Two days Residential Workshop

DIGITIZING CULTURAL MEMORIES

as part of RUSA Research Project

Photograph is always from the past. It freezes the moment and melts the mind. It is a representation, standing for something else. That something else will be 'culture' in this workshop. We invite photography enthusiasts to sculpt the memory into frozen visuals. Anybody, who has a camera to own, a mind to stroll and an eye to gaze is welcome to the workshop.

The workshop is to sensitize the participants to digitize the cultural heritage of Tamils. Photographs will be the means of digitization. Besides engaging the participants to the aesthetics of photography, this workshop also will ask the participants to develop their skill in story making (through photographs) and content writing (with the photographs). The workshop will bring out a Photobook as a final product using the photographs taken by the participants.

Dates: 17 & 18 August 2022.
