audience to whom the product is to be sold and their buying capacity, location, and literacy level.
- If the company has an online access, a team can be appointed to monitor and gather the information of the people who visit the company's website. An online enquiry form may be provided to identify their demographic using Google Analytics.
- When a new brand of a product is to be introduced in the market, try to connect your item to the target customer's lifestyle and utility.

2. Features of the product

- Design a list of the benefits of the products and link these to the customers' needs.
- Explain the exceptional features of the product

3. Appeal to the senses

- Specifics are important in selling a product. So, creating an imaginary sensory experience of using the product is important.

Sample Product Profile

READING and WRITING

2. Writing a Circular

PRE-TEXT TASK	VOCABULARY
luncheons	implement
intimating	informative
adhere	geared
queries	stake

Circulars or fliers are an effective way to communicate in an organization. In general, companies, organizations or even educational institutions use circulars to implement policies or invite employees to meetings or sometimes to luncheons. Circulars can also be used to promote new products. Circulars are written to inform the stake holders the matters of general interest. Circulars serve a lot of benefits to both the sender and the receiver. The success of a circular in business communication depends on its distribution.

Advantages of Circulars:

Circular is the fastest way to pass information among the stake holders in an organization or a company, whether it is in printed form or digital form. Circulars enable the efficient transfer of information. For example, a company needs only a few lines of subject to inform employees about a seminar.

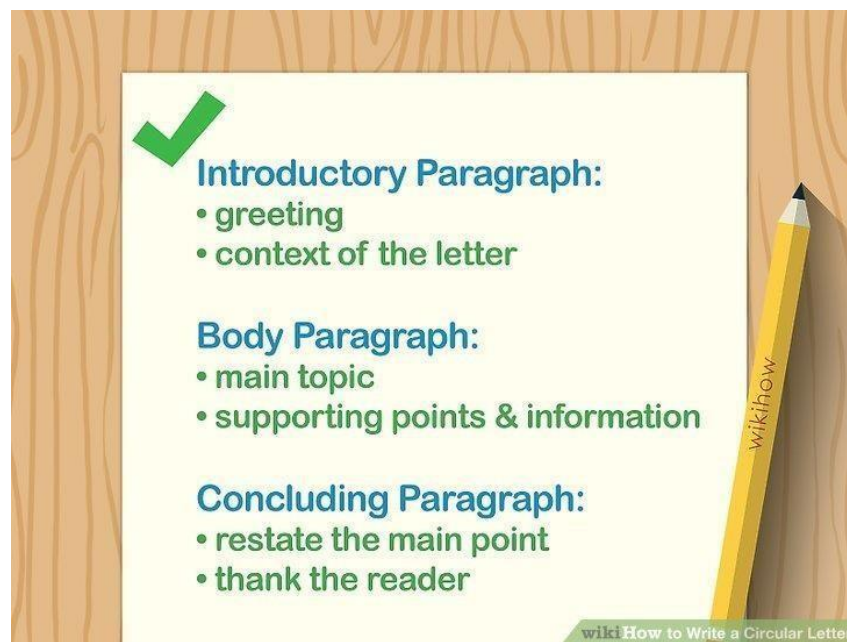

Circulars aimed at specific target group are highly effective. For example, a circular inviting the company stake holders or specific department's employees to learn database management is geared toward marketing research managers and computer programmers. If the company or organization publishes its own newsletter, circulars can be made to appear in them, for those who did not receive them on the specific date. Circulars are inexpensive and timely in delivering or conveying the intended messages.

A Circular identifies the right audience as it has a wider dimension and reach. It can be referred to as a legal document with the designation of authority and therefore acts as a permanent record.

Key features to make an effective Circular:

1. A Circular is a small piece of business, professional or organizational communication made with the purpose of intimating important or urgent information to be conveyed to its stakeholders.
2. It is normally sent by the company/ organization managers or head of the office.
3. Circular can be inter-departmental or inter-office depending on the need to be sent and the number of people involved in it.
4. The sender is expected to be very clear with the messages to be conveyed to the target group.
5. A circular should contain all the information about the subject to be conveyed.
6. When a circular is meant to promote a product, the company can use catchy captions to attract the readers.
7. A circular is sent to a wider audience and is a formal circulation. Therefore, care should be taken to avoid any ambiguously.

3. Writing minutes of a meeting

---

PRE-TEXT TASK - VOCABULARY

disputes	dissenting
reliable	enumerated
unbiased	freebies
unambiguous	agenda
prudent	abstention

Minutes of a meeting are record of documented proceedings of discussed issues in a meeting. It includes the decisions taken and the action plan which needs to be recorded soon after the meeting. While writing the minutes one must be careful in documenting what transpired during the meeting, since they become authentic evidence. In some legal disputes, minutes can serve as a reliable document. The person deputed to draft the minutes should take down hints or notes during the meeting so as not to overlook even small issues discussed in the meeting. The minutes serve as a useful reference for anyone who was unable to attend the meeting. So, the minutes of a meeting also serve as a reference material for the future.

The following are some points to be noted to make the minutes of a meeting reliable and trustworthy:

- The minutes should be written objectively and in an unbiased manner using clear language to avoid ambiguity
- It is prudent avoid using abbreviations and excessive technical terms to enable the readers to understand the concepts easily
- It is desirable to not mention the name of a particular member while writing about the discussion on a particular subject (unless it is necessary for future reference). It is enough to record only the happenings and resolutions made at the meeting and avoid mentioning who caused that action.
- The minutes should be written immediately after the meeting to avoid omission of any relevant points.
- All the events or happenings should be recorded in the order they occurred.
- If any member needs any correction to be made in the minutes of a previous meeting, with the consent from all members, it can be carried out in the minutes of the current meeting with necessary adjustments to the minutes of the previous meeting under consideration.

The structure of the minutes:

The minutes of a meeting typically comprises of the following components:

- Date, time, and place of the meeting
- Names of those present
- Names of those unable to attend
- Topics discussed
- Members opinions or suggestions
- Any dissenting
- Decisions arrived
- Action plan
- Tentative date of next meeting
- Distribution of the minutes to those present and getting it signed

(Image source: WikiHow: How to Take Minutes)

The minutes, thus, become a recorded document of the important decisions taken, and methods and motions adopted in a company or organization.

Writing Corporate minutes

Corporate minutes of shareholders meeting or directors' meetings are mandated by law. These minutes may be referred to when there are lawsuits and key information is required. Therefore, detailed notes must be taken in corporate minutes. Also, it is required to complete the minutes immediately and obtain approval from the board.

Tips to write corporate minutes effectively:

1. Note details about the meeting. Before the meeting starts note down the following details:

- ☐ full name of your company
- ☐ date and time of the meeting
- ☐ location of the meeting

2. Write down who attends. Make a list of those members attending and those not attending the meeting. Include any guests or consultants who have been invited.

- ☐ Note any late arrivals or the time when someone leaves the meeting early.
- ☐ Also write down who is conducting the meeting and whether a quorum was present.

3. Record the meeting's purpose:

A meeting's purpose may be varied. They are as follows:

- ☐ annual meeting for directors and shareholders
- ☐ meeting to determine employee hiring
- ☐ meeting to discuss compensation
- ☐ announcement of new officers
- ☐ issue stock
- ☐ discussion of financial activity, such as a new bank or line of credit

4. Note whether prior minutes were accepted. The minutes of the previous meeting should have been distributed to the members in advance. The first motion will be to confirm the business arising from the previous meeting. Write down the vote.

- ☐ If someone objects to the minutes, discussion may ensue. Make a note of the discussion and the changes to be made.

5. Take notes of discussion on agenda items. Detailed notes on the discussions should be taken down. Words should be accurately recorded. Active listening is very important.

- ☐ Avoid trying to take down a word-for-word transcription. If for instance a person opposes a point and explains why for a long time, it is sufficient to note that the point was opposed and to state the reason.

- ☐ Note what documents the attendees are looking at. All documents that are circulated among the attendees should be noted and a copy of the same should be attached with the minutes.

6. Record the vote on items. If voting is included as a part of the agenda, it must be recorded in the minutes along with the details of those who are absent and who decline to vote.

- ☐ Generally, most resolutions will be adopted unanimously. However, the names of dissenters should be recorded. This is very important.
- ☐ For example, you can write: "Resolution adopted. Dissent: Raja. Abstention: Amuldas, Vakrie."

7. Record the adjournment. The time the meeting is adjourned should also be recorded. If the schedule for the next meeting is decided that also should be noted.

- ☐ For example, you can write, “The next meeting was scheduled for July 1, 2016, time and place to be determined. The meeting adjourned at 6:16pm.”

8. Type the minutes as soon as possible: You might have taken handwritten notes while sitting in the meeting. As soon as the meeting is over type out the minutes so that you will remember the essence of the proceedings.

9. Circulate your draft minutes. Your draft needs to be reviewed. Follow your corporation’s policy. You might need to produce your draft to the higher authorities in the management who would take a call regarding the minutes. The minutes may be modified as per the recommendations from the head of the management such as the CEO, the CFO etc.

- ☐ You may then need to distribute the draft to a broader group of management, which may also have comments.
- ☐ Finally, you will distribute the minutes to the full board since they will be voting on the minutes for the next meeting.

10. Store your approved minutes: You don’t have to file your corporate minutes with your state. Minutes should be documented carefully and stored for future references at least for a span of seven years or according to the company policies. It should be retrievable any time it is required. Therefore, organizing minutes of meetings in well-designed filing system is essential.

- ☐ If your minutes incorporated a document by reference, attach the document.
- ☐ You should also discard any drafts of your minutes including the electronic versions after the final version has been adopted.

WRITING SKILLS

1. Writing an Introduction for an academic essay

Pre-text task-	Vocabulary
trivial	foresee
humorous	appraise
philosophically	consistency
jargons	over-burdened
cliché	reiterate

Essays can be written on any topic, serious or trivial, concrete, or abstract. The tone and style also may be humorous, ironic, or factual. While writing an essay, it is essential to understand the meaning and scope of the topic. Begin the essay with an appropriate introductory paragraph, introduce the main theme of the essay and indicate its scope. It is always good to begin any piece of writing with a definition or an interesting and relevant anecdote. One should avoid introductions that plunge into the discussion right in the beginning itself. The writer should be scrupulous to avoid long, irrelevant, flashy, or abstruse introduction. Therefore, while writing the introductory part of the essay, certain points may be adopted to make it comprehensible and lucid.

Tips for writing effective introduction

1. Keep your introduction brief and effective.
2. Avoid starting abruptly or too philosophically.
3. Define or explain the title in a precise, specific way.
4. Use quotations, dictionary meanings, statements, or sayings to introduce the reader to the main idea.
5. Don't take sides on an issue or sound prejudiced in your approach.
6. Avoid jargons, clichés, and bombastic beginnings.
7. Don't present enigmatic ideas in the beginning itself.
8. Use simple language with concrete thoughts.

A good introduction

- ☐ Catches the reader's attention and gets the reader interested in what is going to follow.
- ☐ Makes the reader know what the general topic of the writing is
- ☐ Tells the reader specifically what the main idea of the writing is.

Writing an introduction for an academic essay:

- An introductory paragraph of an essay of your subject can be especially problematic for those students who rely on theoretical knowledge instead of putting their practical thinking to test. For example, the study of management needs practical skill, and so, an introduction for management essay cannot be based on pure theory. Even when the problem is quickly introduced, one needs to highlight the practical meaning of the questions in discussion. Creative thinking skills are essential to start the essay.
- After you've managed to hook the reader with the practical relevance of your subject, you can continue to a summary of the problem you plan to discuss followed by a full overview of the aspects you are going to analyze.
- Finally, you are to proceed to a thesis statement, which is — basically — the main argument of your entire paper. You are going to discuss it in greater detail in the main body of your management essay.

When writing an introduction, you should typically use a 'general to specific' structure. That is, introduce the problem or topic the essay will address in a general sense to provide context, before narrowing down to your position and line of argument.

Structure of an essay

(Image Source: Writing Essay.jpg-wikimedia commons)

The introduction of an essay must be substantial. It should stimulate an interest in the reader to anticipate the content of the rest of the paper such as the paragraphs that follow and the conclusion.

This will be possible only when the introduction presented is clear in the theme and concept and prepare the reader for the facts which will follow.

To give a good introduction you must revise your writing many times. First drafts that can't be improved in some way by editing and reviewing are rare to nonexistent. The first draft should be followed by reviewing and revising. This will entail checking grammar, spelling, and punctuation. You should ensure that the writing style is simple, precise, and concise. Remove irrelevant information or sentences. Check if ideas are repeated. If any part of the sentence is ambiguous rewrite it. The first part of an essay is very important as it not only sets the tone for the essay, but it also will aim at sustaining the reader's interest. Much work must be done in this part.

2. Paraphrasing an academic essay

Just like the introduction of an essay, the summarizing or paraphrasing of an essay is also vital. Sometime, improper paraphrasing may mar the entire essay. While a summary will give a general idea of the essay a paraphrase will add more details. Though paraphrasing occurs at the end of an essay, it should be constructive and impressive

Tips for developing a good paraphrasing:

- ☐ While paraphrasing, you are supposed to reinforce the ideas already established in the main body of your essay. So, inclusion of any new idea or thought should be avoided.
- ☐ Concluding points or ideas should be forceful and dynamic.
- ☐ Don't elaborate on a single point of an essay alone; rather cover up all the ideas illustrated in the entire paragraphs.
- ☐ The paraphrase should comply with the discussion found in the body of the essay.
- ☐ Concluding sentences should be optimistic and agile.
- ☐ Paraphrasing paragraph should be crisp, short, and provoke inquisitiveness in reader to probe deep into the subject.
- ☐ It is always good if you give your own ideas at the end instead of citing quotations from other sources.
- ☐ Conclude the essay with proper convincing statements and don't leave abrupt statements.

Develop an understanding of the original text. Read the paragraphs that you need to summarize several times. Get a complete understanding of the ideas in it. Identify words that are difficult and find out the meaning. Thus, you will be able to use the most accurate words when you summarize.

Change the original word choice. One rule of paraphrasing is to write in your own words. Here is where you need to explore your unique style in writing.

There are several ways to paraphrase. Since each writer has her/his own unique style therefore there is no one right way to paraphrase.

The introductory paragraph and the paraphrased paragraph too should reiterate the main points. The force with which you express the concluding ideas are especially important, because the merit and credit of your complete essay solely depends on the way it is paraphrased. For a good essay, the concluding part should include suggestion or call for action, prediction (positive or negative outcome) and a question. Try to provide innovative statements in the concluding paragraph, so that the readers may be inspired to take up further studies in that specific area. By all these methods, you can make your essay more comprehensible, focused, and forceful.

POTENTIAL APPRAISAL

Business organizations always aim at placing right people in the right place at the right time. This can be achieved by potential appraisal or evaluation. Through a potential appraisal, unutilized ability may be identified. It is the latent capacity and qualities that is found in a person when a person is at work.

The objectives of potential evaluation are to promote an employee to higher levels of jobs involving higher order or responsibilities. The employee can effectively discharge these tasks without being over-burdened and stretched. It also assists the organization to allocate jobs among employees as per their capabilities so that organizational responsibilities are discharged effectively. Through its foresight into the future, it can enable the individual and the organization to grow. Potential appraisal and performance appraisal must go hand in hand. It is also an important tool for Human Resource Management.

Potential appraisal is used in several human resource management functions such as human resource planning, career planning, succession planning, promotion/ termination, decisions and employee training and development.

In this context, potential means a prospective employee who is capable to undertake different challenging assignments. Potential of employees need to be discovered for organizational effectiveness. Organizations must aim to utilize the full potential of the workforce, institute an environment to unleash the latent creativity, create conditions promoting innovation and team working, and so forth. This also helps in identifying potential leaders in an organization.

A potential employee is characterized by the following attributes:

1. Ability to foresee future opportunities.
2. Consistency in approach and performance.
3. Responsive to conditions whatever come in the way.
4. Person with high level of integrity.
5. Broader vision and micro perception.

Once the potential evaluation is made it is easy to place the employees in any of the following classes:

1. Low Potential – Low Performance. These employees are low on both dimensions. They should be nurtured to improve their levels.
2. High Potential – Low Performance. They are given new opportunities in new department or in a new location. Failure to perform will incur reclassification and planned separation.
3. Low Potential – High Performance. They called solid citizens. They are encouraged to do well in the current positions.
4. High Potential – High Performance. They are the stars of the team. They are given more opportunities related to development.

However, it is the prime duty of Human Resource Manager to appraise the hidden talents and potentials of every employee and identify the potential class that each employee fits in.

In this manner the right talent will be utilized for the right purpose.

Post –reading task 1

Say whether the following statements are true or false:

1. Any writing will be good if it begins with a definition or an anecdote.
2. An introduction of an essay should belong.
3. An introduction should not reveal the main ideas of the upcoming passages.
4. For management students, pure theoretical knowledge is not enough to deal with their problem of study.
5. To give a good introduction, revising the written item is essential.
6. Paraphrasing means conveying different messages.
7. You should not include any new ideas in paraphrase.
8. You need not understand the original text to paraphrase.
9. The merit and credit of the entire essay depends on the way it is paraphrased.
10. The paraphrase should be brief and forceful.

Task 2

“The spread of e-commerce during this pandemic period is faster than the spread of the virus”- Write an essay providing a proper introduction and a paraphrase in about 200 words.

Punctuation and Capitalization

<https://www.teachstarter.com/au/blog/26-punctuation-resources-activities/>

Punctuation

The system of signs or symbols, such as full stop, comma, and exclamatory mark, used in written language is called Punctuation. Punctuation marks show a reader how a sentence is constructed and how it should be read. Every sentence should include a capital letter at the start, and a punctuation mark at the end.

Why Punctuation matters?

Life would be confusing without proper punctuation.

Look at these sentences

1. some people find inspiration in cooking their families and dogs

Vs.

Some people find inspiration in cooking, their families and dogs.

2. lets eat grandpa

Vs

"Let's eat, Grandpa!"

The sentences convey totally different things as per the proper usage of punctuations.

For the sake of family members and Grandpa's life, use proper punctuation. Punctuation saves lives and keeps people alive!

3. Now, this is a big one. Consider the following sentences. Note how the meaning changes drastically when the position of the comma changes.

a woman without her man is nothing

"A woman, without her man, is nothing." (A woman's success is because of a man)

Now, let's change up where we're placing the punctuation:

"A woman: without her, man is nothing." (A man's success is because of a woman)

PUNCTUATION MARK

Full Stop

Used at the end of a sentence

Question Mark

Used at the end of an interrogative sentence to form a question.

Comma

Used to denote a pause in a sentence

Exclamation Mark

Used to denote shock, surprise, anger or a raised voice.

Quotation Mark

Used to show that someone else has said it

Colon

Used to indicate what is to follow next.

Semi Colon

Used to link two independent clauses.

Apostrophe

Used to show possession or for contraction of word.

Hyphen

Used to glue words together.

Slash

Used to separate letters, numbers or words.

Ellipsis Mark

Used to separate items in a series.

Round Brackets

Used to add extra information in a sentence.

www.eslgrammar.org

CAPITALIZATION

Capitalization is one of the most basic and important elements of writing. Capitalization draws the reader's attention to names, titles, and more. Capitalization also marks the start of new sentences and new paragraphs, provides signals to the reader, and helps to create a structure and a hierarchy in written language.

Basic Capitalization Rules

1. Capitalize proper nouns.

- To indicate the names of people, such as Vijay, David, or Anwar.
- To denote the names of months and days, such as January, August, Sunday, Thursday
- To denote days of national/international importance, such as Independence Day, Women's Day

- Finally, proper nouns also include the names of buildings, landmarks, and companies, such as the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the Statue of Liberty, or Verizon
2. Use capitalization with proper adjectives.
    - Indian, American, Italian, German
  3. Capitalize titles of works.
    - A Tale of Two Cities, Titanic, Ode To A Nightingale, Beats
  4. Use a capital at the beginning of a sentence. The first word of every sentence should be capitalized, regardless of what kind of word.
  5. Capitalize the first word of a full sentence in a quotation. Sentences appearing within quotes also should have a capital letter in the beginning.
She said to me "Do you feel alright?"
  6. Use capitalization when referring to a period or an event.
    - The Chola Period.
  7. Capitalization with the pronoun "I." One of the most notable words to make sure to capitalize is the pronoun "I." I refer to oneself. This is a unique and specific usage.
  8. Capitalize family relationships.
    - Aunt Preethi" or "Cousin Ajith."
  9. Capitalize people's titles.
    - Mr. Ms. Miss, and Dr.

Remember these punctuation rules while writing:

PUNCTUATION RULES

ENGLISH
PUNCTUATION

RULE 1

Every sentence must end with a full stop.

Proper nouns (names of people, places, brands, etc, i.e. unique instances of a class) must always be capitalised.

RULE 2

RULE 3

When you use opening quotation marks, do not forget to use closing quotation marks at the end of the quoted word or phrase.

Quotation marks are when quoting or sometimes to convey irony, not for emphasis; emphasis is conveyed by boldening or italicisation, followed by an exclamation mark.

RULE 4

RULE 5

Do not use an apostrophe when you are pluralising a word. The plural of toy is toys, not toy's. Apostrophes are used to form contractions (it is = it's) and indicate possession.

The ellipsis, used to indicate variously the intentional omission of a section of text, an unfinished thought, and a trailing off into silence, consists of only 3 dots. It is pointless to add more dots to an ellipsis

RULE 7

As per the rules of British English, any punctuation mark that is not part of a quoted section of text must be placed outside the quotation marks.

Do not link independent clauses with commas. Independent clauses are groupings of words that can stand alone as sentences.

RULE 9

Use a comma after the introductory element of a sentence. The introductory element is a word or a phrase that begins a sentence by providing background, or simply modifies it.

Activity 1

Analyse the Story given below and list down the various punctuations mentioned in the story and write their definition.

E.g.

1. Comma – Used for pausing; took its place between words; without the break commas provide,

words run amok, becoming jumbled, unwieldy, and confusing; a well-placed comma can change the meaning of a sentence.

The Day Punctuation Came to Town

Written by Kimberlee Gard | Illustrated by Sandie Sonke

The Punctuations had just moved to Alphabet City and the kids—Exclamation Point, Question Mark, Period, and Comma—were excited about their first day of school. Exclamation Point was in a rush to get there. “We are going to have so much fun!” he said. He “was always excited about something.” Question Mark was a little more subdued. She wondered if the other kids would be nice and even pondered whether they were walking in the right direction. “Comma kept pausing,” and Period said she would let her siblings know when to stop.

When they got to school and introduced themselves, the student letters were confused. They'd never seen anyone like the Punctuations before. As the letters practiced forming words, Exclamation Point joined W, O, and W; Question Mark helped out W, H, and O; and “Period brought each sentence to a tidy end.” For Comma, though, it wasn't so easy. As he tried to squeeze in between letters, he began to feel as if he was just a bother. Undetected, he tiptoed away.

Meanwhile, in the classroom, Exclamation Point had all the letters scrambling to make more and more exciting words. There was a lot of cheering and booming, ducking, and running. Question Mark asked if maybe they shouldn't all quiet down a bit, but no one was listening. Even Period couldn't get them to stop. Pretty soon, there was a huge word pileup. In the next moment it came crashing down and all the letters "tumbled through the door, spilling into the hall." There, they found Comma, who just stared in disbelief. His siblings wondered why he was in the hall instead of in the classroom. Comma told them how he felt. But, "Comma, without you, things become a disaster!" Exclamation Point said. Period and Question Mark agreed.

Then his siblings gently reminded little Comma about how each member of their family has a certain purpose. They told him, "we all work together to help letters and the words they make." Once everyone had gone back into the classroom, the letters continued making words. But now Comma took his place between them. When the letters looked confused, he explained that it was his job to keep order and that words and punctuation needed each other to make good and clear sentences.

For children just learning about sentence structure and how punctuation and words fit together to create meaning, Kimberlee Gard's lively story helps them visualize and understand the different roles of each punctuation mark. Coming at the end of a sentence and accompanied by vocal clues, exclamation points, question marks, and periods are more familiar to kids. But what about that comma, which seems to float around here and there? Gard demonstrates that without the break commas provide, words run amok, becoming jumbled, unwieldy, and confusing. Readers will respond to the classroom setting, where the letters work and play together during lessons, and they will be eager to make friends with the Punctuation family themselves.

If any readers think learning about punctuation is dry and dull, Sandie Sonke's vibrant colors and cartoon characters will change their minds. The Punctuations (and their butterfly friend Apostrophe) is sweet and earnest, wanting to fit into the class and make a difference. As the letters form words, the purple Punctuations are easy for kids to pick out, allowing for discussion of their distinct roles. The tangled piles of letters invite kids to make words from the muddle. After Comma realizes his importance and the letters embrace him, the story ends with a familiar and funny example of just how a well-placed comma can change the meaning of a sentence.

PREFACE

The textbook on Professional English visualized under the leadership of the Hon. Chief Minister of Tamilnadu, Thiru. Edappadi K.Palaniswami by the Honorable Minister for Higher Education Thiru. K.P. Anbalagan, and the Principal Secretary to Government, Department of Higher Education, Selvi. Apoorva, I.A.S., is a pioneering venture and strategic intervention in higher education of Tamil Nadu. It has been prepared with the ample support of Thiru. Vivekanandan, I.A.S. Member Secretary, TANSCH (Tamil Nadu State Council for Higher Education)

Tamil Nadu has the distinction of having the highest GER (Gross Enrolment Ratio) of 49%, in higher education in the country: this figure manifests the efforts of the government to empower the youth of the state by enhancing access to higher education.

After duly examining the need of the students in learning their subjects and with a vision to equip them with 21st century skills, four textbooks, English for Physical Science, English for Life Sciences, English for Arts and Social Sciences and English for Commerce and Management have been prepared for the second semester.

As language is an essential tool with regard to the learning process, a textbook which focuses on the contextual usage of language to leverage language learning is an ideal approach and fulfills the dual objective language proficiency and professional competence.

The book is meant for promoting learner autonomy and defines the role of teachers as facilitators and learners as highly motivated stakeholders.

Communicative Competence

Listening : Listening to two talks/lectures by specialists on selected subject specific topics - (TED Talks) and answering comprehension exercises (inferential questions)

Speaking: Small group discussions (the discussions could be based on the listening and reading passages- open ended questions

Reading: Two subject-based reading texts followed by comprehension activities/exercises

Writing: Summary writing based on the reading passages.

Unit 1 Communicative Competence

Listening:

"Communication is a process of passing information and understanding from one another."

This definition of communication by Davis explains the purpose of communication. When an information is passed on from one person to the other, one needs to listen to understand its meaning. Listening is thus inevitable in communication process.

Source: <https://pixy.org/4608973/>

While communicating one engages in listening for various reasons – to appreciate, to be empathetic, to comprehend, and for critical analysis. All these happen only when we listen because it is an active process of decoding the message in accordance with the speaker's language use and intonation. It is not necessary that all the types occur in all situations. The language use and the intonation, by itself, sways the listeners to respond accordingly.

Task 2

Answer the comprehension questions based on the link given above.

1. What do Parrotfish feed on?

---

---

2. How does the coral larvae help the fishes in the marine system?

---

---

3. How is overfishing a threat to coral reefs?

Speaking

Speaking skill can otherwise be called as a conversation skill. Speaking is the primary competency that has to be developed in communication process. To acquire speaking competence various aspects of the skill such as pronunciation, structure, vocabulary, content, accuracy and fluency are to be focused on equally.

In order to achieve the structure, vocabulary, accuracy and fluency the content of the subject matter must be well-known. To aid in this practice a set of open-ended questions are given below.

Answer the following questions in the conversation between Biology students.(This is based on listening skill exercise)

Vinay: Hey! What is Scarridae?

You : It is a type of fish whose common name is Parrotfish.

Vinay: I haven't heard of it. Can you describe its physical features?

You : _____
_____

Vinay: What does it survive on?

You : _____
_____

Vinay: How does it even eat them?

You : _____
_____

Vinay: Umm...I am not aware of what larvae and polyps are...

You : _____
_____

Vinay: How do you say that it helps the marine eco-system?

You : _____
_____

Vinay: I am amazed at the facts of this species! I, now understand the ecological importance of its existence.

Reading

Reading Comprehension exercises are aimed at improving comprehension. One could also develop strategies to comprehend various types of texts.

Reading Comprehension develops the cognitive ability to understand the functional information and the inferential information of a given text.

The ability to make inference is to use two or more pieces of information from a text to arrive at a conclusion.

Inferential information are understood by means of deduction, speculation and examination of the given text. The inferential questions on a reading comprehension task drives the human mind to analyze, synthesize and evaluate the given information. This, in turn, trains the learner's mind to understand the nuances of real-life communication process and develop their communicational competence.

Read the given passages and answer the questions that follow.

Task 1

Ayurveda emphasizes that individual well-being should not come into conflict with social well-being. A happy life is that which achieves individual well-being, whereas a wholesome life is that which is conducive to social well-being. These concepts are currently in application and we have countries projecting their personal and national well-being indices, which match exactly the Ayurvedic notion of a happy and wholesome life. Integrative approach to healthcare Ayurveda is perhaps the earliest form of Integrative Medicine practised by humanity.

Source : <https://www.flickr.com/photos/189590028@N07/50191955812/>

The definition of Ayurveda is in tune with modern notions of Integrative Medicine. Integrative Medicine attempts to heal the body, mind and self at the same time or treats the human being as a complete whole. Integrative Medicine combines mainstream medical therapies and complementary and alternative medical therapies for which there is some high-quality scientific evidence of safety and effectiveness. Ayurveda states that human life rests on the tripod of the body, mind and self. Ayurvedic texts also advise that there are multiple approaches to healing that are prevalent in the world and that we must examine and integrate the most effective methods to make a complete system of healing.

Balance of inner environment and personalized medicine Ayurveda defines health as a dynamic balance of the internal environment that positively impacts the sense organs, mind and the self. Just like the sun, the moon and the wind maintain the balance of the external environment, the body maintains itself by balancing anabolic (building up) and catabolic (breaking down) activities by self-regulation.

Each individual is unique and has a specific mental and physical constitution, which define the vulnerability to disease and the scope for achieving higher levels of health. Ayurveda has also been at the forefront of advocating an approach to personalized medicine from historical times. Advances in human genetics and medical genetics have heralded the emergence of a personalized approach to medicine today that tailors medical intervention to suit individual needs.

1. How does Ayurveda help in individual well-being?

---

2. In what way does Ayurveda conform to the concept of integrative medicine?

3. What is inferred from fourth paragraph?

4. Why does Ayurvedic medicine have variations in treating each individual?

5. How would you relate medical genetics with Ayurveda?

Task 2

A few weeks ago, a newspaper article quoted a well-known scientist saying, 'IT has destroyed Indian science'. One can speculate about the various ways in which the growth of the IT sector and other similar knowledge industries such as biotechnology has led to a decline in basic scientific research in India. The most obvious reason is money; pay scales in IT and BT are much higher than one can aspire for in academia. The argument goes why should a bright, B Tech or M Sc student enroll in a Ph.D programme when she can make a lot more money writing code? Not only does a fresh IT employee make a lot more than a fresh M.Tech student, her pay will rise much faster in IT than in academia. A professor's pay at a government-run university, even after the Sixth Pay Commission, tops out at far less than a senior executive's salary in a major industry.

Second, the social status of IT and BT jobs equal or even exceed the social status of corresponding academic positions, since they are seen as knowledge industries, which plays to the best and worst instincts of the societal order. As quintessential white-collar professions, neither do they compel a successful entrepreneur to resort to violence and corruption, nor do they demand any physical labour. Unlike real estate or road construction, it is felt that IT workers can become rich while staying honest and sweat-free, assuming that the labour pool for academia and IT is roughly the same, the difference in our collective preferences biases the labour market towards IT and away from academia.

Further, when the imbalance between IT and academia continues for decades, a destructive loop, from academia's point of view, is created. When our best and brightest take IT jobs over academic ones for a decade or more, faculty positions in our universities and research centres are no longer filled by the best candidates. As faculty quality goes down, so does the capacity to train top-class graduate students who, after all, are 'teachers in training. In response to decreasing faculty quality, even those students who would otherwise choose an academic profession, decide to join industry or go abroad for their studies. These foreign trained graduates prefer to come back to corporate India, if at all they do come back and the downward cycle replicates itself in each generation.

In other words, academia is trapped within a perfect storm created by a combination of social and economic factors. In this socio-economic calculus, the members of our societal classes should prefer an IT job to an academic one. Or, to put it another way, the knowledge economy, i.e. the creation of knowledge for profit, trumps the knowledge society, i.e. the creation of knowledge for its own sake or for the sake of the greater good. As is said, "Knowledge is power, but money is even more power". Perhaps the scientist was alluding to this victory of Capitalism over the pursuit of pure knowledge when he accused IT of having a negative influence on Indian science. Surely, knowledge has become a commodity like any other and as a result, knowledge workers are like any other labourers, who will sell their wares to the highest bidder.

1. What did the scientist actually mean when he said, "IT has destroyed Indian Science"?

---

2. What could be the appropriate title for the given content?

---

---

3. Why does the author say that knowledge has become a commodity?

---

---

4. What does knowledge economy refer to?

---

---

5. What perception towards IT jobs is given in the passage?

Writing

Writing skill is a part of academic learning. It helps to communicate verbally in written form. It is the knowledge and ability to express one's ideas through written words. Acquisition of writing skill helps to communicate with clarity. Besides, it is also an easier way to convey a message to a mass audience.

In academic writing, writing a summary is considered important. This is because, summary is something a student has to write from his/her understanding of the topic. In this effort, the use of the language by the student in expressing his/her own idea would be exhibited.

Here are a few guidelines to write summary on any given topic.

- ✓ Write in present tense.
- ✓ Do not copy sentences from the original work.
- ✓ Paraphrase the information in your words.
- ✓ Do not add your own ideas, opinions, or interpretations while writing a summary of a factual topic.
- ✓ Add connective words for clarity and coherence.

The skeleton of the summary:

- ✚ Introduction- introduce the topic
- ✚ Paragraphs- each summary can have minimum three paragraphs excluding introduction and conclusion

Each paragraph must revolve around one main idea. The other sentences in that paragraph must be the supporting points of that main idea.

✚ Conclusion- summarise the entire points; do not add any new point here.

Task 1

Using the above given guidelines write a summary on Ayurvedic treatment and its benefits. (Task 1 of Reading Comprehension can be taken as a material to summarise its ideas)

Unit 2

Persuasive Communication

Listening: Listening to a product launch- sensitizing learners to the nuances of persuasive communication

Speaking: Debates – Just-A Minute Activities

Reading: Reading texts on advertisements (on products relevant to the subject areas) and answering inferential questions

Writing: Dialogue writing- writing an argumentative /persuasive essay.

Unit 2 Persuasive Communication

A strong message can influence thinking, behaviour and belief

Source: <http://www.aventislearning.com/images/Keys%20to%20Persuasive%20Communication.png>

LISTENING

Pre-listening:

Think:

1. Have you ever tried to persuade others through communication?
2. Do you possess the art of persuasion?

Definition of persuasive communication:

- According to U.S. National Library of Medicine, Persuasive Communication is "a mode of communication concerned with inducing or urging the adoption of certain beliefs, theories, or lines of action by others."
(Source: <https://www.definitions.net/definition/persuasive+communication#:~:text=Library%20of%20Medicine-,Persuasive%20Communication,lines%20of%20action%20by%20others.>)
- According to APA Dictionary of Psychology, "Persuasive communication conveys "information that is intended to change or bolster a person's attitude or course of action and is presented in written, audio, visual, or audiovisual form."
(Source: <https://dictionary.apa.org/persuasive-communication>)

In a nutshell, persuasive communication is a form of communication that deals with influencing or persuading others. It helps the speaker to appeal to the listeners' or viewers' brain and encourage him/ her to move from resistance to consensus. Learning the nuances of persuasive communication becomes important as it help us to be successful at achieving goals.

Listening:

Listen to the following video which is about the launch of ReSound ONE, a revolutionary new hearing aid.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rWiY01ro0Rk>

Transcription:

Voiceover: Just like a fingerprint, every person's hearing is unique. Yet the most commonly worn hearing aids use a standardized approach modelled on an average ear which can often compromise sound quality globally 79 million people wear hearing aids but 93% say that they have trouble hearing in noisy environments and 55% get confused about where sounds come from. All this changes today, as GN hearing launch ReSound ONE, a revolutionary new hearing aid that places an additional microphone inside the ear canal also called an M&RIE, Microphone and Receiver in ear design. This for the first time allows those relying on hearing aids to experience the world with their own ears. People can now enjoy the benefits of superior sound quality and hear conversations better in noisy environments.

Gitte Aabo (GN Hearing CEO & President): I am very proud that once again, we are first in the industry with groundbreaking innovation that makes a genuine difference in how people experience conversations and sounds around them. This way of placing a microphone inside the ear canal, is something the industry has battled for many years to achieve. ReSound ONE will allow people with hearing loss to feel that they are literally getting their own hearing back, hearing the way nature intended.

Ray Weave (Musician, Voice Over Artist & Writer): I am seriously surprised at how much I like them because I'm naturally skeptical about things and I know that as the years go on it's going to be even more important to me because you know as we all know you get older your hearing doesn't get better all of a sudden. It doesn't improve when I'm 75 or 80 and I'm as time goes on I'm going to be even more happy that I have these things and I think that having them. You will feel differently about yourself the way I do and I think that you just go give it a try.

Voiceover: To find out more about ReSound ONE, visit resound.com forward slash press or check out our social channels.

ReSound One, hear like no other.

Glossary:

- Unique – being the only one of its kind
- Hearing aid – A small amplifying device which fits on the ear and helps in hearing.
- Compromise – an agreement of a dispute that is reached by each side making concessions.
- Revolutionary – causing complete change
- Genuine - authentic
- Groundbreaking – pioneering
- Innovation – featuring new methods

- Ear canal – A pathway running from the outer ear to the middle ear
- Microphone – an instrument for converting sound waves into electrical energy variations which may then be amplified, transmitted, or recorded
- Skeptical – having an attitude of doubt

Discussion:

The above listening passage is a model on how a product is launched. For any product launch, it is important to use persuasive words or expressions that would influence the consumers to buy the product.

According to entrepreneur.com, the following are the ten important persuasive words that would instantly grab the attention of the consumers.

- 1. Free: Though the word “free” is overused, it tops the list of persuasive words as the products could be sold just by giving something free.
- 2. Exclusive: When the product is given a tag as “exclusive”, it makes the people, want it more.
- 3. Easy: Consumers are easily drawn to the products which claim to make their lives “Easy”.
- 4. Limited: It is a general psychology of the people to buy products when the products have only “limited offer” or “limited version”
- 5. Get: It is an action word that psychologically puts the reader in charge and prepares them for action. “Get” is also typically followed by a benefit.

Example: Get a flat stomach in six weeks.

- 6. Guaranteed: Authenticity is a legitimate concern which any customer would have. The word “Guaranteed” is the right word which gives the reassurance about the product which triggers the consumer to buy the product.

7. You: When the sales copy is written always use 'first-person language' to persuade. It makes the consumers attentive and makes them feel special. Moreover, using "you" makes the writing conversational, and it brings the tone down to a friendly level where the psychological connection is made with the buyer.

8. Because: Human brains love explanations. Tie the product which you want people to buy with a reason, and people will be more compelled to take action.

Example: Why do you need that feature? Because it will help you get . . .

9. Best: The following examples will highlight the difference which the persuasive word "best" would bring to the sales.

Example 1: "The way to change a Flat Tire"

Example 2: "The Best Way to Change a Flat Tire."

Which of these examples sound better? We know its example 2. The word "best" always has the tendency to grab the buyers' attention.

10. Compare: Before buying any product, it is the tendency of any buyer to make comparisons between different brands available in the market. When the seller shows the consumers the difference between his/ her product and the competitors', it makes him/ her, the reliable seller.

Source: <https://www.entrepreneur.com/article/279224>

Post-listening:

I. Discuss in pairs and pick the persuasive words/ phrases/ expressions that you think would convince the consumers to buy the product, from the listening passage given above ,

II. Considering the listening passage as a model, write a detailed description about a product related to your subject using the above mentioned persuasive words.

SPEAKING

1. DEBATE

Debate is a logical argument carried out between two teams aimed at getting a conclusion on a topic. The two teams involved will hold opposite views of the same topic. The team which has the most cogent argument will be considered as the winner.

The following are useful expressions for debating:

Welcoming the audience:

- Ladies and Gentlemen, Welcome to this debate.

Stating the issue:

- The motion for debate today is ...
- Let's first define some important concepts...

Phrases to present the most important point:

- This argument/idea is of paramount importance.
- The most important argument for ... is ...
- The most important idea is...
- The primary argument for... is...

Conceding an argument:

- It's true/obvious/evident that ... However, ...
- While you might say that ..., it's important to remember that ...
- I agree with you that ... On the other hand, ...
- I agree/admit/concede that ... , but we must remember that...

Sequencing a list of arguments:

- First of all, I'd like to state ...
- Firstly, ... Secondly, ...Thirdly, ...
- The second argument in favour of ...
- To begin with, ...
- The next argument I'd like to state is...

Adding an argument to strengthen your point:

- In addition to that,...
- You also have to consider...
- Furthermore,...
- Moreover,...
- I might also add that...
- Not only that but also...

Concluding:

- Let me recap/recapitulate my point ...
- As a final word, let me summarize my point of view ...
- To reiterate my point of view, ...
- My final thought is ...
- In a nutshell, what I am trying to say is ...
- To sum up, ...
- Finally, ...

The following are the five important benefits of debating:

- It improves the critical thinking skills
- Students acquire the public speaking skills
- It develops the teamwork skills.
- It helps the student on how to persuade the listener
- It helps students in structuring their thoughts in a coherent manner.

Task 1:

Divide the class into two teams and conduct the debate for the following topics:

1. Is it ethical regulate/allow genetically engineered food?
2. Should we support the cloning for tissues and organs?

2. Just A Minute (JAM)

The activity Just A Minute (JAM) is a spontaneous speech where the speaker articulates the ideas on the topic in a minute. The topic could be of the speaker's choice or a given topic. This activity helps the student condense the information precisely in his/ her mind and speak only the most relevant details within a minute. This helps the students improve their communication skills. Hence, JAM session is included in the job recruitment process to test the communication capability of the candidates. So it becomes important for the students to master the impromptu speaking skill which can be learnt through practice and training.

To conduct JAM session in your classroom:

1. The teacher should divide the class into two groups.
2. He/ she should ask each team to prepare the list of topics (related to your subject) on which they want their opponents to speak.
3. The teacher should ensure that each and every student gets a chance to speak for a minute.
4. The teacher can ensure that the contestant adheres to the rules of JAM.

Rules that are to be followed during JAM session:

1. Once the topic is chosen/ given, try to analyse and assimilate your ideas.
2. Think about the facts that are related to the topic.
3. Start your speech without any hesitation.
4. Stress on the facts by giving examples.
5. Use proverbs and anecdotes to persuade the interest of your listeners.
6. Be brief and speak to the point.
7. Frame simple sentences.
8. Remember to follow the sequential order.
9. Do not deviate from the topic given.
10. Do not drag your point.
11. Do not give too many pauses.

12. Do not repeat your ideas and words.
13. Be time cautious.

Benefits of JAM

1. It improves the students' Vocabulary as they are not allowed to repeat the words.
2. It improves their thought process.
3. The students' level of Confidence increases as they asked to speak in front of their class.
4. The students will be able to train and improve their Time Management skill.
5. The students will learn to assimilate and condense their ideas.

TASK 2:

Conduct JAM session for the following topics

1. Forest preservation
2. Healthy food habit
3. Water Conservation
4. Genetic Science
5. Water borne diseases
6. COVID 19
7. Effects of music on the brain
8. Intelligence of Dolphins
9. Why Bats hang upside down?
10. Best types of house plants

Reading:

Advertisement can be defined as the most powerful and persuasive tool that a company uses as one of its marketing tool. It is a form of an effective communication that attempts to persuade the potential customers to use the brand or its services. In other words, a good advertisement helps the firm increase the number of consumers and aids to have control over them. Lot of creativity goes into the process of making an advertisement. There are many important elements like logo, colour, jingle etc that sculpts the advertisement to serve its purpose. Slogan is one such element which makes the advertisement more effective.

A slogan or the tagline is a catchy phrase that helps the consumers remember the product. The Oxford Dictionary of English describes slogan as “a short and striking or memorable phrase used in advertising.” When a slogan is combined with music, it is called jingle. The choice of words plays a crucial role in constructing a slogan as it should highlight the message it wants to convey. It shall also express the quality and the uniqueness of the product.

- The main motto of the slogan is to sell the product or the service to as many consumers as possible through the message it provides.
- The innovativeness or the uniqueness of the product should be expressed using the minimum number of words in an alluring way.
- It should shape up the consumers’ opinion about the product and influence them to buy it.
- It should be concise and appealing to the consumers.
- It should be easily remembered.
- It should build a positive brand image.
- It should go well with the logo of the brand as they are always displayed together.

1. Persuasive Essay

While writing a persuasive essay, it is the writer's duty to convince the reader to accept the standpoint which the writer takes about the particular issue. Writing persuasive essay demands a wide research about the topic and about the biases of the target readers to demonstrate not only why the writer's opinion is correct but also why the opponent's opinion is wrong.

Steps to write a persuasive essay:

1. Do the intensive research to understand the topic thoroughly and to gather the convincing evidence.
2. Understand the readers' perspective to design the persuasive technique.
3. Organise the ideas collected to get the right perspective of the issue and pick the side you wish to advocate.
4. With this understanding, give an outline to your essay in a proper sequential order.
5. Reinforce your statement with proper evidences.
6. Support your point of view with fact, examples, analogies etc.
7. Refute the opposing views strongly with the evidences you have.

According to time4writing.com, a Persuasive Essay should have the following Outline:

Introductory Paragraph: The writer should grab the attention of the reader in the introductory paragraph. It should encompass an overview of the argument. It should also contain the thesis statement through which the writer explicitly expresses his/ her standpoint.

Body Paragraphs: Each paragraph should be centered on evidence in the form of statistics, quotes from experts and real-life examples which the writer has gathered during his/ her phase of research. It should also comprise of the supporting statements.

Opposing View Paragraph: This paragraph plays a crucial role in the essay as it describes and disproves the opposing views of the issue.

Concluding Paragraph: It is important for the writer to reaffirm his/ her thesis statement while he/ she summarizes his/ her ideas in this paragraph. This will make certain that the readers will have no doubt in writer's perception.

Sample essay:

Why You Should Not Eat Fast Food

Considering the ever-increasing pace of life in big cities, sometimes it can be easy to lose oneself in overwhelming routine. Being in a hurry all the time, a regular citizen may have no time for satisfying even basic needs such as sleep and nutrition. This is probably why seeing sleeping people in public transport is so common, and why fast food restaurants are crowded all the time. Sleep deprivation in big cities is a well-known problem, and people are gradually becoming more aware of the importance of sleep. In the case of fast food, however, things are not that simple. Even though the majority of people know about the dangers of eating food from McDonald's,

Burger King, Subway, and similar places, they still go there. The factors causing such behaviour should be analysed separately. Instead, this paper focuses on the reasons why you should quit eating fast food as soon as possible.

The most obvious reason everyone is aware of is the increased risk of developing obesity. Sometimes, being overweight is caused by health problems or psychological issues. However, much more often, becoming overweight is evoked by dysfunctional eating habits and the regular consumption of fast food. According to research, people eating fast food regularly develop much higher risks of gaining extra weight. They are also more likely to develop type 2 diabetes. Unfortunately, not only adults are exposed to these risks—teenagers and children are also under threat. Throughout the last 30 years, the rates of adolescent obesity have tripled. For children, this index has doubled over the same period of time. This might be related to sophisticated advertising, but facts remain facts: fast food leads to obesity, and all age groups are at risk (Lifehack).

Unlike organic food, which is by default created from pure, natural ingredients, fast food often has a bunch of dubious ingredients in it. To start with, all kinds of flavour enhancers are added into it so that it tastes and smells better. Conservatives and food preservatives may be used as well—in particular, tertiary butyl hydroquinone, which is made from similar ingredients as petroleum. As if this was not enough, fast food may contain the remainders of drugs and antibiotics. How do they get in there? The good news is that fast food does contain real meat. The bad news is that animals are kept in such awful conditions that they often suffer from a number of diseases. To deal with this problem, fast food manufacturers may add antibiotics to animals' nutrition—later, they can get into your body when you eat your next chicken burger (SheKnows).

Along with the risks of developing obesity and pumping your body with doubtful chemicals, eating fast food often means exposing almost every organ of your body to dangers. For example, it becomes much easier to get kidney diseases: because fast food is often salty and greasy, it increases blood pressure, makes you want to drink all kinds of soda drinks (which are unhealthy in their own way), and affects kidneys adversely. Besides, due to high amounts of cholesterol and triglyceride contained in fast food, your cardiovascular system suffers as well. This is not to mention the fact that processed fats in fries and other junk food, when supplied to the brain instead of nutrition, affect cognitive abilities in a negative way. In particular, according to research conducted on rats, a week of daily fast food consumption caused memory impairment in test subjects. And, as if this was not enough, junk food increases your chances to get cancer (Beauty and Tips).

As it can be seen, cheap and tasty food is not what your body needs. To start with, when eating fast food regularly, you put yourself (or your children, if you tolerate their fast food habits) at risk of developing obesity, and possibly type 2 diabetes. Some crucial organs of your body such as kidneys, heart, and brain, suffer from junk food immensely. And, if adverse health effects are not enough for you, think about preservatives, antibiotics, and other chemicals you stuff your body with when eating fast food.

Task 1:

Read the following persuasive essay and identify the persuasive words, thesis statement, facts and supporting statements:

What a lack of sleep can do to your body and mind

All of us have received advice to “take a good rest” at least once in our lives. Probably, this is also one of the most neglected pieces of advice a person may give to another. With the ever-increasing pace of life, especially in big cities, sufficient rest—and sleep, in particular—is gradually becoming more of a luxury than a basic need that should be addressed and satisfied. Everyone knows how sleep is important: health experts, psychologists, self-help books, and other authoritative sources keep talking about the importance of having good sleep—and still exhaustion and fatigue remain one of the biggest problems in a number of developed countries. Perhaps, this is just not enough to make people pay attention to the problem. Supposedly, it would be more convincing to learn about the negative effects of sleep deprivation, poor quality sleep, or just constantly ignoring one’s need for restoration and rest. This essay discusses some of the crippling (and sometimes surprising) effects a simple lack of sleep can do to a person’s mind and body.

First of all, if you ever wondered how someone with schizophrenia or other severe mental disease feels, a sleepless night could get you closer to this condition. As researchers from the University of Bonn and King’s College London discovered, upon missing a night of sleep, a psychologically-healthy person may experience symptoms typical for some forms of schizophrenia. During the course of the experiment, which led the scientists to such a conclusion, a group of people was offered to first have a night of normal sleep, and then to stay awake by conversations, games, and physical activities. After this, test subjects were to undergo prepulse inhibition measurements. Prepulse is a psychological mechanism helping the brain to filter incoming sensory information: with its help, our minds distinguish between important and unimportant stimuli coming from the environment. After just one sleepless night, this function turned out to be inhibited significantly. Test subjects reported altered bodily sensations, distorted perception, and weird ideas: for instance, some of them believed they could read thoughts. They also became more sensitive to light and loud noises (Universitat Bonn). After having a good rest, perception returns back to normal, but it takes time to return all psychological and physical functions back to its usual state. In the case of prolonged sleep deprivation, some consequences may be irreversible.

Do you enjoy feeling depressed? Or do you like mood swings, when periods of euphoria quickly change to severe blues? If the answer is yes, then sleep deprivation is for you. Numerous research studies conducted in different sleep laboratories showed that people who did not have enough sleep, or have been deprived of it for certain periods of time, tend to be more irritable and less able to control their negative emotions. They are also more likely to react negatively to something they do not like, even if the trigger is not significant. This is not to mention the increased likeliness of developing depression. Besides, the lack of sleep inhibits friendliness and empathy, and impairs one's ability to stay in a positive mood (Psychology Today). In addition, if you have such mental conditions as obsessive-compulsive disorder or chronic depression, their symptoms may become more acute as well. In any case, to avoid prolonged periods of negative mood, you might want to sleep well regularly.

As if it was not enough, sleepless nights can affect your body in a negative way as well. There have been numerous research studies proving that people having problems with falling or staying asleep also had other health issues as well. In particular, sleepless nights can lead to increased risks of heart attacks and failures, strokes, diabetes, and increased blood pressure. Poor sleep can also kill your sex drive, regardless of your gender. In particular, both men and women who suffer from sleep deprivation reported lowered interest in sex and decreased libido in general. In particular, poor sleep caused by the apnea syndrome—a widespread health condition among men—was also connected to abnormally low levels of testosterone secretion during nighttime (WebMD).

Among other peculiar and unpleasant consequences of depriving yourself of sleep is the suppression of your immune system, weight gain, memory issues, and problems with concentration. This is not to mention the risk of getting into an accident because of decreased attentiveness and alertness (Healthline).

Overall, there is a number of good reasons why you would not want to stay up the next time you feel like working or studying at night. In particular, you may experience altered perception, distortion of cognitive and memory functions, and the inability to concentrate and think straight. Also, your mood will be down, and it will become harder for you to control your negative emotions, such as anger or fear. As if this was not enough, your body suffers as well. In particular, people who regularly deprive themselves of sleep, develop higher risks of heart diseases and diabetes, and report lowered sex drive and libido. So, in general, there is probably nothing that would compensate you for a night spent without sleep.

Task 2:

Write Persuasive essays for the following topics:

1. Is human behaviour determined by genetics?
2. Are biological weapons ethical?
3. Should aggressive dogs be euthanized or socialized?

2. Dialogue Writing:

Understand how a seller can persuade the buyer to purchase the products from the following conversation between the shopkeeper of Kelly's Organic Vegetable shop and Sathya, a buyer:

Shopkeeper: Ma'am, welcome to Kelly's Organic shop! How can I help you?

Sathya: Thank You! (looks at the price of the vegetables) The price of the vegetables seems costlier when compared to other shops.

Shopkeeper: Yes ma'am! This is an Organic shop.

Sathya: Organic shop? What does 'Organic' mean?

Shopkeeper: 'Organic' refers to the way in which agricultural products are grown and processed.

Sathya: Oh I see! How are organic vegetables different from conventionally grown vegetables?

Shopkeeper: Firstly, Synthetic and chemical fertilizers are used to grow the vegetables in conventional way whereas natural fertilizers like manure are used to grow the vegetables in organic way. Secondly, in conventionally grown vegetables weeds are controlled with chemical herbicides, the residues of which tend to stay on the vegetables even after washing in multiple times but in organic farming, weeds are controlled naturally through the process of crop rotation, hand weeding, mulching and tiling. Sometimes natural herbicides are also used to control the weeds in organic farming. Thirdly, the pests are controlled with synthetic pesticides in conventional farming whereas in organic farming, pests are controlled using natural methods and naturally derives pesticides.

Sathya: My Goodness! You have compared it so well. Could you please throw some light on the ill effects of synthetic fertilizers and pesticides that are used to grow the vegetables in conventional manner?

Shopkeeper: Sure ma'am! First of all, the synthetic fertilizers deplete the natural nutrition of vegetables. Nitrogen and Phosphate based synthetic fertilizers seep in to the groundwater causing an increase in its toxicity. This results in water pollution. These fertilizers increase the nitrate level of soil and the consumption of vegetables produced from such soil, convert to toxic nitrates in the intestines. These nitrates react with the haemoglobin in the blood and cause suffocation and even death in the extreme cases.

Sathya: My God! These facts are alarming! It is wise to spend money in organic shop rather spending it in the hospital. I appreciate you for explaining the goodness of organic farming. I will share these valuable information with my friends and will convince them to buy vegetables from your organic shop.

Shopkeeper: Thank You, Ma'am!

Sathya: Thank You, Sir!

Task 3:

Rajesh creates awareness about the ill effects that are caused to one's health due to the use of plastic and persuades Suresh to use Eco friendly cloth bags. Write a dialogue between a dialogue between Rajesh and Suresh.

Unit 3

Digital Competence

Listening to interviews (subject related)

Speaking: Interviews with subject specialists (using video conferencing skills)

Creating Vlogs (How to become a vlogger and use vlogging to nurture interests – subject related)

Reading: Selected sample of Web Page (subject area)

Writing: Creating Web Pages

Reading Comprehension: Essay on Digital Competence for Academic and Professional Life.

Unit 3 Digital Competence

Objective:

This Unit enables the students to acquire Digital Competence.

Outcome:

Students will be able to comprehend scientific information from web sources, do video conferencing with experts, create Vlogs and post video clips, create web pages and post multimedia materials in web pages.

Listening to interviews

Listening to interview helps the listener to stay focused and alert in an interview, and will improve conversational skills and competence over the subject. Active listening skills will not only help to succeed in professional life, but they will help the person develop his/her character.

Task 1: Listening to interview - I

Direction: Click on the given YouTube web link and listen to the interview with Dr. A P J Abdul Kalam and answer the following questions.

The screenshot shows a YouTube video player interface. The main video frame displays an interview between Dr. A P J Abdul Kalam and a host, seated on a stage with a backdrop that reads 'IIT Delhi India Interacts'. The video title below the frame is 'India Interacts with Dr. A P J Abdul Kalam'. To the right of the video frame, there is a 'Up next' section with several suggested videos, including 'APJ Abdul Kalam interacts with Children', 'How "SHE" became an IAS officer', and 'Sadhguru debates Jewish Rabbi'. The YouTube logo and search bar are visible at the top of the player interface.

Questions:

1. Distinguish discovery from invention with relevant examples.
2. Define innovation.
3. Elucidate 'right type of education'.
4. List out the qualities of great teachers.
5. Share your perception on DNA technology

Task 2: Listening to interview – II

Direction: Click on the given YouTube web link and listen to the interview and answer the following questions.

Aeroponics

(Source: Next Gen Farming Without Soil and 90% Less Water, YouTube)

Questions:

1. Can you compare Aeroponics with conventional farming?
2. How can coconut husk be used to grow plants with less water?
3. Can you defend vertical farming?
4. How does vertical farming bring more outcome?
5. How is nutrient substances supplied to plants in Aeroponics?

Speaking: Interviews with subject specialists

Interview with subject specialists can be made easy through video conferencing.

Video conferencing

Video conferencing is live, visual connection between two or more remote parties over the internet. Desktop video conferencing is a core component of unified communications applications and web conferencing services, while cloud-based virtual meeting room services enable organizations to deploy video conferencing with minimal infrastructure investment.

Video conferencing can be made through the online platforms of Google meet, Zoom, Cisco WebEx, Microsoft Teams, GoToMeeting, Facebook live, YouTube live, Skype etc.

Video conferencing skills

Video conferencing skills include the following;

1. Get to know your technology

One of the best steps is to spend some quality time with your technology. Review features like chat, mute, and background replacement to make sure you can quickly turn these options on and off as needed during an important meeting.

2. Maintain a Clean Background

Looking neat is important for a video conference. Hence clear out items that colleague shouldn't see.

3. Anticipate Distractions

Video conference users should not only create a distraction-free background, but also make sure their surroundings are relatively quiet. An unexpected phone call and a text message notification can disrupt the flow and create a distraction. Consider silencing your phone.

4. Pay Attention to Body Language

Encourage the habit of looking directly at the camera when speaking, which creates the appearance of eye contact. Avoid excessive gesturing during a video conference, as these movements can appear over-exaggerated when they show up on the screen. Sitting too close to the camera or leaning in during the meeting can also be distracting, Maintaining a comfortable, consistent distance from the camera throughout the meeting matters a lot.

Tutorial - How to Use Google Meet

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wGXI0KpkR50>

Task 1: Download Google Meet App from Playstore and install it in your mobile. After installing the app, start a meeting, copy the meet link/meeting code and send it to an expert / teacher and interview the expert over Climate change.

Task 2: Download Zoom App from Playstore and install it. After installing, start the app, copy the code and password and send it to an expert / teacher and interview the expert over Afforestation.

Creating Vlogs

Vlog stands for video blog where all of the contents are in a video format. A vlogger is a profession where one creates a video on a specific topic then post them to a video sharing platform like YouTube, Facebook, Instagram, blog and other video websites.

There are two types of vlogging: 'talking-head' and 'follow me around.' On 'talking-head', the camera is set on a tripod and it remains static as the vlogger talks about a subject or walks the audience through a process. For example drawing tutorials, cooking videos etc. On the other hand, 'follow me around' vlog creators record clips in different locations. Once you create your video, you can upload it online or embed the video within a post on your blog or website so your followers can see your latest update.

(Source: <https://www.stokedfortravel.com/gopro-for-vlogging/>)

How to become a vlogger?

1. Determine niche and research

You must consider your interest and the potential of it to attract audiences. This will guarantee you that all your audience will enjoy every video you shared. After determining your niche, you should research your possible competitor. You should know what works for them and what's not. This will be your guide to always make things right and avoid making the mistakes they'd experience.

2. Create a channel on any video sharing platforms and understand how it works

You've to create your own video channel. There are several video sharing platforms today, choose what you think best fit your interest and skills. Also, take time to familiarize yourself with how it works to have a smooth and organized process.

3. Create video

Once you have a channel, the next thing to do is creating the video. Make sure the videos are Informative, well-researched and original. People research on the internet to find answers, so, make sure your video's content is helpful and true. Use the recommended video format and settings for your videos. Make it mobile-friendly as well to widen your visibility to your audience.

4. Optimize your videos and get discovered

Optimizing videos is a way for the video sharing platform to discover your content and give the attention you deserve. So make sure to include all the important factors in your video such as title, file name, tags, and descriptions.

5. Publish regularly

To keep your audience hook on your channel, you must ensure that you'll stay active and publish more engaging videos.

6. Interact with your audience in the comment section

Vlogging is all about building a relationship with your audience and comment section is the best part of your channel where you can effectively interact with them.

7. Share your video on social media

Social media are effective platform for video sharing. Its free and people are always active in social media comparing to other websites. Make sure to make use of it to broaden your reach and visibility. Vlog requires a lot of hard work, creativity and patience in both researching and building the video.

Video can be edited before uploading it online. Some useful apps helps to edit the video film or add music, titles, credits, logos etc., for iPhone - iMovie, for Android Phone - PowerDirector, VivaVideo, KineMaster etc, for Computer / Laptop - Windows Movie Maker.

Reading

Web Pages

A Web page is a document available on World Wide Web. Web Pages are stored on web server and can be viewed using a web browser. A web page can contain huge information including text, graphics, audio, video and hyper links. These hyper links are the link to other web pages. It is often used to provide information to viewers, including pictures or videos to help illustrate important topics. A web page may also be used as a method to sell products or services to viewers. Collection of linked web pages on a web server is known as website. There is unique Uniform Resource Locator (URL) is associated with each web page.

Static Web page

Static web pages are also known as flat or stationary web page. They are loaded on the client's browser as exactly they are stored on the web server. Such web pages contain only static information. User can only read the information but can't do any modification or interact with the information.

Static web pages are created using only HTML. Static web pages are only used when the information is no more required to be modified.

Dynamic Web page

Dynamic web page shows different information at different point of time. It is possible to change a portion of a web page without loading the entire web page. It has been made possible using Ajax technology.

3. Imagine what would happen if all microbes were destroyed from the environment?

I. Pre-listening Task:

Associate your ideas with the word 'micro' along with the pictures given below and list it in the blanks given:

- |          |          |
|----------|----------|
| 1. _____ | 2. _____ |
| 3. _____ | 4. _____ |
| 5. _____ | 6. _____ |

While Listening:

What is academic listening?

Academic listening is a special kind of listening skill, which helps the learners to encounter, understand, learn, discuss, and remember new ideas.

Academic listening consists content with different forms of multimedia like audio tracks, video clips, web pages and activities like tasks, games, experiments, surveys in order to make listening more engaging and more motivating for the students in an integrated manner with elaborated style of thinking.

Activity: Listen to this academic video prepared by EMRC:

Post Listening Task 1: Recall the information presented in the video.

Task 2: State whether the statements are true or false from the above listened video clip.

1. Microbes are not present on the surface of our body, inside of a body, in the food we eat, in the water we drink and the air we breathe.
2. Microbes used food and fermentation industries.
3. Immunology is the study of nervous system
4. Growing of animal cells on artificial medium in a controlled environment is done to understand the functioning of cells.
5. Microbiology does not touch our lives in all dimensions.

Speaking: Making oral presentations through short films

In this globalized world, every profession is involved in some aspects of communication which usually involve gathering, analysing, and distributing scientific and/or technical information efficiently and accurately for specific audiences. Making oral presentations through short films links all four aspects of communicative skills (LSRW). Short films act like a bridge between language study and language use. It demonstrates one's potential to communicate through real-world experience between the audience and the presenter. It helps to build creativity, critical thinking and teach life-long skills both personally and professionally.

What is a short film?

A short film is any motion picture that runs from fifteen seconds to forty five minutes in length. It expresses a single concept with unique ending.

Basic instructional design for oral presentation through short films:

- Plan - Plan the topic with important events with focus to your presentation. An oral presentation should never be a monologue, but an active dialogue in verbal communication. First greet the audience and introduce yourself. Explain the purpose of your talk. Start by introducing the topic. Outline the main points. State your purpose and announce the outline of your presentation in very simple and precise language.

- Structure – The information in the body needs to be well-structured. State main ideas clearly. Use visual aids to engage the interest of your audience. It could be in chronological order, theme or order of importance.
- Prepare – The first thing to be done when preparing a spoken presentation is to identify the audience as precisely as possible. Prepare the oral presentations with key points within time limit. The presentation can have one of these aims: to inform, to persuade, to teach.
- Present - Shape the presentation by organizing and selecting the arguments or pieces of information within the time allotted. Introduce appropriate visual aids to impose its effect on the audience. During the presentation a presenter need to face the audience - maintain eye contact with the audience as much as possible. Use natural hand gestures, look presentable and speak in a clear and audible voice.
- End - Prepare a closing summary with main points and give a strong concluding remark that reinforces why your information is of value. It reaffirms the connection between the audience and the material presented. Invite questions from the audience at the conclusion of your presentation. Respond to questions politely and briefly.

PROCESS RECAP

Activity:

Watch BABY – An Experimental Short Film about the beginning of life

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eYSu2ochIE4>

Task 1:

- Discuss in pairs about how did the film make you feel?
- What aspect of the film did you most engage with?
- What will you remember?
- What does it make you think about?
- Would you watch it again? Why/why not?
- How would a second viewing be different?
- What would you focus on?
- How would different people view this film differently (dependent on gender, age, ethnic background, worldview, etc)?

Task 2

Prepare a power point presentation with inclusion of pictures and videos of about 5-8 minutes of your own interest based on your subject.

Creativity and Imagination

Introduction:

Creativity surrounds us and expresses itself in the form of innovative ideas in our everyday life. It is a skill that can be practiced daily to solve life's problems as well as discover its opportunities. In fact, it is the ability to apply reason and logic to new or unfamiliar ideas, opinion or situations.

Creativity Defined:

There is a common misconception that creativity belongs to a few gifted individuals, or it pertains to the field of arts. As a result, many who do not consider themselves as the artistic type neglect the development of their creative skills. Let's look at what defines creativity. To be creative means turning new and imaginative ideas into reality. The Dictionary defines creativity as 'the ability to transcend traditional ideas, rules, patterns, relationships, or the like, and to create meaningful new ideas, forms, methods and originality' It is also defined as 'progress, or imagination'. As a matter of fact, creativity is characterized by the ability to see the world in new ways, to make connections between seemingly unrelated phenomena and to generate solutions.

As we have seen earlier, creativity should not be tied to a specific discipline or a craft, it is indispensable everywhere. It is pertinent in arts, entertainment, business, mathematics, engineering, medicine, social sciences, and physical sciences and is the cornerstone of civilization.

Reflections on Creativity:

It is important to define creativity because it can mean different things to different people. If you refer to the thesaurus, you will find the following synonyms for the word 'creativity':

Cleverness	imagination	imaginativeness	ingenuity inspiration
genius	inventiveness	originality	resourcefulness
vision			talent

The word 'creative' is associated with being inventive	imaginative	innovative	original	artistic	expressive inspired	visionary		productive	prolific talented gifted	resourceful	quick-witted		ingenious

clever	smart	unconventional	unorthodox	a genius

Difference between Creativity and Imagination:

Have you ever wondered how creativity manifests itself? Do you know how the inventions come into existence? What is the basis for creative thinking? Creativity relies on imagination, the conscious representation of what is not immediately present to the senses. Remember your imagination is not only an artistic influence but can inspire you as a person or others to add development to your lifestyle, business or work ethic. While imagination is the process of seeing the world in new ways and finding the hidden patterns. Creativity helps in converting your new and imaginative ideas into reality. People who believe in imagination cross the boundary of “usual” and “normal” are able to think outside the box. More importantly, if you have ideas, but don’t act on them, you are only imaginative but not creative.

Students of science classes usually get the idea that involve careful observation and analysis of data to test hypotheses. One thing that remains shrouded in mystery, is how scientists decide on the particular question and give an exact answer? You might be surprised to know that they involve in creativity and come out with logical reasoning.

The natural world is highly complex, and really big. Interesting scientific problems (like curing cancer) are usually too difficult to solve directly. The art of being a scientist involves continually re-imagining these big problems, mentally breaking them down into smaller, solvable parts, and then speculating about which of these smaller parts might be key to cracking open the whole subject. In other words, a scientist must imagine, in advance, possible outcomes from different observations, and design a research study that might help to decide between different hypotheses.

How is creativity possible in science?

Logical thinking is always a part of the creative process in any field, from art to science to business. Creativity is not only the ability to come up with new ideas, but also narrowing down those new ideas to focus on one that can be elaborated. Creative people in any field come up with new ways of looking at the world. They constantly ask, "What if...?" But it doesn't stop there. After a creative person asks "What if...?" they then go on to logically think through the consequences.

Science is creative in much the same way as art, music, or literature are creative. In Science discipline, individuals have to use their imagination to come up with explanations. The explanations should be well informed. They must not be mere guesses. As Peter Medawar explained, "Scientists are building explanatory structures, telling stories which are scrupulously (carefully) tested to see if they are stories about real life" (Medawar, 1984, p. 133, emphasis in original). By "telling stories," Medawar does not mean that scientists' are just making things up out of nothing. He means that scientists' piece together bits of information in a way that makes sense, the way writer's piece together characters and events. But a scientist's job doesn't end there. The story they've told is rigorously tested to see if it makes sense in the context of real life.

Conclusion:

Success in science requires a creative mind. Some of the most important questions in science are either too large or too complex to answer directly. So scientists break them down into smaller, solvable questions. Scientists use creativity to determine which questions are likely to yield results or and which will not. They imagine possible answers to their questions, and devise ways to test those answers. To be creative, science students should be curious to know what will happen next through their creativity and imagination through experiments, show interest in their observation and finally try to bring their creative brilliance in reality.

Script Writing

(Source: <https://www.masterclass.com/articles/how-to-write-a-film-treatment-in-6-steps>)

A short film is just a short movie with a clear, compelling story. It is an excellent fun side-project for the beginners. A short film can be live-action, animated, or computer generated. Like feature films, short films tell closed-ended stories with a distinct beginning, middle, and end. The best short films have a clear focus and are economical with their storytelling, utilizing only one or two locations and few characters.

Scientific Script Writing for short films:

1.Brainstorm. Jumpstart your creativity remembering any images or events from your childhood. Fix the genre or the style that you want to write. Once, the idea is fixed write down whatever comes to your mind.

2. Research – It is the vital aspect for Science based genre. The film maker has to research the fact in order to give accurate data for the audience.

3.Outline - Begin to outline the idea for the film. Like feature films, short films too have a beginning, middle, and end. This brings the overall structure of the film.

4. Write your first draft - Now that you know the shape of your story, start writing the first draft of your short film script with screenplay structure.

5. Rewrite the script - When you start writing the second draft, you might find to restart the process and create a new outline. Once the story is solid, start refining the dialogue for the scenes.

6. A picture is worth a thousand words - As you write, think creative images and captions. Science offers beautiful and unusual images that can help readers visualise what you are writing about. Spend time on catchy and informative captions — they are indispensable entry points into your story.

Task 1: Watch the video Science and Storytelling | Lucy Hawking | TEDxSalford <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E7K-qlQVpgE>

Blogs:

A blog, an online journal in which you share your thoughts about a particular subject with readers.

How to start writing science blogs?

- Exactly what is it that you have found out?
- What methods have you used?
- Why is this research important, and why should my target audience be interested?
- What environmental benefits might this research bring?

- Will this research lead to more sustainable technology?
- Will it lead to less expensive and/or safer technology?
- What is your or your group's contribution to this field internationally?
- What is needed for this technology to be applied/commercialised?
- Is this project relevant to others in the industry? Will it enable us to attract new clients and win new projects?

What is a Flyer?

A Flyer is usually a single, unfolded printed sheet that is used to draw attention to an event, service, product or idea. A flyer usually contains a very simple message that can be conveyed quickly.

<https://www.postermywall.com/index.php/posters/search?s=science%20fair%20flyer>

How to make flyers?

1. Include the basics

Make sure your flyer states the who, what, where, and when of what you're trying to communicate.

2. Go for eye-catching imagery

Flyer design is important, and images speak for themselves and can go a long way to communicating tone and feel. You can use your own imagery or choose from thousands of royalty-free photos we provide for you

3. Keep it brief

When it comes to text, less is more. Be brief. Be concise. Be powerful with your words. Choose your words carefully and make each one count.

4. Take theme into account

Think about what feeling you want to evoke with your flyer. Be mindful of the thematic elements of what you're trying to promote. The images, colours, text you use in your flyer should be theme-appropriate.

5. Let readers know what to do next

Include links, contact information, or a strong call-to-action to let readers know how to learn more.

Task 3: Make a flyer for science exhibition to be conducted in your department.

Brochure:

A Brochure is a single foldable sheet used by marketers to highlight a product, company or service. They are one of the most common and effective tools used by businesses and organizations for relaying information or announcements to a wide audience. Brochures are distributed in many different ways: as newspaper inserts, handed out personally, by mail or placed in brochure racks in high traffic locations especially in tourist places.

Source: <https://in.pinterest.com/pin/448811919100082233/>

How to make a brochure?

Write concisely. Your brochure should focus on one product or service. A tri-fold brochure only has space for about 350-450 words, so keep words, sentences and paragraphs short. Include only the most relevant information, leaving some white space and images.

Science Brochures:

While making science brochure design, follow three elements:

1. Target audience / people. Be clear for whom you are creating a brochure. Think about marketing concept, what makes an ordinary people while reading your scientific articles. To test, whether you understand your client's needs, ask yourself a simple question: "For what a person really ready to pay money?".
2. USP (unique selling proposition). You must clearly understand your positioning, how to differ from competitors. It should be something that distinguishes you from rivals for the better.
3. Target action. The target action is what the user must do after reading. If you don't offer people any action, the customer could close your science brochure design ideas and leave it.

This is what your brochure for science should convey.

Task 4: Design a brochure for your science lab.

POSTER

Poster is another visual to reach the people with specific message. Posters are usually displayed at a height that makes it visible to viewers. So, content and structure are important in a poster.

Source: <https://www.amazon.in/Tamatina-Health-Posters-Coronavirus-Precautions/dp/B085ZZQRJJ>

Instructions to create a poster.

- Decide on the size of the poster
- Make sure it is readable from a distance.
- Create Some Contrast.
- Consider the location of display.
- Let the image be large and catchy.
- Make good use of space in the poster.

Unit 5

Workplace Communication & Basics of Academic Writing

Speaking: Short academic presentation using PowerPoint

Reading & Writing: Product Profiles, Circulars, Minutes of Meeting.

Writing an introduction, paraphrasing

Punctuation (period, question mark, exclamation point, comma, semicolon, colon, dash, hyphen, parentheses, brackets, braces, apostrophe, quotation marks, and ellipsis)

Capitalization (use of upper case)

UNIT 5

BUSINESS ENGLISH

Language is a powerful tool that has propelled changes, carved history and sustained culture and tradition. Languages have, since the time of our linguistic revolution, grown and influenced each other. The faculty of language that captures floating thoughts into a timeline, adding memories, feelings, emotions and envisioning a future, is one of the advances of evolution that has made us survive and progress thus far as a species.

We are living in an era of digital revolution wherein language seems to no longer belong to the domain of mouth and related speech organs. It has moved on to the domain of the digital Siri and Alexa. It can be heard when we use google maps directing us. It can be heard, translated, and automated by chatbots.

Thus, when language has transcended to wider domains, humans who were the first to revolutionize it into the digital forms that we have today also need to equip themselves with the required skills to make language an effective medium of communication. The common misconception is that “just because I speak, I am understood”. Once we free our minds from this fallacy, therein begins our first attempt to communicate effectively.

Words when timed appropriately, arranged coherently, expressed accurately can make or break a relationship. Communication failure is a new normal in this era of digital communication where emojis and emoticons have taken over determiners in language; determiners that were aimed at accuracy in communicating. Although pictographic representations of what could be described through words, may be an easier way to express the difference between, say for example, a chuckle, a titter, a giggle, a chortle, or a cackle, yet, the constant use of emojis would stunt the usage of accurate vocabulary, leading to a dilution of meaning. In other words, thanks to social media, we speak more and yet communicate so less.

When words are replaced by feelings that are captured by emojis, the communication becomes more reactive than responsive. In this era of Facebook and Whatsapp we have successfully learnt to react to posts through these five modes of expression- like, anger, love, laughter, hug, sadness, and awe. Of these, like is an all-encompassing positive feeling, anger, love, laughter and sadness are emotions, and hug is an action. Altogether we are reinforced constantly to react only within this framework of limited expressions forgetting that human emotions are complex and can lead to an endless labyrinth of responses. When you are self-aware of these endless possibilities of responses, then you free yourself from the influence of fake news and posts that spread the message of hate.

In a typical business context where the communication is domain specific there is a need to practice the art of effective communication. Businesses today have a wider reach and one major part of business that contributes to its growth is effective communication. With wide networking and collaborative efforts, it is essential to navigate through misinterpretations and assumptions, and create an ambience of meaningful engagements. Self-awareness will make you mindful of the words that you need to choose before you communicate. Along with practicing mindfulness, it is also imperative that you learn techniques and nuances in very specific contexts such as:

- Power Point presentations
- Circular
- Minutes of a Meeting
- Paraphrasing

POWERPOINT PRESENTATION

Pre-task:

Consider image 1 and image 2. Which image do you think has a better appeal?

Compare the advertisements and explain which advertisement has more visual appeal.

Image sources:

<https://digitalcollections.nypl.org/items/918ed050-cf4e-0133-59bd-00505686a51c>

<https://picryl.com/media/wm-h-west-s-big-minstrel-jubilee-2>

It is evident that image 2 displays a greater appeal because it has a visual representation. Advertisements are visual representations of products. They are designed in a way that it can instantly attract a potential buyer. A successful advertisement makes use of image, colours, captions, layout, font, background, foreground etc. in a judicious way that can communicate the essential features of the product in an effective manner.

Power point presentations also play a similar role. Just like how a visual appeal is created in a well-designed advertisement, so also a visual appeal is created by making use of Power point when presenting content.

Features of Power Point

Power point can be accessed from Microsoft Office App.

When you create a new Power Point presentation, there are thousands of themed templates available from which you can choose the one most relevant to the theme of your presentation. In addition to themes, Power Point also provides numerous diagrams and charts as well which will add more visual appeal to your presentation and will also help you to organize your content in a succinct and professional way.

Sample themes, diagrams and charts are presented below.

Texts, Fonts and Paragraphs

Text Editing: Just like how you can edit (cut/copy/paste) texts in MS Word, so also it is possible to edit texts in the slides

Slides: New slides of various format according to the layout in which you desire the slide to appear can be inserted.

Font: You can apply formatting such as bold, italics, underline, strikethrough, word spacing, font type, size and colour, highlighting text, and capitalization.

Paragraph: Bullets, numbering increasing and decreasing line spacing, indenting texts (left, right, centre, justify), and changing the direction of the texts can be done.

Design ideas: This is a unique feature in the latest version of PPT where the texts you enter in the slides are automatically designed

The INSERT option enables you to add more visuals to your slides. You can insert tables, pictures, shapes, icons, 3D models, smart art, charts, add-ons, hyperlinks, comments, text box, Header and footer, word art and symbols.

The interesting part is that there are a wide range of items that you can choose from. For instance, the latest version also provides numerous selections of icons which can be used when you are describing specific points in the slides.

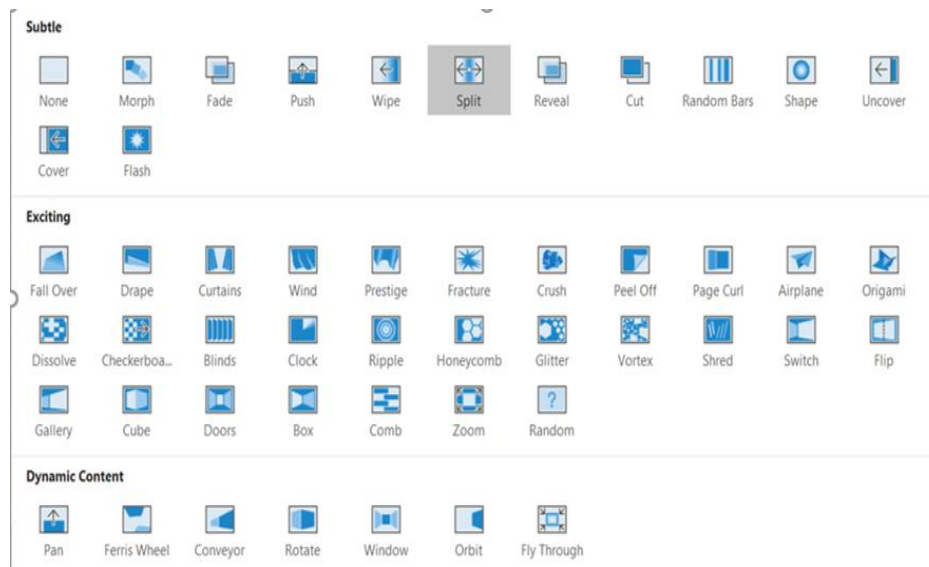

🔍 Search "Dinosaurs"

Transitions

When navigating from one slide to another, adding transitions will add to the overall effect. But ensure that the transitions are not too jarring to the eyes. There are several smooth transitioning features that you can select from.

Animations

Entrance and exit of points can be animated. If you need to emphasize a point you can add emphasis that can make it stand out.

Slide-Show

The slide show option will enable you to present it in full screen, rehearse timings and use sub-titles. You can also create E-content by using the record option.

Techniques for a captivating presentation

- Images, charts, diagrams, maps etc. communicate more effectively.
- Explain processes using charts
- Use only relevant images which are related to your content
- Limit the words and as the name goes, it is power POINT. Bullet points are sufficient. You need not write elaborate sentences
- Every slide should have a main idea and corresponding ideas in point form
- Too much usage of any feature will look cumbersome, be it colors, font type, animation, or transition
- Ensure that the background and the text are in contrast so that the text appears clear and legible
- Limit the total number of slides and the content in each slide
- There is no one way to prepare and present. Use your creativity and imagination.

Sample Presentation

The following is an excerpt from "Ayurveda: A Brief Introduction and Guide" by Vasant Lad. This is the introductory paragraph. The important points that will make up a slide are highlighted.

Ayurveda is considered by many scholars to be the oldest healing science. In Sanskrit, Ayurveda means "The Science of Life." Ayurvedic knowledge originated in India more than 5,000 years ago and is often called the "Mother of All Healing." It stems from the ancient Vedic culture and was taught for many thousands of years in an oral tradition from accomplished masters to their disciples. Some of this knowledge was set to print a few thousand years ago, but much of it is inaccessible. The principles of many of the natural healing systems now familiar in the West have their roots in Ayurveda, including Homeopathy and Polarity Therapy.

Lad, Vasant. AYURVEDA: A BRIEF INTRODUCTION AND GUIDE. 2006. 2020 12 17.
<<https://www.ayurveda.com/resources/articles/ayurveda-a-brief-introduction-and-guide>>.

In the above content, 8 points are highlighted. You can either have 4 points in two slides (4 points in each slide) or all the 8 points can feature in one slide.

Notice how phrases such as “oldest healing science”, “The Science of Life”, “more than 5000 years ago”, “Mother of all Healing”, “oral tradition”, “accomplished masters to their disciples”, “inaccessible” and “roots in Ayurveda” are highlighted. If these points were to be created as a power point slide it will look something like this.

You must also consider the overall structure of your presentation. Like any piece of writing which has an introduction, a body, and a conclusion, so also a power point must be structured in a way that the ideas are presented seamlessly.

For example, take a look at the following Power Point slides for a presentation on Ayurveda.

The Strategy: Your Constitution and Its Inner Balance

Ayurveda places great emphasis on prevention and encourages the maintenance of health through close attention to balance in one's life, right thinking, diet, lifestyle and the use of herbs. Knowledge of Ayurveda enables one to understand how to create this balance of body, mind and consciousness according to one's own individual constitution and how to make lifestyle changes to bring about and maintain this balance.

Just as everyone has a unique fingerprint, each person has a particular pattern of energy—an individual combination of physical, mental and emotional characteristics—which comprises their own constitution. This constitution is determined at conception by a number of factors and remains the same throughout one's life.

Many factors, both internal and external, act upon us to disturb this balance and are reflected as a change in one's constitution from the balanced state. Examples of these emotional and physical stresses include one's emotional state, diet and food choices, seasons and weather, physical trauma, work and family relationships. Once these factors are understood, one can take appropriate actions to nullify or minimize their effects or eliminate the causes of imbalance and re-establish one's original constitution. Balance is the natural order; imbalance is disorder. Health is order; disease is disorder. Within the body there is a constant interaction between order and disorder. When one understands the nature and structure of disorder, one can re-establish order.

Notice in the content provided above, the phrases underlined in violet are the main headings of the slides. The content highlighted in green are the supporting points. The above content may be designed in four slides as follows:

You may observe the following in the above slides:

- Simple design
- Colour theme according to the central topic of Ayurveda
- Similar pattern repeated in all slides
- Words and/or phrases are used as points
- Heading is in a different colour and is emphasized
- Slide 4 has a sentence that is highlighted. Important quotes may be highlighted in this way

Now that you have an idea of how to prepare a power point presentation, complete the following tasks as instructed.

Task 1

Read the following passage. This passage is an excerpt from the same content provided so far about Ayurveda. You may follow these steps:

Step 1: Read the passage

Step 2: Identify the main idea in each paragraph

Step 3: Identify the supporting ideas under each main idea

Step 4: Look for visuals that can be incorporated

Step 5: Structure the main ideas and supporting ideas in various slides

Step 6: Add transition and animation

Step 7: Rehearse the timing to see if you can complete it within 5 minutes

Step 8: Present your slides in class

Balancing the Three Principal Energies of the Body

Ayurveda identifies three basic types of energy or functional principles that are present in everyone and everything. Since there are no single words in English that convey these concepts, we use the original Sanskrit words vata, pitta and kapha. These principles can be related to the basic biology of the body.

Energy is required to create movement so that fluids and nutrients get to the cells, enabling the body to function. Energy is also required to metabolize the nutrients in the cells, and is called for to lubricate and maintain the structure of the cell. Vata is the energy of movement; pitta is the energy of digestion or metabolism and kapha, the energy of lubrication and structure. All people have the qualities of vata, pitta and kapha, but one is usually primary, one secondary and the third is usually least prominent. The cause of disease in Ayurveda is viewed as a lack of proper cellular function due to an excess or deficiency of vata, pitta or kapha. Disease can also be caused by the presence of toxins.

In Ayurveda, body, mind and consciousness work together in maintaining balance. They are simply viewed as different facets of one's being. To learn how to balance the body, mind and consciousness requires an understanding of how vata, pitta and kapha work together. According to Ayurvedic philosophy the entire cosmos is an interplay of the energies of the five great elements—Space, Air, Fire, Water and Earth. Vata, pitta and kapha are combinations and permutations of these five elements that manifest as patterns present in all creation. In the physical body, vata is the subtle energy of movement, pitta the energy of digestion and metabolism, and kapha the energy that forms the body's structure.

Vata is the subtle energy associated with movement — composed of Space and Air. It governs breathing, blinking, muscle and tissue movement, pulsation of the heart, and all movements in the cytoplasm and cell membranes. In balance, vata promotes creativity and flexibility. Out of balance, vata produces fear and anxiety.

Pitta expresses as the body's metabolic system — made up of Fire and Water. It governs digestion, absorption, assimilation, nutrition, metabolism and body temperature. In balance, pitta promotes understanding and intelligence. Out of balance, pitta arouses anger, hatred and jealousy.

Kapha is the energy that forms the body's structure — bones, muscles, tendons — and provides the "glue" that holds the cells together, formed from Earth and Water. Kapha supplies the water for all bodily parts and systems. It lubricates joints, moisturizes the skin, and maintains immunity. In balance, kapha is expressed as love, calmness, and forgiveness. Out of balance, it leads to attachment, greed, and envy.

Life presents us with many challenges and opportunities. Although there is much over which we have little control, we do have the power to decide about some things, such as diet and lifestyle. To maintain balance and health, it is important to pay attention to these decisions. Diet and lifestyle appropriate to one's individual constitution strengthen the body, mind and consciousness. Give a passage. Let them prepare slides based on the info in the passage.

Task 2:

Prepare a video either with PowerPoint or using ScreenO'matic software for 5 minutes. You can use the same content as above and the slides you had prepared for the previous task.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Pre task:

Get into groups of two. Ask the following questions to each other.

Are you familiar with online shopping?
From how many sites have you purchased items?
How do you choose a product when you shop online?
What are the advantages and disadvantages of online shopping?

Have a discussion based on the above questions in groups of two and summarize your points. One of you may share it to the class.

Why is Product Description important?

Product description is like a heart-to-heart connect that the advertisers try to establish with potential customers. In this era of consumerism, people are looking for the most trending, most useful yet cost effective product. Many resources are spent in market analysis, product design and manufacturing. Despite all the efforts spend in creating it, if the product is not sold, then all previous efforts are in vain. That is why companies invest a substantiate amount in advertising.

What is the format of a product description?

Consider the following description of the product Oziva Plant Protein. This is found in the product website <https://www.oziva.in/collections/protein-shakes/products/oziva-superfood-plant-protein-finest-vegan-clean-protein-powder-with-plant-protein-ayurvedic-herbs-multivitamins-for-everyday-fitness>

You can see that the product has a 5-star rating. Its cost, size with details of the number of servings, flavour and the fact that it is authentic and can be returned is also highlighted.

The description doesn't stop there. After having highlighted the most important selling features of the product there is a brief description of the features in a greater detail. The heading “Why Is It A Must Have” surely will draw readers towards it.

Why Is It A Must Have

After this, there is another format in which the product features are further reinforced. But this time it is not descriptive sentences. Using icons to represent points is a new design format.

Thus, by saying that it is a must have, the product has created an artificial crisis in the mind of the potential customer. By continuing to explain what makes it good has compensated for the fear of lacking something had created. In other words, creating a need by promoting a lack or a void and then coming up with the solution that the product has to offer is the typical emotional roller-coaster that any product description would take you through. Therefore, it is not more about what you say about your product than how you say it.

In adding components of what makes it better, they have summed up the vitals that fitness lovers look for- vegan, non-GMO, Gluten free, Soy free, No added sugar and No added preservatives. It looks like a dream product for those who are on their path of fitness routines.

One may wonder how to use the product. Is it complicated? In the huge rush to work will one have the time to use this product daily? To address this the usage of the product is explained in one simple step. The product can be mixed or blended. Either ways it is simple to be consumed.

CIRCULAR

Pre-task:

Consider the following channels of communication. Write the various possibilities that each channel of communication has. You may select from the following list and write it in the space provided

Send messages, video chat, voice call, send images, send files, multi-media, social media, browsing, entertainment

Which is the fastest way to communicate? Group the communication channels into fast and slow.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

As you have listed, any communication that is digital, is faster and includes multiple features. You can explore the whole world with a smart phone. But in a professional context, it is important to be very clear, concise, precise, accurate, exact, and objective when important information is conveyed. There is no allowance for miscommunication in a professional space. Miscommunication can be costly and may also determine profit or loss for an organization. It can lead to multiple interpretations and employees performing in different ways leading to various unprecedented outcomes. Damage control at this level may lead to utilizing resources which could have been used to enhance productivity.

Although it might look outdated or slow, CIRCULARS are an effective way to exact communication that will ensure the details in the information provided are not lost in transmission. Take for example the messages you constantly communicate via whatsapp or messenger. Have you not encountered multiple instances where you were misunderstood despite having typed elaborate texts? Therefore, in professional contexts, circulars are used in order to ensure that misunderstandings and misinterpretations or distortion of facts are avoided.

Look at this sample circular. The following circular was obtained from this link: https://www.tn.gov.in/go\_view/dept/26

Note the use of passive voice to make the information objective and sound professional. Notice the reference made to two GOs and one Letter while mentioning the streams and educational institutions with reference to two previous communications.

The phrases that are commonly used in a circular as seen in the above example are as follows:

- “first read above”- reference to previous information
- “it has been ordered”- use of present perfect continuous
- “From 02.12.2020”- the exact date is mentioned
- “Accordingly, the Government hereby issues”- formal language
- “As ordered in the Government order first and second read above”- reference to two previous orders is reiterated. Repeating information will avoid ambiguity

This is a crucial circular regarding the reopening of educational institutions during the COVID19 situation in 2020. Colleges, universities, and streams are reopening in a phased manner. This circular conveys the information that Standard Operating Procedures must be followed while reopening the institutions. At a time when thousands of students and faculty are concerned about the course of their education, such a circular is timely and will quench doubts, fears, and apprehension regarding the reopening. Circulars are thus very important without which the employees and major stakeholders will not have the right information to pursue towards the right directions for their actions and decisions.

Task 5

Read the following circular and list the important information conveyed.

SCHOOL FEE CIRCULAR

Dear Parent,

In order to facilitate payment of School fee, DPS Society is introducing online school fee collection through net banking, RTGS/NEFT, Debit / Credit cards. ## MINUTES OF MEETING

Pre task:

You must be familiar with the acronyms used in text messaging and internet and such as “OMG” (Oh My God), “LOL” (Laughing Out Loud) “ROTFL” (Rolling on the Floor Laughing) etc. Can you guess the expansion of the following acronyms?

ASAP .....	EOD .....
IDK .....	FAQ .....
IDC .....	TBA .....
BRB .....	TBC .....
BFF .....	OT .....
BTW .....	NA .....

Source: <https://www.smart-words.org/abbreviations/text.html> You can refer to this webpage to get more interesting acronyms which you can use in your day to day text messaging and Internet communication.

Acronyms are used in contexts where a shorter version is required so that the focus can be on the other facts and information communicated. When we receive a message from another person, our mind processes the most vital inputs and accordingly prepares the body to react. Dangerous situation that requires flight, fright and fight responses are impulses directed by the minimum information that is processed. It is like the brain telling you “There is a fire, RUN” instead of “There is a fire, see how brightly it burns, wonder how hot it must be, what are the things that it could possibly destroy”. For our own survival evolution has wired our brains to assess situations and respond instantly.

Minutes of a meeting is a written document that records such vital information that happens in a controlled environment. It is a professional document that is empowered with validity, credibility, and sustainability such that any discrepancies in an organization about decisions taken may be sorted out in referring to the minutes. It is an acceptable document by the court of law when it comes to legal disputes.

Since the minutes of meeting is almost a legal document that is filed and circulated among the members who participated in the meeting, care is taken to format it in the right manner and to record the meeting as accurately as possible. Every organization may have its own policies, templates, or requirements about the minutes. Sometimes the final draft needs to be approved by members to be documented. All of these make the Minutes of Meeting an important and essential document.

Preparing for the meeting

Before the meeting commences, learn about the agenda of the meeting. Having a copy of the agenda as a template will be easier to organize the minutes after the meeting. Also have a list of participants and the list of those who are present in-absentia.

During the meeting

Even before the meeting starts, make a note of those participants who have arrived. Keeping the template with you will be easier for noting down minutes.

Note down key points of discussion and action taken. Unless it is very relevant you must not record every word stated by others. During disputes note down those who had disapproved of an action along with their reason. If need be use acronyms and avoid writing full sentences.

After the meeting

It is important to draft the minutes as soon as the meeting is over. The points of deliberations will be freshly remembered and can be recorded accurately. In some contexts, you might need to get the minutes approved before it is circulated among the members. The approving authority can be the chair of the meeting or the CEO or a few members from the board.

Format and proceedings of a meeting

SUMMARY AND PARAPHRASE

Pre task:

The following image captures a crucial part of Ramayana, the Great Indian Epic.

Write one sentence about this image:

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Write about the events related to this image in five sentences:

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

The pre-task that you just did shows how one image can be expressed in one sentence and in many sentences. Knowing how to compress ideas into one sentence or a paragraph and to explain ideas in your own words is an essential writing skill which will be very useful in several forms of writing such as: project reports and proposals, formal letters, product description, introductions, and in writing academic research papers.

Read the following article on "Scientific Contributions or Glories of Ancient Tamils. This article was written by Kandiah Thillaivinayagalingam (Disclaimer: The views expressed are the views of the author Kandiah Thillaivinayagalingam).

In the time of William Shakespeare, there were commonly reckoned to be five wits or five senses. At that time, the words "sense" and "wit" were synonyms, so the senses were known as the five outward wits. This traditional concept of five senses is common today, and Extrasensory perception is often called the sixth sense.

The traditional five senses are enumerated as the "five material faculties" (pañcannaṃ indriyāṇaṃ avakanti) in Buddhist literature. They appear in allegorical representation as early as in the Katha Upanishad (roughly 6th century BC), as five horses drawing the "chariot" of the body, guided by the mind as "chariot driver".

3 Depictions of the five traditional senses as allegory became a popular subject for seventeenth-century artists, especially among Dutch and Flemish Baroque painters. A typical example is Gérard de Lairesse's Allegory of the Five Senses (1668), in which each of the figures in the main group allude to a sense: Sight is the reclining boy with a convex mirror, hearing is the cupid-like boy with a triangle, smell is represented by the girl with flowers, taste is represented by the woman with the fruit, and touch is represented by the woman holding the bird.

4 Ancient Tamil Literature, Tholkappiyam is said to be the first written text in the world to describe six senses which related to external body parts. While the exact date of the Tholkappiyam is not known, based on linguistic and other evidence, it has been dated variously between the 5th century BCE and the 3rd century CE. While our sensory organs are capable of perceiving information only within the very narrow bandwidth of the particular sense, the mind is where the various perceptions come together to form a consensus of the truth. The individual senses of a person are incapable of knowing the absolute truth. It is impossible to simply touch a surface and know what it is made of. We can perceive, by touch, it is surface irregularities, whether it is soft or hard, and a relative indication of its temperature. We can tap on it, and in hearing the sound, determine that perhaps it is metal or glass if it is thin enough to send a true indication, but a sheet of glass that is 2-inches thick cannot be perceived as glass without sight. We need multiple sensory perceptions to be fed to the mind to assist in determining the truth. We hear a sound that may be lightening, a gunshot, or something hitting another thing. In most cases is it extremely difficult to ascertain the truth from a single instance of sensory perception. we must use our other senses and are mind to better discern the truth. The "oldest Tamil work on grammar, poetics" was the Tolkappiyam. The Tolkappiyam considers all native elements, especially all animate beings, as part of a continuous series graded by degrees of sentience. One of its verses says :

"beings with one sense are those that have the sense of TOUCH.

Beings with two senses are those that have the sense of TASTE along with the above.

Beings with three senses have sense of SMELL in addition.

Beings with four senses have sense of SIGHT, along with the above.

Beings with five senses have sense of HEARING, in addition.

The beings with six senses, have a MIND, along with the above."

Tholkappiyam, does not stop with this classification alone, it's also gives examples of beings in each of these classifications. For example: senses Grass (Pul) and Trees (Maram) have single sense, that is the sense of touch. Similar beings also form part of this branch (kilai). Snails (Nandhu) and Oysters or Molluscs (Mural) have two senses, the sense of touch and taste. Similar beings also form part of this branch (kilai) Termites (Sidhal) and Ants (Erumbu) have three senses, the sense of touch, taste and smell. Similar beings also form part of this branch (kilai). Crabs or Crustaceans (Nandu) and Dragonfly or Beetles (Thumbi) have four senses, the sense of touch, taste, smell and vision. Similar beings also form part of this branch (kilai). Horses, Elephants, Pigs (Maa) and Other similar animals and birds (Maakkal) have five senses, the sense of touch, taste, smell, vision and hearing. Similar beings also form part of this branch (kilai). Only humans have six senses, the sense of touch, taste, smell, vision, hearing and mind. Similar beings also form part of this branch (kilai).

Sixth sense, or subtle perception ability, is our ability to understand the subtle cause and effect relationship behind many events, which is beyond the understanding of the intellect. Extrasensory perception (ESP), clairvoyance, premonition, intuition are synonymous with sixth sense or subtle perception ability. Tholkappiyam is said to be the First in the world to describe the sixth sense which related to external body parts. Tholkappiyam verses explanation above is truly an amazing classification and proves that our Tamil ancestors not only an expert in literature and grammar, but obtained higher spiritual knowledge that is progressively of more universal need and of lasting importance in terms of a time span of centuries.

There are some errors in his above classifications, Considering the time or period he made these classifications. We can understand these mistakes. For example, beetles have no nose, they use their antennae to smell things. Similarly, Snails are strange-looking creatures with shells and large stalks sticking out of the tops of their heads. Because most snails are small, it can be difficult to see their primary features. However, snails do have eyes and vision, though the exact location of the eyes and their use depends on the specific type of snail. Snails don't rely on sight as much as humans, but it's still one of their senses.

A summary contains a gist of a larger content. Any type or genre of text can be summarized. An action that is witnessed live in the cricket stadium is summarized by the commentator in various instances. A person caught speeding summarizes his predicament to the police who will not perhaps listen to elaborate details. A doctor would require you to summarize the details of your ailment as many other patients are waiting with similar if not more ailments. When you are asked the question "tell us something about yourself" although you might have had several years of experience and skills unmatched, yet you have to summarize and express your best in a minute or two.

The purpose of a summary is to present the best or the essence of the substance in as brief a manner as possible. Care should be taken that the most important information is included in a summary. The challenge is not only to include the essential information but also to ensure that the bits and pieces that are combined make sense.

A summary is also like a big picture or a bird's eye view of the entire content. It will make sense to go through a summary of a document rather than to peruse word for word if there is a time constraint.

Technique to write a good summary:

- Read the entire content and understand it completely
- Identify the core or the theme of the content
- Draw a concept map of the theme and how it is connected to various other themes
- The key words in the concept map should be a part of your summary
- Understand the author's perspective and conclusion.
- Connect the dots and write it all in your own words.

The traditional five senses are enumerated as the "five material faculties" (pañcannaṃ indriyānaṃ avakanti) in Buddhist literature. They appear in allegorical representation as early as in the Katha Upanishad (roughly 6th century BC), as five horses drawing the "chariot" of the body, guided by the mind as "chariot driver".

The traditional concept of five senses common during the time of William Shakespeare which is called five material faculties in Buddhist Literature appear in the Katha Upanishad.

Task 9

Read the above passage and answer the following questions.

1. What is the central idea of the passage?
2. What are the supporting ideas?
3. What is the conclusion?

After having identified the answers to the above questions, write it in a paragraph. What you have is a summary.

A paraphrase is aimed at providing all the information in a content in your own words. It is like explaining a movie in detail to your friend who wants to know everything that happens in a movie before watching it. You may not repeat all the dialogues that appeared in the movie in the exact same way. You will narrate the movie in your own words. A paraphrase serves similar purpose. It is a humble way of saying that the content that you are refereeing to is not written by you. It is to acknowledge that the author of the content is someone else.

Paraphrasing will therefore include all the details in your own words. In case there may be sentences or phrases that need to be included as it is, they can be used within quotations.

Example of a paraphrase

4 Ancient Tamil Literature, Tholkappiyam is said to be the first written text in the world to describe six senses which related to external body parts. While the exact date of the Tholkappiyam is not known, based on linguistic and other evidence, it has been dated variously between the 5th century BCE and the 3rd century CE. While our sensory organs are capable of perceiving information only within the very narrow bandwidth of the particular sense, the mind is where the various perceptions come together to form a consensus of the truth. The individual senses of a person are incapable of knowing the absolute truth. It is impossible to simply touch a surface and know what it is made of. We can perceive, by touch, its surface irregularities, whether it is soft or hard, and a relative indication of its temperature. We can tap on it, and in hearing the sound, determine that perhaps it is metal or glass if it is thin enough to send a true indication, but a sheet of glass that is 2-inches thick cannot be perceived as glass without sight. We need multiple sensory perceptions to be fed to the mind to assist in determining the truth. We hear a sound that may be lightening, a gunshot, or something hitting another thing. In most cases it is extremely difficult to ascertain the truth from a single instance of sensory perception. We must use our other senses and our mind to better discern the truth. The "oldest Tamil work on grammar, poetics" was the Tolkappiyam. The Tolkappiyam considers all native elements, especially all animate beings, as part of a continuous series graded by degrees of sentience. One of its verses says : "beings with one sense are those that have the sense of TOUCH.

Beings with two senses are those that have the sense of TASTE along with the above.

Beings with three senses have sense of SMELL in addition.

Beings with four senses have sense of SIGHT, along with the above.

Beings with five senses have sense of HEARING, in addition.

The beings with six senses, have a MIND, along with the above."

Tholkappiyam of Ancient Tamil Literature describes the six-sense related to external body parts. Although the exact date of its composition is not known it is placed somewhere between 5 BCE and 3 CE. More than our senses it is within our mind that we realize perceptions of truth. Interaction of multiple sensory perceptions are needed to get a complete understanding of the world around us. If objects were perceived with individual senses that do not interact, we would get a distorted view of reality. It is difficult to understand reality from a single sensory perception. Tholkappiyam describes all sentient beings as beings with varied senses such as beings with one, two, three, four, five and six sense having the sense having the sense of touch, taste, smell, sight, hearing, and mind in this order. In each level of sense organism one sense is added beginning with one sense organism through six sense organisms.

Punctuation and Capitalization

(Source: <https://www.teachstarter.com/au/blog/26-punctuation-resources-activities/>)

Punctuation

The system of signs or symbols, such as full stop, comma and exclamatory mark, used in written language is called Punctuation. Punctuation marks show a reader how a sentence is constructed and how it should be read. Every sentence should include at least a capital letter at the start, and a full stop / exclamation mark or question mark at the end.

Why Punctuation matters?

Life would be confusing without proper punctuation.

Look at these sentences

1. some people find inspiration in cooking their families and dogs

Vs.

Some people find inspiration in cooking, their families and dogs.

2. let's eat grandpa

Vs

"Let's eat, Grandpa!"

The sentences convey totally different things as per the proper usage of punctuations.

For the sake of family members and Grandpa's life, use proper punctuation. Punctuation saves lives and keeps people alive!

3. Now, this is a big one. Depending upon where you place your comma, your sentence could convey an entirely different meaning. Like in this sentence:

a woman without her man is nothing

"A woman, without her man, is nothing." (A woman's success depends on her man)

Now, let's change up where we're placing the punctuation:

"A woman: without her, man is nothing." (A man's success is possible only with the help of a woman)

Here is an infographic on various punctuations used in English

CAPITALIZATION

Capitalization is one of the most basic and important elements of writing. Capitalization draws the reader's attention to names, titles, and more. Capitalization also marks the start of new sentences and new paragraphs, provides signals to the reader, and helps to create a structure and a hierarchy in written language.

Basic Capitalization Rules

- 1. Capitalize proper nouns. Proper nouns always begin with a capital letter. Capitals are used
  - To indicate the names of people, such as Vijay, David or Anwar.
  - To denote the names of months and days, such as January, August, Sunday, Thursday
  - To denote days of national/international importance, such as Independence Day, Women's Day
  - Finally, proper nouns also include the names of buildings, landmarks, and companies, such as the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the Statue of Liberty, or Verizon
- 2. Use capitalization with proper adjectives.
  - Indian, American, Italian, German
- 3. Capitalize titles of works.
  - A Tale of Two Cities, Titanic, Ode to A Nightingale, Beats
- 4. Use a capital at the beginning of a sentence. The first word of every sentence should be capitalized, regardless of what kind of word.
- 5. Capitalize the first word of a full sentence in a quotation. You also need to capitalize the first word of sentences in quotes.
He said to me, "I'd rather have pizza."
- 6. Use capitalization when referring to a period or an event.
  - The Chola Period.

7. Capitalization with the pronoun "I." One of the most notable words to make sure to capitalize is the pronoun "I." I refer to oneself, and is as a result, a unique and a specific usage of a word.

8. Capitalize family relationships.

- Aunt Preethi" or "Cousin Ajith."

9. Capitalize people's titles.

- Mr. Ms. Miss, and Dr.

Remember these punctuation rules while writing:

PUNCTUATION RULES

ENGLISH PUNCTUATION

RULE 1 Every sentence must end with a full stop.

Proper nouns (names of people, places, brands, etc, i.e. unique instances of a class) must always be capitalised.

RULE 2

RULE 3 When you use opening quotation marks, do not forget to use closing quotation marks at the end of the quoted word or phrase.

Quotation marks are when quoting or sometimes to convey irony, not for emphasis; emphasis is conveyed by emboldening or italicisation, followed by an exclamation mark.

RULE 4

RULE 5 Do not use an apostrophe when you are pluralising a word. The plural of toy is toys, not toy's. Apostrophes are used to form contractions (it is = it's) and indicate possession.

The ellipsis, used to indicate variously the intentional omission of a section of text, an unfinished thought, and a trailing off into silence, consists of only 3 dots. It is pointless to add more dots to an ellipsis

RULE 6

RULE 7 As per the rules of British English, any punctuation mark that is not part of a quoted section of text must be placed outside the quotation marks.

 Do not link independent clauses with commas. Independent clauses are groupings of words that can stand alone as sentences.

RULE 8

RULE 9 Use a comma after the introductory element of a sentence. The introductory element is a word or a phrase that begins a sentence by providing background, or simply modifies it.

Activity 1

Analyse the Story given below and list down the various punctuations mentioned in the story and write their definition.

E.g.

1. Comma – Used for pausing; took its place between words; without the break commas provide, words run amok, becoming jumbled, unwieldy, and confusing; a well-placed comma can change the meaning of a sentence.

The Day Punctuation Came to Town

Written by Kimberlee Gard / Illustrated by Sandie Sonke

The Punctuations had just moved to Alphabet City and the kids—Exclamation Point, Question Mark, Period, and Comma—were excited about their first day of school. Exclamation Point was in a rush to get there. "We are going to have so much fun!" he said. He "was always excited about something." Question Mark was a little more subdued. She wondered if the other kids would be nice and even pondered whether they were walking in the right direction. "Comma kept pausing," and Period said she would let her siblings know when to stop.

When they got to school and introduced themselves, the student letters were confused. They'd never seen anyone like the Punctuations before. As the letters practiced forming words, Exclamation Point joined W, O, and W; Question Mark helped out W, H, and O; and "Period brought each sentence to a tidy end." For Comma, though, it wasn't so easy. As he tried to squeeze in between letters, he began to feel as if he was just a bother. Undetected, he tiptoed away.

Meanwhile in the classroom, Exclamation Point had all the letters scrambling to make more and more exciting words. There was a lot of cheering and booming, ducking, and running. Question Mark asked if maybe they shouldn't all quiet down a bit, but no one was listening. Even Period couldn't get them to stop. Pretty soon, there was a huge word pileup. In the next moment it came crashing down and all the letters "tumbled through the door, spilling into the hall." There, they found Comma, who just stared in disbelief. His siblings wondered why he was in the hall instead of in the classroom. Comma told them how he felt. But "Comma, without you, things become a disaster!" Exclamation Point said. Period and Question Mark agreed.

The Punctuations joined the class. The letters worked to make words. Exclamation Point, Question Mark, and Period joined in the fun.

Exclamation Point added excitement to words. Question Mark asked a lot of questions.

Period brought each sentence to a tidy end.

Comma tried not to get stepped on and fit in wherever he could.

Then his siblings gently reminded little Comma about how each member of their family has a certain purpose. They told him, "we all work together to help letters and the words they make." Once everyone had gone back into the classroom, the letters continued making words. But now Comma took his place between them. When the letters looked confused, he explained that it was his job to keep order and that words and punctuation needed each other to make good and clear sentences.

For children just learning about sentence structure and how punctuation and words fit together to create meaning, Kimberlee Gard's lively story helps them visualize and understand the different roles of each punctuation mark. Coming at the end of a sentence and accompanied by vocal clues, exclamation points, question marks, and periods are more familiar to kids. But what about that comma, which seems to float around here and there? Gard demonstrates that without the break commas provide, words run amok, becoming jumbled, unwieldy, and confusing. Readers will respond to the classroom setting, where the letters work and play together during lessons, and they will be eager to make friends with the Punctuation family themselves.

If any readers think learning about punctuation is dry and dull, Sandie Sonke's vibrant colors and cartoon characters will change their mind. The Punctuations (and their butterfly friend Apostrophe) are sweet and earnest, wanting to fit into the class and make a difference. As the letters form words, the purple Punctuations are easy for kids to pick out, allowing for discussion of their distinct roles. The tangled piles of letters invite kids to make words from the muddle. After Comma realizes his own importance and the letters embrace him, the story ends with a familiar and funny example of just how a well-placed comma can change the meaning of a sentence.

Tamil Nadu State Council for Higher Education(TANSCH)

Syllabus

Second Semester Professional Communication Course for Arts and Science Colleges

Hours: 60

Objectives:

The Professional Communication Skills Course is intended to help Learners in Arts and Science colleges,

- Develop their competence in the use of English with particular reference to the workplace situation.
- Enhance the creativity of the students, which will enable them to think of innovative ways to solve issues in the workplace.
- Develop their competence and competitiveness and thereby improve their employability skills.
- Help students with a research bent of mind develop their skills in writing reports and research proposals.

Unit 1- Communicative Competence

Listening – Listening to two talks/lectures by specialists on selected subject specific topics -(TED Talks) and answering comprehension exercises (inferential questions)

Speaking: Small group discussions (the discussions could be based on the listening and reading passages- open ended questions

Reading: Two subject-based reading texts followed by comprehension activities/exercises

Writing: Summary writing based on the reading passages.

Grammar and vocabulary exercises/tasks to be designed based on the discourse patterns of the listening and reading texts in the book. This is applicable for all the units.

Unit 2 - Persuasive Communication

Listening: listening to a product launch- sensitizing learners to the nuances of persuasive communication

Speaking: debates – Just-A Minute Activities

Reading: reading texts on advertisements ( on products relevant to the subject areas) and answering inferential questions

Writing: dialogue writing- writing an argumentative /persuasive essay.

Unit 3- Digital Competence

Listening to interviews (subject related)

Speaking: Interviews with subject specialists (using video conferencing skills)

Creating Vlogs (How to become a vlogger and use vlogging to nurture interests – subject related)

Reading: Selected sample of Web Page (subject area)

Writing: Creating Web Pages

Reading Comprehension: Essay on Digital Competence for Academic and Professional Life.

The essay will address all aspects of digital competence in relation to MS Office and how they can be utilized in relation to work in the subject area

Unit 4 - Creativity and Imagination

Listening to short (2 to 5 minutes) academic videos (prepared by EMRC/ other MOOC videos on Indian academic sites – E.g. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tpvicScuDy0>)

Speaking: Making oral presentations through short films – subject based

Reading: Essay on Creativity and Imagination (subject based)

Writing – Basic Script Writing for short films (subject based)

- Creating webpages, blogs, flyers and brochures (subject based)
- Poster making – writing slogans/captions(subject based)

Unit 5- Workplace Communication& Basics of Academic Writing

Speaking: Short academic presentation using PowerPoint

Reading & Writing: Product Profiles, Circulars, Minutes of Meeting.

Writing an introduction, paraphrasing

Punctuation(period, question mark, exclamation point, comma, semicolon, colon, dash, hyphen, parentheses, brackets, braces, apostrophe, quotation marks, and ellipsis)

Capitalization (use of upper case)

Outcomes of the Course

At the end of the course, learners will be able to,

- Attend interviews with boldness and confidence.
  - Adapt easily into the workplace context, having become communicatively competent.
  - Apply to the Research &Development organisations/ sections in companies and offices with winning proposals.

Preface

The textbook on Professional English envisioned under the leadership of the Hon. Chief Minister of Tamilnadu, Thiru. Edappadi K.Palaniswami by the Honorable Minister for Higher Education Thiru. K.P. Anbalagan, and Principal Secretary to Government, Department of Higher Education, Selvi. Apoorva, I.A.S., is a pioneering venture and strategic intervention in higher education in Tamil Nadu. It has been prepared with the unstinted support of Thiru. Vivekanandan, I.A.S. Member Secretary, TANSCH (Tamil Nadu State Council for Higher Education)

Tamil Nadu has the distinction of having the highest GER (Gross Enrolment Ratio) of 49%, in higher education in the country: this figure attests to the efforts of the government to empower the youth of the state by enhancing access to higher education.

After duly examining the challenges faced by students in learning their subjects and with a vision to equip them to compete in a global scenario, four textbooks, English for Physical Science, English for Life Sciences, English for Arts and Social Sciences and English for Commerce and Management have been prepared.

As language is an essential tool with regard to the learning process, a textbook which uses subject/discipline based content to leverage language learning is an ideal approach and fulfills the dual objective language proficiency and professional competence.

The book is bound to fulfill its destiny as teachers and students work in tandem: teachers as facilitators and learners as highly motivated stakeholders.

DISCLAIMER

Some of the passages given for Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing lend themselves to the teaching of Grammar items. However, testing and evaluation does not include Grammar. This material is not for publication: it is only for training purposes.

Unit I

Communicative Competence

Listening : Listening to two talks/lectures by specialists on selected subject specific topics -(TED Talks) and answering comprehension exercises (inferential questions)

Speaking : Small group discussions (the discussions could be based on the listening and reading passages- open ended questions)

Reading :Two subject-based reading texts followed by comprehension activities/exercises

Writing: Summary writing based on the reading passages.

Introductory Exercise

Read the quotes given below and select the one you like very much. Give reasons for selecting it.

1. The truth is like a lion; you don't have to defend it. Let it loose; It will defend itself.(St.Augustine)

4. Sociology	the branch of study dealing with the state and systems of government
5. Archaeology	the branch of study concerned with the production, distribution and consumption of things
6. Literature	the study of the mind and behavior

Listening

A. Listen to the speech by Martin Luther King Jr on Emancipation of Negroes.

Transcript of the Listening passage

I am happy to join with you today in what will go down in history as the greatest demonstration for freedom in the history of our nation. Five score years ago, a great American*, in whose symbolic shadow we stand today, signed the emancipation proclamation. This momentous decree came as a great beacon light of hope to millions of Negro slaves who had been seared in the flames of withering injustice. It came as a joyous daybreak to end the long night of their captivity. But one hundred years later, the Negro still is not free. One hundred years later, the life of the Negro is still sadly crippled by the manacles of segregation and the chains of discrimination. One hundred years later, the Negro lives on a lonely island of poverty. I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed. "We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal. I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood. I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the heat of injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice. I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the colour of their skin but by the content of their character. I have a dream today, that one day, down in Alabama with its vicious racists, with its Governor having his lips dripping with the words of "interposition" and "nullification". One day right there in Alabama little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls as sisters and brothers. I have a dream today that one day every valley shall be exalted and every hill and mountain shall be made low, the rough places will be made plain and the crooked places will be made straight and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed. This is our hope and this is the faith that I go back to the south with. With this faith, we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith, we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood. With this faith we will be able to work together, to play together, to struggle together, to go to jail together, to stand up for freedom together, knowing that we will be free one day. And this will be the day when all of God's children will be able to sing with a new meaning. And if America is to be a great nation, this must become true. And also let freedom ring from the prodigious hilltops of New Hampshire. Let freedom ring from the mighty mountains of New York. Let freedom ring from the snow-capped Rockies of Colorado. Let freedom ring from the heightening Alleghenies of Pennsylvania. Let freedom ring from every hill and molehill of Mississippi. From every mountainside, let freedom ring. And when this happens and when we allow freedom to ring, when we let it ring from every village and hamlet, we will be able to speed up that day when all of God's children, black men and white men, Jews and gentiles, protestants and catholics will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual. Free at last.

Dan Gilbert's Speech on The psychology of your future self (Transcript)

At every stage of our lives we make decisions that will profoundly influence the lives of the people we're going to become, and then when we become those people, we're not always thrilled with the decisions we made. So young people pay good money to get tattoos removed that teenagers paid good money to get. Middle-aged people rushed to divorce people who young adults rushed to marry. Older adults work hard to lose what middle-aged adults worked hard to gain. On and on and on. The question is, as a psychologist, that fascinates me is, why do we make decisions that our future selves so often regret?

Now, I think one of the reasons -- I'll try to convince you today — is that we have a fundamental misconception about the power of time. Every one of you knows that the rate of change slows over the human lifespan, that your children seem to change by the minute but your parents seem to change by the year. But what is the name of this magical point in life where change suddenly goes from a gallop to a crawl? Is it teenage years? Is it middle age? Is it old age? The answer, it turns out, for most people, is now, wherever now happens to be. What I want to convince you today is that all of us are walking around with an illusion, an illusion that history, our personal history, has just come to an end, that we have just recently become the people that we were always meant to be and will be for the rest of our lives.

Let me give you some data to back up that claim. So here's a study of change in people's personal values over time. Here are three values. Everybody here holds all of them, but you probably know that as you grow, as you age, the balance of these values shifts. So how does it do so? Well, we asked thousands of people. We asked half of them to predict for us how much their value would change in the next 10 years, and the others to tell us how much their value had changed in the last 10 years. And this enabled us to do a really interesting kind of analysis, because it allowed us to compare the predictions of people, say, 18 years old, to the reports of people who were 28, and to do that kind of analysis throughout the lifespan.

Here's what we found. First of all, you are right, change does slow down as we age, but second, you're wrong, because it doesn't slow nearly as much as we think. At every age, from 18 to 68 in our data set, people vastly underestimated how much change they would experience over the next 10 years. We call this the "end of history" illusion. To give you an idea of the magnitude of this effect, you can connect these two lines, and what you see here is that 18-year-olds anticipate changing only as much as 50-year-olds actually do.

Now it's not just values. It's all sorts of other things. For example, personality. Many of you know that psychologists now claim that there are five fundamental dimensions of personality: neuroticism, openness to experience, agreeableness, extraversion, and conscientiousness. Again, we asked people how much they expected to change over the next 10 years, and also how much they had changed over the last 10 years, and what we found, well, you're going to get used to seeing this diagram over and over, because once again the rate of change does slow as we age, but at every age, people underestimate how much their personalities will change in the next decade.

The bottom line is, time is a powerful force. It transforms our preferences. It reshapes our values. It alters our personalities. We seem to appreciate this fact, but only in retrospect. Only when we look backwards do we realize how much change happens in a decade. It's as if, for most of us, the present is a magic time. It's a watershed on the timeline. It's the moment at which we finally become ourselves. Human beings are works in progress that mistakenly think they're finished. The person you are right now is as transient, as fleeting and as temporary as all the people you've ever been. The one constant in our life is change.

I. Based on Dan Gilbert's Speech on the psychology of your future self, answer the following questions

PART A:

- 1) What do you think is the field of the speaker?
- 2) What is the regret of the speaker as regards our past decisions?
- 3) How does the speaker express his opinion about the pace of change of people in relation to their age?
- 4) Which components are presented as the five dimensions of & human personality?
- 5) How does "Time" impact upon people and their decisions?

PART B: Based on Dan Gilbert's Speech on The psychology of your future self, state whether the following statements are true or false.

- (i) People usually underestimated how much change they would experience over the next 10 years.
- (ii) Every one of you does not know that the rate of change slows down in people as they age.
- (iii) Every ten years there seem to come changes in people's inclination towards various aspects of human life like music, dress, and food and so on.
- (iv) Time is not a powerful force.
- (v) The passing of years reshapes our values and alter our personalities

PART C: Match the following words and their meanings:-

Sl.No.	PART - A	PART - B
i	Misconception	Increasing at a fast pace
ii	Gallop	Wrong understanding of something
iii	Neuroticism	The quality of being energetic and not shy
iv	Extraversion	The tendency to experience negative emotions
v	Retrospect	Deeply
vi	Profoundly	A survey or review of past course of action

Do's and Don'ts of Interview

- Do your homework properly
- Be careful to make a first good impression
- Listen and respond accordingly
- Be prepared for smart, open ended questions from the interviewers
- Sell your strengths and experience
- Don't speak poorly about your present or former employers
- Don't falsify information
- Don't speak irrelevantly

Answer the following questions

1. How would you do your homework for an interview?
2. What would you do to make a first good impression?
3. Sell your strengths and experience- Explain
4. What types of questions would you expect from the interviewers?
5. How will you conduct yourself when an interviewer poses a series of questions?

Speaking

A. The importance of “speaking” can be learnt from the fact that language is primarily spoken.

Speaking skills play a very important role in the learning of any language. Along with writing, it is considered to be an active/productive skill. The passive skills are: listening and reading. For the acquirement of active skills, passive skills provide inputs. All the four skills are equally important. In this section, the emphasis is laid on speaking skill.

1. Speaking –Preparatory Activity

Illustrate in your own words, the following states of mind

- (i) Joy
- (ii) Melancholy
- (iii) Despair
- (iv) Disgust
- (v) Jubilation

2. Match the following words with their meanings

	Words	Their meanings

The Concept of “Society” and its Characteristics

Key Concepts – (Society, Community, Culture, Institutions)

Society

The term society is derived from a Latin word socius. The term directly means association, togetherness, gregariousness, or simply group life. The concept of society refers to a relatively large grouping or collectivity of people who share more or less common and distinct culture, occupying a certain geographical locality, with the feeling of identity or belongingness, having all the necessary social arrangements or institutions to sustain itself. ‘Man is a social animal’, said Aristotle centuries ago. Man needs society for his living, working and enjoying life.

According to MacIver, “Society is a web of social relationship” .

According to Lapiere, “The term society refers not to group of people, but to the complex pattern of the norms of interaction, that arise among and between them”.

According to Ginsberg, “A society is a collection of individuals united by certain relations or modes of behavior which marks them off from others who do not enter into the relations or who differ from them in behaviour”.

Characteristics of Society

- Society depends on Likeness. The principle of likeness is essential for society. Likeness refers to the similarities. Society exists among those who have the similarities with regard to their needs, goals, outlook, values etc.
- Society rests on Differences too. If men are exactly alike, their social relationships would be very much limited. There would be little give and take, or little reciprocity, if there would be no differences.
- Co-operation: Society is based on Co-operation. It is the essential part of our social life. Co-operation arises when men realize that they have common interests. It refers to the mutual working together for the attainment of a common goal.
- Interdependence. Social relationships are characterised by Interdependence. One depends upon the other for the satisfaction of one’s needs.
- Society is Dynamic: Change is ever present in society. No society can ever remain constant for any length of time. Changes may take place slowly and gradually or suddenly.

- Culture: Each society is unique because it has its own way of life, called culture. Culture is not society, but an element of society. Human society constitutes interacting people; while culture is patterning of their behaviour. According to Tylor, “culture includes knowledge, law, morals, customs or any other capabilities and habits acquired by man as a member of society”.
- Mutual Interaction and Mutual Awareness: Society is composed of people. Without people there can be no society, no social relationships and no social life at all. Individuals are in continuous interaction with other individuals of society. Society is understood as a network of social relationships. But all relations are social relations. Social relationships exist only when the members are aware of each other. Social interaction is made possible because of mutual awareness.
- Social Control: Society has its own ways and means of controlling the behaviour of its members. Along with co-operation, competition and conflict exist in society. Hence, the behaviour and activities of people are to be regulated by informal and formal means of social control.

Community

A community is a social unit that shares common values, or a group of interacting living organisms sharing an environment. Communities may share a sense of place situated in a given geographical area (e.g. a country, village, town, or neighbourhood) or in virtual space through communication platforms.

According to Bogardus, “Community is a social group with some degree of ‘we feeling’ and living in a given area”.

According to Kingsley Davis, “Community is the smallest territorial group that can embrace all aspects of social life”.

Vocabulary

Passage 1

Peruse the following passage and answer the following questions

Crop Groups

1. Kharif Crops: Also called the summer crops, they are sown before the onset of the rainy season from May to July and harvested after the rains in September and October. Rice and millets are major kharif crops of India.
2. Rabi Crops: Also called the winter crops, they are sown in the beginning of the winter season from October to December and harvested before the summer season from February to April. Wheat, barley and oilseeds (mustard) are rabi crops.
3. Zaid Crops: These are the short duration crops grown after the harvest of the kharif or rabi crops before the next major season. The crops sown in February to April and harvested by June and July are called the Zaid Rabi crops. Green vegetables are main crops of this season. Similarly, after the harvest of the kharif crops in September are grown some crops to be harvested before sowing the rabi crops in November and December. They are called zaid kharif crops. Oil seeds and some pulses are grown in this season.
4. Food crops: These are the crops that serve as food, and all food grains and pulse and most oilseeds are included here. They can be further divided as food grains, pulses, oil seeds and beverages.
5. Food grains: These are grains consumed in various forms by man. The most important food grains in India are rice, wheat, maize, jowar and bajra.

6. Pulses: The important pulses grown in India include gram, mung, urad and masur. They are also grain crops but they are not the staple food of the people.
7. Oilseeds: These crops yield seeds from which oil is expelled. Mustard, rapeseed, groundnut, linseed and castor are the examples.
8. Beverages: The most important beverage crops of India are tea and coffee.
9. Subsistence Crops: These crops are grown primarily for own consumption by farmers and only a small portion enters the market. Cultivation of rice in west Bengal is an example of subsistence cropping.
10. Commercial crops: Also called the cash crops, they are grown mainly for the market. Cotton and sugarcane are important commercial crops.
11. Plantation Crops: In some cases, the crop is planted once and it provides yield for many years. Such plantations are managed like an industry. Tea, coffee, rubber, coconut and spices are examples of such crops.
12. Spices: Pepper, cardamom, red chilly and turmeric are examples of spices.
13. Fibre Crops: Also grown as cash crops, this group includes the plant that yield fibres; Jute and cotton are fibre crops.
14. Fodder Crops: These are crops harvested generally when green and used as cattle fodder. Berseem is one example of such a crop.

Answer the following questions based on the passage given above

1. When do farmers raise kharif crops?
2. How are Rabi crops called?
3. When does the cultivation of Rabi crops take place?
4. Which is the cultivation period of zaid crops?

Reading Passage 2

Pre-Reading Activity

It is generally said that the heartbeat of a nation is heard in its literature. Study of literature both teaches and delights. Reading of literary texts greatly helps people improve their language skills and it provides them with happiness as well. There are many interesting literary genres like poetry, short story, novel, drama and so on.

Which writers' works have you read? What are the interesting aspects of those works? Which writer or poet impresses you very much and why. After the reading of a literary work, be it novel or poetry or short story, discuss its various aspects with your friend.

Reading:

State and Government

Government is often used as a synonym for the 'state'. But both the government and the state are two different entities. There are differences between the state and the government.

State

1. State consists of population, territory, government and sovereignty.
2. State possesses original powers.
3. State is permanent and continues forever.
4. State is abstract and invisible.

Government

1. Government is part of the state.
2. Powers of the government are derived from the state.
3. Government is temporary. It may come and go.
4. Government is concrete and is visible.

Branches of Government and Their Functions.

According to Prof. Laski, law-making is not the only function of the legislature but its real function is to watch the process of administration to safeguard the liberties of citizens. The legislature of the union is called the parliament in India. It consists of two chambers Loksabha and Rajyasabha. There are 545 members in Loksabha and 260 members in Rajyasabha. Loksabha gets dissolved every five years but Rajyasabha is permanent. The term of a Loksabha MP is five years whereas in the case of Rajyasabha it is six years. The first speaker of Independent India is Mavalankar.

Powers and Functions of the Executive

Enforcing law and maintaining peace and order, maintaining friendly relations with other states, making appointments to higher posts, convening the sessions of the legislature and conducting business, issuing ordinances whenever the legislature is not in session. Powers to grant pardon, reprieve or remission of punishment are the important functions of the Executive.

Powers and Functions of the Legislature

The primary function of all legislatures is the making of law. In most systems, however, legislatures also have other tasks, such as selection and criticism of the government activities, supervision of administration, appropriation of funds, ratification of treaties, impeachment of executive and judicial officials, acceptance or refusal of executive nominations, determination of election procedures, and public hearings on petitions. Hence, legislatures are not simply law-making bodies. According to Laski, the British parliament is said to be 'the mother of parliaments'. It is the oldest legislature in the world.

In size, the British House of Commons, with more than 600 members, is among the largest; in contrast, numerous small island countries have legislative bodies with fewer than 20 members. Bicameral legislatures are common in many countries, particularly those with a federal system of government, such as the United States, Australia, Brazil, Canada, Germany, and India. Unicameral legislatures are typical in small countries and in those with a unitary system of government, such as New Zealand and Denmark.

The functions of legislature are enacting laws, overseeing administration, passing the budget, hearing public grievances, and discussing subjects like development plans, national policies, and international relations.

Powers and Functions of the Judiciary

Judiciary is the important organ of the government. Its main function is to interpret laws and to administer justice. The welfare of citizens depends to a larger extent upon the judiciary. Judiciary is the most important pillar of democracy. Its interpretation of law ensures justice, equality and liberty to all its citizen. An independent and impartial judiciary is an essential requisite of a democratic setup. The Supreme Court of India consists of a Chief Justice and other judges. The Supreme Court has its permanent seat in Delhi. States in India have High Courts. There are District Courts and so on. The verdict of Supreme Court is ultimate.

Important Functions of Judiciary

1. Administration of justice.
2. To determine what is law and what is the scope and meaning of it.
3. To give advisory opinion on matters referred to it.

Types of Governments

Parliamentary and Presidential

In a democracy, the Government may be either parliamentary or presidential depending on the relation between the executive and the legislature. If the executive of cabinet is drawn from the legislature and when the two departments work in union in maintaining harmony, such a form of government is known as cabinet or parliamentary form. When the two departments remained independent of one another but at the same time provision is made for points of contact between the two by the one checking the other so as to maintain the balance, such a form of government is known as presidential. The best example of parliamentary types of government is known as parliamentary. The best example of presidential type of government is known as presidential. The best example of a parliamentary type of Government is provided by Britain and India for Presidential, the U.S.A. “Mother of Parliament” is a title often given to the British parliament. In India the president is considered to be supreme commander of the three armed forces.

Constitution

Every country has its own constitution, and the term ‘constitution’ means to establish; thus a constitution is established as the basis of Government either by the Constituent Assembly or by the process of evolved one by customs, British Constitution is an evolved one by customs, tradition and conventions. Now we shall discuss the definition and meaning of constitutions. Gettle has said that the constitution consists of those basic principles which determine the form of a state. It is the most important legal document of the state, as constitution helps to maintain law and order in the state. According to A.V Dicey, constitution refers to “all the rules which directly or indirectly affect the distribution of the exercise of sovereign power in the state”.

These constitutions are referred to as the fundamental law of the land, rule of the state and corner stone of the state system; constitutions also determine the relationship between the people and the state. It prescribes the right of the citizen; hence, Laski observed that a constitution is known by the rights it provides to the citizen. Hence, it is obvious that a state small or big, strong or weak must have a constitution of its own.

Purpose of the Constitution

The purpose of the constitution is to ensure an orderly establishment, it also guarantees fundamental rights to the citizens, defines the power and functions of executive, legislature and judiciary. It also regulates the relationship between the state and the associations existing under it.

C. Make a summary of the following passage

Egypt has one of the longest histories of any nation in the world. The ancient Greek historian Herodotus called Egypt “the Gift of the Nile.” The valley of the Nile River was one of the birthplaces of civilization, and for more than 2000 years Egypt was one of the richest and most civilized lands in the ancient world. Much of what we know about this great civilization has been learned from its art and architecture. In particular, the ruins of tombs and temples have provided a valuable record of Egyptian life.

The Egyptians were extremely religious, and their belief in life after death was an important part of their culture. They believed that, for the spirit to live on, the dead person’s body had to be preserved, or mummified and buried, along with supplies of food and drink, tools and utensils, valued possessions – all the things the person had needed or enjoyed on earth. Kings and other wealthy persons had elaborate tombs built. Sculptures and wall paintings in the tombs were also created for use in the next life.

The Step Pyramid was the first stone building in history and the first of the many pyramids to appear in the next 1000 years. The Step Pyramid was designed as a tomb for King Zoser and members of his family. It was an unusual pyramid because of its broad terraces or steps. The form of the pyramid that we are familiar with developed soon thereafter. The most important and famous pyramids are the three Great Pyramids at Giza, on the west bank of the Nile River. These pyramids were meant to house the Pharaohs’ bodies and serve as reminders of their almighty power. The giant statue known as the Sphinx – part human and part beast – has mystified and fascinated travellers for centuries.

Cairo, the capital of Egypt is the largest city in Africa. Situated on both banks of the Nile, it is Egypt’s commercial and cultural centre as well as the seat of government. Egypt’s second largest city Alexandria, is a busy port on the Mediterranean Sea. Port Said situated at the northern end of the Suez Canal, is one of Egypt’s principal ports. The ancient city of Luxor is one of the country’s major tourist attractions. Its historical sites include the Temple of Luxor, the temple of Karnak and the Valley of the Kings.

Nuances of Persuasive Communication

The general purpose of persuasion is to change people's thinking or behaviour. You should have a specific purpose in mind. After you have decided on your specific purpose, think about the types of language and details that will help you accomplish it.

Definition of Persuasive Speech

A persuasive speech is a specific type of speech in which the speaker has a goal of convincing the audience to accept his or her point of view. The speech is arranged in such a way as to hopefully cause the audience to accept all or part of the expressed view. Though the overarching(overreaching) goal of a persuasive speech is to convince the audience to accept a perspective, not all audiences can be convinced by a single speech and not all perspectives can persuade the audience. The success of a persuasive speech is often measured by the audience's willingness to consider the speaker's argument.

Key Terms

- Persuasion : the process aimed at changing a person's (or a group's) attitude or behaviour.
- Logos : logical appeal to the audience; does the speaker's argument make sense?
- Pathos : emotional appeal to the audience.
- Audience Analysis : the speaker's understanding of the audience's knowledge, personal experience and proximity to a topic
- Ethos : credibility of the speaker, assigned to him by the audience.

Key Points

- Persuasive speeches can come in many forms, such as sales pitches, debates, and legal proceedings.

- Persuasive speeches may utilize the three modes of persuasion: ethos, pathos and logos.
- Ethos is the most important appeal in a persuasive speech.
- Factors such as body language, the willingness of the audience, and the environment in which the speech is given, all affect the success of a persuasive speech.
- Audience Analysis is important in a persuasive speech, as the audience will be convinced for their own reasons, not for the speaker's reasons.

The Sales Pitch

An example of a persuasive speech is a sales pitch. During a sales pitch, the speaker is trying to convince the audience to buy his or her product or service. If the salesperson is successful, the audience (the person being sold to) will choose to purchase the product or service.

However, salespeople understand that just because someone does not make a purchase after the first sales pitch does not mean the pitch failed. Persuasion is often a process. People may need multiple persuasive pitches and a lot of outside information before they are ready to accept a new view.

Task I

A. Answer the following questions in a sentence or two

- What is a persuasive speech and what are the uses of it?
- Explain Ethos and Pathos in persuasion
- What is the indication of the success of a persuasive speech?
- What else is important in persuasion apart from the words of your speech?
- Write about the importance of audience analysis in persuasion.

Task II

For the effective persuasion, you need to be aware of ideas both for and against your stand. Use of a pros-and- cons chart for the arrangement of views both in support of and against your position. This helps improve your persuasive skills.

A model pros-and-cons chart on “Standardised tests” is given below.

Eg: Topic: Standardized Tests

Pros	Cons
Recognized by colleges and universities	Unfair to students who do not test well on these kinds of tests.
Test all students on the same body of knowledge	Test knowledge that may not have been taught
Test in broad categories	Too much weight placed on the results

B. Based on the model pro-and-con chart, prepare two charts for the following topics.

i. “Is sports a must”?

ii. “Profit or Ethics in Business”

2. Speaking

Preparatory Activity I

Keeladi Archaeological Excavation in Sivagangai District

Preparatory Activity II

Match the following words with their meanings given below

- | A               | B                         |
|-----------------|---------------------------|
| 1. Argument     | : Stable                  |
| 2. Disagreement | : Refusal                 |
| 3. Consensus    | : Contradiction           |
| 4. Rebuttal     | : Wordy exchange of ideas |
| 5. Consistency  | : Agreement               |

What is a debate? (<https://www.pinterest.com/pin/83316661846747777/>)

A debate is a formal argument in which there are two sides that take opposing or supportive viewpoints and discuss them in an organized discussion of opposite views. A judge listens to both sides of the debate and decides which side made the better organized and supported argument.

The Basic Debating Skills

Style

Style is the manner in which you communicate your arguments. This is the most basic part of debating to master. If the debater's articulation lacks confidence the content and strategy will be of little value.

Speed

It is vital to talk at a pace which is fast enough to sound intelligent and allow you time to say what you want, but slow enough to be easily understood. The debater needs to strike a balance between being too fast and too slow. The speed of the debater should be such that it allows him or her the space to fully express his ideas.

Tone

Varying tone is what makes you sound interesting. Listening to one tone for an entire presentation is boring. Articulation in the same tone for long will make the audience feel monotonous and uninterested. The tone needs to be decided based on the nature of the idea being presented.

Volume

Speaking quite loudly is sometimes a necessity, but it is by no means necessary to shout through every debate regardless of context. There is absolutely no need to speak any more loudly than the volume at which everyone in the room can comfortably hear you. Shouting does not win debates. Speaking too quietly is clearly disastrous since no one will be able to hear you.

Clarity

The ability to concisely and clearly express complex issues is what debating is all about it. The main reason why people begin to sound unclear is usually because they lose the “stream of thought” which keeps them going. It is also important to keep it simple. While long words may make you sound clever, they may also make you incomprehensible.

Use of notes and eye contact

Notes are essential, but they must be brief and well organized to be effective. There is absolutely no point in trying to speak without notes. Of course, notes should never become obtrusive and damage your contact with the audience, nor should they ever be read verbatim. Most people sketch out the main headings of their speech, with brief notes under each heading.

When writing notes for rebuttal during the debate, it is usually better to use a separate sheet of paper so that you can take down the details of what the other speakers have said and then transfer a rough outline onto the notes you will actually be using.

Eye contact with the audience is very important, but keep shifting your gaze. No one likes to be stared at.

Content

Content is what you actually say in the debate. The arguments used to develop your own side’s case and rebut the opposite side’s. The final logistics of how long you will be debating, how many people will be in your group, and how the debate will unfold (ie: which team speaks first etc.), will all be decided by your tutorial leader.

What do the debaters do?

- ❖ Assume that there is a right answer and they have it
- ❖ Combative participants attempt to prove that the other side is wrong
- ❖ Concentrate on winning the debate
- ❖ Listen to find flaws and make counter arguments

- ❖ Defend their assumptions as truth
- ❖ Seeing two sides of an issue
- ❖ Defend one's own views against those of others
- ❖ Searching for flaws and weaknesses in others' positions
- ❖ Create a winner and loser, discourage further discussions
- ❖ Seek a conclusion that satisfies their position

Structure of a debate:

There are always two sides in a debate.

	Affirmative/Supporting	Negative/Opposing
First speaker	-Defines the subject of debate, introduces the team and what each member will argue -Presents their argument	-Defines the subject, introduces the team and what each member will argue -Presents their argument -Rebuts first speaker's affirmative points
Second speaker	-Rebuts first speaker's negative points -Presents their argument	-Rebuts second speaker's affirmative points -Presents their argument
Third speaker	- Rebuts the whole negative team's argument -presents a final smack-down point	-Rebuts the whole affirmative team's argument -Presents a final smack-down point

Then the leaders of both the teams present their closing argument: no new points are made.

Just a Minute

What is Just a Minute? (http:// images.app.goo.gl/YGuyvP4RcuXrZ6TFA)

Just a Minute is a one minute or less extempore speech that is carried out without any preparation . It is conducted in order to improve the communication skills. It helps the introvert and shy students to take initiative and speak on the topic for a minute.

How to do?

- Skip all the 'thank yous' and 'good mornings' in the beginning
- Focus only on one message

- Compress the ideas
- Know the audience and craft the speech accordingly
- Avoid dramatic or tricky approach
- Avoid filler words
- End with the main message

Rules

In Just a Minute, the panellists talk on a given subject, but obey three rules while doing so. They must avoid:

Repetition : Originally, this meant not being able to repeat a certain idea or concept. However, due to challenges over time, it now means not being able to repeat words or even letters (For example, 'BBC' is considered repetition because of the two B's). Certain words such as 'The' or 'And' are usually allowed except under extreme circumstances (say, when repeated five or six times). The given subject on the card is however allowed to be repeated.

Hesitation : The speaker must speak continuously, without any pause. Even if the audience is laughing, you have to continue talking.

Deviation : Originally this meant deviating too far from the subject in question. Now the concept is considered in a broad context. Examples include deviation from the English language, grammar, truth or logic.

Task I

Reading Texts on Advertisements

Introduction

Advertisements are very essential for selling any product. Its role is of most vital one in the success of any business. Advertisements are made in such a way that they reflect the uniqueness, distinct features and special qualities of a product. Advertisers need to be possessed of attributes like fine language skills, rich creativity and profound imagination so that they will be able to draw the attention of the consumers towards their products.

The aim of advertising is always to sell the product or let the people know the various facilities made available to them, either at the market or at their doorstep. When a product is being advertised, we are able to gather more information such as its name, price, benefits and availability. In short, it is a brief factual account of itself. But sometimes the drafted messages tend to be fictional too, owing to either exaggeration or false claims made by the advertiser. Viewed objectively, the advertising message must act as a salesperson and do its best to convince the consumer of the merits of the product or service described.

Advertisements have a two-fold purpose to serve. They have a message to convey and they attempt to evoke a desirable response in the buyer. As a result, the product becomes a popular one; the demand increases and the manufacturer, distributor and dealer reap a bountiful harvest. So, basically, an advertisement should communicate effectively.

To read advertisements will strengthen one's language skills, fortify their creativity and reinvigorate their imagination which are all essential for becoming an effective and impressive communicator.

Reading Texts on Advertisement

Model

Read the passage carefully and answer the following questions:-

It is almost impossible to escape from advertisements. Large hoardings stare down at you from the sides of the roads; neon signs wink above shops; in magazines and newspapers advertisements take up more room than the reading material. All these are twentieth-century developments which have grown side by side with the spread of education and technical advances. Advertising affects not only our ears and eyes but also our pockets. Some critics point out that advertising actually raises the cost of products. Whenever you buy an advertised brand, about 25% of what you buy may represent the cost of advertising the name.

But there are a few things to be said in its favour. Although some things cost more because of advertising, other things cost less. Newspapers, magazines, radio and television all carry advertisements, and money received from the advertisers helps to lower the cost of production. In this way, we get information and entertainment at lower prices than would otherwise have been charged. It gives rise to competition among manufacturers which benefits the customer by offering him a wider choice.

A. Based on your understanding of the passage, complete the following sentences:

- (a) The three ways of advertising the author refers to in the passage are _____
- (b) The advertisements cause a loss for the buyers as _____
- (c) As advertisements in (i) _____ reduce the cost of production, we benefit by (ii) _____ provided by the (iii) _____
- (d) Another advantage of advertisements is _____

Answers

- (a)(i) Large hoardings put up on roadsides (ii) Neon signs above shops (iii) Advertisements in magazines and newspapers.
- (b) they assault the ears, eyes and pockets of the buyers.
- (c) (i) newspapers, magazines, radio and television ... (ii) getting information and entertainment (iii) manufacturers and advertisers.
- (d) that it offers the customer a wide choice in the selection of what he buys.

Writing Persuasive/ Argumentative Essay

Introduction:

It is a piece of writing of moderate length on a particular subject. The objective of a persuasive essay is to get the readers to accept the ideas, views and opinions of the writer. The central function of a persuasive essay is to bring about a change or a kind of transformation in the readers in tune with the stand of the writer. For the fulfilment of this purpose, convincing viewpoints on the topic should be presented in a way that impacts upon the readers. The two essential characteristics of a persuasive essay are collection of necessary ideas and convincing presentation.

For instance, when an essay needs to be written on Preservation of Historical Monuments, places and objects, the benefits of the protection of historical remains are to be presented. The essay should also focus on the negative consequences of failure to protect the objects and places of historical importance.

Such an essay on the need for the protection of historical objects should consist of three parts – Introduction, Body of the Essay and Summation. The introductory part should cast light on necessity of the preservation of such objects and also the efforts taken both nationally and internationally for their protection. The introductory part should further illustrate that when a society wants to move forward and attain progress, it is necessary for it to have the knowledge of its past. Be it an individual or a society, if they lack the knowledge of their history, culture and civilization, it would face difficulties in marching ahead. Unless a society looks back into its history and learns lessons from it, its onward march will be crippled. Having explained the significance of preservation of historical monuments and objects, the essay can move to the next part called – Body.

The Body of a persuasive essay on this topic should lay emphasis and stress on the ways and means for the conservation of it. It can make analysis of modalities for protection of ancient monuments and can also propound a series of recommendations. It can include the need for the sensitisation of the general public to preserve it. This part of the essay can explain in its recommendations that governments, NGOs and the general public need to act in co-ordination with one another towards safeguarding ancient monuments so that the glorious past way of life of the country will be made known to the world. Another suggestion it can make is that Educational Institutions from schools to universities should be pressed into action to safeguard the ancient monuments.

The summation part can give in a nutshell all that has been presented in the earlier parts of the essay, besides stressing the necessity for the continuous efforts at the protection of ancient monuments.

Model for Persuasive / Argumentative Essay

Necessity for Study of Literature

Introduction:-

This essay focuses on the importance of study of literature. Literature is described as the reflection of life. As there are a number of nations and languages in the world, there are a number of Literature. The significance of literature is so great that it cannot be considered as a mere repository of fables and parables. Literature is found in various genres such as Poetry, Prose, Play, Fiction, and so on. This essay puts forth the reasons why study of literature should be given priority.

Literature as the Identity of a Society

Language and Literature are considered to be the identity of a society or a nation. It is a documentation of the way of life, values and ethics, social and religious beliefs of the bygone ages. Over and above, the reading of literary works will also illustrate what types of political systems and governance existed in the past. Literature plays a very predominant role in the sustenance of a society's traditions and conventions. Not only that, it transfers them to the successive generations. Without the perusal of literary of works, it would be difficult for one to acquire knowledge about one's forefathers. As a result, they may be left without any idea of their own roots. Wherever people migrate in search of greener pastures, they will be eager to carry with them, their way of life and culture and they will also make endeavours in the earnest to enlighten their children about their roots.

For keeping the identity of a society alive and vibrant, and also transmitting it to successive generations, the role of literature is of most vital importance. For example, Sangam Tamil Literature helps us learn about the art, culture, civilization, warfare and martial skills of ancient Tamils who lived over two thousand years ago. Akananooru, Purananooru and Tamil Epics help in a very big way to fathom the cultural richness, glory and heritage of our forefathers. Since Literature offers identity to us, it should never be ignored.

Literature as a Force of Unification:

The previous part expatiated upon Literature as an identity provider. This part explicates the fact that it can also serve as a unifying force. Ancient Tamil poet Kaniyan Poonkundranar articulates the view that Yathum Oore Yavarum Kelir; Theethum Nandrum Pirarthara Vara (Every Landscape is intimate to my heart scape, Entire humanity is my fraternity, Good and Evil none will bring). Literature aims at unifying people. Given the fact that the world is inhabited by humans and literature provides a portrayal of human passions and sentiments, the dictum that literature is one and humanity is one gains currency.

Literature as an Instrument of Morality:

Reading of literary works offers delight and knowledge to readers. It makes them forget about their anguish and agony and provides them with composure and tranquillity. Further, it is also perceived as an instrument of morality. One can learn from literature what to do and what not, whom to befriend and whom not and how to live and how not. For example, Elankovadikal's Sliapadhikaram highlights the fact that if anyone, be it an ordinary civilian like Kovalan or a king like Nedunchezhiyan, walks away from the path of righteousness and honesty, they will have to pay a heavy price for it. But at the same time, it elevates the female protagonist Kannaki into the position of god because of her chastity. In addition to that, Thiruvalluvar's Thirukkural, the woman poetess Avaiyar's Aathisoodi and other works like Kondraivendhan and Naladiyar offer both enlightenment and ecstasy.

Since literature is perceived as a force of morality, perusal of literature will make one ethical, upright, scrupulous and benevolent. Those who develop inclination or leaning towards literature will abstain from vices and evilness. To develop orientation towards literature will enhance one's stature. Literature that teaches moral values is called didactic literature.

Literature for Language Development

Ornamental articulation is defined as a feature of Literature. The difference between ordinary language and literary language is that the former simply gets across the message or information to the listeners whereas the latter because of its depth would make a profound impact upon the readers. For one to become an effective communicator, love of language is essential. If learners routinise the habit of reading any literary works, their language skills will increase manifold. Such people will never allow communication gap in their deliveries which occurs due to inadequate or improper expression.

Summation:

This essay has presented the nature and central functions of literature. Being reflective of mankind is the nature of Literature. It offers identity to a society and as an instrument of morality, it prevents people from making mistakes, committing crimes and sins and so on. It depicts the fact that the role of literature is of great value in the creation of an Ideal Society. Furthermore, it also provides language empowerment for people. Considering the fact that literature is an integral part of human life, we cannot afford to bring down its importance.

What is Video Conferencing?

It is a technology or visual communication through which two or more users or individuals from different locations can conduct face-to-face meetings. Video conferencing enables any individual to manage and save time and money. It is used to conduct official meetings, seminars, interviews, training programs, board meetings and for educational purposes. Informal video conferences are called “video call” or “video chat.” The quality of any video conferencing application/software depends on the network strength and speed. Through video conferencing application/software users can converse with each other and will create similar experience like that of direct meeting or a face-to-face meeting. A good Video Conferencing application should be credible and would provide high quality video and helps the users to instantly connect with their audience (Team, Officials, Students, etc.,).

Tools/Equipment required for Video Conferencing:

1. Smartphones / Laptop/ Tablets/ Desktop Computers
2. Web Camera
3. Wifi or Data Connection

Applications/Software used for Video Conferencing:

1. Zoom
2. Google Meet
3. join.me
4. Cisco Webex
5. GoTo Meetings
6. Slack
7. BigBlueButton
8. Skype
9. BlueJeans
10. Whereby

11. Blackboard Collaborate

Uses of Video Conferencing

1. It allows companies or organisations with many branches to connect instantly with each other and work effectively.
2. Video Conferencing helps to save time and money required to attend meetings in person (Direct Meetings). It helps to schedule meetings instantly.
3. It provides features like screensharing, Live Chats/Sessions, White Boards/annotations, etc.,
4. It facilitates virtual meetings.

Video Conferencing Skills:

1. Check data connectivity and strength of the network signal.
2. Select a good Video Conferencing Application or Software that cater to your professional needs/purpose.
3. Maintain proper dress code.
4. Familiarise yourself with Video Conferencing Application/Software for better performance.
5. Avoid chaotic situations or distractions around you.
6. Allow others to convey their opinions before expressing your views. (Listen carefully to others opinions and thoughts. Never interrupt anyone during meetings.
7. Set your workplace with laptop/mobile in a clear background with proper lighting which is essential for a good quality video.
8. Always be conscious about your Body language. Maintain eye-contact during official and professional meetings, seminars, Job interviews, etc. Try to communicate with your audience through gestures, facial expressions etc.
9. Users should respond immediately to any questions posed and provide sincere feedbacks and opinions. This will motivate and encourage others and helps to boost their confidence as well.
10. Check Video and Audio clarity before starting a video conference.
11. Prepare the contents/materials for presentation prior to the online meeting. The contents should be drafted in a concise and precise manner.

12. Conduct a mock video conference with friends and family prior to any important meetings or conferences.

2. Prepare 5 Question Tags related to video conferencing skills. (Refer to the passage given above)
3. Identify the gerund and infinitives present in the above transcript.
4. Identify the Adjectives present in the above transcript.

Vlog

What is a Vlog?

The letter V in the term “Vlog” stands for Video and the word “Log” refers to a Logbook or a Journal entry where people usually record their day-to-day routine or happenings through formal and informal means. In a formal Logbook, people register their Official records, appointments and Schedules in Calendar, maintain official notes and list of work to be done on a particular day. In the Informal Log, people note down their personal experiences in form of diaries and journal, schedule personal appointments in Calendar or Individual or personal things to be completed at home. Hence, a Vlog is an informal video recording of an Individual's personal and every day activities or routine. It captures each and every minute of the individual's life and therefore can be considered as the story of an Individual.

A Vlog is usually treated as a video form of a blog, where people express their personal opinions, thoughts, emotions, and ideas related to a particular topic. Vlogging means “Video Blogging” where people generally tell a story with special focus on the story of their life.

How to Create a Vlog?

1. The Individual has to identify his/her / Identify the area of interest. (Never choose content which is not your cup of tea) Eg. Food, Photography, Fashion, Traveling etc.,
2. Choose the target audience and create the content that would capture their attention. (It should sweep the audience of their feet and bowl them over).
3. Conduct a thorough background study of other Vlogging channels available in YouTube and other Social Networking sites to understand the nuances, techniques of creating a Vlog.
4. A knowledge of already available Vlogs will help the individual to think creatively and come up with a Unique, Original Vlogging style and avoid repetition, where it appears to be a mere copy or imitation of another Vlog.
5. Create a Youtube Channel and Popularise it by following innovative advertising strategies. For Example, create a short movie clip or trailer or preview about the Vlogging Channel.
6. Prepare the essentials or tools for Vlogging.
  - Camcorder/ Camera/ Smartphones (choose equipment/gears which records high resolution video)
  - Microphones
  - Tripods
7. Prepare a Script and record the contents.
8. Edit it using free apps like Windows Movie Maker or purchase other available software. Apps available in iPhone and Androids can also be used for editing.
9. Provide attractive, alluring title for the Vlog with captivating Thumbnail (“A Screenshot from the video”).
10. Upload it in platforms like YouTube, Facebook, Instagram Live, Stories, IGTV, Twitch IRL, Dailymotion, Vimeo, Flickr, etc. Choose a Platform that is ideal for your vlog (weigh the pros and cons of each platform before uploading the Vlog).

How to become a Vlogger? How to use Vlogging to nurture Interest?

A Vlogger does not randomly record each and every event/minute in their life. A Vlog is similar to shooting a film/making a movie. The individual films a movie every day –

A movie on the journey of their life. The Vlogger should not merely follow along rather must choose a storyline, and should have a clear idea about what the content of the vlog and also on how to present it. Vlog is more about telling a story through a plot with a proper beginning, middle and end. Therefore, it is necessary to prepare and plan the structure of the plot before shooting the video/vlog. The Vlogger should never feel like a fish out of water in between the shooting of the vlog, so it is mandatory for the vlogger to choose a topic which he/she is comfortable with. As the Vlog is the movie of the Vlogger's life, he or she should be natural before the camera and never develop a cold foot while recording the vlog. Here, the key lies with the vlogger filming himself or herself. They should find creative ways to talk in front of the camera, for example, talking among the crowd, placing the camera on top of a wall or tree or placing it down on the floor. etc. The Camera is not only a tool to connect with the audience, it should be treated as audience (especially while filming a vlog) and hence, the vlogger should directly address the audience and actively engage themselves with the audience.

A Vlogger should not be conscious about his/her surrounding while shooting a vlog. They should focus on themselves and should not be conscious about others' perceptions. They should be confident and believe in themselves. In a nutshell, the Vlogger should not get/develop a cold foot to film the contents of the vlog especially when he or she is shooting it outdoors.

The Vlogger should have a knowledge about various cinematic techniques to film, editing process and a thorough understanding about the workings or functions of the platform (eg. YouTube – YouTube Creator Studio, Tube Buddy, etc.) that they have chosen to upload their videos so that the content would appear more professional. Creativity is the key for vlogging. The Vlogger would find different ways to keep the audience glued to the vlog. The vloggers should film as many videos as possible where each video should convey a “micro-story” (which is essentially a story within a story concept). He/she should have more footages with such micro-stories with a proper structure.

Editing Vlogs:

1. Bring all the footages together and go through each footage to be familiar with the videos.

2. Choose videos that are connected to your storyline. Avoid using videos that don't fit your story.
3. Look out for captivating and interesting videos (running for not more than 10-15 seconds) to capture audience's attention.
4. Familiarise yourself with the editing software. Place all the chosen videos in the timeline of the videos.
5. View the videos objectively to produce better content.
6. Select titles which are relevant to the topic/content of the vlog. Title should not be obscure or vulgar or irrelevant to the topic. (Some channels use irrelevant titles to attract audience as a means to increase the number of views for the vlog but often end up getting negative feedbacks for the same.)
7. Should learn different techniques to advertise their vlog/Vlogging Channel.
8. Check YouTube Analytics and Google Analytics to understand the audience's pulse about how long they watch the video for in order to improvise on the quality of the vlog content.
9. Schedule the vlog and post them regularly (eg. Once a week) to gain more viewer base.
10. Should constantly update themselves on improved upgraded technical features or versions of online platforms, editing software, gadgets etc. – Keep up with the trends related to vlogging.

B. A SHORT DEFINITION FOR HUMAN GEOGRAPHY:

C.

Human geography is concerned with the study of the interrelationships between people, place, and environment, and how these vary spatially and temporally across and between locations, whereas physical geography concentrates on spatial and environmental processes that shape the natural world and tends to draw on the natural and physical sciences for its scientific underpinnings and methods of investigation. Human geography concentrates on the spatial organization and processes shaping the lives and activities of people, and their interactions with places and nature. Human geography is more allied with the social sciences and humanities, sharing their philosophical approaches and methods (see physical geography for a discussion on the relationship between human and physical geography; environmental geography).

Human geography consists of a number of sub-disciplinary fields that focus on different elements of human activity and organization, for example, cultural geography, economic geography, health geography, historical geography, political geography, population geography, rural geography, social geography, transport geography, and urban geography. What distinguishes human geography from other related disciplines, such as development, economics, politics, and sociology, is the application of a set of core geographical concepts to the phenomena under investigation, including space, place, scale, landscape, mobility, and nature. These concepts foreground the notion that the world operates spatially and temporally, and that social relations do not operate independently of place and environment, but are thoroughly grounded in and through them.

With respect to methods, human geography uses the full sweep of quantitative and qualitative methods from across the social sciences and humanities, mindful of using them to provide a thorough geographic analysis. It also places emphasis on fieldwork and mapping (see cartography), and has made a number of contributions to developing new methods and techniques, notably in the areas of spatial analysis, spatial statistics, and GIScience.

The long-term development of human geography has progressed in tandem with that of the discipline more generally (see geography). Since the Quantitative Revolution in the 1950s and 1960s, the philosophy underpinning human geography research has diversified enormously. The 1970s saw the introduction of behavioural geography, radical geography, and humanistic geography. These were followed in the 1980s by a turn to political economy, the development of feminist geography, and the introduction of critical social theory underpinning the cultural turn. Together these approaches formed the basis for the growth of critical geography, and these served as the introduction of postmodern and post-structural thinking into the discipline in the 1990s. These various developments did not fully replace the theoretical approaches developed in earlier periods, but rather led to further diversification of geographic thought. For example, quantitative geography continues to be a vibrant area of geographical scholarship, especially through the growth of GIScience. The result is that geographical thinking is presently highly pluralist in nature, with no one approach dominating.

Sample Web Page 2:

The following concepts illustrate the relationship between Humans and Geography in the backdrop of COVID-19 outbreak.

MAPPING:

It helps to refer to the places where the corona virus infection has happened. Mapping of infected zones can be differentiated in different colours. Mapping is about denoting the pockets of the infection and it helps contain the infection and save lives.

ENVIRONMENT: There are a host of unintended consequences in natural systems, and when one part of the system, gets altered, there are some down-stream impacts. This article in the Atlantic discusses some of the environmental impacts of the mass shutdown of normal human activities (1-less pollution, 2-less seismic activity, 3-quiter urban environments).

DEVELOPMENT: The impacts of COVID-19 are clearly uneven; countries and cities that are the most globally connected might benefit usually economically from these connections, but are facing one of the times that this connectivity is a threat to the community. India, by and large through March 2020, managed to avoid making global headlines, but as the world's second largest population with some incredibly dense megacities, many are asking how the Coronavirus will impact India in the coming years.

URBANIZATION:

High density of population in larger cities is cited as a reason for the fast spread of COVID-19 infection. But at the same time small towns with lesser populations have also been hit hard by the infection. Nevertheless, largest cities of the world like London, Washington and Paris have been very severely affected by the corona virus, with many thousands in each city specified above losing their lives to the killer virus.

CULTURE:

Apart from seeing “wearing of masks” as health care parameter against COVID-19, it is also perceived as a cultural issue. There are certain social cultures which perceive wearing of masks as a taboo and which are totally uncomfortable with wearing of masks. People who belong to such cultures need to be educated about the importance of putting on masks.

DIFFUSION:

For the sake of research on COVID-19, its origin was examined and found out that it emanated from Wuhan in China. Too much concentration and emphasis on the place of origin of COVID-19 would lead to the alienation of a certain class of people. It also runs the risk of arousing racial feelings against them. It was fortunate that the place of origin of the virus was not blown out of proportion. The slogan “stay home” and “stay safe” was popularized so widely that the population of the world began to adhere to it with a great sense of responsibility. As a result, humanity combated this virus with diligence and attempts to come out of it safely. When the battle against the virus is over, mankind will have become far more resolute and firmer than ever before.

03-Cultural Patterns and Processes

THREE: CULTURAL PATTERNS & PROCESSES

3.1 Introduction to Culture

- Culture comprises the shared practices, technologies, attitudes, and behaviors transmitted by a society.
- Cultural traits include such things as food preferences, architecture, and land use.
- Cultural relativism and ethnocentrism are different attitudes toward cultural difference.

3.2 Cultural Landscapes

- Cultural landscapes are combinations of physical features, agricultural and industrial practices, religious and linguistic characteristics, evidence of sequent occupancy, and other expressions of culture including traditional and postmodern architecture and land-use patterns.
- Attitudes toward ethnicity and gender, including the role of women in the workforce; ethnic neighbourhoods; and indigenous communities and lands help shape the use of space in a given society.

3.3 Cultural Patterns

- Regional patterns of language, religion, and ethnicity contribute to a sense of place, enhance placemaking, and shape the global cultural landscape.
- Language, ethnicity, and religion are factors in creating centripetal and centrifugal forces.

3.4 Types of Diffusion

- Relocation and expansion—including contagious, hierarchical, and stimulus expansion—are types of diffusion.

3.5 Historical Causes of Diffusion

- Interactions between and among cultural traits and larger global forces can lead to new forms of cultural expression; for example, creolization and lingua franca.
- Colonialism, imperialism, and trade helped to shape patterns and practices of culture.

3.6 Contemporary Causes of Diffusion

- Cultural ideas and practices are socially constructed and change through both small-scale and large-scale processes such as urbanization and globalization. These processes come to bear on culture through media, technological change, politics, economics, and social relationships.
- Communication technologies, such as the internet and the time-space convergence, are reshaping and accelerating interactions among people; changing cultural practices, as in the increasing use of English and the loss of indigenous languages; and creating cultural convergence and divergence.

3.7 Diffusion of Religion and Language

- Language families, languages, dialects, world religions, ethnic cultures, and gender roles diffuse from cultural hearths.

- Diffusion of language families, including Indo-European, and religious patterns and distributions can be visually represented on maps, in charts and toponyms, and in other representations.
- Religions have distinct places of origin from which they diffused to other locations through different processes. Practices and belief systems impacted how widespread the religion diffused.
- Universalizing religion, including Christianity, Islam, Buddhism, and Sikhism, takes place through expansion and relocation diffusion.
- Ethnic religions, including Hinduism and Judaism, are generally found near the hearth or spread through relocation diffusion.

3.8 Effects of Diffusion

- Acculturation, assimilation, syncretism, and multiculturalism are effects of the diffusion of culture.

TASKS:

Divide the Class into groups or pairs. Allot a topic (Choose important terms or geographical terminologies from the above given samples) or ask the students to choose a topic of their choice. Students should write short notes on the terms in a paragraph or two together as group – makes notes (note-making format) first compiling the points given by each and every team member and write short notes based on the notes. Each team should read out their content and should present a minimum of five words on how to pronounce them.

Reading Comprehension:

Read the passage given below and answer the questions following it:

Digital Competence for Academic and Professional Life

Introduction:

Technology oriented/based skills are one of the most requisite qualifications for any job opportunity. The contemporary life conditions with its tremendous technological development have made it impossible for any graduates or job seekers to overlook the need for digital competence skills. Job aspirants are expected to stay abreast of latest technological developments. They cannot afford to be out dated or lag behind as regards advancements in the demain of technology.

Origin and Definition of Digital Competence:

The term “Digital” refers to the numerical data or information feed and stored in Digital or data processing machines especially computers. Liisa Illomaki, Anna Kantosalo and Minna Lakkala in their essay “What is digital competence?” have cited an “OECD project’s definition of Digital Competence that “A Competency is more than just knowledge and skills. It involves the ability to meet complex demands, by drawing on and mobilizing psychosocial resources (including skills and attitudes) in a particular context.” (OECD, 2005, p.4). Digital Competence requires a confident, critical, logical, efficient, and effective use of electronic media for personal, professional, academic, social purposes. It also includes an individual’s ability to collect and assess information, retrieve and interpret it to either produce or reproduce information by presenting it effectively to share, exchange and communicate the information or data through digital platform. Liisa Illomaki, et.al also state that there are various synonyms like “Technology Skills, Information Technology Skills, 21st Century Skills, Information Literacy, Digital literacy, etc.,” which are attributed to the term “Digital Competence” and the existence of these allied terms strongly emphasise on the inevitable nature of technology is to change. Hence, these interrelated concepts are susceptible to constant transformation depending on the changing needs of the society especially in terms of “the practices and the necessary competences.” In short, each and every revolution in technology coincides and is influenced by the ever-growing demands socio-economic-political changes.

Attributes of Digital Competence:

It is an all-exclusive term which is not restricted to acquiring IT skills and Knowledge but also involves “social and emotional aspects” for comprehending and utilising the “digital device” in an effective way. Dr.Riina Vuorikari in her essay on “Becoming digitally competent: A task for the 21st – century citizen” mentions the five attributes of “digital savvy,” as stated by The European Digital Competence Framework for Citizens (DIGCOMP) that is, “Information Processing, Communication, Content Creation, Safety and Problem Solving.” She also claims that digital competence becomes “transversal competence” where it enhances an individual’s “skills in Communication, language, Mathematics and Science.”

MS Office:

Among many other Applications and Software, it is MS Office skills which are considered basic and fundamental skill and knowledge that has become a necessity and essential requirement for any job specifications. The website titled goskills.com claims that Microsoft Office is a set of applications used for any Office work. Microsoft Office involves applications like Word (creates text files), Excel (creates financial spreadsheets), PowerPoint (creates presentation), OneNote (organises notes), Outlook (program for email and scheduling), Access (database program), Publisher (desktop publishing) and SharePoint (creates websites). An individual who is an expert in MS Office would gain better job opportunity, productivity, and gain universal affinity whereby it is not restricted to a specific job orientation but can be utilised in any job specialisation.

Use of MS Office by Sociologist at Workplace:

For Example, according to the article on “Computer Applications in Sociology” published in the website on Encyclopedia of Sociology, Sociologists use MS Office Software (Word) mainly for “Writing and Publishing” research documents. They use it to prepare Charts, graphs, tables, “typesetting” numerical data or “mathematical equations,” designing or “resizing Objects.” Apart from using Word Processing for writing and publishing scholarly papers and books it also helps to enhance and improve tools associated with gathering information (data collection) specifically “Questionnaires and codebooks, which allows for rapid production of alternative forms and multiple drafts.” In the recent years, MS Word or word processors are upgraded to the extent that documentation has become a very easy process in form of HTML (Hypertext Markup Language) which is easily available online and can be installed as a separate Website. HTML consists of hypertext links which instantly connects us to various types of materials and information available around the global “in a single click” and this happens to be one of the most innovative methods of publishing online.

Any scholarly article or paper in Sociology can be scanned and converted to other forms of text like Optical Character Recognition (OCR). OCR enhances the quality of writing and publishing whereby it will comparatively reduce the possibilities for errors or mistakes in texts or document with constant upgradation in future. Voice recognition software “automatically” records formal interviews, transcriptions (dictations), and notes documented in field works “into computer text files.” The translation software records the vocalised sounds and translates it to another language as required by the sociologist (user).

Conclusion

Thus, the article on “Computer Applications in Sociology” claims that apart from using MS Office for writing and publishing, Sociologists have developed and used computer software over the years for various other purposes starting with “communicating electronically (E-mail); for “Statistical Computing and Data Analysis; Accessing, Retrieving and Managing Data; Computer; Computer based Content Analysis, Computer based Simulation Models (which includes computer supported models for social process), Computer consisted data collection, Visualization and Graphics and for Teaching and Learning.”

Writing:

What is a Web Page?

Web pages involve feeding, loading and updating data or substantial materials as a document or text in a Web site. A website usually contains more web pages which are designed using HTML coding.

The Website titled Technopedia defines Web Page as a text or “document” available in World Wide Web which is often recognised through a URL (Unique Uniform Resource Locator). A Website consists of or is made up of many web pages. A Web Browser in a computer or a laptop is used to create a web page. Other tools or features available in the web page are “Style Sheets, Scripts and Images for Presentation.” Hypertext links are available to direct, go (navigate) to other Web Pages.

Technopedia briefs that “A Web page is a representation of a document that is actually located at a remote site. The information on a Web page is displayed online with the help of a Web browser such as Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox or Google Chrome. The Web browser is connected to the Web server, where the website’s contents are hosted through HTTP. Every Web page corresponds to various types of information presented to the visitor in a visual and readable manner.”

The Purpose of creating a Web Page:

A Web Page is usually designed to present and furnish data to the audience or viewers which consists of images or video content used to elaborate or explain a central idea or concept. It is also utilised as a means to promote a product or services to the audience.

Basic HTML Coding:

Any HTML document begins with the tag <html>. Each and every tag is placed between the greater and the lesser sign or symbol <>. Each tag consists of an Opening and Closing tag eg. <html> and </html>. The closing tag </html> wraps all the other tags in a text or document. Each Document/text consists of two segments which are the HEAD and BODY. The Head segment is used to highlight the title of the web page which will be displayed in the title bar of the web browser and is often represented by the symbol or is coded as <head></head> (opening and closing tag) in a HTML document. The Body segment provides all the information, data, materials that should be displayed in the web browser when one views the page. It is often represented by the tag <body></body> (Opening and Closing Tag).

Basic Tags/template to create any HTML document:

Exercises:

1. Design a Web Page related to any topic of your choice pertaining to your subject area.
2. Describe the following in a paragraph or two.

<https://in.pinterest.com/pin/608197124663251502/>

3. Write a set of instructions to be followed by a psychologist

(a) to identify the symptoms for depression

OR

(b) the treatment for depression

4. Write an Essay on the causes and effects of stress on the body/ the impact of stress on body/health. Make Notes (note-making) based on the essay that you have written. Finally, create a Mind Map out of the Essay and Notes (note-making) that you have prepared.

5. Write a set of recommendations for patients (a) on how to reduce Anxiety OR (b) on how to control eating disorders.

Unit 4

Creativity and Imagination

Listening to short (2 to 5 minutes) academic videos (prepared by EMRC/ other MOOC videos on Indian academic sites – E.g. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tpvicScuDy0>)

Speaking: Making oral presentations through short films – subject based

Reading: Essay on Creativity and Imagination (subject based)

Writing – Basic Script Writing for short films (subject based)

- Poster making – writing slogans/captions(subject based)

UNIT4. 1. Creativity and Imagination

Academic listening

Task : In pairs, discuss your responses to the following questions.

1. How do microbes benefit the environment?
2. Do you think we can live without microbes?
3. Imagine what would happen if all microbes were destroyed from the environment?

I. Pre-listening Task:

Associate your ideas with the word 'micro' along with the pictures given below and list it in the blanks given:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

While Listening:

What is academic listening?

Academic listening is a special kind of listening skill, which helps the learner to encounter, understand, learn, discuss, and remember new ideas. Academic listening consists of content with different forms of multimedia like audio tracks, video clips, web pages and activities like tasks, games, experiments, surveys in order to make listening more engaging and more motivating for the students in an integrated manner with elaborated style of thinking.

II. Activity: Listen to this academic video prepared by EMRC:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XIOHEumNf4U>

Post Listening Task 1: Recall the information presented in the video.

III. Task 2: State whether the statements are true or false from the above listened video clip.

1. Microbes are not present on the surface of our body, inside of a body, in the food we eat, in the water we drink and the air we breathe.
2. Microbes used food and fermentation industries.
3. Immunology is the study of nervous system
4. Growing of animal cells on artificial medium in a controlled environment is done to understand the functioning of cells.
5. Microbiology does not touch our lives in all dimensions.

4. 2. Speaking: Making oral presentations through short films

In this globalized world, every profession is involved in some aspects of communication which usually involve gathering, analysing, and distributing scientific and/or technical information efficiently and accurately for specific audiences. Making oral presentations through short films links all four aspects of communicative skills (LSRW). Short films act like a bridge between language study and language use. It demonstrates one's potential to communicate through real-world experience between the audience and the presenter. It helps to build creativity, critical thinking and teach life-long skills both personally and professionally.

What is a short film?

A short film is any motion picture that runs from fifteen seconds to forty five minutes in length. It expresses a single concept with unique ending.

Basic instructional design for oral presentation through short films:

- Plan—Plan the topic with important events with focus to your presentation. An oral presentation should never be a monologue, but an active dialogue in verbal communication. First greet the audience and introduce yourself. Explain the purpose of your talk. Start by introducing the topic. Outline the main points. State your purpose and announce the outline of your presentation in very simple and precise language.
- Structure – The information in the body needs to be well-structured. State main ideas clearly. Use visual aids to engage the interest of your audience. It could be in chronological order, theme or order of importance.
- Prepare—The first thing to be done when preparing a spoken presentation is to identify the audience as precisely as possible. Prepare the oral presentations with key points within time limit. The presentation can have one of these aims: to inform, to persuade, to teach.
- Present - Shape the presentation by organizing and selecting the arguments or pieces of information within the time allotted. Introduce appropriate visual aids to impose its effect on the audience. During the presentation a presenter need to face the audience - maintain eye contact with the audience as much as possible. Use natural hand gestures, look presentable and speak in a clear and audible voice.
- End - Prepare a closing summary with main points and give a strong concluding remark that reinforces why your information is of value. It reaffirms the connection between the audience and the material presented. Invite questions from the audience at the conclusion of your presentation. Respond to questions politely and briefly.

PROCESS RECAP

Activity:

Watch BABY –An Experimental Short Film about the beginning of life

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eYSu2ochlE4>

Task 1:

- Discuss in pairs about how did the film make you feel?
- What aspect of the film did you most engage with?
- What will you remember?
- What does it make you think about?
- Would you watch it again? Why/why not?
- How would a second viewing be different?
- What would you focus on?
- How would different people view this film differently (dependent on gender, age, ethnic background, worldview, etc)?

Task 2

Prepare a power point presentation with inclusion of pictures and videos of about 5-8 minutes of your own interest based on your subject.

UNIT 4. 3 - Creativity and Imagination

Introduction:

Creativity surrounds us and expresses itself in the form of innovative ideas in our everyday life. It is a skill that can be practiced daily to solve life's problems as well as discover its opportunities. In fact, it is the ability to apply reason and logic to new or unfamiliar ideas, opinion or situations.

Creativity Defined:

There is a common misconception that creativity belongs to a few gifted individuals, or it pertains to the field of arts. As a result, many who do not consider themselves as the artistic type neglect the development of their creative skills. Let's look at what defines creativity. To be creative means turning new and imaginative ideas into reality. The Dictionary defines creativity as 'the ability to transcend traditional ideas, rules, patterns, relationships, or the like, and to create meaningful new ideas, forms, methods and originality' It is also defined as 'progress, or imagination'. As a matter of fact, creativity is characterized by the ability to see the world in new ways, to make connections between seemingly unrelated phenomena and to generate solutions.

As we have seen earlier, creativity should not be tied to a specific discipline or a craft, it is indispensable everywhere. It is pertinent in arts, entertainment, business, mathematics, engineering, medicine, social sciences, and physical sciences and is the cornerstone of civilization.

Reflections on Creativity:

It is important to define creativity because it can mean different things to different people. If you refer to the thesaurus, you will find the following synonyms for the word 'creativity':

Cleverness	imagination	imaginativeness	ingenuity	inspiration
genius	inventiveness	originality	resourcefulness	talent vision

The word 'creative' is associated with being inventive	imaginative	innovative	original	artistic	expressive inspired	visionary	productive		prolific	talented gifted	resourceful	quick-witted	ingenious		clever

smart	unconventional	unorthodox	a genius

Difference between Creativity and Imagination:

Have you ever wondered how creativity manifests itself? Do you know how the inventions come into existence? What is the basis for creative thinking? Creativity relies on imagination, the conscious representation of what is not immediately present to the senses. Remember your imagination is not only an artistic influence but can inspire you as a person or others to add development to your lifestyle, business or work ethic. While imagination is the process of seeing the world in new ways and finding the hidden patterns. Creativity helps in converting your new and imaginative ideas into reality. People who believe in imagination cross the boundary of “usual” and “normal” are able to think outside the box. More importantly, if you have ideas, but don’t act on them, you are only imaginative but not creative.

Students of science classes usually get the idea that involve careful observation and analysis of data to test hypotheses. One thing that remains shrouded in mystery, is how scientists decide on the particular question and give an exact answer? You might be surprised to know that they involve in creativity and come out with logical reasoning.

The natural world is highly complex, and really big. Interesting scientific problems (like curing cancer) are usually too difficult to solve directly. The art of being a scientist involves continually re-imagining these big problems, mentally breaking them down into smaller, solvable parts, and then speculating about which of these smaller parts might be key to cracking open the whole subject. In other words, a scientist must imagine, in advance, possible outcomes from different observations, and design a research study that might help to decide between different hypotheses.

How is creativity possible in science?

Logical thinking is always a part of the creative process in any field, from art to science to business. Creativity is not only the ability to come up with new ideas, but also narrowing down those new ideas to focus on one that can be elaborated. Creative people in any field come up with new ways of looking at the world. They constantly ask, "What if...?" But it doesn't stop there. After a creative person asks "What if...?" they then go on to logically think through the consequences.

Science is creative in much the same way as art, music, or literature are creative. In Science discipline, individuals have to use their imagination to come up with explanations. The explanations should be well informed. They must not be mere guesses. As Peter Medawar explained, "Scientists are building explanatory structures, telling stories which are scrupulously (carefully) tested to see if they are stories about real life" (Medawar, 1984, p. 133, emphasis in original). By "telling stories," Medawar does not mean that scientists' are just making things up out of nothing. He means that scientists' piece together bits of information in a way that makes sense, the way writer's piece together characters and events. But a scientist's job doesn't end there. The story they've told is rigorously tested to see if it makes sense in the context of real life.

Conclusion:

Success in science requires a creative mind. Some of the most important questions in science are either too large or too complex to answer directly. So scientists break them down into smaller, solvable questions. Scientists use creativity to determine which questions are likely to yield results or and which will not. They imagine possible answers to their questions, and devise ways to test those answers. To be creative, science students should be curious to know what will happen next through their creativity and imagination through experiments, show interest in their observation and finally try to bring their creative brilliance in reality .

Task 1: Answer ALL the questions:

1. Explain the difference between creativity and imagination.
2. How do scientists find solutions with logical reasoning?
3. Why creativity and imagination is important for science students?
4. What is Medawar's explanation on "telling stories"?

5. Creative people in any field come up with new ways of looking at the world. Explain.

UNIT 4 – 4.Script Writing

Source: <https://www.masterclass.com/articles/how-to-write-a-film-treatment-in-6-steps>

A short film is just a short movie with a clear, compelling story. It is an excellent fun side-project for the beginners. A short film can be live-action, animated, or computer generated. Like feature films, short films tell closed-ended stories with a distinct beginning, middle, and end. The best short films have a clear focus and are economical with their storytelling, utilizing only one or two locations and few characters.

Scientific Script Writing for short films:

1. Brainstorm. Jumpstart your creativity remembering any images or events from your childhood. Fix the genre or the style that you want to write. Once, the idea is fixed write down whatever comes to your mind.

2. Research – It is the vital aspect for Sciencebased genre. The film maker has to research the fact in order to give accurate data for the audience.

3. Outline -Begin to outline the idea for the film. Like feature films, short films too have a beginning, middle, and end. This brings the overall structure of the film.

4. Write your first draft - Now that you know the shape of your story, start writing the first draft of your short film script with screenplay structure.

5. Rewrite the script- When you start writing the second draft, you might find to restart the process and create a new outline. Once the story is solid, start refining the dialogue for the scenes.

6. A picture is worth a thousand words - As you write, think creative images and captions. Science offers beautiful and unusual images that can help readers visualise what you are writing about. Spend time on catchy and informative captions — they are indispensable entry points into your story.

V. Task 1: Watch the video Science and Storytelling | Lucy Hawking | TEDxSalford<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E7K-qlQVpgE>

What is a web page?

A web page (or webpage) is a specific collection of information written in HTML (hypertext markup language) and are translated by your Web browser. Web pages can either be static or dynamic. Static pages show the same content each time they are viewed. Dynamic pages have content that can change each time they are accessed. Each web page is identified by a distinct Uniform Resource Locator (URL).

Please note: Webpage is from Website. A Website is a collection of pages. A Webpage is an individual HTML document.

Activity: Design a webpage on your own with creative titles.

Task 1: Creative people look at things differently. Write a script based on extinct species.

Blogs:

A blog, an online journal in which you share your thoughts about a particular subject with readers.

How to start writing science blogs?

- Exactly what is it that you have found out?
- What methods have you used?
- Why is this research important, and why should my target audience be interested?
- What environmental benefits might this research bring?
- Will this research lead to more sustainable technology?
- Will it lead to less expensive and/or safer technology?
- What is your or your group's contribution to this field internationally?
- What is needed for this technology to be applied/commercialised?
- Is this project relevant to others in the industry? Will it enable us to attract new clients and win new projects?

Activity: Create, write and post your desired topics in your blog.

Task 2: Write about the importance blog creation and its uses.

What is a Flyer?

A Flyer is usually a single, unfolded printed sheet that is used to draw attention to an event, service, product or idea. A flyer usually contains a very simple message that can be conveyed quickly.

<https://www.postermywall.com/index.php/posters/search?s=science%20fair%20flyer>

How to make flyers?

1. Include the basics

Make sure your flyer states the who, what, where, and when of what you're trying to communicate.

2. Go for eye-catching imagery

Flyer design is important, and images speak for themselves and can go a long way to communicating tone and feel. You can use your own imagery or choose from thousands of royalty-free photos we provide for you

3. Keep it brief

When it comes to text, less is more. Be brief. Be concise. Be powerful with your words. Choose your words carefully and make each one count.

4. Take theme into account

Think about what feeling you want to evoke with your flyer. Be mindful of the thematic elements of what you're trying to promote. The images, colours, text you use in your flyer should be theme-appropriate.

5. Let readers know what to do next

Include links, contact information, or a strong call-to-action to let readers know how to learn more.

Source: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dGqpurkz3w>

Task 3: Make a flyer for science exhibition to be conducted in your department.

Brochure:

A Brochure is a single foldable sheet used by marketers to highlight a product, company or service. They are one of the most common and effective tools used by businesses and organizations for relaying information or announcements to a wide audience. Brochures are distributed in many different ways: as newspaper inserts, handed out personally, by mail or placed in brochure racks in high traffic locations especially in tourist places.

Source: <https://in.pinterest.com/pin/448811919100082233/>

How to make a brochure?

Write concisely. Your brochure should focus on one product or service. A trifold brochure only has space for about 350-450 words, so keep words, sentences and paragraphs short. Include only the most relevant information, leaving some white space and images.

Science Brochures:

While making science brochure design, follow three elements:

1. Target audience / people. Be clear for whom you are creating a brochure. Think about marketing concept, what makes an ordinary people while reading your scientific articles. To test, whether you understand your client's needs, ask yourself a simple question: "For what a person really ready to pay money?".
2. USP (unique selling proposition). You must clearly understand your positioning, how to differ from competitors. It should be something that distinguishes you from rivals for the better.
3. Target action. The target action is what the user must do after reading. If you don't offer people any action, the customer could close your science brochure design ideas and leave it.

This is what your brochure for science should convey.

Source: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Gjev8RkqO1k>

Task 4: Design a brochure for your science lab.

POSTER

Poster is another visual to reach the people with specific message. Posters are usually displayed at a height that makes it visible to viewers. So, content and structure are important in a poster.

Source: <https://www.amazon.in/Tamatina-Health-Posters-Coronavirus-Precautions/dp/B085ZZQRJJ>

Instructions to create a poster.

- Decide on the size of the poster
- Make sure it is readable from a distance.
- Create Some Contrast.
- Consider the location of display.
- Let the image be large and catchy.
- Make good use of space in the poster.

UNIT – 4 - 1. Academic Listening

II. Pre-listening Task:

Associate your ideas with the word ‘micro’ along with the pictures given below and list it in the blanks given:

1. Microscope
2. Microbes (different types)
3. Microinjection
4. Microflora
5. Microfauna
6. Micronuclei

Post Listening Task 1: Recall the information presented in the video.

Ask the students to recall the information that they saw in the video.

VI. Task 2: State whether statements are true or false from the above listened video clip.

1. False
2. True
3. False
4. True
5. False.

4.2. Speaking: Making oral presentations through short films

Task 1:

- Discuss in pairs about how did the film make you feel?
- What aspect of the film did you most engage with?
- What will you remember?
- What does it make you think about?
- Would you watch it again? Why/why not?
- How would a second viewing be different?
- What would you focus on?
- How would different people view this film differently (dependent on gender, age, ethnic background, worldview, etc)?

Encourage and provoke the students to speak about their thoughts through above mentioned questions.

Prepare a power point presentation with inclusion of pictures and videos of about 5-8 minutes of your own interest based on your subject.

Ask the students to follow these steps to prepare the task 2.

UNIT 4.3 - Creativity and Imagination

Task 1: Complete the incomplete circles using your creativity and imagination:

Task 2: Task 1: Answer ALL the questions:

6. Explain the difference between creativity and imagination.
7. How do scientists find solutions with logical reasoning?
8. Why creativity and imagination is important for science students?
9. What is Medawar's explanation on "telling stories"?
10. Creative people in any field come up with new ways of looking at the world. Explain.

Task 3: Read on how Rene Theophile Hyacinthe Laënnec invented the stethoscope.

Suggest some more names of the scientists, related to your subject to your students.

UNIT 4 – 4.Script Writing

Task 1: Creative people look at things differently. Write a script based on extinct species

Kindle the interest of the students to write on their own, imagining themselves as a scientist.

Task 2: Write about the importance blog creation and its uses.

Task 3: Make a flyer for the conference to be conducted in your department.

Task 4: Design a brochure for your science lab.

Task 5: Design a poster with effective slogans on the importance of cleanliness

Unit 5

Workplace Communication& Basics of Academic Writing

Speaking: Short academic presentation using PowerPoint

Reading & Writing: Product Profiles, Circulars, Minutes of Meeting.

Writing an introduction, paraphrasing

Punctuation(period, question mark, exclamation point, comma, semicolon, colon, dash, hyphen, parentheses, brackets, braces, apostrophe, quotation marks, and ellipsis)

Capitalization (use of upper case)

UNIT-5

Listening

Preparatory Activity I

Listen to the teacher who reads out the mock interview carefully and note down a few key words

<https://www.thebalancecareers.com/job-interview-questions-and-answers-2061204>

Listening to Interviews

A carefully structured interview is purposed to select applicants who may be predicted to be the best assets for the growth of an organization. This is what makes an interview vital. In addition to gaining basic information about the prospective employee it also is the platform to decide whether the candidate can be considered for further processing.

Types of Interview

There are several types of interview;

1. Unstructured (Nondirective) Interview.
2. Structured (Directive) Interview.
3. Situational Interview.
4. Behavioural Interview.
5. Job-related Interview.
6. Stress Interview.
7. Panel Interview (Board Interview).
8. One-On-One Interview.
9. Mass Interview (Group Interview),
10. Phone Interview

Unstructured (Nondirective) Interview

In unstructured interviews, there is generally no set format to follow which means that the interview can take various directions. Here there is a scope for the interviewer to ask questions beyond the focus areas allowing the space to build on the answers. Probing and open-ended questions are asked, and the questions may be customized based on the candidate's responses.

Structured (Directive) Interview

In a structured interview, the questions are decided beforehand and marks are allotted for the acceptable responses. These questions are mostly job related and will be the same for all the participants.

Model Interview Pertaining to World Economy

1. Can you mention some global trends which will shape the economy of the world in the next five years?

The answer should analyse the link between global trends and economic impact which requires the candidate's critical thinking skills. Contemporary examples may be drawn from politics, energy, or technology.

2. How can economic data be communicated effectively??

For this question, the data should be visualized in the form of a pie chart or a bar diagram or a graph. This kind of visualization will be the best way to communicate data to the listener.

3. What is the most important quality that an economist must have according to you?

Since the economist should be able to express theoretical ideas in a way that it is practically relevant, the ability to convert complex ideas into simpler forms is an important skill.

4. Do you have the habit of reading? How often do you read? What is the book that you are at present engaged in?

You must be prepared to take on a question such as this. Reading is very important habit for an economist. You should read anything from current affairs to history books. This will give you a comprehensive understanding of the big picture of economics.

5. What are your weaknesses? Was there a time you made a huge mistake due to your weakness? How did you overcome or address this?

Identify three weaknesses that you have and interpret how they can be detrimental to a situation. Then evolve your answer to show how one weakness proved to be your strength. Select a good example from your life for this question as this is again a common interview question.

A. Answer the following questions based on the Interview given above.

1. What is the significance of the first question of the interviewer?
2. What is the connection between global trends and economic impact?

3. What is presented as the most important quality of an economist?
4. How should you be prepared to answer the question about reading?

B. Fill in the blanks.

1. The first question of the candidate is related to _____, _____ and _____.
2. The candidate's answer regarding problem solving skills is pertaining to _____.
3. The candidate considers _____ to be important to excel in the field of economics.
4. _____ is a very important attribute of an economist.

Exercise I

Listen to the Interview being read by the teacher

Interviewer : Good Morning, Ravi. I am Anand.

Interviewee : Good Morning.

Interviewer : How are you doing?

Interviewee : I am doing fine. Thank you.

Interviewer : Anand, let us start the interview. Are you ready?

Interviewee : Yes, I am.

Interviewer : First, let me properly introduce myself. I am the Finance Department Manager. There is a position opening in my department which needs to be filled immediately.

Interviewee : Please, tell me a little bit about the position.

Interviewer : It is an entry-level position. The new employee will be working with the Accounting department and the bank.

Interviewee : What type of qualifications do you require?

Interviewer : I require a four-year college degree in Finance. Some work experience would be helpful.

Interviewee : What kind of experience are you looking for?

Interviewer : Doing office work is good. I do not require a lot of experience since this is an entry-level position. I am willing to train the new person.

Interviewee : That is great!

Interviewer : John, tell me a little bit about yourself.

Interviewee : I was a student at Madras University, and I just graduated with a Bachelor's degree in finance. I have two years of experience as a payroll staff.

Interviewer : What are you looking for in a job?

Interviewee : I have learned a lot of Finance theories at school, and now it is time for me to put them into practice.

Interviewer : Anything else?

Interviewee : I also hope that it will help me grow in my field.

Interviewer : What are your strengths? Why should I hire you?

Interviewee : I am a hard-working person and a fast learner. I am very eager to learn, and I get along fine with people.

Interviewer : OK. Now for some pertinent questions about your work culture. You do not mind working long hours, do you?

Interviewee : No, I do not.

Interviewer : Can you handle pressure?

Interviewee : Yes, I can. When I was going to school, I took quite a few courses each semester while working at least twenty hours every week. And, I handled that situation pretty well.

Interviewer : Do you have any questions for me?

Interviewee : No, I think I have a clear understanding of the job. I believe that I can handle it with ease, and I hope to have the opportunity to work for you.

Interviewer : Anand, nice meeting you. Thank you for coming.

Interviewee : Nice meeting you too. Thank you for seeing me.

Mock Interview

What is a mock interview?

A mock interview is a simulation of a real interview. A mock interview involves acquainting potential job candidates with various interview settings and helping them to prepare their responses to commonly asked interview questions.

The real-life scenarios of an interview that takes place in person or in a group or via telephone can be realized in a mock interview. You will be able to make a note of how you perform and what you can do to improve both your verbal and non-verbal communication skills.

Any one can be asked to conduct a mock interview for you but having a professional to conduct a mock interview will be of great benefit. You need to contact professionals and student counsellors help you experience a mock interview. Just be prepared to accept criticism when it is warranted and work at rectifying your shortcomings.

What are the benefits of mock interviews?

The main purpose of a mock interview is to get accustomed to the environment of an interview. This will help you to deal with the stress that is associated with a real interview. You will familiarize yourself with the common questions asked in an interview and will be prepared to tackle the different responses in a real situation. This exercise will prepare you to answer any question in a natural conversation like manner without expressing nervousness or stress.

Short Academic Presentation Using Power Point Presentation

Power Point is full featured presentation programme that is used by millions of people around the world. It is used to design presentations and it is available in MS Office Package. It is used to make presentations in a wide array of fields. It uses components such as images, animations, videos, and audios.

Benefits of Power Point Presentation

- Power Point Presentation, shortly called PPT, provides a greater visual effect

- PPT helps improve the level of understanding of the audience
- It makes the presentation more effective, impressive, and interesting
- It enhances the interactive involvement of both the presenter and audience
- It aids the presenter to be concise and elaborative on the content and with more clarity

FOR EFFECTIVE PRESENTATION

Dos:

1. Use key phrases, sentence fragments that include only essential information. Limit the number of words in each slide.
2. Enhance readability using bigger fonts. The content presented should not be cluttered with too much information. It should be clear enough to be read.
3. Limit the number of slides also. It is apt to aim for one slide per minute.
4. Use bright and contrasting colours for text and background
5. Use no font size smaller than 24 point.
6. Check the spelling and grammar.
7. Avoid long sentences.
8. Avoid abbreviations and acronyms.
9. Limit punctuation marks.

Don'ts:

1. Do not read from your slides. The content in the slides is for the audience and not for the presenter.
2. Do not speak to your slides. Facing the audience maintain eye contact and actively engage the audience.
3. Do not clutter the slide with too much information or infographics.
4. Don't cram too many sentences. Line spacing can be 1.15 or 1.5 spacing

You can learn from the given exercise how central ideas can be chosen for Power Point Presentation.

Ashoka's Empire (250 BC)

Land Tax, the main item of revenue was quite high and was levied at the rate of one sixth of the produce, though the Greek account puts at the rate of one fourth. Agricultural resources were obtained through share cropping wherein seeds, oxen etc. were provided by the State along with arable land for cultivation. In this kind of situation, the peasants probably gave half of the produce to the state. There were many customary dues that the peasants had to pay. For example, a tax called Pindakarawa was paid by those practising animal husbandries. It was levied on groups of villages. Villages also were expected to provide food and other provisions whenever the royal army passed through their territories. This was burdensome for the villages. There was another tax known as Hiranya, the exact nature of which is not known. Hiranya means gold so it refers to taxes paid in cash. Bali, the traditional known levy from the Vedic times continued under the Mauryas.

All these taxes have burdened the peasantry considerably, still Kautilya, in the Arthashastra, goes on to recommend that in case the State still falls short of its needs, several other fiscal measures for periods of emergency could be made use of. A unique measure was called the Pranya which means a gift of affection. Although this tax was mentioned by Panini it was elaborated in the Arthashastra. It amounts to one-third or one-fourth of the produce according to the nature of the soil. It is usually interpreted as a voluntary gift but once put into practice, it might have become obligatory.

During times of emergency the cultivators were also forced to raise more than one crop. The importance of these measures was constantly emphasized, and the country did face famines. During these bleak periods, the level of revenue collection must naturally have fallen. The Arthashastra is also careful in defining the different types of villages to be taxed as the fertility of the soil varied from place to place. Interestingly the revenue collectors and assessors were also divided into special categories. Thus, the Mauryan state, at least in its core areas, must have ensured a substantial land revenue collection without which it would have been difficult to maintain the Government machinery and the Army.

Ideas for Power Point Presentation

- During Ashoka's regime, Land tax was the main item of revenue and it was very high
- Share cropping was another way by which the state collected agricultural resources
- Many customary dues like Pindakorawa were to be paid to the people
- In addition to the above taxes, another type of tax was Hiranya. Little is known about it.

- Kautilya's Arthashastra speaks about other taxes levied on people during emergency in the regime of Ashoka
- The cultivators were forced to raise two crops

The Chief Minister and the Council of Ministers

In the Parliamentary form of government, the Chief Minister, and the Council of Ministers (CoM) possess the real executive powers and form the nucleus of administration of the state.

The Chief Minister is the head of government. He is accorded with the status of 'The First Among the Equals' in relation with other ministers in the council. Though the CoM is a multi-membered body, it functions as a single unit under the guidance and directions of the Chief Minister.

Powers and Functions of Chief Minister

The Chief Minister being the real executive authority holds a wide range of powers and diverse functions that include recommending the Governor the persons who can be appointed as ministers. He allocates portfolios between the minister and instils the principle of responsibility upon the council of ministers. He can recommend to the Governor to dissolve the State Legislative Assembly and conduct new elections. He advises the Governor on summoning and proroguing of the sessions of the State legislature. During an emergency the Chief Minister acts as the chief crisis manager of the state.

EARTHQUAKES

The shaking of the earth's crust or tremors is called an earthquake. While most earthquakes result from natural causes like faulting, folding and volcanic eruptions, some result from human actions like blasting of rocks. Large reservoirs are also believed to make an area more prone to earthquakes. The intensity of an earthquake is measured on a Richter Scale. An increase in the magnitude of an earthquake by one on the Richter Scale implies ten times more amplitude or intensity of the earthquake and 32 times more energy. A new measurement scale now used by the United States Geological survey is called the moment magnitude scale. The seismograph is used to record the tremors caused by earthquakes. A Seismograph, a 24-hour record of earthquake waves, is called as Seismogram. The point of origin of an earthquake in the earth's interior is called seismic focus. The point on the surface where an earthquake is felt first is called its epicentre. Lines on a map joining places that experienced an earthquake at the same time are called coseismal lines. Lines joining places experiencing the same intensity of an earthquake are called isoseismal lines.

Helping hands is a philanthropic organization based in Amaravathipudhur, Sivagangai District in Tamil Nadu. It renders invaluable service to orphans and other needy people for their survival and development. Mr. Palaniappan founded this Non-governmental social service organization in 1980 with an objective of helping people in distress such as orphans and destitute. When Mr. Palaniappan was in the prime of his youth, he happened to see a weak and wailing baby girl outside a hospital with no one to care for it. Mr. Palaniappan avowed to look after the baby in a rented house and within a year there came 40 boys and girls to be sheltered. The Helping Hands was registered the next year. Today it accommodates hundreds of children and aged people and extends humane gestures to all. From new-born children to old people who are counting their days, it fosters them by giving a fresh lease of life to all the needy. The organization provides individual care, medical assistance, treatment, rehabilitation, education, and empowerment. It is said that Helping Hands are better than praying hands. ## Circular: Definition

A circular is a brief letter conveying specific and important information which is a viable tool of communication channel in an organization. Since it is brief it may also contain marketing information and may be used for inter-departmental communication and advertising. Its wider reach is the main feature of a circular.

Advantages of a circular

- It is simple and precise making the communication effective
- It is written and therefore a documentary evidence that prevents miscommunication
- It is also quite inexpensive and therefore cost-effective
- Circulars are also a time-saving method of communication as it reaches many people in a short time
- They are a great advertising and marketing tool that can help create a new market and educate people about the product or services
- It helps customers gain confidence about the product or service

Minutes*Definition

Minutes of meeting is a documented record of the proceedings of an official meeting which contains the list of attendees, the absentees, the points of discussion and the decisions taken. The word 'minutes' is derived from the Latin phrase 'minuta scriptura' which literally means 'small writing' or 'rough notes'.

Purpose

Every organization may have its own rules of the content that is recorded in the minutes. It should record what was done and not what was said. They are not a record of the transcript. They are official documents that hold evidence about the important decisions taken in the meeting.

Creation

Minutes may be recorded during the meeting in shorthand or in the form of notes and later elaborated. The minutes should be circulated among the participants. In some instances, the meeting may be audio or video recorded and the minutes may be prepared later. There are also minutes recording software to help prepare minutes.

Steps to record minutes

The steps to record minutes are:

- Pre-planning
- Record-taking
- Writing or transcribing the minutes
- Sharing meeting minutes
- Documenting and filing

Tips for taking notes

- Prepare yourself for the meeting by having an outline. As the meeting goes on the items in the outline can be filled. This will ensure that important details are not missed.

- The list of participants may be noted right at the beginning of the meeting
- Decisions and actions should be recorded accurately
- Clarifications may be sought about decisions taken since the recorded minutes must be accurate
- Conversations need not be noted down. Actions and decisions should be carefully taken down.
- Recording the minutes using smart phone may be helpful for future clarifications. Before recording the participants must be informed that they are being recorded

Format of Minutes of Meeting

The general format of the minutes of a meeting is as follows:

- Name of the organization in the top-left corner
- Date and time in the top-right corner
- Title in the centre
- Name and designation of the attendees
- Name of absentees, designation, and reason for absenteeism
- Amendments made to previous minutes
- Meeting Agenda
- Issues discussed
- Suggestions made
- Decisions taken
- Voting details
- Action plan and roles and responsibilities given
- Motions addressed and motions carried over to next meeting
- Schedule of the next meeting

In addition to the above format each organization will have specific details to be included according to the purpose of the meeting. These requirements need to be well understood before preparing to take down the minutes.

After the meeting

As soon as the meeting is over the minutes need to be written:

- Minutes should be written immediately after a meeting while the ideas discussed are still fresh in the mind

- Review the format and the information recorded so that all important details are included

- Depending on the meeting the explanation of the details must be given. In a board meeting or a corporate meeting more details and explanation must be included for the actions taken and the reasons for the actions taken must be enumerated.

- The minutes should also be revised and should be clear and concise without any ambiguity

Writing tips:

- Language should be objective and not biased
- Write in passive voice and use the same tense
- Names must not be mentioned unless it is vital, and it is associated with an important decision taken
- Personal comments should not be made. Minutes should be based on facts and not feelings
- Other documents that are circulated during the course of the meeting must be mentioned in the meeting and enclosed along with the final draft of the minutes

Conclusion

Minutes should be vetted by the chair of the meeting and in some cases by more members before it is circulated among the participants of the meeting. This gives scope for the minutes to be revised and approved for circulation. This final process is what makes the minutes an official record. This will be approved during the next meeting.

Writing an Introduction

The constituent parts of an introduction are attention grabber, topic description, explanation of the topic's relevance, an outline of the main points and the central ideas of the subject under discussion.

Definition of Paraphrase

It is a simplified form of a piece of writing. It captures the central, significant, and important ideas of a text and presents it in an easily readable, and understandable way. It is a rewording or a restatement of the meaning of a text or a phrase.

Model

All human things are subject to Decay

When Fate summons monarchs must obey

- Dryden

These lines given above speak about the uncertainty indefiniteness and ephemeral nature of human life. The poet Dryden states that all human things pertaining to this world have a short life. None in this world can live here for an indefinite period. These lines further explain that even if people are very mighty and powerful like kings, if they receive a call from fate, they cannot escape it. They will have to bow before fate. The central idea is that fate is far superior to and far more powerful than humans.

Task I

Let none admire

That riches grow in Hell; that soli may best

Deserve the precious bane. And here let those

Who boast in mortal things, and wondering tell

Of Babel, and the works of Memphian kings,

Learn how their greatest monuments of fame,

And strength, and art, are easily outdone

By Spirits reprobate,

Explanation:

Having described the materialistic greed of Mammon and of the human beings who fall under Mammon's influence, Milton tells us that, under Mammon's directions, a batch of fallen angels dug out gold from the interior of hell. In the lines here Milton says that people should not feel surprised to learn that riches (gold etc.) exist in the infernal regions. The soil of hell may perhaps be most appropriate for that coveted evil, namely gold. Milton then goes on to give us another idea. There are people who boast of human achievements. These people describe, with a feeling of wonder, the Tower of Babel, and the Pyramids of Egypt as great architectural works. But let such people learn how the greatest monuments which have been built by human strength and skill and which have become famous, can easily be surpassed by the work of worthless Spirits (that is, the devils).

Paraphrase the following text.

National Emergency

Under Article 352, the President can declare National Emergency on the entire territory of India or a part of it when the security of the entire country or a part of it is challenged by war or external aggression or armed rebellion. When the National Emergency is proclaimed because of war or external aggression, it is called External Emergency and when it is proclaimed because of armed rebellion, it is called Internal Emergency.

VII. WRITING SKILLS

VIII. Punctuation and Capitalization

<https://www.teachstarter.com/au/blog/26-punctuation-resources-activities/>

Punctuation

The system of signs or symbols, such as full stop, comma, and exclamatory mark, used in written language is called Punctuation. Punctuation marks show a reader how a sentence is constructed and how it should be read. Every sentence should include a capital letter at the start, and a punctuation mark at the end.

IX. Why Punctuation matters?

Life would be confusing without proper punctuation.

Look at these sentences

1. some people find inspiration in cooking their families and dogs

Vs.

Some people find inspiration in cooking, their families and dogs.

2. lets eat grandpa

Vs

“Let’s eat, Grandpa!”

The sentences convey totally different things as per the proper usage of punctuations.

For the sake of family members and Grandpa’s life, use proper punctuation. Punctuation saves lives and keeps people alive!

3. Now, this is a big one. Consider the following sentences. Note how the meaning changes drastically when the position of the comma changes.

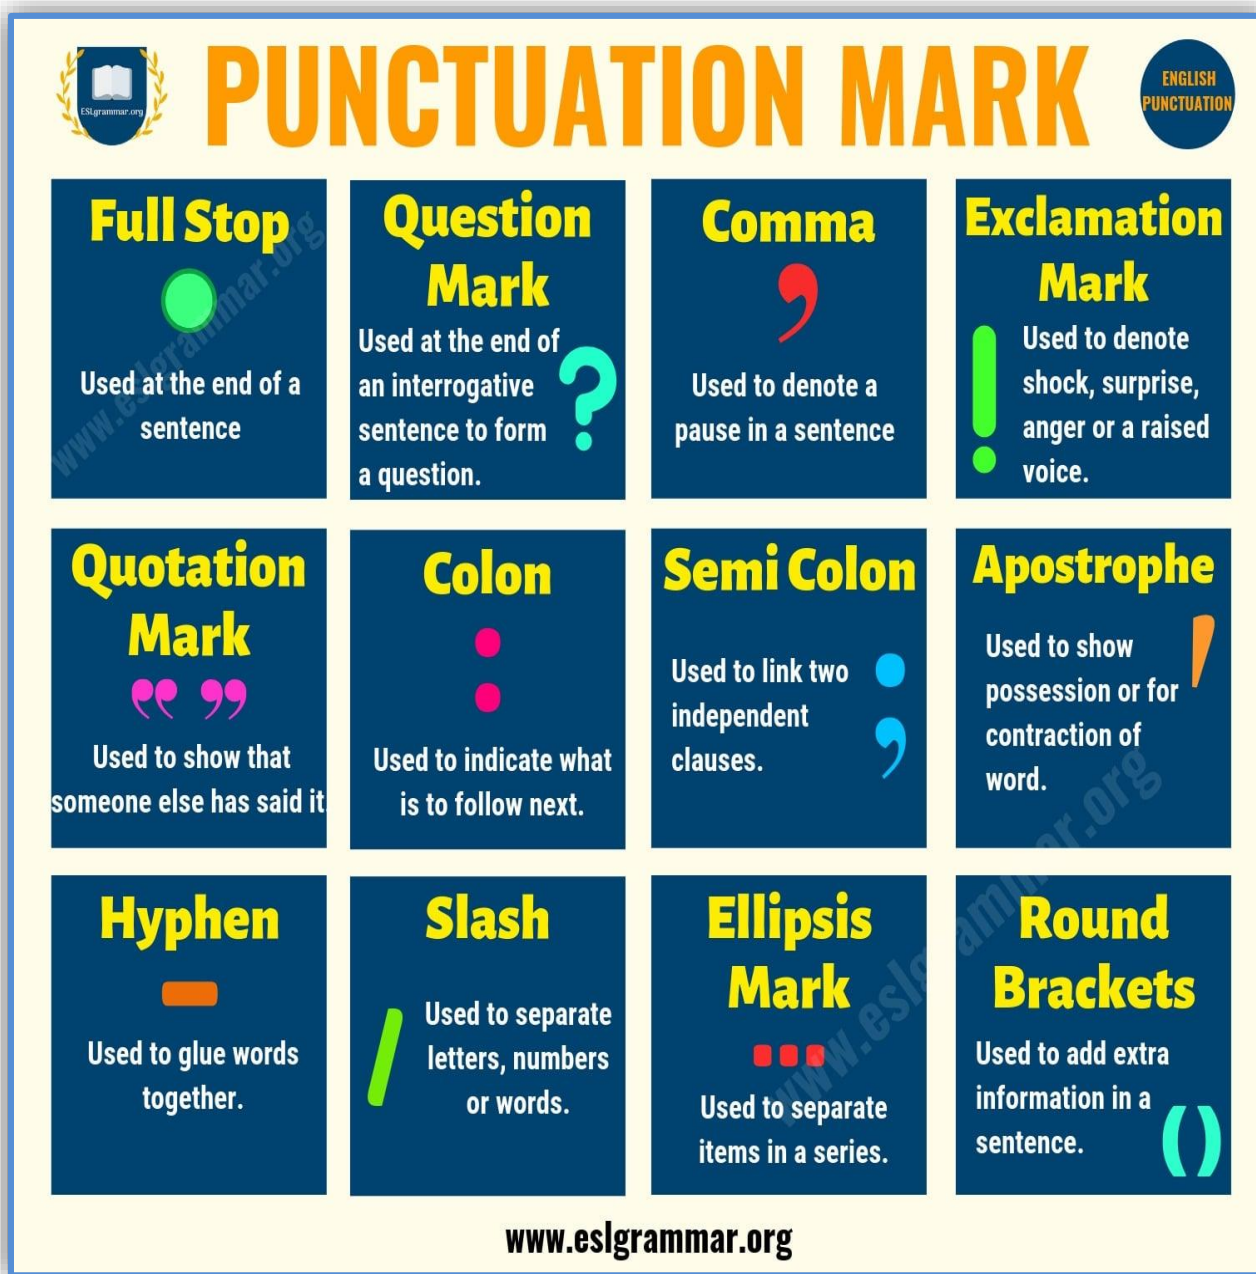

a woman without her man is nothing

“A woman, without her man, is nothing.” (A woman’s success is because of a man)

Now, let’s change up where we’re placing the punctuation:

“A woman: without her, man is nothing.” (A man’s success is because of a woman)

Here is an infographic on various punctuations used in English

CAPITALIZATION

Capitalization is one of the most basic and important elements of writing. Capitalization draws the reader's attention to names, titles, and more. Capitalization also marks the start of new sentences and new paragraphs, provides signals to the reader, and helps to create a structure and a hierarchy in written language.

Basic Capitalization Rules

1. Capitalize proper nouns.

- To indicate the names of people, such as Vijay, David, or Anwar.
- To denote the names of months and days, such as January, August, Sunday, Thursday
- To denote days of national/international importance, such as Independence Day, Women's Day
- Finally, proper nouns also include the names of buildings, landmarks, and companies, such as the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the Statue of Liberty, or Verizon

2. Use capitalization with proper adjectives.

- Indian, American, Italian, German

3. Capitalize titles of works.

- A Tale of Two Cities, Titanic, Ode To A Nightingale, Beats

4. Use a capital at the beginning of a sentence. The first word of every sentence should be capitalized, regardless of what kind of word.

5. Capitalize the first word of a full sentence in a quotation. Sentences appearing within quotes also should have a capital letter in the beginning. She said to me "Do you feel alright?"

6. Use capitalization when referring to a period or an event.

- The Chola Period.

7. Capitalization with the pronoun "I." One of the most notable words to make sure to capitalize is the pronoun "I." I refer to oneself. This is a unique and specific usage.

8. Capitalize family relationships.

- Aunt Preethi" or "Cousin Ajith."

9. Capitalize people's titles.

- Mr. Ms. Miss, and Dr.

Remember these punctuation rules while writing:

PUNCTUATION RULES

ENGLISH
PUNCTUATION

RULE 1

Every sentence must end with a full stop.

Proper nouns (names of people, places, brands, etc, i.e. unique instances of a class) must always be capitalised.

RULE 2

RULE 3

When you use opening quotation marks, do not forget to use closing quotation marks at the end of the quoted word or phrase.

Quotation marks are when quoting or sometimes to convey irony, not for emphasis; emphasis is conveyed by boldening or italicisation, followed by an exclamation mark.

RULE 4

RULE 5

Do not use an apostrophe when you are pluralising a word. The plural of toy is toys, not toy's. Apostrophes are used to form contractions (it is = it's) and indicate possession.

The ellipsis, used to indicate variously the intentional omission of a section of text, an unfinished thought, and a trailing off into silence, consists of only 3 dots. It is pointless to add more dots to an ellipsis

RULE 6

RULE 7

As per the rules of British English, any punctuation mark that is not part of a quoted section of text must be placed outside the quotation marks.

Do not link independent clauses with commas. Independent clauses are groupings of words that can stand alone as sentences.

RULE 8

RULE 9

Use a comma after the introductory element of a sentence. The introductory element is a word or a phrase that begins a sentence by providing background, or simply modifies it.

X. Activity 1

XI. Analyse the Story given below and list down the various punctuations mentioned in the story and write their definition.

E.g.

1. Comma – Used for pausing; took its place between words; without the break commas provide,

words run amok, becoming jumbled, unwieldy, and confusing; a well-placed comma can change the meaning of a sentence.

The Day Punctuation Came to Town

1. Written by Kimberlee Gard | Illustrated by Sandie Sonke

The Punctuations had just moved to Alphabet City and the kids—Exclamation Point, Question Mark, Period, and Comma—were excited about their first day of school. Exclamation Point was in a rush to get there. “We are going to have so much fun!” he said. He “was always excited about something.” Question Mark was a little more subdued. She wondered if the other kids would be nice and even pondered whether they were walking in the right direction. “Comma kept pausing,” and Period said she would let her siblings know when to stop.

When they got to school and introduced themselves, the student letters were confused. They'd never seen anyone like the Punctuations before. As the letters practiced forming words, Exclamation Point joined W, O, and W; Question Mark helped out W, H, and O; and "Period brought each sentence to a tidy end." For Comma, though, it wasn't so easy. As he tried to squeeze in between letters, he began to feel as if he was just a bother. Undetected, he tiptoed away.

Meanwhile, in the classroom, Exclamation Point had all the letters scrambling to make more and more exciting words. There was a lot of cheering and booming, ducking, and running. Question Mark asked if maybe they shouldn't all quiet down a bit, but no one was listening. Even Period couldn't get them to stop. Pretty soon, there was a huge word pileup. In the next moment it came crashing down and all the letters "tumbled through the door, spilling into the hall." There, they found Comma, who just stared in disbelief. His siblings wondered why he was in the hall instead of in the classroom. Comma told them how he felt. But, "Comma, without you, things become a disaster!" Exclamation Point said. Period and Question Mark agreed.

Then his siblings gently reminded little Comma about how each member of their family has a certain purpose. They told him, "we all work together to help letters and the words they make." Once everyone had gone back into the classroom, the letters continued making words. But now Comma took his place between them. When the letters looked confused, he explained that it was his job to keep order and that words and punctuation needed each other to make good and clear sentences.

For children just learning about sentence structure and how punctuation and words fit together to create meaning, Kimberlee Gard's lively story helps them visualize and understand the different roles of each punctuation mark. Coming at the end of a sentence and accompanied by vocal clues, exclamation points, question marks, and periods are more familiar to kids. But what about
