Introduction

India is the second fastest growing economy in the world. It is third largest economy in the world in terms of GDP and fourth largest economy in terms of Purchasing Power Parity. India presents a huge opportunity to the world at age, to use as a hub. Standing on the threshold of retail revolution and witnessing a fast changing retail landscape, India is all set to experience the phenomenon of global village. India is the "promised land" for global brands and Indian retailers. "Vibrant economy". India tops in the list of emerging market for global retailer and India’s retail sector is expanding and modernizing rapidly in line with India’s economic growth.

The future is promising; the market is growing, government policies are becoming more favorable and emerging technologies are facilitating operations. Retailing in India is gradually inching its way toward becoming the next boom industry. The whole concept of shopping has altered in terms of format and consumer buying behavior, ushering in a revolution in shopping in India.

Retailing

The word "Retail" originates from a French-Italian word. Retailer-someone who cuts off and sheds a small piece from something. Retailing is the set of activities that markets products or services to final consumers for their own personal or household use. It does this by organizing the availability on a relatively large scale and supplying them to customers on a relatively small scale.
